PREFACE.

EVERY author has, or ought to have, a reason for his undertaking; and I conclude some will wonder what induced me to write the history of an individual family, which is not likely to contain any thing very interesting to the public.

For their information I may say, that it arose from a desire in some of the family, to have a record preserved, as perfect as it can be obtained (at this late period) of the emigration to, and settlement of their Ancestors, in this, then wilderness country; and also of the situation and connection of their descendants at the present time; and not through a desire of exalting themselves, by publishing to the world, their imperfect and uninteresting history; which is intended to be kept pretty much within the family, or those concerned. In writing such a history, considerable difficulty presents, for want of records being kept of occurrences as they took place; therefore the author hopes to be excused for the omissions and errors which may occur; as the former is unavoidable, for want of information; and the latter must be expected, considering his resources for obtaining materials; which, in many instances, depended on the memory of individuals; and that, in some cases, will, no doubt, prove incorrect; but I judge, correctness in all cases will not be expected, under such circumstances. The history begins with the first emigrants to this country, by the name of Sharples, at least as far as we know; and continues their genealogy to the present time; keeping principally to the name in question; though the descendants out of the name, are as much of the family, and as nearly allied, as those of the name: yet to trace them all, would open too large a field for my present plan, or for the satisfaction of my readers; therefore I have established a rule, to which I have adhered throughout; and that is, to proceed no farther out of the name, than second Cousins: that is, if a woman marry, she changes her name; if she have children married, I mention their marriage, and name their children, and then leave them.

Of the first family who came to this country, only three brothers lived to marry, therefore I have divided their history into three parts, beginning with the eldest, and tracing his descendants to the present time; then the second and third in order.

I have met with a Deed, containing the grant of the Province of Pennsylvania to William Penn, by King Charles II. also the grant of one thousand acres thereof, by William Penn, to John Sharples, the first settler of that name; an exact copy of which I propose inserting, as an introduction to the history, with William Penn's name engraved from his own hand writing.

It appears by the Deed, that the name was originally spelled with single s, at the last, which makes it pronounce Shar-ples, as Apples: but as it is universally pronounced Sharp-less, it is frequently spelled so, and I think properly so; though as it is necessary to preserve a uniform method of spelling throughout the history, I thought proper to attend to the original.

I expect some will conclude, that in representing so large a family, many interesting anecdotes, &c. would be introduced: but as it is not my plan, neither would it be generally satisfactory, that I should give a history of the lives of individuals; and as but few circumstances have presented, which I thought worthy of insertion, little more must be expected, than what may be termed a Family Record, stating some circumstances respecting the first settlement of the family in this country, and shewing the situation and connection of their children, and their children's children, unto the fourth and fifth generation. My original plan was to insert the trades and occupations of individuals; believing it would be satisfactory to many, to know what business their connections follow; but as people frequently change their occupations, for that and other reasons, I concluded to omit that part. As to dates, we must be content with having the years in which marriages, deaths, &c. took place; and that, in many cases, cannot be ascertained.

PREFACE TO THE PRESENT EDITION.

THIS work was naturally inspired by the former edition, and its compilation was suggested to the writer at various times within the past twenty-five years; but the movement inaugurated by J. Clemson Sharpless, and earnestly espoused by others, for a bi-centennial family gathering in 1882, was the culminating cause of its inception. As a part of the history of the book, the following minutes are offered:

At a meeting of the subscribers for the publication of the proceedings of the Sharpless Bi-Centennial and Family Record, held at the office of Samuel L. Smedley, City Hall, Philadelphia, December 10th, 1882, at 3 P. M.

Present, J. Clemson Sharpless, William Sharpless, Samuel L. Smedley, Philip P. Sharples, Sylvester Garrett, William C. Sharpless, Samuel J. Sharpless, John Sharpless, William Bancroft, John S. Garrigues, Henry Palmer, Elton B. Gifford, Casper T. Sharpless. Of twenty-five subscribers thirteen were present. Ezekiel Hunn, Jr., and Gilbert Cope, were also present by invitation.

Philip P. Sharples was unanimously chosen to preside, and on motion of J. Clemson Sharpless, Samuel L. Smedley was appointed Secretary.

Samuel L. Smedley stated that the committee appointed at the Bi-Centennial had met at West Chester in the 11th month, and carefully considered the object of their appointment, and were unanimously of the opinion that a circular should be issued to obtain twenty-five subscribers at $100 each, to assume the responsibility of the publication of a Family Record, and that the requisite number having been obtained on the 6th instant, J. C. Sharpless had issued the call for this meeting.

The paper was then read with the signatures thereto, as follows:

SHARPLESS BI-CENTENNIAL RECORD, 1682-1882.

The Publication Committee appointed by resolution passed at the Sharpless Bi-Centennial Meeting, held the 24th day of August, 1882, for the purpose of preparing and publishing a memorial of the event, and an extension of the family genealogy, have carefully considered the subject, and have reached the following conclusions:

1st. That the interest manifested is so great as to give the assurance that the publication of such a work is not only warranted, but very generally desired and demanded at the present time.

2d. That the Genealogical Record should be prepared with great care, and be made so complete as to be a credit to the family and all concerned.

3d. That in order to accomplish this considerable labor and expense will have to be incurred before the work reaches completion.

4th. That the publication should be made by representative men of the family, and not by any individual assuming responsibility or issuing it for profit; the aim being to furnish the work as complete in material and execution as the price will warrant.

5th. It is believed that the whole expense can be met by the disposal of five hundred copies at $5 per copy, amounting to $2500, and that not more than half that amount will be required in preparing the work previous to printing and distribution.

6th. The most feasible plan proposed is for twenty-five representative men to divide the responsibility into as many shares, equivalent to twenty-five shares at $100 each.

7th. That $25 shall be paid by each subscriber when the list of subscribers is complete, making up a fund of $625 to commence and carry on the work: additional instalments, if required, to be called for when directed by the subscribers; and no subscription to be binding until twenty-five names are subscribed.

8th. That when five hundred copies have been disposed of the money advanced to be refunded to the subscribers in full, or books, in lieu of money, may be taken at the subscribers' option; and if distribution is made before five hundred copies are sold, the cash and books on hand to be distributed pro rata.

9th. The subscribers to appoint a Treasurer, and take such measures as they shall determine as best adapted to carry the above into effect as speedily as possible.

10th. The undersigned are subscribers to the amount of $100 each, for the purposes and conditions above specified.

Signed by J. Clemson Sharpless, William Sharpless and Philip P. Sharples, West Chester, Pa.; Samuel L. Smedley, Casper S. Garrett, Sylvester Garrett, William C. Sharpless, Samuel J. Sharpless, Henry W. Sharpless, Charles W. Sharpless, William Sellers, John Sellers, Jr., Philadelphia, Pa.; John Sharpless, Henry Palmer, Chester, Pa.; William P. Bancroft, Edward Bringhurst, Wilmington, Del.; Casper T. Sharpless, Camden, N. J.; John S. Garrigues, Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Elton B. Gifford, Media, Pa.; J. Kersey Sharpless, A. H. and C. C. Sharpless, Catawissa, Pa.

(Four others who had signed afterward withdrew.)

J. Clemson Sharpless moved that an Executive Committee of five be appointed, who shall have full control and management of the preparation and publication of the Sharpless Family Record and proceedings of the Bi-Centennial held at Chester on the 24th of August, 1882, which was unanimously agreed to, and J. Clemson Sharpless, John Sharpless, William C. Sharpless, Samuel L. Smedley and Henry Palmer, were appointed the committee.

A motion that the President of the meeting, Philip P. Sharples, should be ex-officio a member of the committee, was also agreed to. John Sharpless moved that William C. Sharpless be elected Treasurer, which was also agreed to unanimously, and he accordingly appointed.

Elton B. Gifford moved that the Executive Committee call for the payment to the Treasurer of the first instalment of $25, and that notice of his appointment be sent to the subscribers, which was approved.

Samuel L. Smedley remarked that in a work like the present a great mass of information could be collected with comparative ease, while in completing full details a small amount of obscure matter demanded time and labor in much greater proportion, and the Executive Committee would have to determine what amount of this latter they would be warranted in entering into, but this could be determined as the work progressed. Experience shows that a large amount of correspondence and investigation must be made, requiring the persevering attention of those in charge; members of the family by early and determined effort could aid much, but it had been expected to call in the professional assistance of Gilbert Cope, who by years of research had collected such complete data as could nowhere else be found in the State, who could forward the work more rapidly than any other person who could be selected.

Gilbert Cope was called on to express his views, and said that he had much work on hand so that he could not give to this his undivided attention, but was willing to undertake the task, and do the best he could, because he felt a deep interest in the undertaking.

The appointment of Gilbert Cope was favorably received, and the matter was referred to the Executive Committee.

William C. Sharpless inquired whether an early effort should not be made to ascertain what response might be given in the way of subscriptions for copies of the work, but it was concluded that it would be best to direct the efforts to the collection of the family records first. The subject was referred to the Executive Committee. On motion adjourned to meet at the call of the President of the meeting.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MINUTES.

The Executive Committee met immediately after the adjournment of the Subscribers' meeting.

Present, J. C. Sharpless, Philip P. Sharples, W. C. Sharpless, Henry Palmer, Samuel L. Smedley.

J. Clemson Sharpless was appointed Chairman, and Samuel L. Smedley, Secretary.

It was agreed upon to engage Gilbert Cope, of West Chester, to give all the time he possibly could. He being present consented thereto.

It was determined that an abstract of the proceedings of the meeting be sent to the subscribers, by the Treasurer, giving notice to pay the first instalment, and J. C. Sharpless in conjunction with Gilbert Cope, were requested to prepare the necessary blanks and circulars and have them printed.

Other meetings were held from time to time as the work progressed, and questions arose for determination. At one of these it was decided to engage the services of Henry Fishwick, an English antiquary, in making researches into the early history of the family prior to the emigration; by which means considerable interesting information was obtained.

The compiler wishes to acknowledge the kindness of many persons who have assisted in the work beyond their own immediate records, and his intercourse with whom, either in person or by correspondence, has been truly pleasant. Among those, not of the family, who have assisted materially, he is under special obligations to T. M. Potts, of Canonsburg, Pa., and J. Mortimer Dutton, of Chester, Pa. It is to be regretted that some members of the family have not shown a proper interest in the work, but have manifested either indifference or objection to furnishing their records. In this day of genealogical publications, it is unnecessary to offer any apology for such a work, yet its true value will be better appreciated in the future.

EXPLANATIONS.

The arrangement is by generations, and the names of the children in one generation, if married, are carried forward as parents in the next generation, where they may be readily found by their corresponding numbers. For the sake of economy in space, this order is not strictly adhered to in the later generations.

The small figures attached to names, as Thomas^{5}, indicate the generation to which the individuals belong, counting the earliest immigrant ancestor as No. 1.

The line of ancestry given at the head of the page is not always correct as to all the descendants on that page, yet will frequently be found an assistance in tracing relationships.

Dates are given in the order of month, day, and year, and for economy in space, numbers are used instead of names for the months.

Abbreviations :—b. for born ; d. for died ; m. for married ; bur. for buried ; dau. for daughter ; gr. for grand ; Mo. Mtg. for Monthly Meeting.

EARLY HISTORY.

THE SHARPLES FAMILY OF LANCASHIRE, ENGLAND.

SHARPLES OF SHARPLES.

THE hamlet of Sharples (from which the family derived its name), though not mentioned in Domesday Book, formed at a very early period one of the members of the original barony of Manchester, in the county of Lancaster. One of the earliest, if not the earliest, Baron of Manchester, was Albert de Gredle or Greslet, who held the barony in the latter decade of the eleventh century. He was a favored friend of Roger de Poictou, who held very large possessions in Lancashire at that period. In the time of Edward I. (A. D. 1272–1307) Robert de Samelisburie and Alexander de Harwoode held an oxgang* of land in "Chapples," by payment of three shillings a year to Robert de Gredle, Baron of Manchester.†

The Duchy Records do not name Sharples as a manor and there is no evidence of a court leet—or of frank-pledge—having been held here, yet the Lord of Sharples, by an ancient tenure, claimed from the owner of the adjacent manor of Smithells a pair of gilt spurs annually and also a somewhat singular right of the free use of the contents of the cellar of Smithells Hall for one week in each year.‡ The gilt spurs were claimed and paid until a comparatively recent date.

The hamlet probably took its name from some natural peculiarity of formation or appearance, and this may have originally been applied to some small field or clearing out of the surrounding waste. The Anglo-Saxon "scearp," sharp or acute, in its diminutive form, might give "Sharples."

* An "oxgang" is as much land as an ox can plough in a season, said to be fifteen acres, or, as others allege, twenty acres.—Webster's English Dictionary.

† Testa de Nevill, folio 404.

‡ Whitaker's History of Whalley, ii. 320, new edition.

In 1427, the hamlet, including the lands therein called the "Fouldes," contained four thousand acres, exclusive of one thousand acres called "Hordern Solyns." The Sharples of to-day is a township and district parish separated from Bolton-le-Moors for ecclesiastical purposes. It has a parish church and school, Wesleyan and Baptist Chapels, several cotton-mills and bleaching-works, and contains some four thousand inhabitants. The area of the township is three thousand two hundred and ninety-four statute acres. The township of Sharples lies about two and one-half miles north of Bolton. The village of Sharples (near to which is the Hall) is on the road from Bolton to Preston. In the township of Sharples are two other small villages, Belmont and Astley Bridge. The name of Sharples is not an uncommon one. Only a few of the name are still to be found in Bolton, but the Manchester Directory furnishes over forty families of Sharples. They are also found in Liverpool and other towns in Lancashire and Yorkshire. Sometime before the commencement of the fourteenth century, the hamlet had given its name to a family, as in the year 1297 Adam de Sharples appears as a witness to a charter. In a survey, or more correctly an inquisition, taken before the year 1320, Adam de Sharples held one twenty-fourth part of a knight's fee in Sharples, and Henry de Trafford, for land in the same place, paid homage and fealty and an annual rent of three shillings and two pence. From this Adam de Sharples no doubt descended the Sharples of Sharples, the Sharples of Freckleton, and other collateral branches.

In 1427, Richard Sharples de Sharples, "juxta Bolton-les-Mores," held a house and six other tenements, which were together worth forty-one pounds thirteen shillings and four pence a year, of the chief lord in socage, with suit of court eighteen pence. Richard Holland held at the same time three tenements in Sharples, worth ten marks per annum. In the same year Robert Sharples held there a messuage and a tenement worth forty shillings a year, with court service of ten pence.*

It may be assumed that Richard de Sharples was a descendant of Adam de Sharples, and may have been the father or grandfather of the John Sharples, of Sharples, with whom the pedigree recorded by Dugdale, at the Heralds' Visitation, begins.† (See Pedigree).

For some reason unexplained, two generations of the family are described as "Sharples alias Warde." Sometime before 1578, Janet, the daughter of Richard Sharples, of Bolton, married Thomas Warde, but this throws no light on the question.

In the Duchy Court, on October 31, 1599, HUGH WOOD AND ANNE, HIS WIFE, FORMERLY WIFE OF ALEXANDER WARD alias SHARPLES, lodged a bill of complaint against Thomas Heaton, the father-in-law of Roger Sharples, the substance of which was as follows:

Hugh Wood and Anne, his wife, complain, that—

Whereas, Alexander Warde, otherwise Sharples, of Sharples, county Lancaster, gentleman, deceased, was about February, 24 Elizabeth (1581–82), seized in fee of the manor of Sharples, county Lancaster, and of messuages, etc., in Sharples and Bolton-in-the-Moors, in the same county, of the yearly value of one hundred pounds, and in consideration of a marriage between Alexander Ward, otherwise Sharples, deceased, son and heir of Richard Ward, otherwise Sharples, son and heir of the said Alexander, the grandfather, Alexander Ward, the grandfather, and Anne, his wife, conveyed the moiety of the said manor, etc., to the use of himself for life, remainder to said Anne for life. Alexander Ward, the grandfather, died so seized shortly after, and Alexander Ward, the grandson, and Anne entered into the premises so conveyed to them. And the said Richard Sharples alias Ward entered into the other moiety, as son and heir of Alexander, the grandfather. Afterwards, Richard Sharples alias Ward and Alexander, the grandchild, and Anne, his wife, exchanged their respective moities. Alexander, the grandchild, died about four years ago. Thomas Heaton, an attorney at the common law, at Lancaster, seeks to procure to himself not only the moiety conveyed to Anne Sharpless, worth sixty pounds a year, but also the marriage of Roger Ward alias Sharples, being her eldest son, an infant aged about eight years and heir apparent to the said Alexander, her late husband, which marriage is worth three hundred pounds, and Thomas Heaton, conspiring with Thomas Anderton, his [Thomas Heaton's] father-in-law, and Christopher Anderton, the younger, his [Thomas Heaton's] brother-in-law, and Robert Heald and John Buckeley, his bailiffs, to counterfeit a capias, pretending himself to be the under-sheriff's deputy, did about 4 June, 39 Elizabeth (1594), write a warrant in the sheriff's name and directed it to Heald and Buckeley, who apprehended the said Anne, being a widow, and carried her to the house of Thomas Anderton, where Heaton, with the bailiffs, Thomas Anderton and Christopher Anderton, shut Anne up in a chamber of Thomas Anderton's house, in Chorley, ten miles from where she dwelt, and kept her prisoner for four days, and frightened her into sealing a writing, which Heaton says is a bond of many hundred pounds, with condition that Anne should suffer him to enjoy her jointure and to have the marriage of Roger Sharples alias Ward, her son. Heaton wrote articles of agreement permitting Anne to occupy a house and four parcels of ground, parcel of the premises, worth fifty shillings a year for her life, for the maintenance of herself and four small children, he enjoying the rest of the premises, worth fifty-six pounds a year, and also the marriage of Roger, worth three hundred pounds, to whom she was guardian in socage. Divers other writings besides the writing concerning the jointure have come into the possession of James Anderton, of Lostock, Esq., who delivered some of them to Christopher Anderton, gentleman, his brother.

By this record, it appears that Hugh Wood married Anne, widow of Alexander Sharples, the grandson, between 1597 and 1599.

There was then living at Sharples and at Turton, near Bolton, a junior branch of the family, one of which was a husbandman and another humbly calls himself "a poor laboring man;" that they both were descendants of the owners of the manor is proved beyond a doubt by the following extract from the Duchy Record:

BILL OF COMPLAINT BROUGHT IN 30 OCTOBER, 1598.* WILLIAM KENNION, CLAIMING BY LEASE FROM WILLIAM ORREL versus ELIZABETH SHARPLES, WIDOW, MARGARET SHARPLES AND ANNE, HER DAUGHTERS.

William Kennyon, of the Foules, county Lancaster, a yeoman.

Whereas, William Orrell, of Turton, county Lancaster, Esq., is seized in fee of a messuage and lands in Turton, now or late in the tenure of Edmund Sharples, of Turton, husbandman, and Elizabeth Sharples, widow, mother of the said Edmund, and by indenture leased the same to William Kennyon, the suppliant, and also tithes of corn, for the lives of the suppliant and Elizabeth Kennyon, his wife, and of Elizabeth Sharples, widow, and the longest liver of them. But Elizabeth Sharples, widow, combining with Margery Sharples and Anne Sharples, her daughters, got into their hands the said indenture of lease and expelled the suppliant.

THE ANSWER OF ELIZABETH SHARPLES, WIDOW, MARGERY SHARPLES AND ANNE SHARPLES.

Elizabeth Sharples, widow, says that the messuage and lands have been in the name, blood and kindred of the Sharples as farmers to the same for divers descents, and that John Sharples, deceased, her late husband, by himself and his assigns, occupied the tenement during his life by virtue of a lease made to him by some of the ancestors of William Orrell, of Turton, Esq., and John Sharples, being so possessed, did about 17 Elizabeth (1574–5) covenant with William Orrell, that in consideration of thirty pounds to be paid by John Sharples to William Orrell, the said William Orrell should at all times during his own life seal and deliver as his deed a lease of the messuage and tenement, to hold to John Sharples and his assigns during the lives of the said Elizabeth Sharples and of Edmund Sharples, their son; and if Edmund die in the lifetime of his father, then John Sharples, another of the sons of the said John Sharples, the father, is to be put in the lease; and if John Sharples, the son, die before the making of the lease, then Edward Sharples, another son, is to be put in the lease. Since the agreement and since the death of John Sharples, the father, that is to say in or about 34 Elizabeth (1591–2), William Orrell, for sixty pounds to be paid by Elizabeth Sharples and Edmund, her son, demised the said messuage and tenement in variance to Elizabeth and Edmund for their lives. William Orrell demised to Elizabeth Sharples for twenty pounds (her portion of the sixty pounds) certain closes specified, for her life. And it was agreed that the Bent, with the Fouldes lying about the messuage and tenement, should be occupied in common between Elizabeth and Edmund; and afterwards Edmund assigned to the complainant his title to the said messuage and tenement, for a sum of money.

* Record Office, vol. 143, K. 5 and 5 a.

Margery and Anne say they make no claim than as children and servants to Elizabeth, and only to that portion possessed by Elizabeth and to her demised.

THE REPLICATION OF WILLIAM KENNYON, COMPLAINANT (3 FEB., 1598):*

William Kennyon says that he indicted the defendants at the Quarter Sessions, at Manchester, about four years ago for unlawfully disturbing him in the possession of the property, yet by the means of Richard Holland and Edmund Hopwood, Esqs., two of the justices of the peace at the Quarter Sessions, held at Manchester 9 October, 36 Elizabeth (1594), it was agreed between him on the one part and Elizabeth Sharples, widow, on the other part, that the land in her occupation should be measured by William Orrell, Esq., and if it amounted to more than fifteen acres the repliant should have the surplus, but if less then to be made up from the land of the repliant, paying him for the same. (A long account about this follows.) William

* Record Office, K. 5 b.

Orrell, by indenture of award dated 16 February, 38 Elizabeth, ordered that Elizabeth Sharples should have fifteen acres. (A long account follows, in which he denies the statement made by the defendants.)

WILLIAM WARD alias SHARPLES versus RICHARD WARD alias SHARPLES. (Brought in 31 October, 1600.*)

William Ward alias Sharples, husbandman, complains, that—

Whereas, Edmund Warde† alias Sharples, late of Sharples, county of Lancaster, husbandman, deceased, late father to the complainant, was an ancient tenant of a tenement in Sharples and his ancestors before him, unto one Alexander Warde alias Sharples, now deceased (kinsman to William Warde and Anne, his sister), late lord and owner and his ancestors before him. The said Edmund Warde, father of the complainant, died tenant of the tenement, leaving the complainant and one Anne, his sister, both within age, being his only children. Afterwards one Richard Warde, uncle to complainant, now also deceased, entered into the tenement as their guardian, and so prevailed with the said Alexander Warde as to obtain a lease of the tenement for himself, which he would not grant until Richard promised to pay a sum of money to your subject and to Anne, his sister, which Richard consented to do. Afterwards, Richard Warde alias Sharples, made his will and made Margery, then his wife, and William Stones his executors. Since which time Anne, the complainant's sister, is also dead. But one Richard Warde alias Sharples, gentleman, son and heir of the said Alexander, having come into the possession of the writing proving the complainant's right to the money, combining with the executors, refuses to give it up to complainant or to pay the money, to the utter undoing of the complainant, who is a poor laboring man. 30 October, 1600, 42 Elizabeth.

Another of the same stock was Geoffrey, or Jeffrey Sharples, who appeared as defendant in a bill filed 27 April, 1581.‡

ALAN HULTON versus ADAM STONES AND JEFFREY SHARPLES.

Alan Hulton, of Farneworthe, county of Lancaster, Esq., complains that—

Whereas, He was seized of messuages, etc., in Farneworthe, Rumworthe, Kersley and Bolton, county of Lancaster, in fee, and, being in suit for some part of the said lands, stayed at the house of Adam Stones, his natural uncle, and when he was going to London about the suit he left in the custody of Adam Stones and Margaret, his daughter, now the wife of Geoffrey Sharples, six pieces of evidences concerning the lands in Farneworthe and Bolton, besides various goods and chattels, which they refuse to give up.

This Geoffrey Sharples appears to have removed to Flixton, in the county of Lancaster. His will is dated March 2, 1602–3; in it he is described as a yeoman; he bequeathed his "leather breeches" to Adam Stones; to his cousin Richard Ward ten shillings, and he acknowledges a debt of five pounds to his uncle, Alexander Ward.

The Flixton Registers prove the following:

Anne=Jeffrey Sharples=2d Margaret Stones

buried 30 March 1580. | (will 1602–3) | married 20 October, 1580

Richard Sharples, buried 23 Feb. 1576–7.

Elizabeth Sharples, buried 27 May, 1577.

Elizabeth Sharples.

There was a Richard Sharples living at Wynbunbury, in Cheshire, from 1579 to 1641, and a Jeffrey Sharples,* of the same place, is supposed to have been his brother; this Jeffrey's son John emigrated to Pennsylvania. The foregoing particulars seem to point to the probability that either Alexander Sharples alias Warde, who married the daughter of Richard Urmston, or his son Richard had two or more sons whose names were not recorded by the Heralds, an omission of this kind being a very common occurrence. There can be no reasonable doubt but that Jeffrey Sharples, of Flixton, was a descendant of the original stock.

After the death of John Sharples, of Sharples Hall, in 1736, the estates passed to the two daughters, Anne and Mary, and by deed of partition dated 1 May 1749, their two husbands, the Rev. Samuel Lawson and Roger Brantwood, gentleman, divided the estates. In this deed, amongst other things, is mentioned a "pew in Bolton Church." Sharples Hall descended to John Lawson, son of Samuel Lawson, and afterwards to his son, John Sharples Lawson, M.D., of Edinburgh, who, in 1815, sold it to James Rothwell, of Much Hoole, in the county of Lancaster, Esq., for six thousand five hundred and twenty pounds.

* A Jeffrey Sharples held a cottage in Kilchester, in Lancashire, in 1647. (See Church Survey, Record Society of Lancashire and Cheshire, vol. i. 201.

The date of the erection of the first Sharples Hall is unknown, but probably an Elizabethan building gave place to one of later date. The present Hall is a plain building with a centre and two gables.

Another branch of the family lived at Sharples House, in Eccleston, in Lancashire. They descended from Roger Sharples, the second son of Roger Sharples, of Sharples Hall, and Hester (the daughter of Thomas Heton), his wife; this Roger (the younger) died at Sharples House in 1675, leaving issue: 1. William, died young; 2. Henry, was living in 1666; 3. John, of whom presently; 4. Ellen, born 1658; 5. Jane, died 1657.

John, the third son of Roger Sharples, was born in February, 1645, was an M.D., and lived at Sharples House. He married Christiana, daughter of William Carter, of Blacklow Hall and Carter House, in Mawdesley, in the parish of Croston, in Lancashire, by whom he had issue: 1. Henry, died young; 2. William, of whom presently; 3. Elizabeth, died unmarried 17 June, 1687; 4. Jane, born 1684.

William, the second son of John Sharples, was born 12 August, 1693; he followed his father's profession and lived at Sharples House and Blacklow Hall. He died in July, 1765, having married Mary, daughter and co-heiress to Daniel Pilgrim, of Warrington, and niece of Dr. Thomas Pilgrim, rector of Standish. He had issue four daughters: 1. Christiana, who married the Rev. Mr. Knowles, died 1826; 2. Jane, married Mr. —— Mackie; 3. Mary, married Lancelot Graham,* a clergyman; 4. Eliza, married Mr. Fayer. This branch then became extinct.

* He had issue four sons, the eldest of whom, Lancelot Graham, married Ellen, daughter of John Torbock, of Torbock, county Lancaster, and had issue two sons, Alfred and Henry; the former died in 1873. To his eldest son, Henry Graham, Captain Sixteenth Lancers, I am indebted for the details of this branch of the family.

SHARPLES OF FRECKLETON.

DUGDALE, in his Visitations of Lancashire, records two pedigrees of this family, the one of Sharples and the other of Freckleton, in the parish of Kirkham. Flower, in his visitation in 1567, only gave the Freckleton branch—in every case, however, the arms assigned are the same.

In the fifteenth century, an offshoot of the parent stock settled in the parish of Kirkham. By deed dated 22 October, 19 Edward IV. (1479),* Richard Butler, of Laton, in the county of Lancaster, attornied William Billisdale to receive seizin from Thomas Sharples, of Killymire, in the "vil" of Thistleton (in Kirkham,) of certain lands there. A Thomas Sharples, probably the son of the above-named Thomas, died at Kellermere 12 July, 19 Henry VIII. (1527), and his son William, then fifteen years old, was his heir.† Before the close of the century, the parish register gives evidence that the family had very much increased, as there were the following and perhaps others then living in the parish, viz.: James Sharples married Joan Wilkinson 30 September, 1569; they had a son John, baptized 20 March, 1586. Ester, the wife of James Sharples, of Wray, died in April, 1578, and his inq. post. mort. was taken in 37 Elizabeth (1594–5). John Sharples had a son James, baptized 11 November, 1552. James Sharples was buried 9 January, 1562–3; a son of his was buried 23 January, 1540–1, and a son Miles was buried 31 January, 1560–1. Henry Sharples, of Wray, died in November, 1578. Giles Sharples was buried in 1568. Richard Sharples and Ellen Cowbron (widow) were married 3 December, 1568.

In 1589, John Sharples, gentleman, was churchwarden of Kirkham, and in 1648 George Sharpless was elected a feofee of the Kirkham Free Grammar School in the place of James Sharples, "who had gone to live across the Ribble." It may safely be assumed that the John who was elected churchwarden in 1589 was the same John Sharples to whom, on 8 December, 1591, the dean and chapter of Christ Church, Oxford, granted the advowson of Kirkham Church for twenty-one years.*

In 1591, John Sharples was nominated as vicar of Kirkham. James Sharples, who was a graduate of St. John's College, Cambrige, and who in giving the usual bond to the bishop on his appointment to the vicarage, named as his bondsman his kinsman, John Sharples, of Freckleton, yeoman. The Rev. James Sharples did not long enjoy his preferment, as he was buried at Kirkham, 21 September, 1594.

The next vicar was presented by John Sharples in the following month. In 1598 the living was again vacant, and this time Cuthbert Sharples, the son of John Sharples, of Orford, near Warrington, made the presentment.

Cuthbert Sharples was himself living at Orford and was acting as steward or auditor of the Ireland estates. He died in 1618 ; his inq. post. mort. was held in 17 James I., and from this and his will (proved 1618) it appears, that he then lived at Latham, near Ormskirk, and held lands there. He had issue a son George and a daughter Elizabeth. His wife Anne survived him, and he had a brother Arthur, and John Nowell, of Read, was his brother-in-law. There must have been two marriages between the two families, as Anne, the daughter of Roger Nowell, of Read (who was high-sheriff of Lancashire in 1610), married John Sharples, of Freckleton, who died in 1651. The great-uncle of Roger Nowell was Alexander Nowell, dean of St. Paul's, London. He died 13 February, 1601–2, aged ninety-five.

The John Sharples, of Freckleton, who purchased the advowson of Kirkham, in 1591, and John Sharples, of Orford, we take to be identical, and that being so, Cuthbert Sharples was the brother of Arthur Sharples, although his name is omitted by Dugdale, and one of his sisters (also omitted) married a John Nowell, of Reed Hall. (See Pedigree.)

In the civil wars a Captain George Sharples, of Lytham (the adjoining parish to Kirkham), served under Colonel Alexander Rigby on the Parliamentary side, and in May, 1644, he was taken prisoner by the Earl of Derby and was "carried through the streets (of Bolton) almost naked and barefooted, in the mire and dirt, to Mr. Cuthbert Clifton, eldest son of Mr. Thomas Clifton, of Lytham, landlord to the said Captaine, who, when he came before him and others like himselfe, they caused him to stand in the dirt to his knees, jeering at him, and put a Psalter into his hands that he might sing them a Psalme to make them sporte." He was afterwards sent with the other prisoners to the parish church for safe custody, the next day, "with a paire of clogs upon his feet and a musket upon his shoulders, like a pore soldier." He was marched off towards the Moors, but on the road he managed to escape.* This was probably George Sharples, of Freckleton, who would then be about twenty-three years old. He married the daughter of Edward Veale, of Whinings, in the parish of Rispham, in Lancashire, and Edward Veale, in his will dated 25 November, 1650, left "ten shillings to his son-in-law, George Sharples."

SHARPLESS BI-CENTENNIAL REUNION, 1882
(Night)

Proceedings

of the

Bi-Centennial Celebration of the Landing of John Sharples and Family, 1682. Held at Waterville 24th of 8th month, 1882. 1882.

GOOD deeds are in every way worthy of commemoration. They serve as an example to others. The perpetuation of their memory as a means of presenting a lesson to succeeding generations has received the favor of mankind throughout the history of the race. The memory of the simple life of the ancestor of the Sharpless family in America, clings with greatest tenacity to the fact, that its salient characteristic was a devout adherence to principles and maintenance of testimonies to them, so at variance with those commonly accepted, as to lead to harsh treatment and persecution. In order that his convictions might be maintained in their integrity without interference, and that he might enjoy the freedom to worship in accordance with the guidance of the light given him, John Sharples gave up his home in his native country to establish one in the wilderness of the new world amid its savage tribes. The faith in his Divine Guide and Protector, which gave him courage to meet the dangers of the sea and the wilderness, was the seed then planted. Its fruit is shown in the blessings now enjoyed by his decendants living in the fairest land and under the best government yet known. It was the grand demonstration in memory of the independence of our country, held on the centennial anniversary of its birth, that presented to the mind of one of his descendents the thought of preserving the memory of John Sharples' achievement of independence of conscience by gathering his posterity at the site of the settler's cabin when the bi-centennial of his landing in this country should arrive. This thought was mentioned to a few of the family, who received it with approval, and it was by these remembered until the dawn of the bi-centennial year, 1882. About the first of the sixth month (June) of that year, a circular was prepared, to which several prominent members of the family attached their names. The following is a copy of the circular:

ARMS OF THE SHARPLES FAMILY, 1664.

"It is believed that all now living in the United States, of the name of Sharpless, are descendants from John Sharples, who, with his family, emigrated from England and landed at Chester, Pennsylvania, on the 14th of 6th mo. (old style) 1682.

"In commemoration of that event, it is proposed to hold a reunion of his descendants at the place where the family settled, on Ridley Creek, near Chester, on the 24th day of the 8th month (August) next, that being, according to the present mode of chronological reckoning, the two hundredth anniversary of the day on which the family landed.

"It is intended to be a social family gathering, to promote friendship among kindred and strengthen the bonds of relationship; held on the spot where our common ancestor (after suffering for conscience sake in his native land) erected his cabin in the wilderness of the new world.

"Sketches of family history will be read; the old family Bible, and such other relics as can be obtained, will be exhibited.

"A cordial invitation is extended to all of the descendants of the family to be present, and bring with them anything they may have in their possession that will throw any light on the history of the family or indicate its progress.

About one thousand of these were sent through the mails, and a general and thorough interest was manifested by the descendants in all parts of the country. A spirit of genealogical investigation was incited and many persons were surprised to find that they belonged to the family, a fact they were quite willing to accept. Friends and neighbors discovered ties of relationship they knew not of, and scattered members of the tribe came forth to assert the integrity of their lineage.

Numerous letters of approval were received, some of which are of sufficient interest to mention here. The venerable William M. Green, Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of Mississippi, then in his eighty-fifth year, wrote to J. Clemson Sharpless as follows:

"SEWANEE, TENNESSEE, July 24, 1882.

"MY DEAR SIR: Your letter has been truly welcome, and has stirred up my Quaker blood considerably. I would say that I am proud of that blood, if pride were not forbidden to us. But oftentimes, when I have either heard or read of the boast of 'Norman blood,' I have felt very well content with my more peaceful origin. You will not wonder that I heartily approve of your proposed bi-centennial commemoration, and that I have a strong desire to attend it. If my health and other circumstances will admit, I will try during that time to be with you and see the very spot where my worthy and unpretentious progenitor first pitched his tent."

Helen Hunt Jackson, the wife of William Sharpless Jackson, of Colorado Springs, a leading poetess and writer over the signature of "H. H.," whose recent death is sadly lamented, wrote as follows:

"Mr. Jackson and I are very sorry we cannot be present at the Sharpless reunion. I think too much cannot be made of such family reunions. They tend to arouse and keep alive that sentiment of reverence for the past which is so deficient in the average American nature. A boy who begins life with a strong sense of worthy pride in his ancestors is far less likely to become an unworthy man than the boy who does not know or care who went before him in the family record."

The interest manifested by the members of the family was so general that it gave the promise that the occasion would indeed be a notable one. This promise was fully realized.

Early in the seventh month (July) a few of the family met at Sharpless Rock in order that an organization might be effected for the purpose of preparing for the interesting event. John Sharpless, of near Chester, was made president of this meeting, and Charles W. Sharpless, of Philadelphia, secretary. Plans for the bi-centennial were discussed, and it was finally resolved to appoint a committee to whom should be assigned the charge of preparing for the meeting on the approaching anniversary.

The following persons acted as the committee: John Sharpless, Townsend T. Sharpless, George Sharpless, Henry Palmer, Susan Sharpless, Sallie Sharpless, Anna Sharpless, Anna P. Sharpless, Ruthanna Sharpless, Phebe H. Palmer, Ann Trimble, Anna P. Chambers, all of the vicinity of Chester; Joel Sharpless, of Middletown; R. Anna Darlington, Lydia C. Sharpless, J. Clemson Sharpless, of West Chester; Charles W. Sharpless, Samuel L. Smedley and Sylvester Garrett, of Philadelphia.

A meeting of the committee was held at the same place on the second of the eighth month, at which time definite plans were adopted and sub-committees were appointed to special duties in connection with the occasion.

On the 24th, after a night of frequent showers, the morning broke bright and beautiful, opening a day which proved charmingly fitted for the gathering of John Sharples' descendants at the site of the first home of the family in the new world.

At an early hour members of the committee of arrangements were upon the grounds busy in preparing for the reception of visitors. A vacant dwelling which stood near the Rock had been fitted up with beds and cots, that the aged, the infirm, and infant children might have a place to rest when fatigued by the journey or the heat of the day. Here too was a room where lunch-baskets, and fruits and refreshments and extra garments were stored. Barrels of ice-water were provided for the thirsty ones, and all arrangements necessary for the comfort of the visitors were full and complete. Under the trees, near by, glass cases, upon rude stands, were ready for the reception of relics to be displayed. Upon the bluff a platform, with hastily constructed seats, had been prepared for the meeting, and a commodious foot-bridge had been built over the creek in order to facilitate the approach to the grounds from the public road. All this, together with the decoration of the grounds, represented a large amount of labor, and to the energy, ingenuity, and thoughtful care of members of the family residing in the immediate vicinity of the place the visitors were largely indebted for so much that contributed to their comfort and pleasure.

Each member of the committee of arrangements was provided with a badge of white satin ribbon, about two inches wide, on which was printed in gold letters—

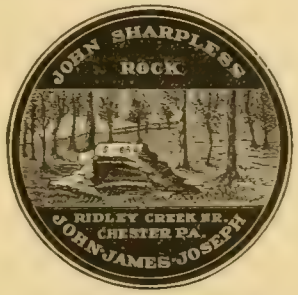
BI-CENTENNIAL.
6–14–1682.
8–24–1882.

For a few invited guests (not members of the family), badges of pink satin were provided; on these in black letters was printed—

SHARPLESS
BI-CENTENNIAL.
6–14–1682.
8–24–1882.

A handsome bronze medal, executed by the engraver of the United States Mint, prepared under the direction of Charles W. Sharpless, of Philadelphia, was purchased by many as a memento of the occasion. This was much admired and was regarded as a fine specimen of art.



To each member of the family who registered at the registry bureau was given a badge of pink card-board, the size of a silver dollar, on which was printed "Sharpless Bi-Centennial, 8th mo. 24th, 1882." The name of the person, with their number on the registry list, was written on this, and it was worn in a conspicuous place, to indicate at a glance that the wearer's name had been entered in the registry.

In the following account of the gathering we have copied largely from the Daily Local News, published at West Chester, Pa., August 25, 1882:

In 1682, 6th mo. 14, John Sharples, with his wife and seven children, after a long, tedious and perilous journey, landed in Chester, in Pennsylvania.

Observing the difference between the old and new style in the computation of time, the bi-centennial of the landing takes date August 24, 1882, and in commemoration of this event Thursday was duly observed by a grand reunion of the descendants at Waterville, in Nether Providence Township, Delaware County, at which place the original ancestors first located themselves in the land of their adoption and erected and lived in what, "though ever so humble," was nevertheless a home.

SHARPLESS ROCK.

Two miles north of the city of Chester they found upon the banks of Ridley Creek and amid the almost unbroken forest a beautiful stream flowing at the base of a rather steep bluff formed of rock and lying to the south. The spot is a charming one now, and two hundred years ago it appeared to have charms also, at least sufficient to enlist the admiration and love of the pioneer Sharpless family, composed of John and Jane and their seven children.

Now it is known as Waterville, a quaint-looking little village, containing a dozen or so dwellings with a couple of abandoned and dingy looking woolen-mills and one grist-mill, the latter being the only active manufacturing feature in the village. The little town is nestled between hills, and in its own character and through force of its natural surroundings it is beautifully picturesque.

Though the inroads of two centuries of civilization have robbed the place of much of its native and original grandeur, still it presents features of quiet, diversified scenery and rural home attractions such as impress themselves upon the mind of the visitors.

Upon the stream, along the rocky hillside, on the summit, in the sparkling valley—in fact at every point the descendants of the venturesome John gathered by the hundreds on Thursday. By car and private conveyances they came from every point, and long before the sun had reached his quarter pole the landscape was dotted with groups of happy people of all ages, bent upon doing honor to the day and date set apart for family observance.

Busy committees of arrangements, with their sub-committees, flitted here and there in the active discharge of their duties that their guests might find every comfort common to such an occasion. At the head of all this work our townsman, J. Clemson Sharpless, was conspicuously active and energetic, and to his energy and executive abilities much credit is due for the very successful observance of this day, so rich in historic lore to every member of this well-known, influential and prosperous family.

Large baskets, with snow white cloths, bespoke an ample provision of good things to tempt the inner man, and, as each new arrival reached the grounds, they were carefully taken charge of, and in the rounds of hand-shaking and cheerful greetings the scene was such as is only seen when long-separated friends again join hearts and hands at the family altar.

Up to high noon the stream of visitors, relatives and participants continued to pour into the grounds from all directions, and amid the many greetings prominent was heard the exclamation, "Why I never before knew that you were a Sharpless!"

Members of the various family branches carefully and enthusiastically compared their respective family-trees, and thus the kin found unlooked-for enjoyment in meeting those whom they never had met before and with whom they had never realized any existing kindred tie.

The committee of arrangements gathered together at about eleven o'clock in the old dwelling on the grounds and held a conference for making such changes and additions to the programme as were deemed necessary. The fast increasing multitude proved that the most sanguine expectations of those foremost in getting up the event were being more than realized and success in every particular was assured.

Upon the sloping lawn benches from a near by meeting-house had been placed, and upon these hundreds took occasion to rest and enjoy little tete-a-tetes. Beside the race which babbles along in its sparkling way leading from the old grist-mill into the village, Mr. Gutekunst, Philadelphia's famous photographic artist, had erected a stand or lookout, and upon this he at this hour proceeded to place in position one of his largest instruments for the purpose of taking views of the beautiful scene, to which the rugged hill formed a most charming background.

In this interim almost everyone took occasion to visit the house built by Joseph, son of John 1st, which stands on the brow of the hill to the westward. Relics of all kinds, rich in their traditions, were displayed, and to every eye were objects of unusual interest. On the grounds near the Rock scores of these were exhibited in systematic order in glass cases, and in this department of the occasion much forethought, good judgment and arduous labor was abundantly manifested. We have prepared a list of these curiosities, which will be given hereafter.

Upon an arch made of evergreens, etc., on the end of the foot-bridge spanning Ridley Creek, and which led you directly to the grove, was placed the word "Welcome," underneath which were the mottoes in two wreaths: "1682, J. & J. S., Our Parents," and "1882, Our Brothers." On the reverse side were the inscriptions: "Pro Veritas Suffer Fortiter." "Dwellers in Peace" and "Pioneers for Conscience."

And, too, the work of registering the members of the family required no little amount of time and labor. This feature the committee of arrangements had well considered and most thoroughly provided for—the plan being the best we have ever seen. Cards were issued to the people, with instructions to write thereon the names, dates of birth, residence, and of what branch of family, which greatly facilitated the work. A large wall tent, well equipped with all appliances for the business, and with several active men in charge, served to fill this part of the bill of needs to a nicety.

At this registry department, photographs of the Rock, the old house built by the hands of Joseph, and other spots of interest, also medals bearing the coat-of-arms, etc., were displayed for sale, and for which there was a lively demand all day long. Genealogical charts, prepared by Samuel L. Smedley, showing much care and elaborate detail, were here also spread out for the benefit of all who wished to study the great family-tree and its branches, and thus it was that many were brought to realize the possession of relations of whom they had never before known in any other sense of relationship than within the lines of friendship. An instance came to the notice of the writer as he stood before these charts, which will elucidate what we have said above, as to the value of the information derived and imparted by these carefully gotten-up family records. Two men, one standing before the other, were examining the location of their farms and the branches of the genealogical chart. Suddenly the one in the rear tapped the other on the shoulder, and moving his finger over it said, "Here is your farm and here is mine. Now look at this branch record of the family-tree. Here is your name and here is mine, and as true as I live, though we have owned adjoining farms and lived near neighbors for over twenty years, never until this moment was I aware of our being relatives." There was considerable good feeling manifested over the discovery, and the two walked pleasantly away together, evidently experiencing a new interest for each other—one based upon the broader grounds of family ties.

At eleven-thirty o'clock the committee of arrangements announced that at one o'clock the relatives of the family would assemble on the lawn and slope of the hill and immediately around the Sharpless Rock for the photographic picture, and at one-thirty the programme of literary exercises would be commenced in the grove on the brow of the hill. After this announcement the dinner hour was observed, and all over the grounds families scattered themselves beneath the ample shade trees and partook of the good things with which they had well provided themselves.

This interesting part of the day's observances having been faithfully performed, the throng gathered at the Rock, the more patriarchal members being given a conspicuous position in the foreground, and in a few moments three views were taken by the photographer, after which the stand on the hill was sought and the literary exercises of the occasion were entered upon.

The meeting was brought to order by Samuel L. Smedley, Chief Engineer and Surveyor of the City of Philadelphia, and was organized by calling John Sharpless, a resident of the vicinity of the first home of the settlers, to the chair. Upon his taking the stand he expressed thanks for the honor thus conferred upon him, and stated that he had been born and lived continuously near that spot, that he bore the name of the pioneer emigrant—his worthy ancestor. His remarks were apropos to the hour and place, and were listened to with marked attention by the vast concourse of friends and relatives grouped around the platform.

On motion, Jesse K. Sharpless, of Catawissa, Pennsylvania, Bishop Green, of Mississippi, William C. Sharpless, Philadelphia, George Sharpless, Nether Providence, Delaware County, Stephen P. Sharpless, Massachusetts, and Lewis Garrett, of Radnor, were chosen vice-presidents, the six representing the three branches of the family—descendants of John, James and Joseph Sharples.

Three secretaries were next elected, also representing the three branches, in the persons of Professor Isaac Sharpless, of Haverford College, Pennsylvania, Samuel M. Garrigues and Eugene G. Sharpless, of Philadelphia.

The meeting being thus organized, James E. Clark, Esq., from Philadelphia, was introduced, who read a genealogical sketch of the Sharpless family in England, prepared and furnished for the occasion by Ezekiel Hunn, Jr., Esq., of Philadelphia. This paper, in as accurate a manner as the records in England permitted of doing, gives the family history as far back as the fifteenth century, and also much valuable information relating to the coat-of-arms adopted and worn by them in the mother country. The preparation of this production showed that much labor and research had been resorted to, and in the work the most reliable and authentic authorities had been consulted. As the reading progressed the interest became more earnest on the part of the hearers, and those on the outskirts of the throng were not a little exercised at not being able to hear it as plainly as they desired. This valuable contribution will be found complete at the close of the account of the proceedings.

Next, Nathan J. Sharples, of West Grove, well and familiarly known to many of those present, was introduced, and in a careful and intelligible manner, as the family historian of the day, read the following:

FAMILY ADDRESS.

We are kindred and represent various branches of a family extended over the wide area of this country from the northernmost tier of States to the southernmost, and from the Atlantic to the far western settlements.

We have gathered here at the Rock sacred to memory as the one against which the first cabin that gave shelter to our progenitors in America was placed. We have come not only to commemorate an event from which we date our existence in a free country, where liberty of conscience, freedom of speech and of action, as well as the possibilities of reaping the fruits of labor and enterprise, are to be had, but to look each other in the face and grasp each other by the hand, and find the realization of that ancient apothegm, that "as iron sharpeneth iron so does the countenance of a man that of his friend."

Here on this spot, two hundred years ago to-day, our ancestors came, worn with the tedium and discomforts of a long voyage, pressed with the cares and fears that beleaguer the mind on the threshold of so momentous an event, and conscious of the deprivations, hardships and trials that must of necessity be met and encountered in a new world, where complete civilization had not yet spread her mantle, and where the conveniences and comforts of society were comparatively unknown; where Nature, though decked in all the panoply that wealth of soil, magnificent primeval forest, crystal streams, genial suns, and benign skies, still could not supplant the abundance that successful tillage added to the production of art and science found in the home of their birth could supply; and which to them were henceforth to be beyond the barrier of the great ocean.

They came to this country with unwavering faith and willing to endorse, no doubt, the declaration of their friends in a letter to their brethren in Great Britain dated 17th of first month, 1683, in which they say:

> "Dear friends, we have no cause to murmur; our lot is fallen everyway in a goodly place, and the love of God is and growing among us, and we are a family at peace within ourselves, and truly great is our joy therefor." (Janney's Life of Penn, page 224.)

I could not fail to notice, in letters written early after their coming here, how little detail of incident and how much of thankfulness for blessings was expressed.

In the inquiry respecting the earliest history of the family, it is of interest to discover when and how the name originated. It is known that the earliest names of history have a meaning from Adam (red earth) down through the various ages. Among all nations and peoples—at first by baptismal name, afterward by prefix or affix compounding names and conferring extended significance—becoming a surname, individualized, some more distinguished than their fellows, as "Simon surnamed Peter," Ptolemy Soter, Edmund Ironside, etc. These surnames were not hereditary, however. Camden places the era of hereditary French surnames at A. D. 1000, and of English at about the time of the conquest or a little before. This has reference to the people generally. Family names had been transmitted at an earlier period.

A very large proportion of French and English names are German in their origin, and it is in Germany we find the earliest record of our family name.

After an examination of the several works of different dates, beginning with Grimm, the father of Teutonic Philology, and also those of Graff and Forstemann, who supplements the others. Ferguson, in his Teutonic Name System, etc., a work published in England in 1864, has given the name we are in quest of. He remarks:

"The study of English names embraces a wider field than that of the English language, because we have no longer the same Anglo-Saxon starting-point. The dialects of the various tribes who came to this country were fused into one common language, and that was Anglo-Saxon, but there was no such fusion of their names. In all their dialectic variations the names of those early settlers still stand in the London Directory."

It is not without interest to know the name—Salverte, who wrote on the names of men, nations, and places, has well said:

"Our proper name is ourself in our thoughts, and in the thoughts of those who know us, and it cannot be separated from our existence. A name, however apparently insignificant, instantly calls to our remembrance the man, his personal appearance, his moral attributes, or some event by which he is identified. The few syllables constituting it suffice to reopen the fountain of a bereaved mother's tears, to cover with blushes the forehead of the maiden, to agitate the heart of the lover, to light up in the eyes of an enemy the fires of rage and to awaken in the breast of one separated by distance from his friend the liveliest emotions of hope or regret."

The old adage, Sine nomine Homo non est, is beyond question, and we are therefore excusable in attempting to discover the name and its significance which belong to this people here to-day. We are not left to tradition for our teacher. Tradition as to origin of facts has been found many times substantially correct; but "as to origin of names," in almost all cases delusive and worthless and in matters of etymology is generally sheer invention.

Ferguson, in speaking of the credibility of the various authorities consulted by him, says of the Aldeutsches Namenbuch, "old Dutch name book," by Forstemann:

> "It is a most complete, solid, and trustworthy work, extremely well arranged and throwing more light on English names than any other book I know."

In this we find the derivation of our name. From the old High German "Lezan," modern German "Lesen," to read, old Norse "Lesa," to study, is derived the stem "Las," "Les," "Lis." As a termination "Leis" is found in five German names of the eighth century, in all cases conferring a parallel meaning.

He also gives English names with this termination: "Leis" rendered into its proper complement "Less." This with "Scarf," of old High German, which is synonymous with "Scearp" in Anglo-Saxon, forms "Sharpless," the equivalent of a word found in the vocabulary of Germany, and representing the meaning just referred to.

There is no authority discoverable indicating a change of orthography to have been made. It is tradition on which depends the assertion that "Sharpels," pronounced as this termination would indicate, was at one time the proper name.

To recapitulate, Sharpless as a name is first found in Germany about the eighth century and its significance is "skillful at learning." The name occurs in England, but at what period its advent was we are not informed. As to origination in the beginning, we may speculate or imagine; perhaps some fond parents, who with many in every generation, were prompted by a desire to impress upon the coming man a sense of the ideal pointed to in the name, gave motive for aim at the desired purpose to be prompt at learning, or, what is more complimentary, some conspicuous merit summoned the appellation from willing compeers.

There can be no doubt that the persecution imposed in England impelled our first American ancestry to seek a new home, and they came to the land purchased by Penn as the most inviting field offered to escape to, and avoid the discomforts of their situation in England, as well as offering prospects of extended character.

That the followers of Fox were persecuted is commonly known. A historian remarks of George Fox:

"He abhorred all principles of expediency and would do right, or what the inspired voice within him assured him to be right, regardless of all consequences and all tribulations."

He also says, speaking of the Friends:

"Neither their inoffensive lives, nor their doctrine of non-resistance, nor their elevated spiritualism could screen them from the wrath of judges, bishops and legislators. They were imprisoned, fined, whipped, and lacerated without mercy, but they endured their afflictions with patience and never lost their faith in truth or trust in God." (Lord's Modern History.)

Our progenitor was a victim of this ruthless persecution. In proof of this we refer to Besse's Sufferings; at page 105, in the year 1674 and 1675, in the account of distress made, Thomas Brassey, John Symcock and John Sharples are named, among others, as being subjected to fine. And on page 108, twenty-three persons are said to have been convicted under the act of Queen Elizabeth for one month's absence from their parish church and fined twenty pounds.

That John Sharples was a prominent member of his profession we have evidence in a work printed in London, in 1677, entitled, The Light Unchangeable, by R. Smith. He says on page 9:

"My friends in this county have, every month, a meeting, where commonly two or three or more from every particular meeting meet together about such affairs as are requisite to keep and preserve societies in peace and unity, and they who commonly meet at these places are these and more, viz.: Thomas Janney, John Badily, John Sharples, Thomas Brassey, John Symcock," etc. etc.

Two of the above named came to this country the same year as their neighbor, John Sharples, and a third, Thomas Janney, in the following year, in the ship "Endeavor."

John Sharples and family possibly left England in the ship "Lion"—he, his wife, Jane Moor, and children: Phebe, John, Thomas, James, Caleb, Jane and Joseph. In a letter published here, written by one of the passengers, the death of a child is referred to as occurring on the passage.

Our fathers found peace under the shelter of the branches of a fallen tree and were content, because of the relief they found, though it were but an imperfect shield 'gainst scorching sun or merciless rain. Thus they lived six weeks or more until better protection could be had in a cabin of their erection against this Rock. Yon house upon the rising ground erected by Joseph, the youngest son, attests his skill as carpenter of that early period.

Here in the wilds with roving Indians around them, but from whom they probably received kind acts, because their better nature had as yet been only appealed to, and fresh in their memory were the published purposes of the coming Governor, who, in a letter dated twenty-first of second month, 1682, addressed to them, says:

"This I send to assure you of my love and desire you to love my friends; and when the great God brings me among you, I intend to order all things in such a manner that we may live in peace, one with another, which I hope the great God will incline both me and you to do. I have already taken care that none of my people wrong you; by good laws I have provided for that purpose," etc.

He also had written to a great Sachem a letter dated second month 21st, 1682, in which he thus addresses him:

"The great God that made thee and me and all the world inclines our hearts to love peace and justice, that we may live friendly together as becomes the workmanship of the great God. This will I say, that the people who come with me are a just, plain, and honest people, that neither make war upon others nor fear war from others, because they will be just."

The Indian was their friend and joined in offering the best entertainment that could be offered to Penn and his friends when they came over at a little later date than the arrival of our people.

The grant of lands from Penn to John Sharples consisted of one thousand acres. Part of this was in Middletown and part in Nether Providence. The railroad at Wallingford passes through one of these tracts.

Of the two hundred and forty acres here at Waterville the heirs of John M. and those of Daniel Sharpless are possessed of parts, George Sharpless also a part. Others of another name share in the possession of the tract.

That at Middletown is mostly owned by the sons of Jared Darlington, who belong to the Sharpless family. This was the western woods, which was assigned to Joseph, the youngest brother, originally.

John, the father, died 11th of fourth month, 1685, at about the age of sixty-one years, his daughters Jane and Phebe in the same year, and his son Caleb in the next.

Our immediate progenitors, although not rich in the fullest sense of worldly treasure, had treasure in a higher sense of which they could not be despoiled. A blessing rested on them, their offspring have been prospered, and it is not an uncommon remark that they compare favorably with the masses for sobriety and good citizenship.

Our first ancestor had but a short tenure here. But as he had lived so as to deserve a good name, we trust that he realized in full the proverb: "A good name is better than precious ointment, and the day of death better than the day of one's birth."

His consort died at the age of eighty-five years and three months, her zeal for her religious profession having been manifested in her old age by her walking to meeting and back, a distance of more than two miles, when she was eighty years of age, and her health and vigor are testified to by the fact that it was of preference she performed the journey on foot.

John, James, and Joseph were left, and from these the whole of this family have descended.

In the year 1736, Joseph removed to lands purchased by his son Benjamin of his uncle Samuel Lewis, who had obtained the patent.

These lands consisted of three hundred and eighty-seven acres in West Caln Township. Joseph purchased of his son these lands, at the same time selling or exchanging one hundred and fifty acres of land in Middletown to Benjamin. As by the records in the office at West Chester, the dates of the deeds are shown to be alike, June 24, 1736.

Of this land, on the 27th of January, 1743, the records show a transfer of one-half of the whole to John Taylor by Joseph. And at the same time a removal to Middletown by him, where he still held lands.

The lands spoken of in West Caln are described by survey of record as by lines of lands of Evan Lewis, Richard Tranter, and Nathan Sharples. This was probably a son of Joseph, and these then "western lands" were fields of speculation, no doubt, as those beyond the Mississippi now, in their relation to the rest.

We can say little of the history of the descendants of the three brothers. They are great in number and found in every profession, every trade and business. As well might we attempt to describe a mighty oak of the forest with no limb or leaf like another, as to portray even the leading features of such diversity. So far have the branches of our family-tree extended that it needed some such an event as this to bring them to a mutual knowledge of their many relatives. Yesterday but few of those born on Pennsylvania soil knew of their many brethren in the south, children of Elizabeth, daughter of John 3d, of whom we have a worthy representative with us—Bishop Green. There comes from Iowa the voice of many, where but few were known to us.

This occasion has offered social privileges, and we hope good has been gained by us all. That an examination of ourselves in view of the faithfulness to sacred principle brought to notice afresh in the recital of the history of those who gave us name, has raised the query as to the courage and fortitude of ourselves, and incited to resolve that we will show ourselves "worthy sons of worthy sires" in the contests of the day, on fields where Christian warfare summons us to battle against the cohorts of evil. Let us carry to the world in such encounters, by our living examples, emblazoned by act and deed, our valued and inspiring lesson learned of our earliest fathers and engraven on our hearts, to be by our voice proclaimed to others for their emulation, the inscription of that heraldic device:

"Pro veritate Suffer Fortiter."

J. Clemson Sharpless, of West Chester, then read the following poem, composed for the occasion:

THE FAMILY REUNION.

BY JOHN CLEMSON SHARPLESS.

Dear friends, we have met on this bright summer day,
A tribute of love to our fathers to pay,
And as we have gathered from far and from near,
I trust each will feel 'tis good to be here.

Like pilgrims we come and gather around
The home of our fathers, to us hallowed ground.
For this spot is our Mecca; this Rock is the shrine;
The altar on which to lay gifts, yours and mine.

Let our gifts be the symbols of honor to those Who first 'neath these shades sought peace and repose,
Who suffered with bravery the truth to uphold;
To whom freedom of conscience was better than gold.

When the heart of George Fox was touched as with fire,
He hastened to prelate and priest to inquire
The way of salvation; but nought could he find
That brought rest to his soul, or gave peace to his mind.

Then his spirit, enshrouded in shadows of night,
Was quickly illumined by the true Inward Light,
When he clearly discerned he must closely abide
With the Spirit of Truth hence his teacher and guide.

Then gathered about him such truth-seeking men
As Ellwood and Pennington, Barclay and Penn.
They founded a sect, and we freely must own
We are reaping rich fruit from the seed they have sown.

The hand of oppression soon on them was laid,
But from duty none shrank; not one heart was afraid.
They were true to their faith; with united accord
Their trust was reposed in the arm of the Lord.

'Twas a trust ne'er betrayed, for His arm was their stay,
His finger it was that oft pointed the way,
His voice that gave comfort; they knew it was He Whose voice stilled the waves of the wild Gallilee.

That our ancestor found with these worthies a place,
Let us join in our thanks everyone of his race;
We own it to this, tho' deny it you may,
That we've homes in this land full of blessings to-day.

In this land o'er the sea, Penn was founding a State,
An asylum for all, both the poor and the great,
Under laws wisely framed they could worship at will,
With their conscience unfettered its dictates fulfill.

Two centuries have seen its prosperity grow,
And millions to-day own the debt that they owe
To Him, its great founder, whose wisdom has planned
The best of all governments known in our land.

When the monarch-like oak stood fast rooted here,
And this stream slaked the thirst of the fleet-footed deer,
When the fox from his lair, and the wolf from his den,
Stole forth in the shadows to prowl through this glen;

'Twas then that our ancestor came to this spot,
By the side of yon rock he erected his cot,
Though rude it might seem in the sight of those here,
It gave shelter and comfort to all he held dear.

'Twas here with contentment and peace he was blessed,
'Twas here that he toiled, and here he found rest,
While the stars o'er his head did loving watch keep,
This murmuring stream sweetly lulled him to sleep.

Here he lived, here he died, and they bore him away,
Not like Jacob of old, with his fathers to lay.
We know not the spot, but the dews kiss the sod,
And his spirit, we trust, is at rest with his God.

The dear, aged mother in sorrow bereft,
Now leaned on her sons, they were all she had left.
Five of her loved ones had passed to that shore
Where life's waves break in silence, returning no more.

By her pious care nurtured to manhood they grew,
They were men strong in purpose, to principle true.
Rude Nature transformed by their skill and their toil,
Rewarded their care with the fruits of her soil.

The youngest of all, the infant who came,
Has builded a monument, thoughtless of fame,
A venerable pile, on yon hill-top it stands,
We may gaze with just pride on the work of his hands.

And we, their descendants, who hither have come
And joined this reunion around their old home;
May our hearts warm with love, as with hand clasped in hand
We greet kindred and friends from throughout this broad land.

What though, down through the mist of the years that have rolled,
There comes to us glittering with silver and gold,
The shield and the crest of a warrior who bore
Our name deeply traced on the sword that he wore.

Of his deeds or his valor, we nothing have known;
They have sunk 'neath the tide that resistless sweeps on;
They belong to the past, they were prized in their day,
Let us choose for ourselves something better than they.

Let us take a step forward, and mark on our shield
The Symbol of Faith to the Christian revealed,
In place of the sword, that its power may decrease,
For our crest we'll have only the emblem of Peace.

Let us strive as our fathers before us have striven,
To win and to merit the favor of Heaven,
To be true to our faith. May we never neglect
To cherish the good and the evil reject.

Let us learn well the lessons their living has taught,
Let us thank the dear Lord for the good they have wrought,
Let us cherish the virtues their memory inspires,
That the world may declare we are worthy our sires.

William M. Green, the veteran Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of Mississippi, aged 84 years, was next presented. The venerable gentleman addressed the audience as follows:

My Dear Friends: I did not come all the way from the South to make a speech. I come as a descendant of John Sharples 1st, 2d and 3d, and then as the grandson of Elizabeth Sharples, who married Richard Bradley on the fifteenth day of the fifth month, 1755, from whom I am descended, and who moved from this spot to Wilmington, N. C., and resided there until their death. They had seven children, two of whom died young; five lived, becoming the heads of some of the leading and most distinguished and influential families of the State of North Carolina. My mother was the youngest of the five, and I am the eldest of her children, and the only one living on one side, and I have brought the marriage certificate of Richard Bradley and Elizabeth Sharples with me.

Most of the family united with the Episcopal Church, and I have the honor to be a minister. I have long desired to see this spot; for sixty years, since my boyhood, I have longed to see this and now I see it, and I rejoice to see so many in whose blood that of old John Sharples flows. I will say no more as my heart is too full to say anything except that I am happy to meet you all. May God bless you and make you all worthy of the name of John Sharples.

William Sharpless, Sr., of West Chester, here read a poem, composed by him for the occasion, entitled "Lines written on the arrival of John Sharples and family in Pennsylvania on the fourteenth day of the sixth month (August), O. S. 1682."

In this production the author alluded to the coming to America of John Sharples and family, of their rude home at the Rock, their privations, energies, trials and success.

Some very interesting reminiscences relating to the place of the rude abode of the pioneer, together with entertaining mention of many relics owned by various members of the family, formed a paper prepared and read by Samuel L. Smedley. This paper referred to many of the curiosities which we have briefly described elsewhere and was one of the most interesting productions forming the literary programme of the occasion.

ADDRESS OF SAMUEL L. SMEDLEY.

Twenty-five years ago, while on a visit at the house of my venerable friend Enos Sharpless, he showed me an account of his reminiscences and observations which he had written by request of the Delaware County Institute of Science. It interested me so much at the time that I took a copy of a portion of it by his permission, and many of the incidents related are so appropriate to this occasion that I have been requested to read it. It is as follows:

"Friends, I received your circular on the subject of the history of Delaware County, and now proceed to reply to it. As I now live on the same place my ancestors on the male side have lived on ever since William Penn's time, where I have lived for the last seventy-five years, I think I can furnish you with some information respecting our particular location that may be interesting to you; at any rate it will afford me amusement to look over old times and contrast them with the present.

"Beginning with the family, I will first give you a record in my father, Daniel Sharpless' family Bible, to wit:

"'When I have thought of preserving some short notes concerning my worthy predecessors, as also of my times for my own satisfaction, and perhaps for information of succeeding ages, the observation of Solomon hath often occurred: 'One generation passeth away and another cometh, but the earth abideth forever.' I have now before me a very old account written by my grandfather, John Sharples, in which, after shortly noting the marriage of his father John Sharples and his mother, whose maiden name was Moore, in 1662, his own birth in 1666, and the birth of his three brothers, Thomas, James and Joseph, and his two sisters, Phebe and Jane, he proceedeth thus: 'And my father and mother, with these their children, left old England, their native country, and came on shore in Pennsylvania the fourteenth day of sixth month, 1682, all but my brother Thomas, who died upon the sea. John Sharples, my father, died in 1685, being about the age of 61 years, and my brother Caleb in 1686. Jane Sharples, my mother, died in the year 1722, being about 84 years of age. We have now seen the desolation of the family, except three brothers, John, James and Joseph, and from these have sprung the numerous descendants of the name in America.

"'I have also the marriage certificate of my grandfather, John Sharples, and Hannah Pennell, daughter of Robert Pennell of Middletown, dated 1692. Then follows an account of their children, ending with Daniel Sharples, born 1711.'

"The last mentioned Daniel Sharples was my grandfather. My grandmother, Sarah Sharples, daughter of Bartholomew Coppock, was born in the year 1712, and they were married in 1736.

"From what I can collect of the above named couple they lived in the same house with their father, John Sharples—who was about sixteen years of age when he came from England—until his decease, which was eleven years after my father was married, and as my grandmother lived in the same house I did until I was sixteen years of age, she had a good opportunity of collecting information from her father-in-law and handing it down to us, such as their coming to this country, settling here, etc. etc., some of which I shall proceed to relate. Well!—they landed at Chester, as we have seen, on the fourteenth day of the sixth month, 1682, and loaded upon their backs such things as they could carry, and set off, wending their way up through the woods, and got this far, about two miles, and just crossed the creek, when they thought they were far enough back in the forest. Here they cut down a large tree, and made themselves a shelter among the boughs of it, and remained there for the night, and they could hear the wolves howling about them.

"In this booth they lived about six weeks and within that time they built a cabin, with a large perpendicular rock for a chimney back, which is still there, having the date 1682, as well as other inscriptions, cut in it.

"There they lived about twenty years, until they built a good substantial stone house near by, which is still standing and occupied by my brother Isaac and family.

"The Rock spoken of is also on his ground. Many anecdotes I have heard her relate which were interesting to us, though not much to the historian; such as the pigeons being so abundant that they used to go on moonlight nights with long poles and knock them off the roost and kill as many in that way as they wanted.

"Another circumstance I have heard my grandmother relate: A young girl, a daughter of one of their neighbors, came in one day in a state of great excitement to tell what a pretty thing she had been in chase of. She said it was the prettiest thing she had ever seen. She thought she would catch it, and seized hold of it, but it slipped through her hands and got away into the briars, 'and see here,' she exclaimed, 'what I got off it,' showing the rattles of a rattle-snake which she had stripped off with her hands, and, from the number of the rattles, it must have been a large snake.

"The old patriarch being comfortably settled in his cabin alongside of the Rock, and having obtained a warrant while in England from William Penn for one thousand acres of land, for which he paid him twenty pounds and agreed to pay a shilling a year quit-rent for every one hundred acres (a low price for those times), proceeded to take up the land in three different tracts: one here, one in Nether Providence, and one in Middletown. The portion of it taken up here, as well as that in Middletown, in great measure remains in their descendants' possession to this time; the one in Providence has all gone out of the family.

"The tract at this place was occupied by John Sharples, the eldest brother; that in Nether Providence by James, the next brother; while Joseph, the younger, went back into the woods, to that in Middletown, where I shall leave the two last, settled on their respective farms, and take some further notice of John and his successors, at this place.

"It does not appear that our ancestors from the first had aspirings after great things. We do not find the names of any of them among William Penn's great men, either as legislative or executive officers. Therefore we may conclude that as they came to this country to get clear away from 'woeful Europe,' having attained that end, they were satisfied to settle down in the quiet, on their own farms, and having land to cultivate it afforded them sufficient of the necessaries of life and they were therewith content.

"Thus things remained with very little exception for two generations. There was a saw-mill built on the creek, either by my great-grandfather or grandfather, I do not know which, but it had gone down before my time. It was left to my father and his successors to develop the advantages of the water-power, and having more energy and enterprise than his ancestors, and as the Hessian fly had lately destroyed the wheat crop, so that it was not so easy for the farmers to make a living as it had been, he came to the conclusion to improve the water-power. Accordingly, about the year 1787, he built a saw-mill which was the nucleus for all the other improvements on the creek, and, having a large quantity of wood-land, he made it his business to cut and saw the timber; still keeping the greater part of the farm under his particular management until the year 1793, when he put the farm generally out of his hands. A part was let out on shares, and a part rented out, and in this year he built the house where I now live and came here to live himself. In 1796 he built the grist-mill, and in 1798 the fulling-mill for my brother Isaac, which is now a part of the wool-factory, thus laying the foundation of the present establishment of Waterville.

"After I arrived at mature age, I rented the grist and saw-mill of him, and Isaac occupied the fulling-mill, and after I married he gave up the home to me and built the one that my brother Henry lived in a short distance to the northward, and went there to live himself. At his decease he left the mill property (except the fulling-mill) to me, and, as I had rented it of him about fourteen years, I was prepared with a knowledge of business and the means to improve it to what it is now. Those who saw the property as I did when my father began improving it in 1787 will see that there has been a great deal of work done in it. It was then a poor old field worn out by long tillage and neglect, grown up with briars, bushes and large trees. It is now a cluster of mills with six overshot water-wheels (two of them double) manufacturing grain, and merchant mill, a saw-mill, three wheels manufacturing dyewood and the wool factory, all pushed with energy. At that time the whole of my father's property supported but two or three families, now my part of it supports about twenty-five families by their employment here.

"In the grist mill we grind about fifteen thousand bushels of grain a year; cut two hundred thousand feet of lumber with the saw-mill; manufacture about fifteen hundred tons of wood and other dye-stuffs a year, in the dye-wood mill, beside grinding about one hundred tons of plaster; and the wool factory makes about one hundred and twenty or one hundred and thirty thousand yards of stuff a year.

"Beside the mill seat, we have improved the land considerably. From about thirty acres, when I plow, I raise nearly as much grain and keep as much stock as my father ever did on his large farm; when I do not plow I sell hay. There are two other farms cut out of the old plantation, each of which produces twice as much, and thus have literally turned a desolate wilderness into a fruitful field. I think Solomon says: 'Say not within thyself, why is it that the former times were better than these? for thou dost not inquire wisely.' Whether wisely or not, there is a great deal of such inquiry now, and I think there was as much of it when I was a little boy. Old people used to lament the change. They would say that when they were young there was so much friendship and love among them, neighbors were so glad to see each other, so willing to assist and befriend each other in any service they could render; and they were all upon an equality, and what was the interest of one was the interest of all; but, say they, it is not so now, we have become selfish, each one takes care of himself, without any regard for others. If it was so then it is increasingly so now. I have heard my father say he never sued nor was sued. Contrast that with the trial list at Media. No doubt there were unhappy differences between neighbors then, but they could be settled without going to law, or without breach of friendship.

"As for their way of making a living, they were industrious, frugal and economical, by which means they had the necessaries of life, and their desires being moderate, they had them fulfilled as well as the rich and luxurious do in these times of refinement. And to go back no further than my time, the rich would bring up their families, at least their children, at less expense than the poor do now, and the people were stouter, stronger and at least as healthy as they are now."

This is all of Enos Sharpless' account which I preserved. It continued, I recollect, to give his observations of the times and records of many incidents, among which was an account of the unprecedented flood of August 5, 1843, when this valley and all others in Delaware County were inundated, houses and factories swept away and many lives lost.

The tide flows backwards as well as forwards. The railroads and the mighty power of steam outrun the meandering stream and the facilities which they offer attract enterprise to them. The many factories at Waterville are at the present silent except the old grist-mill; the fiery element has recently contributed to still the hum of the loom in the building near by, and, as if to bring us back this day to a better appreciation of the primitive loveliness of the place, we are only greeted with the rippling of the waters as in the days of yore.

As chairman of the committee on relics I have been requested to furnish some historical notes and an account of the mementoes which have been preserved of the early settlement of our forefathers in and about this place, and a description of the relics which the hand of time has spared from destruction or decay; which have been brought forward from comparative obscurity in order that we may all gaze upon and admire them as possessing a common interest which we can all share together.

The antiquarian will naturally look among title papers engrossed on enduring parchment for the most ancient evidences of settlement in this country, because the value of such documents induces a greater care for their preservation. The search in our case is rewarded by the production of no less than four documents bearing the autograph and seal of the illustrious Penn, the founder of the commonwealth.

Two of these bear date the fourth and fifth days of April, A. D. 1682, more than four months before the arrival of John Sharples and his family at Chester, and no doubt were brought over by him on his voyage to America.

They are called deeds of Lease and Release, and are of the form of all those granted by William Penn, of Worminghurst, in Sussex, to what have been termed "first purchasers," giving them the right to locate the number of acres granted to each in such places or parts of the province as they might select. The first of these deeds is now the property of John Sharpless, our presiding officer, and the other belongs to Beulah Sharpless and her children, the present owners of the land whereon we are now assembled.

They granted to John Sharples one thousand acres of land in the province of Pennsylvania, for which he paid the sum of twenty pounds, and agreed, in addition thereto, to pay yearly to the Proprietary the chief or quit-rent* of one shilling for each hundred acres thereof, at or upon the first day of March, for ever, in lieu or stead of all other services or demands whatsoever; prices low enough to satisfy those of moderate means and calculated to stimulate emigration to the infant colony.

John Sharples located but forty acres of his purchase from Penn at this place, having bought two hundred acres, including this spot, from Thomas Nossiter, an earlier settler; but he took up three hundred acres about half a mile northward and another tract of three hundred acres in Middletown Township, which may be designated as in the vicinity of Darlington Station, on the West Chester railroad. For all three tracts patents or deeds of confirmation were taken out on the 28th and 29th of fifth month, 1684. One of these, bearing the signature of William Penn, with the great wax seal attached, is here exhibited. It belongs to Jesse Darlington, of Middletown, a descendant of Joseph Sharples, who settled on the land in that township.

These three tracts are shown on an original print of Thomas Holme's map of Pennsylvania, in our collection, upon which the names of the first settlers are marked—the ancestors of many whose names have been transmitted to their successors of this day, and are as familiar to us as household words.

We now come to speak of domestic souvenirs. The most noteworthy of these is the solid silver tankard now before you. It is inscribed J S J the initials of John and Jane Sharples, with a coat of arms consisting of a

* Quit-rents appear to have had their origin in the feudal system, under which all the lands were supposed to belong to the king, and those who occupied them were allowed to do so in consideration of personal services of various kinds, but chiefly those of a military character. These services were not always rendered immediately to the king, but often to an intermediate class, as the barons, who in turn were tenants under the king. From this arose the custom of paying a fee or fine in lieu of personal service, and by a quit-rent it is to be understood that the tenant goes quit or free of further service. In the course of time this institution, like many others, lost much of its original significance and at the time William Penn sold lands in his province quit-rents were probably regarded merely as a judicious method for securing a revenue. He says, in his proposals to the early purchasers:

"The shares I sell be certain as to the number of acres; that is to say, everyone shall contain five thousand acres; the price one hundred pounds; and for the quit-rent, one English shilling, or the value of it, yearly, for a hundred acres; which, such as will, may now, or hereafter, buy off to an inconsiderable matter; but as I hold by a small rent of the king, so all must hold of me by a small rent for their own security," etc.

Purchasers of large amounts of land frequently obtained them at a merely nominal quit-rent, and in some patents it is specified that this rent should be paid in "good merchantable wheat." The payment of quit-rents was generally considered a grievance, was much neglected, and sometimes done only under compulsion of the law. They were generally abolished at the Revolution when the State assumed to pay the Penn family for their loss in this respect.

shield with three stags. It weighs twenty-four troy ounces and holds three pints. It was, no doubt, brought over by John Sharples and inherited by his son John, who devised it in 1737 to his son of the same name, after whose death it became the property of his brother Daniel. The latter devised it to his son Daniel, from whom it passed to his son John, father of John Sharpless, the present owner.

Customs have changed, and the passing around of a tankard filled with ale for each one to partake of, as our forefathers did, would seem quite curious to many of us at this day, but its manufacture was then of so much importance that the Proprietary established several brew-houses for the brewing of ale in the province. It is well, however, to remember that intemperance was strongly condemned by the early Friends, and we are fortunate in having here one of their primitive records in antique binding, wherein, as early as 1688, the members of Chester monthly meeting have signed with their own hands a mutual agreement not to sell rum or other strong drink to the Indians. John Sharples 2d is one of the signers.

A silver cup, the property of Josiah Hibberd, of Whiteland, formerly of his great-grandmother, Phebe (Sharples) Hibberd, is exhibited, and a Spanish coin, bearing date 1676, which was presented to Samuel Hannum, of West Chester, by his grandmother, as being the first money earned by her grandmother, Susanna Chamberlin, daughter of Joseph Sharples, the youngest son of the immigrant. A silver knife, a silver spoon, wooden spoons, boxes and chairs are also in the cabinet of curiosities.

We have the Sharples Record, published in 1816, by Joseph Sharples, of Philadelphia, who, in advance of others in this country, with two or three exceptions, supplied a treasure to the genealogist rarely met with. Copies of it are highly prized by descendants and eagerly sought for by others.

John Sharples 2d, by will, in 1737, bequeathed to his son Daniel two hundred and fifty-eight acres of land with cattle, horses, sheep, hogs, plows and harrows; also the clock and the pewter and the new big brass cettell and the Bible and the best feather bed. Where now is that clock and where the ancient Bible? can anyone answer? We have one ancient Bible, however, which belonged to the Joseph Sharples branch. It descended to Joseph W. Jones, of Middletown, through his great-grandmother Hannah, the daughter of Joseph Sharples 2d and wife of Abraham Pennell.

Its family record is highly interesting. It contains the date and place of birth of each one of the children of John and Jane Sharples, as well as of the children of their son Joseph, and other entries. The Bible bears the imprint, London, 1697, and the inscription, "Lydia Lewis, her Book, 1703," shows it to have been her property before her marriage, in 1704, to Joseph Sharples.

The most imposing relic of Sharples handicraft is the grand old mansion on the hill, the carpenter work of which was done by the youngest son, Joseph, about the year 1700. It was probably his first work after learning his trade and must have been a great undertaking for that time. The curious old cupboards and closets, the floor secured to the joists by wooden pins, all excite our admiration.

But we have a relic beside us which has withstood the elements for ages, and undisturbed by man may remain for centuries to come. John Sharples, by the selection made two hundred years ago, has consecrated this Rock to the veneration of his descendants, as the Plymouth Rock is to the descendants of the New England pioneers. It is to be hoped that we all with one accord shall resolve that we will unite for its protection from the ravages of time and the ruthless advance of human destroyers, so that it shall be preserved for centuries to come as the place of reunion.

Under its shelter the pioneer lived and died and two of his daughters died also, all within two weeks of each other. His son Caleb died a year later from the bite of a snake, but for thirty-five years afterwards no break appeared in the ranks until their venerable mother, Jane Sharples, passed away in 1722, at the advanced age of eighty-four years, forty of which she had spent on this charming spot.

How welcome to this assemblage would have been the reminiscences of the older members of the family, if they had been written out and preserved. How little dear old Enos thought of the interest which would soon be attached to every word which he wrote, and how little we think that in a few fleeting years the recital of what we now behold will become as a tale of the olden time.

Here the President of the meeting, John Sharpless, read a couple of ancient letters relating to the family and also made a few remarks appropriate to the closing of the day's observances, which were listened to with much interest. He specially referred to the coat of arms of the family, saying that according to tradition it had been buried after the arrival of the family in this country, and he earnestly expressed the wish that this heraldic sign might have been permitted to lie buried, as he regarded it of more

The letters are as follows :

* John Wright, with Patience, his wife and four children, brought a certificate of membership from the Monthly Meeting at Hartshaw, in Lancashire, dated the 16th of the 1st month, 1713–14, in which it is said : "The Church here will greatly miss them on diverse accounts, he having proved himself in some eminent services and engagements on Truth's behalf a workman that need not be ashamed." After a short stay in Philadelphia the family came to Chester, towards the close of the year 1714, and in 1717 he was commissioned a Justice of the Common Pleas, a position he held for several years, being also elected at different times to the Provincial Assembly. About the year 1726 he removed to the banks of the Susquehanna and upon the organization of Lancaster County, in 1729, he became the presiding justice of its courts and so continued till 1741. His last charge to the grand jury was a remarkable document and has been printed. He died in 1751, at the age of 84 years, highly esteemed as a citizen and as a minister in the Society of Friends.

*John Sharples to Daniel Moore.

Loving Couson, Danel Moore: being in hopes this may be an oppertunity to lett thee here from me I am willing to wright this few Lines that thee may understand how it is with us. I receved thy letter of the hand of John wright, thy ould friend, and allso was glad to heare from you. I likewise writ and gave thee an acount how it was with us upwards of 2 years agoe, which I hope thee heast receved, and now not haveing much new mater to write but let thee heare of our wellfare. I, my wife, and nine Children are in health at this present, which I prise as a great mearcy, and am thankfull to the Lord for; and my mother is in health and lives with me as she [yoused to doe—erased] hath done of lat years and is very hearty, and can go to the meeting on hir feet, which is better then two miles, and she makes chice soe to doe rather then to ride, for which I can but take notes of, considering that she is in the fourthscore year of hir age; and hir kind love is to thee and thy wife and Children and also to hir sister thy mother. and my tow brothers, James and Joseph, and there wifes and Children are in health and there Love is to thee. my Eldst doughter is married this last Spring, and hir husband's name is george Smedly, and I beleve hee is a onest, sober, well inclined yong man, and the lives about five miles from me, and I hope the are like to doe well; and in deed wee all live well, for wee have had peas and plenty for the most part, ever since wee came, which is upwards of thirty-five years, and yett is continued; for which I prais the Lord, and am thankfull for, and I desire we and you may ever walke with the fear of the Lord before our ies, for the same, and not give him caus to draw his mearcy from us nether Sprituall nor tempurall.

And our Cousen John moor and his wife, and all his Children are all liveing, and in health, and he follow his trad of weaveing, and is like to doe well, and his son thomas, and tow of his daughters are marryed, Elizebeth and margret.

The Honorable John M. Broomall, of Media, being present, arose and said: "I am requested by some of the descendants of John Sharples who are present to tender to the committee of arrangements their sincere thanks for the entertainment, and to express their satisfaction at being at the meeting and at its result, and with the hope that this celebration may be repeated from century to century and that somebody at least will be present to preside and to take care of its proceedings. It seems to me that if John Sharples had had any idea of this anniversary he could not have selected a better site than this or that the weather could have been more propitious. Although I am not one of the descendants of John Sharples, I have a great many warm friends amongst them, one of whom is your chairman himself. I therefore move that a vote of thanks be given to the committee of arrangements."

Which motion, being seconded and put to vote, was carried unanimously.

* This letter, without date or signature, was written on a blank page of that which precedes it, and was doubtless the essay of one which was sent to England. From the facts mentioned it must have been written toward the close of the year 1717.

On motion it was decided that a committee of five be selected to prepare the proceedings of the day for publication and make the necessary arrangements for placing them in book-form.

This closed the exercises of the day. The sun, mellow and warm, was fast journeying towards the western horizon, and homeward the impulses of the throng took their way. Good-byes were said, fond ones, too; many earnest wishes were exchanged; grasps of the hand helped hearts to say "farewell;" and soon the grove, the sward, the rocks and the banks of the flashing stream were left to themselves, and the Bi-Centennial Reunion of the Sharpless family of the United States had added itself to that family's history.

This was probably the largest and most successful family reunion held in this country. The number in attendance was by some estimated at three thousand, but by a reasonably accurate computation it appeared to be from fifteen to eighteen hundred.

LIST OF RELICS AND OBJECTS OF INTEREST.

About fifty yards from and facing Ridley Creek stands the traditional "Sharples Rock," the rock against which John Sharples built his cabin in 1682, and in which the family lived for eighteen or twenty years. Near the top of the rock is carved the inscription "J. S. 1682," which was doubtless originally done by the pioneer John Sharples with a pointed iron, but which has evidently been recut several times since.

The first house of the Sharples family in America, built by Joseph Sharples, son of the pioneer, is a two-story stone structure with small dormer windows in the roof. On the first floor are two rooms and a kitchen; on the second floor two bed-chambers, and one room in the attic. The walls are heavy and well built and look as though they might stand for two more centuries. The floors are of solid oak, fastened down by wooden pins. The carpenter work throughout the building, which is said to have all been done by Joseph Sharples himself, is equal in many respects to the carpenter work of to-day. The panel work in the doors and cupboards throughout the house show that he was a mechanic of more than ordinary ability. In one of the rooms on the first floor was hanging in a frame the original deed from William Penn to John Sharples, dated the fifth day of April, 1682. In the same room were several large chairs, which some suppose were brought from England two hundred years ago by members of the family. The chairs are put together with wooden pins. In the garret were several chests, trunks, bedstead and spinning-wheel belonging to different members of the family, all of which are upwards of one hundred years old. In each room of the old house different articles of furniture were exhibited which were owned by the old Sharples family.

In the old house are also exhibited two linen bed sheets, which were made by Isaac and Mary Thomas from flax grown, spun and woven on their farm in Willistown, and given to their daughter Hannah in 1775, when she was married to Daniel Sharples. The sheets are very fine and apparently in as good condition as when made.

A looking-glass, purchased in 1804, hangs upon the wall.

Among the many articles offered for sale, and which found hundreds of purchasers, was the fac simile of the original lease from William Penn to John Sharples, on the 4th of April, 1682. Photographic view of the first house of the Sharples family in America. View of the rock against which John Sharples erected his first hut and in which the family lived for eighteen years. Pictures of the silver mug which belonged to John Sharples in 1682. The medal of the bi-centennial reunion of the Sharpless family, August 24, 1882.

Among the many old documents, ancient furniture, ware and souvenirs of the Sharples family which were exhibited in the grove, were the following: A map of the original farms purchased of William Penn, in Middletown township, including three hundred acres purchased by the first John Sharples in 1684, and where his son Joseph settled in 1712; afterwards divided between the three grandsons, Joseph, Samuel and Benjamin. This map was presented to S. L. Smedley, January 2, 1880, by B. H. Smith.

Original Record Book of Chester Monthly Meeting of Friends, in which John Sharples 2d and seventy-four others signed an agreement not to give rum or strong drink to the Indians.

A "bull's eye" silver watch, owned by Chalkley Smedley, of Uwchlan, Chester County. Tradition says it was brought over by John Sharples in 1682.

A letter from John Sharples 2d, in 1717, to his cousin Daniel Moore, in Wales; now owned by John Sharpless.

A large pewter dish, brought from England by the early settlers of the family; now owned by Mary Randolph.

Horn box and sleeve buttons, once owned by Thomas Sharples, the shanks of which are made from old copper pennies; now owned by W. H. Rigby.

Two large striped linen bags, which were originally made for curtains one hundred and thirty years ago; now owned by Elizabeth L. Otley.

Sample of work on canvas, made in 1755 by Alice Passmore, daughter of Augustine Passmore; now owned by Deborah P. Mendenhall.

Plot of survey of transfer from Jane Sharples to Joseph Sharples in 1696; owned by Jesse Darlington.

A coverlet, spun in 1784 by Ann Sharples, wife of Jacob, son of Joseph. Tacked to this coverlet is the following inscription:

"John Sharples immigrated from England with his wife (Jane) and seven children in 1682. All departed this life when young except three sons, John, James and Joseph Sharples. Jacob, the son of Joseph, whose wife (Ann Sharpless) spun the yarn for this coverlet when their oldest child was an infant, born in 1749. She rocked him in a basket, tied up to the joist, with a wheel-finger (a small stick) with a knob to turn the long or big wheel with. This coverlet has been in use every winter for 69 years. In 1858 I knit this fringe and sewed it on, as the old fringe was nearly gone.

ELIZABETH L. OTLEY."

A photograph of a Delaware Indian of unmixed race of the Lenni Lenape tribe, which occupied the vicinity of the old homestead when John Sharples settled in the forest; belongs to Samuel L. Smedley.

Wooden book-rest, made by Samuel, grandson of Joseph 1st; now owned by Joel Sharpless.

A beautiful box or chest, inlaid with white horn or bone, supposed to have come from India, belonged to John Sharples, son of Daniel 2d, now owned by George Sharpless. The box is about 20 x 16 and sixteen inches in depth, inlaid inside and outside with countless pieces of bone, being the result of years of patient and tedious labor.

A hackle, owned by George Sharpless, which has been in the family nearly two hundred years.

Sharples Bible, printed in London, A. D. 1697. It first belonged to Lydia Lewis, in 1703; she married Joseph Sharples in 1704. It contains the record of births of all of John Sharples' children in England and all of Joseph's children in Nether Providence and Middletown, Delaware County, Pa. It is now owned by Joseph W. Jones, to whom it descended from his great-grandmother, Hannah Pennell, daughter of Joseph Sharples.

The patent deed for the Hastings tract, owned by John Sharples. The deed is from William Penn, to which is attached a red seal, about four inches in diameter, surrounded by a wooden frame.

A silver mug, now owned by Josiah Hibberd, of Whiteland.

A silver tankard, brought over by John Sharples in 1682, now owned by John Sharpless.

Horn box and sleeve buttons, made by Samuel, grandson of Joseph 1st, owned by Joel Sharpless.

Coin scale of John Sharples, in the fourth generation, owned by Sylvester Garrett. The box in which the small scale is placed is marked John Sharpless, December 25, 1784.

A china tea pot, owned by Beulah E. Sharpless, very ancient.

A Daniel Sharpless Bible, containing records of the original John Sharples, owned by Mary Randolph.

The marriage certificate of Abraham Pennell and Hannah Sharpless, owned by Joseph Pennell. This certificate is dated 9th day of 5th month, A. D. 1776, and signed by sixty witnesses.

The marriage certificate of Joseph Sharples 2d and Mary Pyle, dated 19th of 4th month, 1740 and signed by fifty-two witnesses.

A silver spoon which belonged to Sarah Coppock, wife of Daniel Sharples 1st; now owned by Beulah E. Sharpless.

Handkerchief, owned by Nathan Sharpless, of Downingtown, now owned by Annie S. Hoopes.

Record of John and Jane Sharples' family, now owned by John Sharpless, reads as follows:

"For my own satisfaction I take this account as follows:—Jane Moor, who is my mother, was born 1638, and John Sharples, my father, and she was married 27th 2d month, 1662, and Phebe Sharples, his eldest child, was born 20th 10th month, 1663. I, John Sharples, was born 16th 11th month, 1666.

Thomas Sharples was born the 2d 11th month, 1668.

James Sharples was born 5th 1st month, 1671.

Caleb Sharples, my brother, born 22d 7th month, 1673.

Jane Sharples, my sister, born 13th 6th month, 1676.

Joseph Sharples, born 28th 9th month, 1678.

And my father and mother, with these, their children, left old England, their native country, and came on shore in Pennsylvania on the 14th day of 6th month, 1682, all but my brother Thomas, who died upon the seas the 17th 5th month, 1682.

John Sharples, my father, died 11th 4th month, 1685, being about the age of sixty and one years.

Phebe, my sister, died 2d 4th month, 1685.

Jane, my sister, died 28th 3d month, 1685.

Caleb, my brother, died 17th 7th month, 1686.

Jane Sharples, my mother, died 1st of 9th month, 1722, being the age of 85 years and 3 months. Rebecca Caudwell and Mary Ellis, my father's sisters, died the 25th and the 26th 2d month, 1703, Rebecca being past the age of 72 and Mary past the age of 75 years and 6 months."

A plow, used by John Sharpless of the fourth generation in his early days, supposed to be over one hundred years old.

A wool spinning-wheel.

A carved powder horn, very old, now owned by Harvey S. Garrett.

A panel of the chest brought over by John Sharples in 1682.

Bible of Edith Sharples, bought for her in her 5th year, 1747, now owned by Mary D. Moody.

Bible of Benjamin Sharples, son of Joseph 1st, dated 1752, now belonging to William P. Bancroft.

A pewter mug belonging to John Sharples.

Copy of the original marriage certificate of George Smedley and Jane, daughter of John Sharples, in 1717, signed by about one hundred witnesses.

A large hand-made pocket book of Daniel Sharpless, marked D. S., 1767, now owned by Henry M. Paxson, Continental Terrace, Philadelphia.

Bishop Green, of Mississippi, showed a marriage certificate of Richard Bradley and Elizabeth Sharples. Richard Bradley was a son of John Bradley, of Yorkshire, Great Britian. Elizabeth Sharpless, daughter of John Sharpless, of the township of Providence, county of Chester, married on 15th day 5th month, 1755, in Chester; signed by forty-four witnesses. Elizabeth Sharples, above mentioned, was the grandmother of Bishop Green and daughter of John Sharples 3d.

THE SHARPLESS FAMILY IN ENGLAND.

ADDRESS

At Sharpless Rock, Eighth Month 24th, 1882.

PREPARED BY EZEKIEL HUNN, JR., ESQ.

It would seem appropriate that on this day, the anniversary of the landing of the first Sharples in this country, at this place, where stands the Rock which first afforded him shelter and the first house which became his home, a short account should be read to those of his descendants who are present of the origin of his family so far as that has been ascertained and of the English family arms he was entitled to claim, which, although they give no superior rights or privileges to the present head of the family in this country, may be justly referred to by all the descendants of the first settler as an emblem of the dignity and respectability of the name of Sharples in the mother country, as well as of the high degree of confidence reposed by the sovereign in the ancestor to whom they were originally granted; a dignity, respectability and confidence which it is believed have never been abused by any of the descendants of that ancestor either in England or America.

With a view of obtaining some information as to the history of the family and the family arms, a correspondence was commenced in the year 1878 between Henry W. Sharpless, a prominent member of the American branch and at that time a member of the well known firm of Sharpless & Sons, Philadelphia, Pa., and Colonel Joseph Lemuel Chester, of London, England, who was undoubtedly the chief genealogical student and the highest authority in pedigrees that England or America could produce; and the information furnished by him was incorporated in a very interesting report, especially prepared by this learned man, which report is made a part of this essay verbatim. And here let it be said that few men have even after death received such and so many tributes of well deserved praise from the people of a land they have adopted as Colonel Chester. He died in London May 29, 1882. During his illness he was called on by Mr.

Lowell, the American Minister, and by many distinguished Englishmen. His death was caused by internal cancer and his remains were interred in Nunhead Cemetery. Flattering obituaries appeared in The Times, The Academy, The Athenæum and other English papers; the Dean and the Chapter of Westminster announced their intention of erecting a memorial tablet for him in Westminster Abbey; and full notices and complimentary articles appeared in all prominent newspapers in the United States. From this man, therefore, while he was yet able to give us the benefit of his superior knowledge and his extensive research, we have obtained the report above referred to, and as Mr. Sharpless spared no expense and Colonel Chester no trouble in obtaining the material wherewith to compile it, we have the satisfaction of knowing that it is the result of the combined effort of money, experience and industry, and that it probably exhausts the subject.

There is now living in Philadelphia a widow named Mary Sharples, who emigrated with her husband, Thompson Sharples, to this country only a few years ago from the very locality in question, who takes an especial pride in spelling her name with one final s (never, as she says, having heard of it being otherwise spelled), who has raised a large family of children in this country and who is perhaps present at this reunion with some of those children. Although these people cannot be numbered among the descendants of John Sharples, they are of course most welcome as our own kindred and as members of the original stock from which we are all sprung, representing as they do the English branch of the family-tree.

The number of persons present at this gathering must be only a small fraction of the almost innumerable posterity of John Sharples scattered over the United States, for circulars of invitation have been sent by the committee of arrangements to them in almost every State of the union, and there seems to be no doubt that the English branches of the family have been quite as prolific as the American.

On this side of the water we number among us, it is said, bishops, governors and judges, as well as many individuals of wealth and distinction, and, what is still more desirable, of high social standing and respectability.

The report of Colonel Chester is as follows:

RESULT OF RESEARCHES CONCERNING THE ANCESTRY OF THE FAMILY OF SHARPLESS, OF PHILADELPHIA.

BY JOSEPH LEMUEL CHESTER, LL.D.

The origin of this family appears to be satisfactorily traced to Lancashire, and more particularly to Bolton and its immediate neighborhood. The existence in Bolton of a hamlet named Sharples suggests the probability that the hamlet took its name from the family, or that the family originally assumed the name of the locality in which they were living when surnames were first introduced.

They appear to have been a prolific race, and its members eventually scattered themselves all over the kingdom, there being scarcely a county in which the name has not been found, but so far the various representatives of it, wherever found, are clearly traced back to the common stock in Lancashire. As a general rule they belonged to the rank of yeomanry, while they are to be found still lower in the social scale engaged in almost all the various trades and avocations. It is certain, however, that at least one line ranked among the gentry of the country and were entitled to bear arms.

The two families of Sharples of Sharples, and Sharples of Freckleton, no doubt descending from common ancestors, had their right to bear arms recognized by the Heralds at their Visitation in 1664, and the coats they then presented and claimed were identical. There is no record now in existence at the College of Arms to show on what grounds their claim to this coat was allowed by the Heralds, but the king of arms, who made this visitation, was the celebrated Sir William Dugdale, who enjoys the highest reputation for careful and accurate official investigation, and it may be safely assumed that he did not then accept and confirm these arms without abundant evidence that those who claimed them were lawfully entitled to them. Whether this coat was originally granted only to their immediate line, and so could only be borne by them and their direct descendants, it is impossible to say positively. The probability is, however, that they produced evidence that the coat had been borne by their ancestors from time immemorial, as the heraldic phrase is, and it was thereupon confirmed to them as a matter of course. In such case it follows that all of the name who could trace to the same ancestors would possess the same right, if they chose to press their claims, while those who could directly connect themselves with the pedigrees then accepted and recorded by the Heralds would enjoy the right to bear that coat without further ceremony. The facts appear to be, after a careful investigation, that these two families, of Sharples and Freckleton, had acquired wealth and social standing, and chose at that time to assert their right to bear arms and be recognized as belonging to the rank of gentry, while the rest of the name, who were plain farmers or tradesmen or engaged in occupations still socially lower, could not or did not care to assert the same right, but were content to remain what they had been before. The right, however, existed and still exists among their descendants, as will be made clear hereafter.

The name appears to have been originally Sharples. In that form it occurs more often than in any other in the records that have been examined. There was not, however, during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, any recognized standard of orthography even as to surnames and consequently we find the name spelt in various ways, such as Sharpeles, Sharpelesse, Sharpless, Sharplesse, Sharplis, Sharplisse and even Sharpulls. Several genuine signatures of Sharpless occur at a very early date, but, as has been said, Sharples was the predominant form. The ancestors of the American line, so far as ascertained, invariably wrote their name thus. The addition of a second terminating letter in modern times is a mere matter of taste and by most persons will be considered an improvement. It changes the pronunciation of the whole word and that change may also be regarded as an improvement.

It is to be feared that it will be impossible to trace the line of the American family further back than about the middle of the sixteenth century. The difficulty arises from the fact that its early ancestors, although perfectly respectable, did not occupy that rank which would bring them and their history into the public records. They were not owners of land in fee simple and therefore no transfers of property are among the rolls in Chancery. Unfortunately, also, although the wills of the various branches of the family exist in great profusion in the general registry in London, and at the local registries at Lancaster and Chester, they do not, after a careful and thorough examination, except in a single instance, throw any light upon the history of the ancestors of the American family.

In the absence of such data as the ordinary public records of the country furnish, we can only fall back upon wills and parish registers. If the wills indicate the parishes in which the testators lived and died, then if the period is not too remote, and the parish registers are still in existence the ancestry of a family may be readily traced. But no parish registers were kept until the year 1538, and comparatively few commencing at that date are now in existence. In the present instance the registers of Bolton, the undoubted cradle of the Sharples family, do not begin until 1587, all the earlier ones being hopelessly lost, and this date, as will be seen, is far too modern for our purpose. We are left, therefore, to do the best we can with such collateral and circumstantial evidence as is now to be obtained.

We start with the fact, abundantly proved hereafter, that John Sharples, the emigrant to Pennsylvania in 1682, was the son of Jeffrey Sharples, of Wybunbury, in the county of Chester, where he was baptized on the 15th August, 1624. My first search was for the antecedents of this Jeffrey Sharples. The result was that among all the wills of the name, at London, and the local registries named, the will of but one Jeffrey Sharples can be found of any date. More than this, after having examined all the Sharples wills at these registries, from the earliest date, 1384 down to 1760, a period of nearly four centuries, I am able to say that, except in these two instances, the Christian name of Jeffrey never occurs in any branch of the family represented by the wills. This is obviously an important fact and the chief link in the chain of circumstantial evidence to be presented.

This Jeffrey Sharples made his will on the 2d March, 1602–3, describing himself as of Flixton, in the county of Lancaster, yeoman. Flixton is a parish about seven miles west of Manchester, while Bolton is about eleven miles northwest. The two parishes are therefore but a few miles apart.

The following is a full abstract of the will:

To be buried in Flixton church. My goods to be divided into 3 parts, one of which I give to my wife Margaret, and one to my daughter Elizabeth; to Thomas Hopwood 20 shillings; to James Harper 40; to Katherine Harper 10 shillings; to my brother Richard my best suit of apparel; to Richard's daughter Alice 5 shillings and 4 pence; to my three god-daughters each 12 pence; to Adam Stones my stag leather breeches and pair of shoes; to John Stones 40 shillings; to my cousin Richard Ward 10. All residue of my estate to my said wife and daughter. I appoint my wife and Richard Ward executors. I owe my uncle Alexander Ward £5.10.0. My wife to have and enjoy half my Tenement for life, and I desire my right worshipful Master to be good to my wife and daughter, and not have my Tenement divided so long as my daughter is unmarried, and my said daughter is not to marry without their consent.

The will was proved by the executors, at Chester, on the 19th May, 1603. The amount of personal property left by the testator, according to the appraisement in the inventory filed, was ninety-eight pounds and ten shillings.

This sum must be multiplied by ten, in order to show the relative value of money at that and the present date, and thus the personalty amounts to one thousand pounds or five thousand dollars.

It must also be remembered that such appraisements did not probably represent more than half the actual value of the goods.

It is evident, therefore, that this Jeffrey Sharples was what may be called a well-to-do yeoman. The expression "my right worshipful Master" does not imply that he was in service, but was a common term between landlord and tenant, and in the present instance doubtless indicates the lord of the manor of Flixton, under whom he held his tenement. Other items of the will will be referred to hereafter.

An examination of the parish registers of Flixton brings to light the following facts:

Jeffrey Sharples was not a native of Flixton, as beyond the entries relating to himself and his wives and children the name of Sharples does not occur again in the registers. None of his children were baptized at Flixton, nor was he himself buried there, although he so directed in his will. But on the 23d February, 1576–7, his son Richard was buried; on the 27th May, 1577, his daughter Elizabeth, and on the 30th March, 1580, his first wife, Anne. About seven months later, viz., 20th October, 1580—no unusual occurrence—he was married again, at Flixton, to Margaret Stones, who survived him and by whom he had the daughter Elizabeth, who was still a minor at his death.

Of his widow and daughter I have found no further trace. If he was a native of Bolton, as were the uncle and cousin named in his will, the impossibility of identifying his ancestors from the Bolton registers is apparent, as he was born some thirty years before they commence, and the same remark applies to his brother Richard.

We will now go to Wybunbury, in Cheshire, where, at a little later date, we find the only other Jeffrey Sharples who has been discovered among all the records examined. After an exhaustive examination of the registers there the following results are obtained.

The first Sharples baptism in the registers is that of Thomas, son of Richard Sharples, on the 19th August, 1579. This child evidently died young and was not buried at Wybunbury. On the 4th April, 1583, a daughter of the same Richard Sharples was baptized and on the 4th November, 1589, another son, named Thomas. These are the only Sharples baptisms in the registers until we come to those of the children of Jeffrey Sharples at a later period. On the 8th December, 1614, Cicely, the wife of Richard Sharples, was buried. He remained a widower about fifteen years and was then married again, at Wybunbury, the 5th December, 1629, to Jane Cowper. There is no further trace of her in the registers, but Richard Sharples himself was buried there on the 27th April, 1641. He must of course have died a very old man, as, if his son Thomas, baptized in 1579, was his first child, he himself could not have been born later than about the year 1555, and his identity seems fully established by the fact that in the entry of his burial he was described as "senex," a descriptive word that in all my experience of parish registers I have never known used except to indicate extreme old age. We find him then living at Wybunbury from 1579 to 1641, a period of sixty-two years, clearly a permanent resident of the parish. We also find the name continuing in the parish and another generation being baptized there, who were the children of Jeffrey Sharples. The question arises, was this Jeffrey a son of the Richard just named. To this I am compelled to reply that there is no positive evidence and we must fall back upon that which is circumstantial. Jeffrey Sharples certainly was not baptized [of record] at Wybunbury, but this is not a fatal objection. Children were often baptized, from various causes, in other parishes than those in which their parents resided. A common occurrence was for the mother to visit her own parents and have her child baptized at her old home. Parish registers, too, were not always perfectly kept. Entries were often omitted through accident or carelessness. (A notable instance has come under my own observation this very day: John Locke, the celebrated philosopher, is known to have been baptized in the parish church of Wrington, in Somerset, and yet, although there is no deficiency in the register at that period, his baptism was never recorded.) It is not at all unlikely that Jeffrey may have been born before Richard came to Wybunbury, when of course his baptism would not appear there. My reasons for believing that Jeffrey was the son of Richard are that the name of Sharples was so uncommon in this part of the country, the surname itself being an uncommon one, that it is most unlikely that two persons bearing it, not very closely related to each other, should have settled down in this small and out of the way neighborhood. One ceases to have children baptized in 1589 and the other commences in 1612. There is just the proper space of time between these dates that there would be if we knew that the children of Jeffrey were the grandchildren of Richard. There are other strong reasons to be found in the identity of Christian names and this involves another question. It will be remembered that Jeffrey Sharples, of Flixton, whose will has been quoted, names his brother Richard and his brother Richard's daughter, showing that he was still alive at the date of the will, in 1602, and with children. It will also be remembered that the only son of this Jeffrey was named Richard, no doubt after his brother. If, as I assume and believe, this "brother Richard" was no other than Richard Sharples, of Wybunbury, what more natural than that the latter should in turn name one of his sons after his brother Jeffrey? Then again it was almost the invariable custom at this period for a young married couple to name their first son after the husband's father, a custom which prevailed all over England down to the time of the commonwealth, in the middle of the seventeenth century. Now what name did Jeffrey Sharples, of Wybunbury, give to his first born son? No other than Richard. Taking all these facts into consideration, coupled with the fact that these two Jeffreys are the only ones that have ever appeared at any date among the vast amount of records that have been examined, it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that Jeffrey, of Flixton, and Richard, of Wybunbury, were brothers and that Jeffrey, of Wybunbury, was the son of Richard and perpetuated the race in that parish. It is to be feared that no more direct evidence will ever be forthcoming. Richard Sharples left no will. Probably his extreme age would account for that, for he could hardly have been less than eighty-six years old at his death and it is also probable that his worldly possessions were not of sufficient magnitude to render such a ceremony necessary. From this point onwards every statement to be made is substantiated by abundant proof.

Jeffrey Sharples, of Wybunbury, was married under a license obtained from the Bishop of Chester, dated 27th April, 1611, to Margaret Ashley, described as of Wich Malbank (the modern Nantwich), of the county of Chester, she being then a spinster. Who she was or to what family she belonged it has so far been impossible to ascertain. But it may be remarked that marriages by license at that period usually indicate that the parties were not of the humblest rank in life, as they were attended with considerably more difficulty and expense than marriages by banns, a bondsman being required, a personal journey to Chester and the expenditure of no small sum in ecclesiastical fees. Something more concerning this Margaret Ashley may perhaps be learned hereafter. At present it is only known that she was married at the date mentioned and that she was buried at Wybunbury on the 21st January, 1643–4, as "Margaret, the wife of Jeffrey Sharples."

The following facts in reference to their children have been acquired from a personal examination of the Wybunbury parish registers and of the registers of the Society of Friends, now deposited with the registrar-general in London, as also from the will of John Sharples, the emigrant. I will deal with them in chronological order.

I. Richard Sharples, evidently the eldest child, was baptized at Wybunbury 4th September, 1612, and probably named after his grandfather, as before intimated. He evidently died young, or else when grown up migrated from Wybunbury, as he certainly was not buried there nor does his name again appear in the register. As he is not named in the will of his brother John, in 1682, which mentions all his sisters and their children, it is clear that he was dead before that date.

II. Ellen, who was baptized at Wybunbury 4th March, 1614–15. Her marriage does not occur in the Wybunbury registers, but she was named in the will of her brother John, in 1682, as Ellen Jennings, of Newcastle (i. e., Newcastle-under-Lyme), in Staffordshire, with three children.

III. Margery, who was baptized at Wybunbury 12th July, 1618. According to the Friends' register she was married in an assembly of the said people on the 2d of the twelfth month, 1667 (i. e., 2d February, 1667–8), to Daniel Moore, of Hankelow, she being described as of Blakenhall. Both Hankelow and Blakenhall are hamlets in the parish of Wybunbury. Among the witnesses named are John Sharples, Jane Sharples, Mary Sharples and Rebecca Sharples, i. e., her brother and his wife and her two unmarried sisters. According to the same register she died the 24th of the tenth month (December), 1670. Her husband, Daniel Moore, remarried the 26th of the first month, 1678 (i. e., March), Mary Briggs, of Newton, lately of London. He was buried the 26th of the first month (March), 1681. She appears to have left no issue, and no will of her husband is to be found.

IV. A child, probably dying before baptism, was buried at Wybunbury 21st January, 1620–1, as "a daughter of Jeffrey Sharples."

V. John Sharples, the emigrant to Pennsylvania, of whom hereafter.

VI. Mary, who was baptized at Wybunbury 19th August, 1627. She was mentioned in the will of her brother John, in 1682, as "my sister Mary Ellis," and evidently without children. From the Friends' registers it appears that she married, first, the 16th of the twelfth month, 1667 (i. e., 16th February, 1667–8), Richard Clowes, of Nantwich, in Cheshire, the witnesses being John Sharples, Rebecca Sharples and Richard Caldwell, i. e., her brother and sister, and the subsequent husband of the latter. Richard Clowes lived but little more than three years, dying the 20th of the third month (May), 1671. Remaining a widow a little more than two years, she re-married, the 19th of the fourth month (June), 1673, Samuel Ellis, of Nantwich, the witnesses being Richard Caldwell, Daniel Moore, Rebecca Caldwell and Jane Sharples, i. e., her two brothers-in-law, her sister and her brother John's wife. She evidently had no children by either husband, and neither their wills nor her own can be found, nor is there any further trace of her or her last husband in the Friends' registers.

VII. Rebecca, who was baptized at Wybunbury, 30th January, 1630–1. She was married, in 1671 (no other date being given in the Friends' register), to Richard Caldwell, of Rope, another hamlet in Wybunbury. The witnesses were John Sharples, Jane Sharples and Daniel Moore, i. e., her brother and his wife and her brother-in-law. Richard Caldwell died the 13th of the eighth month (October), 1678, but no will of his has been discovered. She was named in her brother John's will, in 1682, as still living, with one child, but no further trace of her has been found.

We now return to John Sharples, the fifth child, and apparently only surviving son of Jeffrey Sharples by his wife, Margaret Ashley. He was baptized at Wybunbury on 15th August, 1624. He is always described in the Friends' registers as of Hatherton, another hamlet in the very large parish of Wybunbury. He married, in 1662 (no other date being given, but more probably, from the date of the birth of his first child, in January or February, or even March, 1662–3), Jane Moore, also of Hatherton. It is probable that she was a sister of Daniel Moore who married her husband's sister, Margery Sharples, and that it was their mother, Jane Moore, who died, according to the Friends' registers, the 27th of the first month (March), 1671. The entire absence of wills of this family of Moore renders her identification difficult if not impossible. As in the American records of the family she is said to have died in 1722, aged about eighty-four; she was born about 1638, being fourteen years younger than her husband, and their ages at their marriage were respectively about thirty-eight and twenty-four. The births of all their children are recorded in the registers of the Society of Friends as follows:

1. Phebe, 20th of tenth month (December), 1663.
2. John, 16th of eleventh month, 1666 (i. e., January 16, 1666–7).
3. Thomas 2d of eleventh month, 1668 (i. e., January 2, 1668–9).
4. James, 5th of first month (i. e., March), 1670–1.
5. Caleb, 22d of seventh month (i. e., September), 1673.
6. Jane, 13th of sixth month (i. e., August), 1676.
7. Joseph, 28th of ninth month (i. e., November), 1678.

As no deaths of any children of John and Jane Sharples are recorded in the registers, it is pretty certain that they had no others. All the above-named children emigrated with their parents to Pennsylvania in the year 1682, and their subsequent history must be dealt with there.

It may be safely assumed that John Sharples, the emigrant, was among the earliest disciples of George Fox. The last date of the connection of the family with the Church of England that we have is that of the burial of his mother, in 1644, which was four years before Fox began to teach his peculiar doctrines. From that date the name of Sharples is no longer to be found in the Wybunbury parish registers. John himself and all his sisters married Friends, and as his was the earliest marriage, viz., 1662, it seems clear that the entire family had before that date joined the new society. Whether the father, Jeffrey Sharples, also became a Friend can only be conjectured from the fact that the only record to be found of his death is in the Friends' registers, where he is stated to have died on the 15th of the tenth month (December), 1661, and is described as of Blakenhall. He was doubtless buried in the Friends' burying-place, but over that he would have had no control. It seems likely, however, that if he had not himself become a Friend, or if he had expressed the desire to be buried by his wife and the mother of his children, that his surviving children would not have contravened that wish, and that he would have been buried with her at Wybunbury, which certainly was not the case.

Jeffrey Sharples left no will, nor were letters of administration of his estate issued, which indicates either the extreme meagreness of his possessions or else that he had in his lifetime disposed of anything he had to leave behind him. It is perfectly clear, however, from the character of the entries in the Wybunbury registers, and from all else that has been gleaned, that he made no pretension, nor did his son after him, to any other character than that of a small yeoman in an obscure country hamlet.

John Sharples had a grant of land from William Penn on the 5th April, 1682, and not long after emigrated with his entire family to Pennsylvania, landing at Chester on the 14th of August in that year. Before leaving England, however, he made his will, viz., on the 4th May, 1682, describing himself as of Hatherton, in the county of Chester, yeoman. The following is a full abstract of it:

My messuage and tenement in Blakenhall, which I hold for 99 years of Sir Thomas Delves, of Dodington, Co. Chester, Baronet, for the lives of John Sharples, John Sharples the younger, and Jane wife of said John Sharples the elder. I give one-half to my said wife Jane for her life, with remainder to my said son John, and the other half to my said son John—to my said wife Jane £50.—the rest of my goods equally among my younger children, but if all die before receiving their shares, then each of my executors to have £5. If all said children be dead at my wife's death, then all my goods to go among my sister Mary Ellis, my sister Rebecca Caldwell and her child, and the three children of my sister Ellen Jennings, of Newcastle in Staffordshire—I appoint executors my friends Thomas Read the elder, of Rope, yeoman, his son Thomas Read, and William Wase, of Hankelow, yeoman.

The will was proved at Chester, on the 10th November, 1685, in which year the testator had died in Pennsylvania.

It is evident that John Sharples, with a forethought unusual in American emigrants of that period, instead of disposing of all his possessions, reserved the lease of the house and lands which he held at Blakenhall, probably with the idea that, if dissatisfied with his new home, he would have one to return to in England. He therefore made his will before emigrating and left it behind him in the custody of his executors. He was a tenant of Sir Thomas Delves, the lord of the manor, from whom he held a lease for ninety-nine years, and that he was able to retain this, after the purchase he had made in Pennsylvania and the necessarily considerable expense of transporting so large a family there, speaks well for his thrift and proves conclusively that if only a "yeoman," as he chose to call himself, he was certainly one in comfortable circumstances.

It now remains only to discuss the question of arms. It will be remembered that Jeffrey Sharples, of Flixton, in his will names his uncle Alexander Ward and his cousin Richard Ward. Now it is evident that these two persons appear on the pedigree of Sharples, of Sharples, accepted and entered by the Heralds on their Visitation of Lancashire before referred to, as Alexander Sharples alias Ward and Richard Sharples alias Ward, being father and son. Alexander was himself son of another Richard Sharples. Why he and his son took the additional surname of Ward is not clear, and it was not used by the eldest son of the last Richard, but other descendants of Alexander continued to use both surnames, sometimes as Sharples alias Ward and sometimes as Ward alias Sharples, while others called themselves only Ward or Sharples.

This pedigree, as was very common, gives only the direct line of descent of Alexander Ward alias Sharples, without mentioning any of the brothers in either generation, but it is clear from the will of Jeffrey Sharples, of Flixton, that he was the son of one of Alexander's brothers, and most probably a Richard, and hence be rightly called Alexander his uncle, and Alexander's son Richard his cousin. This being the case, although he styled himself a yeoman, he had as much right to the arms as Alexander himself, and was rightfully a gentleman. It follows, that, if Richard Sharples, of Wybunbury, was the brother of Jeffrey, of Flixton, as there seems good reason to believe, he was also entitled to the arms, and hence the descendants of Richard, through John Sharples, the emigrant, have equally the right to bear them. The coat is a very pretty one and is blazoned thus: Sable, three crescents, argent, between the points of each a mullet or. The crest is a dexter hand brandishing a sword, proper. When or to whom this coat was originally granted it is impossible now to ascertain, but the Heralds evidently recognized it as having been borne by the family of Sharples from time immemorial and confirmed it to the representatives who claimed it, both in 1567 and 1665.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Alfred Fryer, of Elm Hirst, Wilmslow, Cheshire, writes under date of 4 mo. 3, 1886, as follows:

"Since writing to thee I made a pilgrimage into the district whence the Sharpless family came. I visited the church and by the kindness of the vicar saw the registers, but there was nothing there, I expect, which had not already been searched out by descendants who had explored them. Thou may probably be aware that the parish registers in England usually commenced with the reign of Elizabeth, and they were in the first instance made on paper, afterwards transcribed into books made of parchment. In some cases the paper originals exist. The registers of Wybunbury are in beautiful preservation, yet they are more difficult to read than any which I have met with. Not only do the inscriptions include curious contractions, but the writing is extremely small and the most quaint in character that I have met with; so they have to be picked out rather than read. Wybunbury is pronounced Wib'-en-berry. I send a photo. of the tower, which is very beautiful and ancient, and must have been very familiar to John Sharpless, but would present to him a much less pleasing picture than it does to us. Neglect to attend their legal places of worship brought on Friends the penalties, under the cruel statute of Elizabeth, of twenty pounds a month. The tower is worth examining with a magnifying glass in order to see the statues on the face. The church has been rebuilt about 1830. No ancient gravestone exists in the yard with the name of Sharpless on it, and indeed the name seems to have died out of the district. Among the numerous ancient benefactors to the parish the name is not found.

"I also went to Blakenhall, where he lived for a time. This is not the name of a house, but of a district or rather township, and after diligently hunting I could find no tradition of the existence of Sharpless, nor any house with letters inscribed on it. I also proceeded to Hatherton and treated it in like manner, and then went to Hankelow. I send thee a photo' of an extensive odd-timbered house, the 'Cliff,' at Wybunbury. I also went to Nantwich, a place in the district often mentioned in Besse and Fox. It possesses a beautiful church with an octagonal tower. It is ancient. I send thee a photo. At Nantwich the last wife of John Milton was buried, but at a little Baptist graveyard and not at the church."

The same correspondent informs, that on the 20th of 5th month, 1659, a petition signed by women, against tithes, was presented to Parliament, and among the Cheshire signers were Anne Sharples, Mary Sharples and Margery Sharples.

In Virginia Carolorum, or an account of the colony of Virginia, by Edward D. Neill, it is stated that Mr. Davison was elected secretary of the Virginia Company in 1621, after whose death, in 1623–4, an oath was administered to Edward Sharples, acting as secretary, in these words:

"You shall keep secret all matters committed unto you, with all things that shall be treated secretly at the Counsell table untill such tyme as by the consent of his Majestie's Governor and Captayn Generall and the full Councel of the State then resydent, or the maior part of them, publication shall be made thereof," etc.

On the 15th of June, 1625, Governor Wyatt and Council notified the Privy Council in England that they had been forced to suspend Captain John Martin from their body, and that the reason they had taken the secretaryship from and cut off the ears of Edward Sharpless, was because he had violated his oath and "delivered papers committed to his charge which greatly concerned" them.

In Hotten's Lists of Emigrants mention is made of a Thomas Sharpless, aged twenty, who embarked 6th June, 1635, at Gravesend, for Virginia.

In Burke's History of the Commoners it is stated that Judith, daughter of Armigill Sharples, of Louth, in Lancashire, married Edward Massingberd, Esq., baptized 1589, and left two sons. Cuthbert Sharples was mayor of Liverpool in 1699. Aaron Troughton, Esq., of Preston, in Lancashire, married Miss Nancy Gornall, who wedded secondly Thomas Sharples, Esq., of Blackburn.

William Penn, writing from Kensington, England, to James Logan, 3d of 12 mo. 1701, says: "I have sent my negative to the charter by way of New York, per Lord Cornbury's ship, the Jersey. Captain Stapleton has it, directed to the Post-master Sharples."

John Sharpless and others were signers to a certificate dated 4 mo. 3, 1711, which Mark Carleton brought to Philadelphia from Friends of Mt. Melick Meeting, in Ireland.

SHARPLES FAMILY

IN AMERICA.

CHILDREN OF GEOFFREY AND MARGARET SHARPLES,* OF WYBUNBURY, CHESHIRE, ENGLAND.

Richard, bapt. at Wybunbury, Sept. 4, 1612; probably died young or without issue.

Ellen, bapt. at W. Mar. 4, 1614-15; married —— Jennings and had three children, who were of New Castle, in Staffordshire, 1682.

Margery, bapt. at W. July 12, 1618; married from Blakenhall 12 mo. 2, 1667 to Daniel Moor, of Hankelow. (It is also of record that the marriage occurred 12 mo. 2, 1671, at Richard Chadwell's house, at Rope, but the year is doubtless in error.) She is said to have died 10 mo. 24, 1670, after which he married again, as already shown (p. 56). The death of a Margaret Moor, of Hankelow, is also given 11 mo. 19, 1678, and Daniel Moor, of the same place, was buried 1 mo. 26, 1681. Abigail Moor, dau. of Daniel and Mary, was born 11 mo. 26, 1678. Margery does not appear to have left issue.

* It is proposed to use this spelling of the name in the early generations and, so far as known, in the cases of those who still adhere to it.

1. John, bapt. at W. Aug. 15, 1624, of whom presently.

Mary, bapt. at W. Aug. 19, 1627; married from Namptwich, 12 mo. 16, 1667, to Richard Clowes of that place, who died 3 mo. 20, 1671, and she m. 4 mo. 19, 1673, Samuel Ellis of Namptwich. They subsequently came to Pennsylvania and were witnesses to the marriage of her nephew, John Sharples, in 1692. She died 2 mo. 26,(?) 1703, according to the statement of her said nephew. Of her last husband nothing further is known and it does not appear that she had children.

Rebecca, bapt. at W. Jan. 30, 1630-1; married from "Roppe," 1671, at the house of Mary Fletcher, in Edlestone, to Richard Caldwell of Roppe,* who died 8 mo. 13, 1678. He is supposed to have been the Richard "Chadwell" at whose house her sister Margery was married. Rebecca Caldwell and daughter Mary came to Pennsylvania, perhaps in company with her brother John Sharples, 1682, and settled on adjoining land, taken up on rent. She died 2 mo. 25,(?) 1703, "being past the age of seventy-two." The name was frequently written Caudwell and Cordwell in the old records. Mary Caldwell married William Swaffer, in 1694, and some of their descendants will be given at the end of this volume.

Whitley, sons of Ralph and Eliza (Elizabeth?), of Norcott or Norcett; also of Ralph Moores, of Norcett, 11 mo. 23, 1661. Jane Moore died 1 mo. 27, 1671. The relationship of these to Jane Sharples can only be conjectured. After 1682 the names of Sharples and Moore do not occur in the records of Cheshire Monthly Meeting for one hundred and forty years. The Daniel Moore, of Manchester, whose letter to his cousins has been given (p. 41), was doubtless the son of a brother to Jane Sharples. Another nephew was John Moore, weaver, who, with Margaret, his wife, came to Pennsylvania prior to 1717, and settled in Thornbury township. They appear to have had the following children (named Moore):

Daniel, m. Elizabeth ——— and settled in West Nantmeal, Chester County; d. about 1763.

Thomas, m. Mary ——— and had several children, of whom a dau. Mary, m. James Batten, 1733. Thomas died in Newtown township, 1752, leaving a widow, Susanna.

Margaret, b. Apr. 24, 1699, m. June 26, 1717, William Trego, supposed to be of a French Huguenot family, and resided in Goshen township. Their son Benjamin, b. June 2, 1730, gave the ground upon which the public buildings were erected at West Chester, to which the county seat was removed from Chester in 1786, Elizabeth, m. James Trego, son of Peter and Judith and brother to William.

Mary, m. Richard Barry, 7 mo. 24, 1719.

Samuel, m. Mary ———.

Ann, m. 10 mo. 23, 1725, to Nathaniel Grubb.

John, m. Elizabeth ——— and d. 1733.

The movements of John Sharples are to some extent indicated by the places of his children's births. That he became an early convert to the doctrines of the Society of Friends, or Quakers, and an active member of their meetings for discipline, has been shown (p. 27). Some of his sufferings on account of his religious principles are set forth in the following extracts from Besse's Sufferings of the Quakers, vol. i. pp. 105, 108.

At a still earlier date one of the name had suffered persecution in company with several other Friends, as related by Besse, i. 744.

WALES, Anno 1660.

"On the 5th of December, a Lieutenant and several Files of Soldiers came into the Meeting at Shrewsbury, with Swords drawn, and Matches lighted; they put the Women out, and then guarded the Men to the Town-hall, where the Justices tendered them the Oath of Allegiance, and upon their refusing to take it, the Mayor sent twenty-three of them to Prison, where they lay fifteen Weeks. Their Names were, John Shield, Richard Moore, Oliver Atherton, Ralph Sharples, Jeremiah Owen, Thomas Rowley, Richard Ward, Thomas Woolrich, Henry Rawson, James Farmer, William Trattle, William Griffith, John Houston, Richard Ap Edward, John Millington, John Medlicott, Thomas Bracy, Joseph Fletcher, Abraham Poyner, Owen Roberts, Thomas Somerfield, John Farmer, and John Whitaker."

At some period after the birth of his eldest son, John Sharples took a lease of some land from Sir Thomas Delves, as mentioned in the abstract of his will (p. 58) and there is evidence that this lease was placed on record in Philadelphia about the year 1700. The index in the office of the Recorder of Deeds for that city contains the reference: "Thomas Delves to John Sharples, Book E. 3, vol. 5," but the book cannot be found.* Perhaps the instrument was about to be sent back to England and as a precaution against its loss it was placed on record here.

With the hope of greater advantages to his family, both spiritual and

* The printing of this work has been somewhat delayed with the hope of obtaining a copy of this lease. It appears that the book referred to was for some obscure reason kept in the Land Office and with the other records of that department removed to Harrisburg when that city became the State Capital. By a resolution of the General Assembly, in 1838, the Secretary of the Land Office was directed to have copies made of all patents and other deeds relating to land in Philadelphia City or County for the use of the latter. A copy of the greater part of the book in question forms what is known as "Exemplification Record, No. 7," in the Philadelphia office, but the lease was omitted. Diligent search has been made at Harrisburg but the original book has not been found and has possibly been sold by dishonest officials for waste paper, as is known to have been the case with other valuable documents.

temporal. John Sharples embraced the offers of William Penn and became a purchaser of lands yet unsurveyed in the wilds of Pennsylvania. The purchase was according to the usual form of that day, by deeds of Lease and Release. The first for a merely nominal sum of five shillings gave possession for the term of one year, and the second, dated the next day, gave full title to the land, entering also more minutely into the details of the transaction. A copy of the release is here given:

This release was recorded 5 mo. 11, 1688, in the first Deed Book for Chester County, Pa., and the lease, together with a receipt for the consideration money, on the following day. The original of the last document is now the property of Mary Randolph, of Philadelphia. There is evidence that the autograph of William Penn, as it appears on these deeds, was made by a stamp. Two of the above witnesses were doubtless prospective emigrants while Harbert Springett acted as the attorney and conveyancer for Penn, whose wife is supposed to have been his niece.

It has been suggested that John Sharples and family came over in the "Lion," of Liverpool, John Compton (or Crompton), master. The eldest son, who was in his sixteenth year at the time of their arrival, wrote thus several years afterward: "And my father and mother, with these their Children left Ould England, their native Country and came on Shour in Pennsylvania on the 14 da. 6 mo. 1682, all but my brother Thomas who died upon the Seas the 17 : 5 mo. 1682."* The time of the arrival of the "Lion" is fixed by a certain Bible record and corroborating evidence at the 13th of 6 mo. 1682. An interesting letter† written by Dr. Edward Jones, a passenger, dated "Skool Kill River, ye 26th of ye 6 mo. 1682," says: "This shall lett thee know that we have been aboard eleaven weeks before we made the land (it was not for want of art, but contrary winds) and one we were in coming to Upland, ye town is to be buylded 15 or 16 miles up ye River. And in all this time we wanted neither meate, drink or water though several hogsheds of water run out. * * * * The passengers are all living save one child ye died of a surfeit * * * * We are short of our expectation by reason that ye town is not to be builded at Upland, neither would ye Master bring us any further, though it is navigable for ships of greater burthen than ours."

The close coincidence in the given date of arrival, and the death of a child at sea, are the grounds for supposing that John Sharples and family were passengers on the Lion, but it is a question whether the son Thomas, in his fourteenth year, would be referred to as a child. The records of Chester Monthly Meeting show that Thomas Powell, son of Thomas, was buried at sea "about the same time" as Thomas Sharples, and that a child of Thomas Minshall died at sea 4 mo. 5, 1682. Dr. Smith, the historian of Delaware County, says that Thomas Powell and family came in the same vessel with John Sharples, being probably led to this conclusion by the coincidence and mention of their children's deaths.

At the time of the arrival of John Sharples, the place now called Chester was known as Upland, a name given to it by the Swedes near forty years before, but upon the arrival of William Penn in the following October, he changed the name to Chester to please a personal friend, and the same name was given to one of the three counties into which the province was afterward divided. Prior to 1682 there were perhaps not more than twenty English families within ten miles of this place, and although the Swedes had been in possession so long, yet their settlements were confined to the lowlands along the Delaware River.

We have seen that the family took up their abode on the bank of Ridley Creek, then called Batcome Branch or Oele Stille's Creek, from Oele or Oloff Stille, a Swede who had settled on the river as early as 1641. It is assumed that the settlement was made immediately after the landing, but it appears to have been upon the land of a former settler. At the Upland Court, June 18,(?) 1678, "Thomas Nossitur desiering of the Court a grant to take up Twoo hundered acres of Land, The Court granted ye same hee seating and Improooveing s^d^ Land according to his hono^r^ ye governo^rs^ Regulacons." Nov. 12, 1678, permission was given for Thomas Nossitur "& associates" to take up one hundred acres more. Upon some part of this land John Sharples settled, that purchased from William Penn being unlocated and consequently unimproved. The necessities of the settlers made it desirable to get some land which had been brought under cultivation, and John Sharples doubtless agreed with Thomas Nossiter at once for one-half of his land, postponing the execution of a deed until a visit could be made to the Commissioners of Property at Philadelphia. The conveyance for this land being quaint and somewhat historical is here given in full:

"This Indenture made the Twelfth day of Septemb^r^ in the yeare of our Lord, according to the Computation used in England, one Thousand Six hundred eightie and Two, Between Thomas Nossiter of Batcome branch, alias Wolley Still's Creeke, in the province of Pennsilvania, husbandman, of the one part, and John Sharpless of Batcome Branch, alias Wolley Still's Creeke, aforesaid, husbandman, of the other part, Witnesseth That the said Thomas Nossiter, for and in Considera^c^n of the sume of ffourtie pounds of Current English money, to him in hand paid by the said

"THOMAS NOSSITER. { SEAL. }
JOHN SHARPLES."

Recorded in Phila. 3 mo. 25, 1685; E 1. vol. 5, p. 61.

Considerable inquiry has been made for the original of this document, but it has not been found. Richard Ingelo was for some time clerk of the Provincial Council and possibly wrote the deed. On the same date the following warrant was granted by the Governor and addressed to the Surveyor, though their names do not appear.

"By order from the Governor and Commissioners for setting out Lands to the Purchasers in Pennsylvania, &c., I hereby authorize thee to Survey and lay out unto John Sharpless four hundred acres, next unto Thomas Brasseys thousand acres, up Mill Creek, next Creek above Crum Creek, and to lay it out on the Western side of the said Mill Creek at the Rule of twenty Pole to the hundred if the Place will bear it, and to Return unto me a true duplicate of the field work and protracted Figure, which is to remain in my office: dated this 12th 7 Month 1682."

The next creek above Crum is Darby Creek, of which a branch, now Cobb's Creek, was formerly called Mill Creek, but it does not appear that any land was surveyed there for John Sharples, or that any survey had then been made, of one thousand acres, for Thomas Brassey. The above warrant was probably mostly located in Nether Providence, on Crum Creek, some distance above the place of settlement. Prior to 5 mo. 29, 1864, a tract of three hundred and thirty acres had been surveyed there for John Sharples.

The first Assembly for the Province convened at Chester, Dec. 4, 1682, and passed the "Great Law or Body of Laws," comprising sixty-one chapters. After this William Penn issued writs for an election on the 20th of 12 mo. (Feb. 1682-3) of twelve persons as members of Council "and that thou there declare to the said freemen that they may all personally appear at an assembly at the place aforesaid according to the contents of my charter of liberties." The place of meeting was at Philadelphia, on the 12th of March, but each county sent only twelve persons—three for Council and nine for Assembly. The following petition, without date, was doubtless presented at this time:

"To William Penn, proprietary and governor of the province of Pennsylvania and territories thereof—The petition of the freeholders of the County of Chester respectfully showeth, That in obedience to the writ sent to our Sheriff we have chosen twelve persons for our delegates to serve in the provincial Council, but considering that the numbers of the people are yet small and that we have few fit for or acquainted with such public business, and also that we are unable to support the charge of greater elections and Assemblies. After our humble acknowledgment of the favor intended us therein we take leave humbly to request that three of the twelve we have chosen may serve as provincial councillors and the other nine for the Assembly, which provincial Councillors are John Symcock, for three years, Ralph Withers for two years, and William Clayton for one year, leaving it to thee to increase the number as occasion shall serve hereafter."

This was signed by James Browne, William Woodmancy, John Sharples, Albert Hendrickson and some others whose names are now illegible.*

Upon the organization of townships the land late of Thomas Nossiter proved to be in Ridley township, adjoining the line of Nether Providence. John Sharples made an addition to his purchase, of forty acres in the latter township, in right of his one thousand acres. A memorandum of the county surveyor reads thus: "July the 2d, 1683: Surveyed for John Sharples 240 acres of Land lying between Ridley Creek and Crum Creek.

CHARLES ASHCOM."

A plot of the land shows that his sister Rebecca Caudwell had taken up adjoining land, and it is noted that two hundred acres was a late purchase and forty acres old purchase. It is also endorsed that "J. S. says that the Governor askt T. Nossiter for his Title to the Land, but not answering the Regulation the Governor promised to confirm a Pattent to J. S."

* Hazard's Annals, 603.

In the 7th month (September) following another warrant was granted, as follows:

"William Penn, Proprietary and Governor of the Province of Pennsylvania and the Territories thereunto belonging:

"At the Request of John Sharpless that I would grant him to take up some Land of his Purchase in the County of Chester, These are to Will and Require thee forthwith to survey, or Cause to be surveyed, unto him three hundred acres of Land, up Chester Creek, where not already taken up, according to the method of Townships appointed by me, & make Returns thereof into my Secretary's Office. Given at Philad^a the 1st of the 7th month, 1683. WM. PENN.

"For Thomas Holmes, Surveyor General.}

[Endorsed] "18th 8th Month, ordered C. A. to set it out in Upland Township after former Warrants."

This warrant was executed April 9, 1684, by the survey of three hundred acres on the east side of Chester Creek, in what is now Middletown township, for which the name of Upland appears to have been proposed at first. Three separate patents or deeds of confirmation were executed by William Penn 5 mo. 28, and 29, 1684—just two weeks before he sailed for England—for the three tracts of land surveyed to John Sharples. That for the homestead is here given as a sample of such documents.

WM. PENN.

Owning land in and adjoining the township of Providence, John Sharples was doubtless interested in having a road laid out thence to the town of Chester, and we find that "Att a Cort held att Chester for the County of Chester ye 17th of ye 8th moneth, Called October, 1683," before John Symcocke, President, and Thomas Brassey, Otto Ernest Cocke and Robert Wade, Justices, "The Inhabitance of Providence made their Application to this Cort for a highway Leading to ye Towne of Chester: Ordered, that the Grand Jury doe meet on ye 22th Instant att Tho: Nositer's there to Consider of ye Premises.

"The names of the Grand Jury Impanelled to looke out a Convenient High way leading from Providence to Chester,—

In this day it would not be thought proper to appoint a person on a jury to lay out a road through his own land, as was the case with Thomas Nossiter, who, however, does not seem to have been satisfied with what was done. "Att a Cort held att Chester for the County of Chester the 1st 2d day in ye 1st weeke of ye 10th moneth, 1684:" "Robert Taylor, Supervisor for the High Wayes Presented Thomas Nositer for tarnning (turning) the High way from Providence to Chester. The names of the Grand Inquest ordered to Inspect the same,—

Joseph Richards,	John Nexen,	Robert Taylor,
William Woodmanson,	John Worell,	Thomas Person,
John Child,	Randolph Vernon,	Thomas Minkshaw,
John Sharply,	Woly Rosen,	Randolfe Maline,
Gilbert Williams,	William Hues,	Joseph Steedman."
Thomas Powell,	Thomas Vernome,

With some other business the Court adjourned "vntill the 1st 3d day of the next moneth," and the next session was held "the 6th day of the 11th moneth, 1684," at which time it was—

"Ordered, that Peter Taylor and Robert Vernome be received into the Grand Jury in the Roome of John Child and Thomas Minkshaw [Minshall], And Thomas Colborne in the Roome of John Sharply."

These are the only instances in which the name of John Sharples appears on the records of the Court, and the reason for his being set aside from the grand jury is not given. At the next Court, held 12 mo. 3, 1684, "Thomas Nositer made Over a Certaine deed unto Walter ffausett, dated the 3d day of ye 12th moneth 1684, for a Parcell of Land lying and being on the north side of Ridly Creeke." Also, "Thomas Nositer was Presented by ye Grand Jury for falling of marked Trees and Blocking up the high Way laid out by them by a former Order of this Cort." The complaint is not further mentioned, and it is likely that having sold his land he ceased to be interested in the road.

Robert Wade settled at Upland in 1675, and in that year William Edmundson, a traveling minister, held a meeting there. A meeting was probably held regularly after 1677, by which time several other Friends had arrived in the neighborhood. They at first belonged to Burlington Monthly Meeting in New Jersey, of which a session was "held at Upland in the house of Robert Wade, the 15th of the 9th month, 1681," but the first meeting of the kind held by Friends of the Western Shore alone, is set forth in the following minute: "the 10 day of ye 11 month 1681. A monthly meeting of frends belonging to marcus hooke & vpland held then at Robert Wad's house."

At a Monthly Meeting held 7 mo. 11, 1682, "It was then agreed y^t a meeting shall be held for ye service & worship of god every first day at ye court house at Vpland. And also agreed that there be three meetings in the week time; the westerne part to meet at Chichester the 5th day of the week, and the middle meeting at Harold, at Wm. Woodmanson's, the 4th day of the week, and the Eastern meeting at Ridley, at John Simcock's, the 5th day of the week, untill otherwise ordered."

It seems evident that all were to meet together on First-days at Upland. John Sharples doubtless attended the mid-week meeting at John Simcock's house, but this never became an established meeting, and after a few years those composing it met altogether at Chester. There is no mention of the name of John Sharples on the minutes of Chester Monthly Meeting. According to the known usages of the Society at that day, it would seem likely that he brought a certificate of membership from Friends in England. At a monthly meeting held at Walter Faucit's 2 mo. 2, 1688,—

"It is desired by the meeting that all friends belonging to this meeting bring in their Certificates to the next monthly meeting; and those that have none, to come to the said meeting and satisfy friends the reason thereof; and that these friends following doe publish the same at the respective meetings following, the first day before the next monthly meeting, viz., George Maris for Bartholomew Coppock's meeting, John Boweter for his meeting, Randal Varnon for Chester meeting, Thomas Minshall for his meeting."

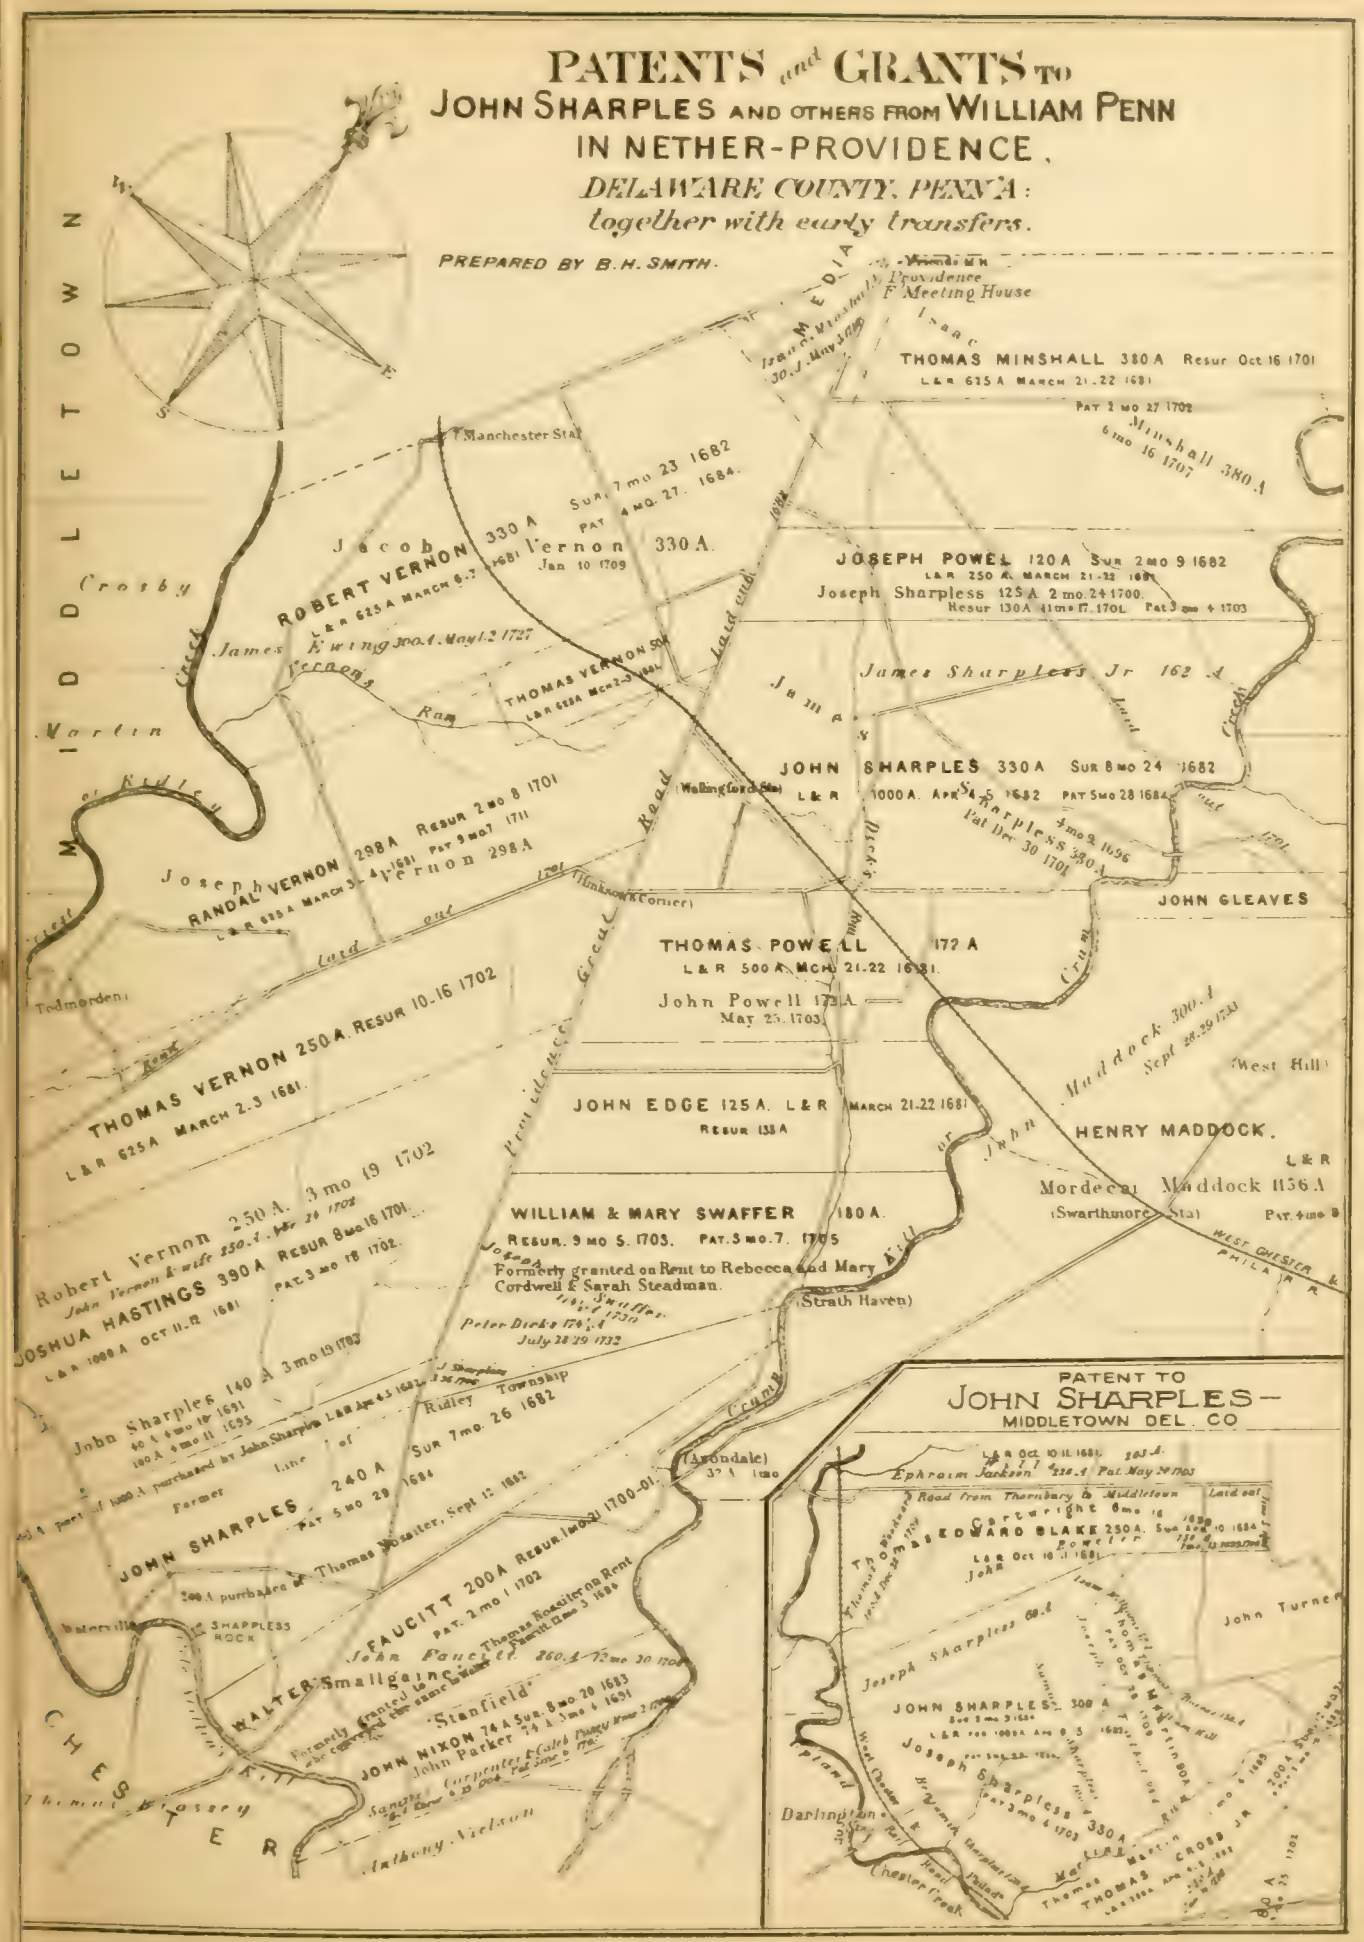
Fourteen certificates were produced at the next meeting and others soon after, yet there is no mention of the name of Sharples among them. John Sharples was not living, but his widow and eldest son, then of age, might have been expected to produce the evidence of their membership.

PATENTS and GRANTS TO JOHN SHARPLES AND OTHERS FROM WILLIAM PENN IN NETHER-PROVIDENCE,

DELAWARE COUNTY, PENN'A:

together with early transfers.

PREPARED BY B. H. SMITH.



According to the "Conditions and Concessions" agreed upon between William Penn and the first purchasers, the latter were to receive lots and liberty lands in the city it was designed to lay out. The 5th article of the conditions stated, "That the proportion of lands that shall be laid out in the first great town or city, for every purchaser, shall be after the proportion of ten acres for every five hundred acres purchased, if the place will allow it."

In John Reed's "Explanation of the Map of the City and Liberties of Philadelphia," 1774, we find the following surveys of liberty lands quoted:

"John Sharpless in his own right, beginning at a corner of Thomas Philips' land; then N. N. W., 56 perches and a half; then E. N. E., 45 perches; then S. S. E., 56 perches and a half; then W. S. W., 45 perches to the beginning, containing sixteen acres."

"Nicholas Scull in right of John Sharpless, beginning at a White Oak in the line of Thomas Venable's land; then S. 24° E., 52 perches; then N. 65° and a half E., 45 perches; then N. 24° W., 52 perches; then S. 65° and a half W., 45 perches to the beginning, containing fourteen acres and a half."

The evidence is that these surveys relate to the same land, being probably made at different times, yet there is some discrepancy to be noticed. The land was in the northern part of the city at or near a place now known as Hunting Park. On Reed's map it is represented that the city lots appurtenant to John Sharples's purchase were at the N. W. corner of Front and Race Streets, extending to Second Street, and at the S. W. corner of Second and Race Streets; yet in the book of "Explanation" it appears that three lots were surveyed, viz., 20 feet front on the west side of Front Street, beginning 144 feet north of Arch Street, surveyed 7 mo. 29, 1692; 24 feet front south side of Market Street, 99 feet east of Third Street, surveyed 11 mo. 20, 1692; also a lot on the west side of Front Street, 72½ feet north of Race Street—no number of feet or date of survey given, but possibly 17½ feet front.

With the design of taking up the rest of his purchase, John Sharples obtained the following warrant:

"By the Commissioners empowered to grant Lotts and Land in the Province of Pennsylvania and the Territories thereunto belonging:

At the Request of John Sharples, Purchaser of one thousand acres, that we would grant him to take up the remainder of his Purchase (being —— Acres) in the County of Chester, These are in the Proprietary and Governor's Name to Will and Require thee forthwith to survey or Cause to be Surveyed unto him the said Number of acres in the aforementioned County where not already taken up, he seating and improveing the same within six months from the date of survey according to Regulation, & make Returns thereof into the Secretary's Office. Given at Philad^a. ye 26th of 3 mo. 1685.

For Thomas Holmes, Surveyor Generall."

The execution of this warrant was doubtless delayed and ultimately prevented by the sickness and death of John Sharples sixteen days after the above date.

We have seen (p. 58) that he made his will before coming to Pennsylvania, leaving it to be proved in England, and if any copy was brought or sent over here it has been lost. An inventory of his estate in this country was filed in Philadelphia, giving the valuation of the various items in pounds, shillings and pence. The document is somewhat worn and indistinct, especially at the folds, but the following is as nearly correct as it can be deciphered:

It is likely there was a Registry of Wills established in Chester County soon after the organization of the county, as it is known there was in Bucks County, but after a few years the county registries were discontinued and all wills in the Province were registered at Philadelphia until about 1714, when offices were again established in the other counties. The records of the early office in Chester County are probably lost.

"Att an Orphans' Court held att Chester ye 6th day of ye 1st moneth, 1687:"

"Ordered, that Jane Sharples give in Security to this Court faithfully and Truely to discharge her trust as Administatrix to her Deseaced Husband, John Sharples."

"Att an Orphans' Court held ye 3d day in ye 1st Weeke of ye 8th moneth, 1688:"

"Jane Sharples being called came into Court and made appear by Thomas Brasie and Jacob Simcocke, Register, that Shee had given in Security to ye Registry of this County according to law in the behalfe of ye Children of her late Husband John Sharples Disceased."

A division of the real estate among the sons was afterwards made by the mediation of certain friends, as will be noticed hereafter.

After the death of her husband the widow was occasionally appointed to attend to the business of the Monthly Meeting. Thus, 8 mo. 13, 1690, Jane Sharples and Lydia Carter were appointed to inquire concerning Susanna Churchman's clearness of marriage engagements—except with Joseph Coebourn; 8 mo. 3, 1692, Mary Hodgkins and Jane Sharples are appointed to inquire concerning Elizabeth Vernon, who declared intentions of marriage with Andrew Job. 4 mo. 26, 1704: "Bartholomew Coppock & Rebecca Minchall Laid their Intention of marridge before this meeting, it being the first time; the meeting orders Jean Sharpells & Jean Edgg to inquire concerning her clearness & Report the same to the next months meeting."

The widow probably continued to reside at the old homestead, with her son John, until her death in 1722.

(3.) John Sharples[2], John[1], born at Blakenhall, Cheshire, Eng., 11 mo. 16, 1666; died near Chester, Penna., 7 mo. 9, 1747; married 9 mo. 23, 1692,* at a meeting at John Bowater's house, in Middletown township, Chester (now Delaware) County, Pa., to Hannah Pennell, born 7 mo. 23, 1673; died 10 mo. 31, 1721.

* The original marriage certificate, 13 by 16 inches in size, of which we have a phototype, is now the property of Mary Randolph, 733 Pine St., Philadelphia. It may be remarked of this, and of some other old documents, that a critical examination finds fewer autographs than would appear at first sight. The birth of Hannah Pennell is stated in one record as 7 mo. 24, 1674, but this conflicts with the record of her father's family obtained in England.

Whereas John Sharples of Ridly in the County of Chester in the province of Pennsylvania in America, and Hannah Pennell, daughter of Robert Pennell of the Old Towne, in the County and province aforesaid, have declared their Intentions of taking each other in Marriage before several publick Meetings of the people of God called Quakers, according to his good Order used amongst them, whose proceedings therein, after a deliberate consideration thereof, were approved by the said Meetings; they appearing clear of all others.

These have to Certifie all whom it may concern, That for the full accomplishing of their said Intentions this Twenty third day of the Tenth Month, in the year, One Thousand six Hundred Ninety two, they the said John Sharples and Hannah Pennell appeared in a publick Assembly of the aforesaid people and others met together for that end and purpose in the dwelling house of John Bewster of Middletowne in the County and province aforesaid, and according to the Examples of the holy men of God recorded in the Scriptures of Truth) in a Solemn manner, he the said John Sharples taking the said Hannah Pennell by the hand did openly declare as followeth, Friends in the presence of God and before you his people, I take this my friend Hannah Pennell to be my wife promising to be to her a faithfull and loving husband till it please the Lord by death to seperate us. And then and there in the said Assembly, the said Hannah Pennell did in like manner declare as followeth, Friends in the presence of God and before you his people, I take this my friend John Sharples to be my husband promising to be to him a faithfull and loving wife till it please the Lord by death to seperate us. And the said John Sharples and Hannah Pennell as a further Confirmation thereof, did then and there to these presents set their Hands. And we whose Names are hereunto subscribed, being present amongst others at the Solemnizing of their said Marriage and Subscription, in manner aforesaid, as Witnesses thereunto, have also to these presents subscribed our Names, the day and year above written.

The proceedings relative to the marriage are thus set forth in the minutes of Chester Monthly Meeting:

"At a monthly meeting held at Walter ffaucet's the 3d of ye 8th month, 1692: John Sharples & Hannah Pennell, belonging to this meeting Layd their intentions of marriage before this meeting, being the first time: the meeting orders Thomas Vernon & Walter ffaucet to inquier concerning his Cleareness, & Margaret Minchall & Lydia Carter to inquier concerning her Cleareness, and report ye same ye next months meeting."

"At a monthly meeting held at Walter ffaucet's the 7th of the 9th month, 1692: John Sharples & Hannah Pennell Layd their intention of marriage before this meeting, being the second time: all things being found cleare concerning them they are referred to their Liberty to proceed according to the order of Truth."

The children of John and Hannah Sharples were,

9. Caleb, b. 7 mo. 27, 1693; d. 2 mo. 29, 1720, unmarried.
10. Jane, b. 12 mo. 24, 1695–6; d. 6 mo. 29, 1725; m. George Smedley.
11. Hannah, b. 8 mo. 5, 1697; d. 10 mo. 17, 1780; m. Henry Howard.
12. John, b. 8 mo. 16, 1699; d. 8 mo. 17, 1769; m. Mary Key and Elizabeth Ashbridge.
13. Phebe, b. 11 mo. 9, 1701–2; d. 3 mo. 29, 1772; m. Benjamin Hibberd.
14. Rebecca, b. 12 mo. 17, 1703–4; d. 9 mo. 30, 1727, unmarried.
15. Margaret, b. 4 mo. 21, 1706; d. 9 mo. 2d (or 28), 1727, unmarried.
16. Ann, b. 6 mo. 23, 1708; d. 8 mo. 22, 1786; m. Samuel Bond.
17. Daniel, b. 12 mo. 24, 1710–11; d. 8 mo. 17, 1775; m. Sarah Coppock.

Robert Pennell, with Hannah, his wife, settled in Middletown township as early as 1686. He came from Boulderton, in Nottinghamshire, England, having obtained a certificate from "Friends at ffulbeck" the third day of the Fifth month, 1684, in conjunction with Thomas Garrett, Hugh Rodnell, Henry Pennell and Richard Parker, with their wives and children, intending to transfer themselves beyond the seas into East Jersey, in America.

The children of Robert and Hannah Pennell were:

Ann, b. —— —— ——; d. 5 mo. —— 1749; m. Benjamin Mendenhall, 1689.
Elizabeth, b. —— —— ——; d. —— —— ——; m. Josiah Taylor, 1690.
Hannah, b. 7 mo. 23, 1673; d. 10 mo. 31, 1721; m. John Sharples.
Joseph, b. 10 mo. 12, 1674; d. 9 mo. 30, 1756; m. Alice Garratt.
James, b. 9 mo. 11, 1676; probably died young.
Jane, b. 5 mo. 13, 1678; d. 6 mo. 27, 1736; m. Samuel Garratt.
William, b. 8 mo. 11, 1681; d. —— —— 1757; m. Mary Mercer.

Robert Pennell was appointed constable of Middletown in 1687. In 1691 he purchased 250 acres of land in Edgmont township, and 264 acres in 1705, on the north of Philip Yarnall, extending from the present Howellville to the Willistown line. He died about the year 1728. His wife died 12 mo. 4, 1711, aged 71 years; both active members of Middletown Meeting.

Joseph Pennell married Alice Garratt 12 mo. 25, 1701, settled in Edgmont township, and had the following children:

Hannah, b. 11 mo. 4, 1702; d. 6 mo. 21, 1728; m. Joseph Jackson.
Robert, b. 6 mo. 20, 1704; d. 1 mo. 9, 1726, unmarried.
Joseph, b. 6 mo. 3, 1706; d. —— —— 1728, unmarried.
Alice, b. 8 mo. 2, 1709; d. young.
Ann, b. 8 mo. 2, 1711; d. 1 mo. 25, 1802; m. Cadwallader Evans.
Mary, b. —— —— 1717; d. 10 mo. 31, 1807; m. Moses Meredith.

The name of John Sharples appears as witness to deeds as early as 1687. The Yearly Meeting of Friends held 7 mo. 7, 1687, issued a testimony against selling rum or other strong liquor to the Indians, and advised "that this our Testimoney may be entered in every monthly meeting booke, and Every friend belonging to their monthly meeting to subscribe the same." In pursuance of this advice the testimony was entered in the minutes of Chester Monthly Meeting and signed by about seventy-five of the male members, but it is known that some of those whose names appear were not in this country until several years after the above date. Robert and Joseph Pennell and John Sharples signed, as well as many others whose names will appear in this record.

In the division of his father's estate the homestead fell to the lot of John Sharples, as appears by the following endorsement on the patent to his father for 240 acres in Ridley, dated 5 mo. 29, 1684:

"Know all men That Jane Sharples, widow and administratrx of the within named John Sharples, her late husband, deceased, for the natural Love & affeccon which she beareth to her son John Sharples, son & heir to the sd John Sharples, Hath Remised Released & for ever quit claimed unto the said John Sharples All her Right Title Interest Claim & demand whatsoever of in & to the Two hundred & forty acres of Land within menconed, with all the Improvemts & appertenances thereto belonging, now in the Tenure of him the said John in pursuance to a certain division of the sd Jon Sharples, the father's Estate lately made by the mediacon of certain freinds:

To have and to hold the s^d^ Two hundred & forty acres of Land & premises wth the ap^r^tenances, unto the s^d^ John Sharples his heirs & assigns, To the use of him the said John Sharples his heirs & assigns for ever; Reserving unto her the s^d^ Jane her Thirds of the s^d^ Land & p^r^mises Dureing her life, If she require the same. In witnes whereof she hath hereunto set her hand & seal the ninth day of the ffourth month Ano. Dni. 1696.

SEAL.

Prior to this John Sharples had purchased from Joshua "Hastinges" 40 acres in Nether Providence, adjoining the homestead, by deed of 4 mo. 10, 1691; of which the price was £13. This deed was acknowledged "in open Court" on the same date, and on 4 mo. 12, 1695, "Joshua Hastings Acknowledged A Deed for one hundred Acres of land to John Sharply; the land lying In the Township of Neither Providence, the deed beareing date the Eleventh day of June, 1695." Although this with other land, 390 acres in all, had been surveyed to Hastings in right of a purchase made from Penn in 1681, yet it was not patented to him until 3 mo. 18, 1702. The next day Joshua "Hastinges" of the city of Philadelphia, yeoman, for £53 (already paid?) in silver money, executed a deed to John Sharples for 140 acres, including the above two purchases. On the same date, 3 mo. 19, 1702, Hastings conveyed the rest of his land, 250 acres, to Robert Vernon, who in the same year conveyed it to his son John Vernon.

March 10, 1696–7, "David Lloyd Acknowledged A Deed to John Sharply for A lott In Chester Greene, being fourty foote front towards the River, the deed bearing date ye 10th of ye first month, 1696–7." This lot was assigned by John Sharples, 12 mo. 4, 1699, to his brother Joseph. William Swarfur (or Swaffer), for £3–17*s*–4*d* in Pennsylvania currency, paid by John Sharples of Ridley, conveyed to the latter, May 26, 1706, a tract of 5 acres, 61 perches in Nether Providence adjoining his other land. This was part of 180 acres taken up by Rebecca Caldwell and patented May 7, 1704, to William Swaffer, who had married her daughter, Mary Caldwell. Aug. 26, 1712, Jonas Sandelands of Chester borough, and Mary his wife, for £45, conveyed to John Sharples a lot in Chester, beginning at a post on the west side of Front Street "near the corner of Jonas's old Logg house," &c. John Sharples also purchased 4 mo. 16,

1709, from Caleb Pusey and Henry Worley a tract of 53 acres, 70 perches over Ridley Creek, in Chester township, immediately opposite the homestead, for £56. This was part of a survey made in 1685 for Thomas Brassey. It was stipulated in the deed that "the said John Sharples nor his heirs shall make or suffer to be made any mill Dam, or Digg or cause or suffer to be Digged any mill race or Ditch without the liberty and concent of the said Caleb Pusey or his heirs & Henry Worley or his heirs." Pusey and Worley being interested in mills doubtless wished to repress competition in their line of business. The following document explains itself:

"PENNSYLVANIA } William Penn, absolute Proprietary and Governor in Chief of the Province of Pennsylvania and Counties annexed.

{ SEAL. }

At the Request of John Sharples that I would grant him to take up three hundred and fourteen acres of Land in right of his Father, John Sharples's Purchase of one thousand acres, being the remainder untaken up, and the full Complement thereof, Liberty Land excepted,—These are to require thee to survey or Cause to be surveyed unto him the said Number of three hundred and fourteen acres, according to the method of Townships by me appointed, in the first Township that shall be laid out in the County of Chester after the date hereof, of land that has not been already surveyed nor taken up nor is concealed nor seated by the Indians, and make Returns thereof into my Secretary's Office. Given under my hand & seal at Philad^a the 21st day of the 12th Month, 1700–1.

"To Edward Penington, Surveyor Generall of the Province of Pennsylv^a and Territories." } WILLIAM PENN."

It may be remarked that William Penn had returned to his colony in November, 1699, intending to make it his permanent home, but in 1701 he was forced to go again to England to defend his proprietary rights against the Crown, and sailed from Philadelphia on the 1st of 9th mo. (November), never to return.

Edward Penington, Surveyor General, issued an order, reciting the above warrant, directing Henry Hollingsworth, a deputy, to make the required survey, and the latter made return dated 3 mo. 2, 1701, that he had surveyed 316 acres, 36 perches in pursuance thereof. This was located on the "South side of Brandywine" in what is now East Marlborough township, Chester County, and was patented July 23, 1701, to John Sharples, who assigned the patent 6 mo. (Aug.) 15, 1701, to Caleb Pusey.

The original purchase of 1000 acres appears to have been thus accounted for—40 acres at the place of settlement, 330 acres in another tract in Nether Providence, 300 in Middletown, 314 in Marlborough and 16 acres of liberty land. There seems to be some correspondence between the variation in the amount of liberty land mentioned and the difference between the warrant and survey of the Marlborough tract. The liberty land was probably resurveyed (to Nicholas Scull) after it was found that the Marlborough survey exceeded the warrant, and the quantity reduced to 14½ acres.

In 1726, John Sharples conveyed to his eldest son, the 3d John, 155 acres, embracing the most easterly and northerly parts of his land, leaving a greater amount to be disposed of by his will.

In public affairs he appears to have performed his part, being a member of the Grand Jury as early as 1 mo. 8, 1691–2, at a time when the duties of that body embraced those since assigned to county commissioners and road jurors. He appears again in this capacity 9 mo. 30, 1703, and 7 mo. 27, 1709; and was appointed constable for Ridley in 1700, when the usages required all landholders to take their turns in township offices.

In a suit at Court, Sept. 9, 1696, James Swaffer, plaintiff, and Robert Woodward, defendant, "John Sharply being Attested deposeth that as he was going Two James Swafars mett with Robert Woodyard and he Asked me to goe to James Swafards with him, and I did & I herd Robert Woodyard Promise James Swafard To Pay him forty shillings, & on the morrow I writt the bill for forty shillings, & further saith not."

In the affairs of the Meeting he was also active. Fourth mo. 4, 1694, John Sharples and Andrew Job were appointed to inquire concerning William "Swaford" who declared his intentions of marriage with Mary "Caudwell." Tenth mo. 29, 1701, "Robert Barber & John Sharples is apoynted to be ye oversears for ye meeting of Chester." Sixth mo. 25, 1707, "Chester meeting presents John Sharples and Thomas Vernon for overseers of their meeting, which this meeting accepts of untill further order." They were succeeded by John Smith and James Lownes, 5 mo. 25, 1709. Eighth mo. 25, 1714, John Sharples is appointed overseer of Chester Meeting in the room of William "Swarfford." Twelfth mo. 25, 1716, John Wright and Samuel Jones are appointed overseers in room of Caleb Pusey and John Sharples, who desire to be released. Ninth mo. 25, 1717, John Sharples is appointed an elder in the room of Caleb Pusey.

Second mo. 25, 1720, he is appointed overseer in the room of William "Swarfard," deceased. First mo. 25, 1723, John Sharples and others are appointed on committee to visit the families of the Monthly Meeting (David Lloyd, John Salkeld and Grace Lloyd being the others from Chester). Fifth mo. 29, 1723, he is succeeded by Thomas Vernon as overseer. Second mo. 27, 1724, he is succeeded by Thomas Vernon as one of the committee to visit families. Third mo. 30, 1726, he is replaced on the committee to visit families, and reappointed 7 mo. 25, 1732, and 4 mo. 30, 1735. Eighth mo. 27, 1735, Thomas Cummings is appointed elder for Chester Meeting in place of John Sharples, released.

On 3 mo. 25, 1712, Caleb Pusey and Henry Worley conveyed to Nicholas Fairlamb, John Sharples, John Smith, Thomas Vernon, James Lownes and Joseph Vernon a lot of 103 perches, 104 feet, in Chester, for the use of the meeting.

First mo. 25, 1703, "Eliz: ffishborn & hannah Sharpells are Chosen overseers for Chester Meeting." The latter is succeeded by Katherine Fairlamb 6 mo. 25, 1707. First mo. 30, 1713, "Hannah Sharpells is Chosen overseer for Chester Meeting along with Sarah howell, instead of Lidia Vernon." She is succeeded by Grace Lloyd 5 mo. 25, 1715.

John Sharples doubtless continued to reside in the substantial stone house built about 1700, and still standing, until his death in 1747. The following is a copy of his last will, taken from the original, which is not very well written:

The "Cain" mentioned in the inventory is probably the one now in possession of Richard L. Sharpless, of Germantown, and the silver tankard is supposed to have been included in the "plate" mentioned in the inventory of 1685.

John Salkeld of Chester, a noted minister among Friends, visited England in 1726. In his manuscript diary we find the memorandum, "the 10, of ye 4 mo: 1726. Left with Thos Edes two pounds five shillings for a sett of Slays for John Sharples.

CHESTER MEETING.

We have seen that in 1681 it was agreed that a meeting should be held every First day of the week at the Court House at Upland, and this was probably continued for ten or more years. Fourth mo. 6, 1687, it was "Agreed that Bartholomew Coppock, James Kenerly, Randall Vernon & Caleb Pusey do agree & contract with such workmen or workman, as they shall see meet, to build a meeting house att Chester 24 foot square & 10 foot high in ye walls, & y^t ye abovesaid persons do come themselves, & the said workmen they agree [with], & give an account thereof to ye next monthly meeting." Nothing is said of the proposed location but on 10 mo. 5, 1687, the following trustees were appointed, viz., John Simcock, Thomas Brassey, John Bristow, Caleb Pusey, Randall Vernon, Thomas Vernon, Joshua Hastings, Mordecai Maddock, Thomas Martin, Richard ffew, Walter ffaucit and Edward Carter. To these Urin Keen (Jöran Kyn) of Chester, for £10, conveyed a lot of ground in Chester, on the 1st of 1st month, 1687–8, "to the use & behoof of the s^d Chester meeting of the people of God called Quakers."

On the 13th of 8th month, 1690, the following persons were appointed to receive subscriptions towards building a meeting-house in Chester: for Upper Providence, Randall Malin; for Middletown, John Worrall and David Ogden; for Edgemont, Thomas Worrilow and James Swaffer; for Springfield, George Maris, the younger, and Mordecai Maddock; for Marple, Thomas Pearson and Josiah Taylor. The following subscription list, without date, and with some of the amounts illegible, is believed to represent the result of their labors:

Second mo. 6, 1691: "Its agreed by this meeting that John Bristow and Caleb Pusey do forthwith agree with & Imploy workmen in the Building ye meeting house at Chester with stone, on the place y^t was formerly bought for that purpose; the situateing of which, as allso ye manner of Building the same, is left to their discretion, And that this meeting do defray the charge of the same, so that it exceed not one hundred pounds; and that there be one conveniant chimney at least, and that the s^d John Bristow & Caleb Pusey do give account of what they have done at ye next months meeting." Eighth mo. 12, 1691: "this meeting allso desiers Walter ffaucet and Randall Vernon to goe to these y^t subscribed to the building the meeting house, that they forth with bring their pay unto Caleb's mill & make report at ye next months meeting."

Eleventh mo. 2, 1692: "Ordered by this meeting that Randall Vernon and Randall Meallen goe to Tho: Powell and returne him the two pound ten shillings that he saith he Lent toward building ye meeting house, & paying for ye ground it stands on, at Chester, & make returne of their proceedings to the next months meeting." This will be better understood when it is stated that in this year Thomas Powell had joined in the defection from Friends, caused by George Keith, and afterward became an Episcopalian. First mo. 5, 1693–4: "This meeting appoints John Simcocke, Randall Vernon, Walter ffaucet, Robt. Barber, R. Carter to meet John Bristow & Caleb Pusey in order to make up ye accounts wth y^m concerning ye meeting house at Chester, and also to receive ye Deed of ye Land the s^d house stands upon, and give an account thereof to the next monthly meeting, and also to bring the s^d Deed." Second mo. 2, 1694: "In pursuant to the order of last months meeting John Bristow brought in the Deed of the meeting house, as allso his account of his disburstments for Building ye same, & this meeting orders John Simcocke to keep the Deed till farther order," &c.

FIRST MEETING HOUSE AT CHESTER, BUILT 1693.

This, the first meeting-house in Chester, was doubtless completed in 1693. It is not now standing, but our picture of it is taken from Dr.

Smith's History of Delaware County. In 1736 a larger meeting-house was built on another lot and this property was sold to Edward Russell, who probably added an attic story and the back building of brick, in order to adapt it to use as a dwelling house.

After the division in the Society, in 1827, what is known as the Orthodox portion built a new meeting-house on land given for that purpose by Enos Sharpless, at Shoemakerville, a suburb of Chester. For more than one hundred and sixty years the meetings of Chester, Springfield, Providence and Middletown have formed what is called Chester Monthly Meeting, which is the meeting of record. The Monthly Meetings of Chester, Darby, Concord and Goshen formed Chester (now Concord) Quarterly Meeting, a branch of Philadelphia Yearly Meeting.

5. James Sharples,[2] John[1], born at Hatherton, Cheshire, Eng., 1 mo. 5, 1670–1; died in Nether Providence township, Chester (now Delaware) County, Pa., about 1746; married 1 mo. 3, 1697–8 to Mary Edge, who died 2 mo. 17, 1698: 2d marriage 12 mo. 20, 1699, to Mary Lewis, born in Glamorganshire, Wales, 5 mo. 10, 1674; died about 1753, in Nether Providence. Issue by last wife,—

18. Lydia, b. 12 mo. 20, 1701; m. Abraham Vernon and Jacob Way.
19. Mary, b. 2 mo. 27, 1702; d. about 1780; m. Joseph Garrett.
20. James, b. 9 mo. 6, 1703; d. 1775; m. Elizabeth Taylor.
21. Rachel, b. 5 mo. 9, 1708; d. before 1748; m. Thomas Dell.
22. Sarah, b. 1 mo. 27, 1710; m. Edward Woodward and George Gilpin.
23. Thomas, b. 8 mo. 6, 1712; d. 8 mo. 2, 1713.
24. David, b. 4 mo. 24, 1715; d. ————; m. Priscilla Powell.
25. Esther, b. ————; m. Mordecai Taylor and Richard Gorman.

John Edge with his wife Jane and family, emigrated from St. Andrew's Holborne, in the county of Middlesex, England, and settled in Nether Providence about the year 1685. He was an earnest member of the Society of Friends, and the Monthly Meeting was sometimes held at his house. He had been subjected to heavy fines and imprisonment in his native country for refusing to act contrary to his conscientious scruples, and on one occasion was subjected to a public trial. He died 5 mo. 10, 1711, aged about sixty-five years. The following are believed to have been his children—certainly all except Sarah and Joseph:

Sarah, m. 1686 to Thomas Bowater, and d. 2 mo. 26, 1692.
Joseph, not known to have married.
Mary, m. to James Sharples.
Abigail, m. 3 mo. 24, 1705, to Edward Woodward; d. 9 mo. 27, 1716.
John, b. about the beginning of 5 mo. 1685; d. 1734; m. 8 mo. 1709, to Mary Smedley, who m. 2dly John Yarnall, 9 mo. 7, 1739.
Jacob, b. 3 mo. 8, 1690; d. 2 mo. 7, 1720; m. Sarah Jones.

The Bible of James Sharples, a large folio, in a much dilapidated condition, is now in possession of John Leedom, of Haverford township, through his late wife Hannah Worrall[6] (Mary[5], Nathaniel[4], James[3], James[2]). The inscriptions show that it was bought from Walter Faucet, evidently by Joseph Sharples, whose birth at "Hadderton" is twice recorded therein. As Joseph's wife was the owner of a Bible before her marriage it is presumed that Joseph disposed of this to his brother James about that time. It contains the births of James, at "Hadderton," and of his wife and children, but a part of the latter has been torn off. The records of the 2d James are wanting.

"At a monthly meeting held at John edge's one ye last of ye 11th month, 1697–8: Jams Sharples & Marey edge laid thayr intention before this meetin of taking each other as husband & wife, this being ye first time, thayre parants being heare & consenting: tho: Minshall & robart Vernon is opoynted to make inquirie conserning his clearnes & mak report to ye nixt meeting thereof." The women appointed Mary Hoskins and Phebe Peckow to inquire concerning Mary Edge.

"At a monthly meeting held at robart Vernon's one ye 28th of ye 12th month, 1697–8: Jams Sharples and Marey Edge, both belongin to this meeting, proposed thayr intentions of taking each other as husband & wife, this being ye second time, & inquirey being made & nothing appearing to obstruct thay proceeding with thayr s^d^ intentions thy are therefor left to thayr liberty to proceed according to ye order of truth."

The marriage certificate, which was recorded, shows that James Sharples of Neither Providence, yeoman, and Mary Edge, daughter of

John Edge of the same town, were married 1 mo. 3, 1697–8, at an appointed meeting at John Edge's house: signed by William Lewis, of Eglwys Ilan, Glamorganshire, a brother of Ralph, with his wife, Ann, and family, came over about the year 1686, and settled in the north-eastern part of Haverford township, afterward removing to Newtown township, Chester (now Delaware) County. The following copy of a letter is from a somewhat indistinct photograph of the original, said to have been in possession of the late Dr. George Smith, of Upper Darby, whose widow is a descendant from Ralph Lewis:

"DEAR BROTHER RALPH LEWIS:

My Love unto thee and all thy family, hoping y^t^ thou art in good health as I am at this p^r^sent writing: thy Brothers and thy to sisters and all their familyes are in very good health and doe remember their loves unto thee and thy wife. I have received thy letter and wee Are all very glad to heare of thy wellfare and prosperity. I am of ye same Intentions as I was before but y^t^ ye hindrance is still, as thou dost know, as was before. I desire to heare from thee as soon thou hast opportunity and how doth thy affairs Therive. I pray writ to me what is wanting to thee and what Commodities is most needfull for thee, if thou dost want any, y^t^ I may send them to thee, for thy Letter was soe short y^t^ thou didst send y^t^ it did not mention nothing how ye Squeaces(?) went. I did expect heare from thee concerning ye Lands, whether thou hast it or not, how thou camest into possession of it, and concerning ye money whether thou hast them or not. I have Receved a letter from henry Lewis y^t^ did mention y^t^ thou wert not willing to content him for ye paines he tooke in my businesse, and y^t^ was a great vexation of Spirit. I doe intrate thee to doe him Satisfaction and to send me notice how, & soe doeing thou willt unlade me great truble; soe nothing at present but y^t^ thou remember me to all my frends in thy parts and I shall Rejoice greatly in ye Lord to heare of thy wellfare and prosperity. I Rest this y^e^ *nteenth day of July, 1684.

Thy ever Loveing Brother
WILLIAM LEWIS, from Ilan.

Thy Brother David doth Remember himselfe to thee under the token y^t^ didest promise to send him a cople of Skines if thou cast come to them.

And thy Loveing frn^d^ Howell thomas and Edward Howell and William thomas and all ye Rest of thy frinds, 1684.

Remember me to my Loveing frind John ab Evan, for his Chilldren were Sike and now they are well. youre unkel thomas prichard were ded and mary william."

Ralph and Mary Lewis settled in the north-eastern part of Haverford township, but he subsequently purchased land in Upper Darby, adjoining Haverford, and removed thither. Mary died (or was buried) 7 mo. 2, 1704, and Ralph in 7 mo. (September) 1712. Their children so far as known were,—

Mary, b. 5 mo. 10, 1674; m. James Sharples.
Martha, b. —— —— ——; m. David Hughs of Merion, 4 mo. 9, 1696.
David, b. —— —— ——; d. 2 mo. 1694, unmarried.
Evan, b. —— —— ——; m. Ann David, 3 mo. 1707.
Lydia, b. 8 mo. 3, 1683; m. Joseph Sharples.
Abraham, b. —— —— ——; m. Mary Morgan 6 mo. 28, 1707.
Samuel, b. —— —— ——; m. Phebe Taylor, dau. of Josiah, 4 mo. 17, 1712.
Thomas, b. 5 mo. 11, 1687; m. Jane Meredith, 8 mo. 9, 1711.
Sarah, b. 3 mo. 18, 1691; m. William Walter of Merion, 3 mo. 26, 1720.

Of these children Evan settled in Edgmont township, but about 1720 removed to Caln township, near twenty-five miles back in the woods; and on the 22d of Feb. 1747–8, he conveyed to certain trustees a lot of two acres upon which West Caln Meeting House was soon after erected and a burying ground established. Samuel Lewis also settled in Edgmont, but took up some land in Caln, which he afterward sold to his nephew, Benjamin Sharples. His son Josiah Lewis was the father of Judge William Lewis, a noted jurist of Philadelphia. Abraham Lewis, son of Abraham and Mary, of Haverford, m. Ann Rees, of Springfield, in 1751, and their son Abraham Lewis m. Rebecca Lawrence of Haverford, in 1806. These had a daughter, Mary, who became the wife of Dr. George Smith, the historian of Delaware County, and mother of Benjamin H. Smith, whose valuable maps of the early surveys and patents in this county have been of service in this work.

"Att a monthly meeting held at John Edge's one ye 25th of ye 10th m^o 1699, James Sharples, belonging to this meeting, proposed his intention of marig with Marey ye daughter of rallph lluis, belonging to Haverford meeting, In order for to have a certivicate on that behalf, this being y^e first time: robart uernon & thomas Minshall is a poynted for to make inquirey conserning his clearnes & make report thereof to y^e nixt monthly meeting."

"Att a monthly meeting held at robart uernon's on 29th of y^e 11th m^o $\frac{99}{700}$: James Sharples, belonging to this meeting, propos'd his Intention of taking Marey y^e daughter of ralph lluis, belonging to haverford, to be his wife, and Inquirey being mad[e] & nothing appering for to obstruct or hinder him in his s^d Intention, therefor he hath a certivicate granted him in that behalf."

"To the monthly meeting of haverford: Wheras, James Sharples, belonging to this meeting, purposed his Intention of taking Mary, ye daughter of Ralph Lewis, to be his Wife: These may certifie y^t according to ye good order of truth wee have made Inqiery concerning his clearness, & finds nothing to obstruct or hinder him in his said Intention, & refers him & it to your further consideration. Soe we remain your frinds in y^e service of y^e Gospell.

"from Chester monthly meeting, held at Robert Vernon, on y^e 29th of y^e 11th month $\frac{1699}{700}$."

Signed by order and in behalf by ANDREW JOB."

[Records of Haverford Monthly Meeting.]

James Sharples was appointed constable for Nether Providence March 9, 1696–7, 12 mo. (Feb.) 29, 1703–4, and 12 mo. 27, 1704–5; was a member of the Grand Jury 10 mo. 13, 1698, 12 mo. 23, 1702–3, and 9 mo. (Nov.) 28, 1710. Thomas Price, servant to John Martin, was assigned in Court, to James Sharples May 27, 1707.

At a monthly meeting at John Edge's, 11 mo. 31, 1703–4, "Providence meeting presents Thomas Minshall and James Sharples to bee overseers for there meeting, which this meet^g^ approves of." Robert Vernon and John Edge were appointed to succeed them, 1 mo. 25, 1706, and these were followed by Thomas Minshall and Joseph Sharples, 10 mo. 30, 1706. James Sharples was again appointed, 6 mo. 27, 1712, in room of Thomas Minshall, and was succeeded by John Edge, 9 mo. 30, 1713.

In the year 1716 the Friends of Chester Meeting brought to the attention of the Monthly Meeting "the Inconvenience of friends Comeing so untimely together at Burials," and the concern was forwarded to the Quarterly Meeting, followed the next year by another respecting "the frequent Carrying about of Cups & Glasses with Liquor at Burials." In 1719 the following advice was issued by the Yearly Meeting:

"And whereas at some burials where people may come far, there may be occasion of some refreshment, yet let that be with such moderation, & the Behaviour of all friends be with such Gravity & Solidity as becomes the occasion; and if any appear otherwise let such be reproved & dealt with, as advised in case of misdemeanors or Indecencys at Marriages; and it may be farther noted that any Excess in this case, & in making so solemn a time as this ought to be & Really is, in its own nature, to appear as a festival, must be burdensome and Greivous to a sober Christian mind, which will of course be under a far different Exercise. At such times friends are desired therefore to have great care therein, & use all Endeavours every where, more & more, to break from and avoid that offensive & unsuitable custom of large Provision of Strong drink, cakes, &c., &c., the formal & repeated servings & offers thereof. This Indecent & Indiscreet Custom & Practice has run to such excess that Invitations being made to greater Numbers than their own or neighbours' houses could contain, the very Streets & open Places are made use of for handing about burn'd-wine & other strong liquors; and besides the Indecencies above mentioned (the custom of waiting for the last that will please to come, tho' never so unseasonable) and the formality of repeated servings to each, breaks in upon another decent order among Friends, of Keeping to & observing the time appointed."

In 1729 the subject was again recommended to the attention of subordinate meetings which were advised to appoint "elder friends to attend on burials as is already done on marriages to see the same be orderly," &c. Accordingly at Chester Monthly Meeting, 10 mo. 29, 1729, "Chester and Providence Friends have brought the names of two friends each to attend at Burials, to see that good order be kept and that the time appointed for leaving the house with the corps be kept to, viz., for Chester Thomas Vernon and Thomas Dell; for Providence, James Sharples and Henry Miller. Springfield and Middletown are desired to bring the names of two for each, to our next meeting."

Those chosen for Springfield were Samuel Levis, Jur., and Jonathan Haycock, and for Middletown, Philip Yarnall and Peter Hunter.

Ninth mo. 25, 1706: "This meeting Chooses Jean Edgg & Mary Sharpells, overseers for providence meeting." These were succeeded, 2 mo. 25, 1709, by Elinor Vernon and Sarah Crockson, and they in turn by Mary Malin and Jean Edge, 4 mo. 26, 1710. Sixth mo. 28, 1710: "Mary Sharpells is chosen to stand overseer for providence meeting along with Jean Edgg, instead of Mary Malin." They were succeeded, 7 mo. 24, 1711, by Elinor Vernon and Rebecca Minshall, and 4 mo. 29, 1713, "Mary Sharpells is chosen overseer for providence Meetting along with Abigall Woodward, instead of Rebecca Minshall." She was succeeded, 4 mo. 25, 1717, by Sarah Miller, and again chosen, 11 mo. 27, 1723, instead of Mary Camm.

Mary Sharples and Alice Pennell were appointed 2 mo. 25, 1726, to join some men Friends in visiting families. Mary was succeeded, 1 mo. 29, 1731, by Sarah Dicks, as overseer, and again chosen, 4 mo. 28, 1736, instead of Elizabeth Taylor, and Susanna Malin took her place 2 mo. 30, 1739. She was appointed to this station for the last time, 10 mo. 29. 1744, and was succeeded by Judith Broom, 7 mo. 25, 1749.

In the division of his father's estate the land in Nether Providence was awarded to James Sharples. This had been patented to his father 5 mo. 28, 1684, for 330 acres, extending from "Providence Great Road" to Crum Creek. Wallingford Station is upon the south-westerly part of this land. At a Court held 4 mo. 9, 1696, "Jeane Sharply and her son John Sharply Acknowledged A Deed unto James Sharplye for three hundred and thirty Acres of land lying in Neither Providence, the deed bearing Date the ninth day of June, 1696." For some reason not ascertained, but probably on account of the inaccuracy of the first survey, another patent was granted to James Sharples, 10 mo. 31, 1701. Of this land he and his wife conveyed 100 acres to their son James, in 1729, and the remainder he devised to his wife.

WILL OF JAMES SHARPLES.

"The twenty eight Day of the fifth month, (called July,) in the Year one Thousand seven Hundred Thirty four, I, James Sharples of Nether Providence in the County of Chester and Province of Pensylvania, yeoman, Being in health of Body and of Perfect mind and memory, thanks be given to God Therefore, Calling unto mind the mortality of my Body and Knowing that it is appointed for all men once to Dye, do make and ordain this to be my Last Will and Testament (that is to say): Principally and first of all I Give & Recomend my Soul into the Hands of God that Gave it, and my Body I Recomend to the Earth, to be Buried in a Christian like and Decent manner, at the Discretion of my Executors herein after named, and as touching such Worldly Estate wherewith it hath pleased God to Bless me in this Life, I Give, Devise and Dispose of the same in ye following manner and form.

Imprimis, I Give and Bequeath unto Mary, my Dearly Beloved Wife, all my Estate, both Real and Personal, to Her, her Heirs and Assigns for Ever, She paying five shillings to Each of my Children (that is to say), to Lydia, Mary, James, Rachel, Sarah, David and Esther; and as for those that are yet unmarried I Leave my Wife to Give them or any of them What she shall see meet: and my Will is that all my Just Debts that I shall owe at my Desease, with my funerall Expences, be first paid & Discharged, The same to be Levied and Raised out of my Estate by my Wife, Mary, and Samuel Levis, yeoman, both of Chester County, aforesaid, Whom I likewise do hereby Constitute make and ordain my only and sole Executors of this my Last Will and Testament; and I do hereby utterly Disallow Revoke & Disannull all & Every other former Testaments, Wills, Lagasies & Executors by me in any wise before this time named Willed and Bequeathed, Ratifying and confirming This and no other to be my Last Will and Testament: in Witness whereof I Have hereunto set my Hand and Seal the Day and Year above written.

"JAMES SHARPLES. { SEAL. }"

"Signed, Sealed, Published, Pronounced and Declared by the said James Sharpless as his Last Will and Testament in ye Presence of us the Subscribers, viz:

THOMAS VERNON,
JOSEPH VERNON,
JOHN NEEDHAM."

The foregoing will was proven Oct. 13, 1746, by Thomas and Joseph Vernon, on their affirmations. It shows entire confidence on the part of the testator that his wife would deal justly toward their children, yet the ideas of parental justice in that day might not be sanctioned in this. It appears that the eldest son had already received nearly one-half the land as a gift, in accordance with the ancient law of primogeniture, which many of the early settlers upheld.

Chester, 17th December 1754,
Errors Excepted. JAMES SHARPLESS.

On the last date a petition to the Orphans' Court was presented by James Sharpless, Joseph Garrett, Isaac Weaver, William Pennell, Ju^r., Richard Gorman, Lydia Vernon and Sarah Woodward, asking for a division of the real and personal estate of Mary Sharples. A jury appointed in accordance with this petition simply reported, Feb. 26, 1755, that the real estate could not be divided without spoiling the whole, whereupon a second petition was presented by Joseph Garrett, Richard Gorman, Lydia Vernon,

Sarah Woodward, Isaac Weaver and William Pennell, Jr., asking not only for a division but that the inquest should also consider what had been advanced to some of the heirs in the lifetime of the decedent. A jury composed of John Hannum, Joseph Gilpin, William Trimble, Joseph Cloud, William Walter, John Bennett, James Dilworth, John Brinton, Moses Palmer, Joseph Eavenson, Samuel Osborn and John Taylor made report Apr. 26, 1755, that they "find ye Intestate Died seised of a Messuage and plantation of ffifty five acres of Land in ye s^d^ Township affors^d^, of ye value of 137–10–0; and also of a personal Estate in ye hands of James Sharpless, to ye value of 34–3–7; all which we find subject to a Divison amongst ye five Daughters of ye Intestate or their representives," &c. A division of the real estate between them not being advisable they had agreed to expose it to public sale. "And further we do find that James Sharpless ye Eldest son of ye Intestate, haveing been advanced by ye Intestate in her life time by 40 Acres of Land to ye value of 100 pounds and also we find that David Sharpless, another son of ye Intestate has been advanced 100 acres of Land to ye value of 250 pounds; all which we submit to ye wisdom of ye Court."

From this it appears that the eldest son received, in all, 200 acres of land, and the youngest 100 acres, while their sisters' shares in the estate amounted to about £6–16–8, each, if the real estate were sold at the valuation set upon it.

PROVIDENCE MEETING.

At the first Quarterly Meeting of Friends held in Chester County, 12 mo. 4, 1683–4: "at This quarterly meateing There was brought in ye colecttion of ye severall meetings following, viz—

Providence Meeting is also mentioned 3 mo. 4, 1685.

"Thomas Minshall's Meeting" is mentioned as early as 2 mo. 2, 1688 (see p. 82), when it was doubtless held at his house in Nether Providence.

At a Quarterly Meeting held at Walter Faucet's, 9 mo. 2, 1691: "Ordered by this meeting that from henceforth a monthly Collection be settled in each perticular first day's meeting, and two appointed to receive them and give account to the querterly meeting."

At Chester Monthly Meeting 10 mo. 7, 1691: "It being agreed by the Last Quarterly Meeting that a monthly Collection be settled in each perticuler first day's meeting, wch is to be upon the Last weekly first day of each month by order of this meeting, the persons to receive it are, for Chester, Randell Vernon, Caleb Pusey; and Thomas Minchall & Bartholomew Coppock for their meeting, and Robert Burrow, John Boweter for their meeting."

First mo. 7, 1691–2: "Ordered by this meeting y^t from henceforth Walter ffaucet receive all ye respective collections belonging thereto, & that ye persons y^t receive it at each meeting either bring or order it into his hands to every monthly meeting, and y^t ye said Walter pay away none of it but by ye consent of this meeting, and that an account be kept by him in this Book, of what he receives and what he payes, and give an account thereof to every monthly meeting."

This custom, so common in other churches, of making collections in

First-day meetings, was continued by Friends here for at least fourteen years, but there are probably very few of the present generation who are aware that it ever existed. From the accounts of Walter Faucet, treasurer, and his successor, Randall Vernon, we learn the amounts contributed by the different meetings, and it appears that in the 11th month, 1692, Thomas Minshall's collections were six shillings, seven pence. After this date the receipts from "Thomas Minshall's Meeting" are regularly reported until 12 mo. 24, 1700–1, when the name of Providence is substituted.

At a Quarterly Meeting held at Thomas Vernon's 3 mo. 4, 1696: "This meeting consents y^t the meeting at Bartholomew Coppocks be Setteled every first and 3^d day, and at Thomas Minchall's every first & 4th day, and at John Bowater's every first and 5th day." Third mo. 2, 1698: "Chester monthly meeting being called, Chester ffriends desiering the weekly meeting to be at Randell Vernon's the second 5th day of each month This meeting doth alowe it. Its also agreed that the meeting at Thomas Minchalls do joyne with them that day. Its also agreed that the meeting at Bartholomew Coppock's on the 3^d day be on ye 5th day."

Twelfth mo. 6, 1698–9: "The friends belonging to Thomas Minshall's meeting propose their Intention of building a meeting house at the burying ground by Tho: Powell's: This meeting upon Consideration thereof think fitt to deferr the matter untill the next Quarterly meeting, It being the sence of this meeting that no meeting house be hereafter built upon any new situation without ye advice & Consent of the Quarterly meeting." "This meeting appoints Caleb Pusey, Thomas Worth, John Hood, George Peirce, Nicholas Pyle & Robert Carter to meet with those ffriends belonging to Thomas Minchall's meeting, to view & consider of the most convenient place where to sett the above proposed meeting housė."

Third mo. 1, 1699: "According to the order & request of ye Last Quarterly meeting The friends appointed to inspect into & consider of the most Conveniant place to build the meeting house, to answer that of Tho: Minchall's, Do make return under their hands that it is their sence that at the farther end of Thomas Minchall's Land, by ye high roade side, is the most Conveniant place for that service & accordingly this meeting approves of ye same."

Sixth mo. 5, 1700: "Ordered that the next Quarterly meeting be held at the new meeting house in nether Providence."

Ninth mo. 4, 1700: "Nether Providence ffriends request that their first days & week days meeting be removed from Thomas Minchall's to their new meeting house, which this meeting alowes off."

Third mo. 12, 1701: "Providence meeting requesting that whereas their weekly meeting being the second 5th day of each month at Randal Vernon's, it may be removed to the new meetinghouse, which this meeting doth alow off."

The first house was probably of logs. In 1723 a committee was appointed to enlarge the building for the accommodation of the Quarterly Meeting, they being David Lloyd, John Wright, Richard Maris, George Maris, Henry Miller, Philip Yarnall, John Mendenhall and William Pennell. Perhaps this was not accomplished very soon, but on 6 mo. 29, 1726, John Wright requested to have the accounts examined, and from the report there appeared to be due to John Owen eight pounds, twelve shillings. On 11 mo. 30, 1726–7, David Lloyd, Thomas Vernon, Samuel Levis, Junr., Isaac Minshall, Peter Dicks, Daniel Williamson, George Smedley and Bartholomew Coppock were appointed to have a gallery erected for the accommodation of large gatherings.

Eighth mo. 26, 1754: "It appearing to this meeting that this meeting House Is very much out of Repair, and in order to Have it Repaired it is agreed by said meeting That John Sharpless, Joseph Hoskins, Isaac Howell, William Fell, Peter Dicks, Peter Taylor, John Haycock, George Smedley and Nathan Yarnall be appointed to agree with Workmen to build ye Old End with stone and such necessary Repairs on ye Inside as They shall Think proper, and to make Report of ye cost and Charge when Done,—Providence friends agreeing To pay a Quarter part Thereof; and this meeting agrees to keep ye next monthly meeting at Chester at ye usuall Time."

At the next meeting the masons had sent in their account but it was not satisfactory, but on 11 mo. 25, 1754, it was reported settled at £15 : 17 : 9.

On 8 mo. 30, 1773, it was agreed "to repair the part of the Meeting House where the Men Friends now hold their Monthly Meeting, during the summer season, to make it more suitable for Winter, as followeth: To lay a Floor overhead, provide a stove, set it up in the said apartment, and likewise that part of the Roof over the same," &c.

Third mo. 28, 1814: It was proposed to build a meeting house at Providence, 65 by 35 feet in size, at an estimated cost of $1500, by using the old materials; and on 5 mo. 30, 1814, "It is now agreed to fix the back wall of the House midway on the present boundary of the Grave Yard." Afterward it was concluded to have the building three feet higher than first proposed, at the additional cost, by contract, of $106. The Monthly Meeting was held at Middletown during the time of rebuilding, but in the new house again, 1 mo. 30, 1815.

The place proposed in 1698, for building, near Thomas Powell's, was doubtless at what is called "Sandy Bank" graveyard, in Upper Providence, close by the present water reservoir of Media. This graveyard was bought from Powell, and had he not joined the Keithites perhaps the meeting house might have been built there. The earliest deed has not been found, but on 1 mo. 25, 1717, Randall Malin and Peter Taylor, trustees, conveyed the ground to James Sharples, Isaac Minshall, Henry Miller, Jacob Edge, Jacob Vernon and Edward Woodward. The last named and survivor of these is said to have executed a deed to new trustees, 1 mo. 7, 1748–9, but on 1 mo. 27, 1783, it was represented that the former trustees (of 1717) were all deceased and Thomas Smedley, Roger Dicks, Ambrose Taylor and Samuel Malin were appointed to succeed them.

Thomas Minshall and wife Margaret, Nov. 19, 1726, conveyed to Henry Miller, James Sharples and Edward Woodward one acre, on which the meeting house was located, and their son Isaac Minshall, with Rebecca, his wife, on the following day, conveyed to the same trustees an acre of land adjoining, for a burial ground. These three trustees executed a deed Nov. 24, 1726, for the two acres to John Camm, Peter Taylor, Peter Dicks, James Sharpless, Junr., Caleb Cowpland and William Surman. In 1783 these were all deceased, and Providence Meeting appointed Thomas Smedley, Roger Dicks, Ambrose Taylor and Samuel Malin "in their steads of & for both the said Lotts of Ground, so long as they shall continue in Membership with our religious Society." The title to the two lots being found defective an Act of Assembly was passed March 28, 1814, vesting the property in certain trustees.

8. Joseph Sharples[2], John[1], born at Hatherton, Cheshire, Eng., 9 mo, 28, 1678; died in Middletown, Chester (now Delaware) County, Pa., in the spring of 1757; married 3mo. 31, 1704, at Haverford Meeting, to Lydia Lewis, born in Glamorganshire, Wales, 3 mo. 8, 1683; died 1763:—a sister to the wife of his brother James. Their children were—

26. Susanna, b. 12 mo. 18, 1705; m. Joseph Chamberlin.
27. Joseph, b. 7 mo. 8, 1707; d. 1 mo. 4, 1769; m. Mary Pyle.
28. Benjamin, b. 11 mo. 26, 1708–9; d. 3 mo. 16, 1785; m. Edith Broom and Martha Mendenhall.
29. Samuel, b. 12 mo. 7, 1710–11; d. 11 mo. 24, 1790; m. Jane Newlin.
30. Lydia, b. 3 mo. 7, 1713; d. 1741; m. John Martin.

31. Nathan, b. 9 mo. 2, 1715; d. 1755; m. Hannah Townsend.
32. Jane, b. 12 mo. 4, 1718; d. 1775; m. Jacob Pyle.
33. Abraham, b. 5 mo. 7, 1720; d. 1784; m. Ann Young.
34. Jacob, b. 10 mo. 14, 1722; d. 7 mo. 19, 1775; m. Ann Blakey.
35. William, b. 3 mo. 31, 1725; d. 5 mo. 4, 1751; m. Abigail Sharp.

Of these the first four were born in Nether Providence and the others in Middletown township, as appears by the family Bible.

At Chester Monthly Meeting, 1 mo. 27, 1704, Joseph Sharples proposed his intention to marry Lydia Lewis, daughter to Ralph Lewis of Haverford Monthly Meeting. Thomas Minshall and Randall Malin were appointed to make inquiry concerning him. At the next meeting, 2 mo. 24, 1704, a certificate of clearness was granted him. The following is a copy of his marriage certificate, as recorded by Haverford Monthly Meeting:

Whereas, Joseph Sharples, of neather Providence in ye county of Chester, yeoman, & Lidya Lewis of haverford in ye county afores^d, Spinster, having declared their Intentions of taking each other as husband & wife before severall Publick meetings of ye People called Quakers, according to ye good order used amongst them, whose ℙceedings therin, after deliberate consideration therof and consent of parties and Relations concerned, being approved by ye meetings: Now these are to certifie, all whom it may concern, that for ye full determination of their s^d Intentions, this 30th day of ye 3^d month in ye year 1704, They, ye s^d Joseph Sharples & Lydia Lewis, appeared in a Publicke & solemn assembly of ye aforesaid People, mett together for y^t end and purpose, at the meeting house at Haverford, afores, according to ye Example of the holy men of god Recorded in ye Scriptures of trueth; he the said Joseph Sharples, taking ye s^d Lydia Lewis by the hand, did openly declare as followeth, viz., In the fear of the Lord and in this Assembly, I take this my frind, Lydia Lewis, to be my wife, ℙmising to be to her, by god's [assistance], a faithfull loving husband untill it shall please ye Lord by death to part us: and then and there in ye s^d Assembly ye s^d Lydia Lewis did in Like manner declare as followeth, viz., In ye fear of ye L^d and in this assembly, I take this my fr^d, Joseph Sharples, to be my husband, ℙmising y^t by ye Lord's assistance to be to him a faithfull & Loving wife till it may please ye Lord by death to separate us.

JOHN SHARPLES. { SEAL. } "

The seal used on this occasion represents something like a rose tree with S on one side of the stem and B on the other. It may have belonged to the Blunston family.

This land was surveyed by Charles Ashcom, 2 mo. (April) 9, 1684, by virtue of a warrant dated 7 mo. 1, 1683, and the above description, taken from the patent of 1684, agrees with the surveyor's return.

In 1696 the following persons were assessed in Middletown: John Bowater, David Ogden, John Turner, John Musgrave, Thomas Martin, William Edwards, John Edwards, Joseph Cookson, Joseph Jarvis, George Smedley, Richard Woodward, Robert Woodward, Thomas Coebourne, John Martin, Richard Crosby, Joel Baily, Robert Pennell and Thomas Taylor. The Sharples land was in a remote part of the township, and no doubt was considered far back in the woods, but at that time Joseph Sharples was a boy of eighteen and not ready to make a settlement.

A survey for Joseph Powell, of 120 acres in Nether Providence, immediately north of John Sharples's upper tract, was made 9 mo. 2, 1682, in right of his purchase of 250 acres from Penn, March 21 and 22, 1681. He was probably a brother to Thomas Powell, already mentioned. Thomas Powell, son of Joseph and Esther, was born 3 mo. 27, 1686, about which time the father died, and Esther, the widow, married 10 mo. 1687, George Gleave of Springfield. In 1691 she married a third husband, Joseph Ware, of Salem County, N. J. By the first marriage two children, Hannah and Mary Powell, and by the second, John and Phebe Gleave, survived. Josiah White and wife Hannah (Powell), Joseph Ware and wife, Hester, and Mary Powell, executed a deed to Joseph Sharples, 2 mo. 24, 1700, for the above land.

In connection with the story of Joseph Sharples having built, about 1700, the old house, which is still standing, the following statements by David Simpson of Blairsville, Pa., will be of interest:

I will say here in regard to family heirlooms the first John Sharples brought with him a small Roman vase that was dug up in London fourteen feet below the present surface of the streets. Just how he became owner of it I don't know, but he hid it beneath that famous Rock full of money in gold and there it staid for twenty years and his youngest son Joseph took that money and built that house for his mother which is called this day the first Sharpless House in America. The vase descended to Phebe Sharpless, the mother of my mother, and on her death was given to my mother, being the youngest child, with many other things belonging to the family, which were all lost at the death of my mother. I being here in Blairsville and my sister having her own family to attend to at that time, strangers carried every thing off they could lay hands on. I wanted my mother to give me that vase some years before she died but she told me she would not part with it while she lived: at her death it would be mine.

Joseph Sharples was appointed constable for Nether Providence 12 mo. 23, 1702–3, which would indicate that he had settled on his land in that township. At Chester Monthly Meeting, 10 mo. 30, 1706: "This meeting appoints Thomas Minshall and Joseph Sharples to be overseers for Providence meeting untill further orders." Thomas Minshall was his next neighbor, on the north, upon whose land the meeting-house had been built. They were succeeded, 1 mo. 29, 1708, by Robert Vernon and Isaac Minshall. Joseph frequently represented his meeting at the monthly meeting, the last time from Providence being 6 mo. 27, 1712, and the first time from Middletown, 10 mo. 28, 1713, from which we may conclude that he removed to the Middletown tract in the spring of 1713.

There having been great inaccuracies in many of the early surveys, a law of property was passed in 1700, and confirmed in 1701, which enacted that any person's land might be resurveyed, "and if upon such resurvey (after allowance of four acres in the hundred, over or under, for difference of surveys, and six per cent for roads) an overplus shall be found, the possessor thereof should have the refusal of it from the Proprietary at reasonable rates; and in case of disagreement about such rates the Proprietary was to choose two men and the possessor two more, who should either fix a price on the said overplus land, or appoint where it should be taken off for the Proprietary, in one entire piece, at an outside (saving to the purchaser or renter his improvements and best conveniences), any three of whom agreeing should be conclusive; and the charges of resurveying should be borne by the purchaser or renter of the main tract, if he bought the overplus, or if not, then by the Proprietary; and that deficiencies should be made good by the Proprietary, according as he received for overplus land as aforesaid."

The following warrant may have been applied for under the impression that the tracts in question were deficient in quantity:

PENNSYLVANIA: By the Commissioners of Property.

{ SEAL } At the Request of Joseph Sharpless, of in ye County of Chester, that we would grant him a Resurvey on two Tracts of Land in the s^d County, one in Middletown, laid out to John Sharpless for 300 acres, the other in Providence, laid out to Joseph Powel for 125 acres, but are both now in Possession of the s^d Joseph Sharpless; these are to require thee forthwith to resurvey, or cause to be resurveyed, the s^d two Tracts according to their first lines & true bounds of survey & make Returns thereof into the Secretary's Office. Given under our hands & the seal of the Province at Philad^ia the 15th Day of ye 10 m^o 1701.

EDWARD SHIPPEN, GRIFFITH OWEN,
THO: STORY, JAMES LOGAN.

To Edward Penington, Surveyor Genl.

On the following day the Surveyor General directed Isaac Taylor, deputy surveyor, to resurvey the lands, and from his returns it appears that the tract in Middletown was resurveyed 1 mo. 14, 1701–2, and the other 11 mo. 17, 1701, containing respectively 330 and 130 acres. Perhaps this 330 acres was strict measure, equal to 300 acres and allowance of six per cent. for roads and four per cent. for difference in surveys, and this exclusive of overplus land.

James Logan, Secretary, writing to Isaac Taylor, 9 mo. 26, 1702, says, —"The Comm^rs upon application made by & non agreem^t wth Joseph Sharpless have ordered that thou shalt cutt off from his Tract lately resurveyed the 90 acres of overplus found therein, which pray ꝓform as much to ye Prop^r's advantage as may be, the Law being still observed in case he will agree to what is reasonable: if not We must appoint two men, one besides thyself, & he two others to determine where the Line shall be run."

This 90 acres of overplus land was patented to Thomas Martin, Oct. 26, 1709, but afterward became the property of Samuel Sharples, son of Joseph.

A new patent, dated 3 mo. 4, 1703, and signed by Edwd: Shippen, Tho: Story and James Logan, was granted to Joseph Sharples, for the two tracts in Providence and Middletown; in which document the facts of former surveys and conveyances are recited, though with some errors as to dates. The survey of the Middletown tract begins "at an ash Tree growing by a Run by ye land of Thomas Martin; from thence running by a piece of overplus land, taken off from this Tract for my use, Northwest two hundred & fifty four perches, to a corner black Oak; then South forty six degrees westerly, two hundred & eleven perches, to a walnut Tree growing by ye side of Chester Creek; from thence down by ye said Creek, on several Courses, four hundred & fifteen perches, to a white Oak growing by ye mouth of ye said Run; from thence up by ye s^d Runn, on several courses, one hundred eighty five perches to ye place of beginning, containing three hundred & thirty acres. To this patent was attached the "Great Seal" (of 1699) of the province, made of brick-red wax, three and three-quarter inches in diameter and encased in a tin box. This and the former patent, together with the deed from Jane and John Sharples to Joseph, and several later documents, are in the possession of Jesse Darlington at the old homestead in Middletown.

The tract in Providence is said to have been first surveyed to Powell by a warrant dated Sept. 9, 1682, yet the patent gives 2 mo. (April) 9, 1682, as the date of survey. Joseph Sharples and Lydia, his wife, by deed of Sept. 3, 1720, conveyed this land to John Broomall, who devised it June 23, 1729, to his son John Broomall. The latter, with Ann, his wife, and Mary Broomall, widow of the first John Broomall, conveyed a house and 100 acres thereof, June 9, and 10, 1731, to David Regester, who with Lydia, his wife, conveyed the said 100 acres, March 8, and 9, 1733–4, to William Gorsuch. He with Rebecca, his wife, sold the same Jan. 1, 1742–3, to John McMichell, who with his wife, Barbara, conveyed it, Jan. 18, 1762, to Samuel Oliver, and the latter, with Elizabeth his wife, now of Goshen Township, conveyed it to Josiah Wilkinson of Nether Providence. Oliver, about the same time, purchased the "Boot" tavern in Goshen, from Joseph Lacey, who had succeeded (his father-in-law?) Josiah Wilkinson at the same place.

It is inferred that Joseph Sharples was appointed an overseer of Middletown Meeting in 1715, in place of Jacob Minshall, and he was succeeded by Joseph Pennell 3 mo. 27, 1717. He was appointed an Elder 7 mo. 25, 1732, in room of Ephraim Jackson, who desired to be released, and was succeeded by Thomas Goodwin, 2 mo. 25, 1737.

By deed of 1 mo. 26, 1715, he purchased from Samuel Tomlinson of Middletown, "cordwinder," and Mary his wife, 98 acres in Middletown, on Chester Creek, immediately above his other land. He had also bought from Caleb Pusey, 4 mo. 27, 1709, 21 acres on the other side of the creek in Aston township. In 1734 he conveyed to his son Joseph the Tomlinson tract and 60 acres of the old survey, and by deeds of lease and release, July 24, and 25, 1736, divided the remainder of his land in Middletown between his sons Benjamin and Samuel, giving the latter 100 acres, and to the former 150 acres, with the buildings, and 9 acres of the Aston tract. At the same time he purchased from his son Benjamin a tract of 387 acres which the latter had bought in 1734, in West Caln township, more than twenty miles to the northwest of Middletown. At the age of fifty-eight the father still possessed a pioneering disposition, and as the new purchase was within the limits of Bradford Monthly Meeting, he made a request 6 mo. 29, 1737, for a certificate of removal thereto, with his wife and some of his children. The request was granted in the following document:

"From Chester Monthly Meeting, held att Providence meeting house, the 26th Day of 7 month, 1737, to Bradford Monthly Meeting, These,—

"Dear ffriends: after the sallutation of Brotherly Love this comes to aquaint you that our well Esteemed friends Joseph Sharpless and Lydia his Wife, being Removed and Settled within the verge of your meeting, have Requested of us a Certificate in order to be joyned as members with you. Now these may Certifie on their Behalf, that needfull inquirey hath been made Concerning them, by Persons appointed for that Purpose, and we find that they are of a sober and orderly Conversation, have been of service among us, and are in unity with us; and also they have four sons with them, viz., Nathan, Abraham, Jacob and William, which are sober, hopefull children, and worthy of your Care and notice: and as such we Recommend them with their tender Pareance to you, Desireing their growth and Preservation in the Blessed way of Truth; to whose Divine Protection we commit them, and Remain your friends Brethren and sisters in the Best Relation.

In his new home Joseph Sharples was an active member of West Caln Meeting. In 1743 he joined with other inhabitants of West Caln in petitioning to have some of the boundary lines of that township more definitely determined.

At a monthly meeting at Caln, 8 mo. 18, 1744, "Joseph Sharpless requested of this meeting a Certificate for his son Nathan & his wife, directed to Concord monthly meeting, as also a Certificate for his son William directed to the same monthly meeting, as also a Certificate for his two sons Abraham & Jacob directed to Chester monthly meeting; therefore this meeting appoints William Sinklar & Jesse Woodward to make the needfull enquirie concerning them, & if they find nothing to obstruct to prepare certificates accordingly, and produce them to next meeting." On 12 mo. 21, 1744, "Joseph Sharpless acquainted this meeting that he and his wife intends shortly to remove from hence and settle within the verge of Chester monthly meeting, and requested a Certificate to said meeting; Therefore this meeting appoints William Sinklar & Peter Babb to make the needfull enquirie concerning him, & if they find nothing to obstruct to prepare one and produce it to next meeting." The women appointed Phebe Sinclear and Elizabeth Fisher to inquire respecting Lydia Sharples.

Just where Joseph and Lydia Sharples made their home after their return to Middletown is not known:—perhaps with their son Benjamin at the old homestead. An old house which was probably built by Joseph when he first settled there, stood a few yards north of the present residence of Jesse Darlington, but was torn down about 1868. The flooring, fastened down with wooden pins, and other wood work somewhat resembled the old house at Waterville and suggested the same builder. Their certificate from Bradford does not appear to have been presented at Chester until 4 mo. 30, 1746.

Lydia Sharples was appointed an overseer for Middletown Meeting, 11 mo. 30, 1715, along with Rachel Jackson, and in the room of Alice Pennell, who in turn succeeded her 9 mo. 25, 1717. She was again appointed, 5 mo. 29, 1734, instead of Sarah Worrall, and was succeeded, 2 mo. 26, 1736, by Mary Pennell.

The following letter addressed to Joseph Sharples by Isaac Sharples, of Hitchin in Hertfordshire, Eng., is still preserved, though somewhat mutilated by the loss of a little from the upper end of the sheet, and from the side in a few places. The date is wanting but from circumstances mentioned it was probably written in 1757, and it is doubtful whether

Joseph Sharples was living at the time of its reception. An attempt is made to supply some of the missing words:

I rec'd thine ye Sam[ll] Fothergill and was very [welcome] to me, having often heard of som of my name on [that] side the water, by severall friends from your parts. thou hints in thine, so I take it, that it Looks very [likely] we may be of the same family, but I can give [but] a very slender account of my famaly, my father and mother Dying when I was young, and I Left that [part] of the country when young. I have heard that [my] granfather, by my father, was the huntsman at L[ ] hall, and my father was a convinced man when young, and maryed my mother Phebe Endon among friends; by whom he had five children, of whom I am the [only] Serviver. my father mist his way In his second marriage, and Lost his condision Inwardly and outwardly, and also the unity of friends; by which means his family sufered and wear dispersed. One went to Sea and dyde at Jamaco; another In London, and two when young. I was put an prentis to a Taylor, and after I had served my time I Traviled to London and the west of England, and about the 22 year of my age was convinced and Brought In among fr[ds]: about 12 years after maried Into glostershire, Into a reputable famaly: Lived about 5 years with that wife and she dide. I Lived about five years single, having no children, and then I married into a worthy famly In Hertfordshire whear I now Live, and through the favour of provedence am Blessed with an agreeable help meet and comfertable compentcy of the ne[cessaries] of Life: have had by this wife six children, but two Living whose names are Phebe and Isaac. my fr[d] Sam[ll] Spavold,* the Bearer hearof, who is comeing over to visit your parts and Lives in the same Town as I do, will give thee a verball account of my famaly and present condison, if he may be presarved in his voige, which I greatly Desire he may. as to what thou says of Daniell Moor I have som nosion that my mother was related to that famaly but cannot make it out at this Distance, but have no doubt we are of the same amaly.

It is pleasent to hear from relations att a distance in the outward, but I ofen thought that the Spirituall Kindered exceeds all outward Linage: and to have our names writin in heaven, and to be of that generall assembly and Church of the first Born, and of the household of faith, and to have our union in Christ, In whom all the famalys of the earth are Blessed—this is my Delight; and where the outward and the Inward meet in one I have true unity with it; and I am truly glad to hear that you have so many of you keept your unity with friends, and I greatly Desire that you may be keept and presarved to the End through all your tryalls, temptations and provokeations, in these perillious times, wherin the tryal of our faith and patience is Exercised. I have ofen had a near simpathy with you on that side the water of Late, and had you in rememberance in my near aproches before the Lord, that he might arise to your help and scater your enimys; and as friends are carfull and conserned to flee to the name of the Lord, that Everlasting Tower of Safty, where the rightious and the right minded have allways been protected, through fire and through water, and these that are thus presarved of the Lord have greatly the advantage of those that make flesh their arm, and Depart from the Lord in

* Samuel Spavold was present at Chester Monthly Meeting 9 mo. 26, 1757, and Isaac Howell obtained a certificate to accompany him to Carolina. Samuel Fothergill landed at Wilmington 9 mo. 24, 1754, in company with John Churchman, who had spent some years on a religious visit to Great Britain, and the former frequently visited the latter at his home in East Nottingham, during his stay here. One of his letters is dated at Chester, in Pennsylvania, 11 mo. 11, 1755. After traveling over 8,000 miles on religious service in America, he sailed from New York, 6 mo. 5, 1756, and arrived at Dublin, 7 mo. 9, 1756.

These.

From an account of the writer of the foregoing letter in Friends' Library, xiii. 349, we learn that he was born about the year 1702, near Prescot, in Lancashire, to which Meeting his parents belonged. When about twelve years of age, by the persuasion of some of his father's relations, he was sprinkled at Ormskirk, and for some time attended the public worship. His first wife was Esther Thurston, a widow, of Thornbury in Gloucestershire, and he was married again, in 1746, to Mary Ransom, daughter of Joseph and Mary Ransom of Hitchin. "His ministry was plain and powerful, often reaching the witness of truth in the hearts of his hearers. In supplication he was inward and weighty, an awful solemnity covering his spirit, whereby he was frequently favored with near access to the throne of Divine Grace. An innocent cheerfulness, tempered with gravity, adorned his conversation, and his conduct was a pattern of meekness, moderation and love, which gained him great esteem." He died 5 mo. 18, 1784, about the eighty-second year of his age and a minister about sixty years.

Joseph Sharples died intestate as the following proceedings will show:

"Be it Remembered that on the Nineteenth day of May, Anno Dom., 1757, letters of Adm'on in Common form on the Estate of Joseph Sharpless, late of Middletown in the County of Chester, deceased, who died Intestate,

JOSEPH GILPIN,
ROBT MENDENHALL.

[Filed May 19, 1757.]

The administrator did not file any account of his administration of the estate.

Lydia Sharples, widow of Joseph, received a certificate of removal from Chester to Concord Monthly Meeting, 1 mo. 30, 1758, having probably gone to live with her daughter, Susanna, or some other of her children.

FRIENDS' MEETING HOUSES

The lower one Orthodox branch built 1865

MIDDLETOWN MEETING.

At a Quarterly Meeting held 3 mo. 3, 1686: "Agreed y^t a meeting be kept at John Boiters upon y^t same first day it used to be at Bartholomew Coppocks, for ye ease of such y^t live westerly in ye woods, and ye rest of friends living ye other way, upon y^t same day, to meet at ffrancis Stanfields until further consideration."

Third mo. 4, 1696: "This meeting consents y^t the meeting * * * be setteled * * * * at John Bowaters every first & 5th day." Ninth mo. 6, 1699: "The ffriends of John Bowater's meeting Lay their Intentions of Building a meeting house. This meeting constituts & appoints Philip Roman, Robert Pyle, Nathaniel Newlin, George Robinson, John Hood & John Wood to determine the place for that service, and make report to ye next Quarterly meeting, under all their Hands, that it may be entred in this meeting Book."

At Randall Vernon's, 12 mo. 5, 1699–700: "Whereas the friends belonging to the meeting that is kept at ye house of John Bowaters have an intention to build a meeting house for the service of Truth, but not wholy agreeing where to sett it, ye friends concluding to Lay it before ye Quarterly meeting for ye determination thereof; accordingly it was done ye 6th of ye 9th month, 1699. And after some debate & consideration this meeting did nominate & constitute six friends, whose names are under written, to goe up to ye house of John Bowater, there to meet friends concerned in the business afore mentioned, and to hear & determine the same, and to make returne thereof to the next Quarterly meeting: and now we haveing heard & seriously considered to ye best of our understanding, for ye service above mentioned, doth give our sence & judgment as followeth,—That ffriends belonging to the said meeting shall build a meeting house, for the service of ffriends and Truth, upon the Land or Lott belonging to ye said meeting's Burying place. Given under our hands ye 20th of ye 9th mo^th, 1699.

"PHILIP ROMAN, NATHANIEL NEWLIN,
JOHN HOOD, JOHN WOOD,
ROBERT PYLE, GEO: ROBINSON."

In the treasurer's account of collections received, this is called "Bowaters Meeting" until 5 mo. 27, 1702, when the name of Middletown is substituted, and it is likely the house was then completed. A survey of the land belonging thereto, made by Isaac Taylor, 4 mo. 10, 1700, represents that it contained five acres, in the form of a square; bounded by land of John Bowater on one side, of Joseph Baker on another, and of John Turner on the other sides. The last named had purchased from Joshua Hastings, for whom 472 acres had been surveyed by warrant of Jan. 16, 1684.

The first building was doubtless of wood, to which an addition of stone was afterward placed at the south-east end. In 1770 subscriptions were made to the amount of £215, to put up a stone addition in place of the wooden part, and in 1773 a subscription was made towards enclosing the graveyard with a wall, which was finally accomplished. In 1783 the sum of £106 was raised in the same way to build a school house upon the lot.

At a monthly meeting held 2 mo. 24, 1783, "Middletown Preparative Meeting informs that the friends who had the care of the Lott of Ground whereon their Meeting House stands are all Deceased, and they have appointed William Yarnall, Jacob Minshall, John Hill & Thomas Evans, Trustees, for the said Lot of Ground in their stead."

Sixth mo. 24, 1822: "Middletown Preparative meeting informs that they have obtained a Deed from the Heirs at Law of Joshua Hastings, the original Proprietor (under William Penn) of their meeting-house Ground, who put them in possession thereof about the year 1690; confirming and conveying the same unto Enos Painter, James Emlen, Peter Worrell, William Yarnall, George Smedley, Joseph Pennell & Samuel Hibberd, In Trust for the benefit and use of middletown Preparative Meeting of Friends: which said Deed they have had recorded in the office for recording Deeds, in and for the County of Delaware, in Deed-book O, vol. 1st, Page 591, &c., the 30th day of the 4th month, A. D. 1822; which said Deed is deposited in the monthly meeting book case."

In the fifty years, commencing with 1787, there were over nine hundred interments in the grave-yard belonging to this meeting.

MARRIAGE CERTIFICATE HENRY HOWARD TO HANNAH SHARPLES

AT MARTHA'S VINEYARD, 1720

Henry Howard appears to have resided at first in the neighborhood of Darby, whence he brought a certificate to Chester Mo. Mtg., dated 10 mo. 4, 1717, which states that he had "lived some time amongst us * * * frequented our meetings * * * Clear from all women in Relation to marriage as far as we know," &c. This was signed by Richard Parker, Jr., and Josiah Hibberd, and it shows that prior to this time he had joined with Friends. He resided in Upper Providence and was a weaver at the time of his marriage, but had purchased from William Willis of Edgmont, blacksmith, and Gaynor his wife, by deed of 3 mo. 16, 1720, a tract of 196 acres in Edgmont, and 4 acres in Newtown, whereon they settled, and which is still in possession of their descendants. Their marriage certificate, on parchment, 15½ by 16 inches in size, is now in possession of Henry C. Howard of Media, and is herein presented on a reduced scale. The name of John Salkeld and the first name of his wife, Agnes Salkeld, among the witnesses, have been eaten by mice. David Lloyd, Chief Justice of Penna., and Grace, his wife, were also witnesses. It is not known that any of Henry Howard's immediate family came to this country, yet there was a Lawrence Howard (m. Nanny James Dec. 7, 1752), and a Henry Howard (m. about 1772), who may have been relatives.

Hannah Howard was appointed an overseer of Middletown Mtg., 1 mo. 25, 1728, in room of Phebe Lewis, and was succeeded by Dorothy Yarnall 9 mo. 24, 1729. Henry Howard was appointed overseer, 11 mo. 31, 1731–2, in room of Samuel Lewis, who in turn succeeded him 8 mo. 28, 1734. Henry received a certificate, 7 mo. 30, 1734, on account of having "occation to go to Great Britian to settle some affairs & the vessell being like to sail before next meeting." He, being returned, produced this certificate 4 mo. 30, 1735, with endorsement from Friends in England. He was appointed an Elder for Middletown Mtg., 8 mo. 25, 1742, in room of Thomas Goodwin, and was succeeded by Joseph Pennell 8 mo. 27, 1746.

Hannah was appointed overseer, 9 mo. 26, 1739, instead of Mary Edge, and was succeeded by Ann Evans 5, 28, 1746: was again appointed 10 mo. 26, 1748, and was succeeded by Agnes Minshall 10 mo. 30, 1752.

The will of Henry Howard of Edgmont, was dated 9 mo. 13, 1758, and proven Oct. 27, 1760. In it he gives to his son John, for seven years, the plantation whereon John lives in Edgmont and Newtown, except six acres of meadow on S. W. side of Crum Creek, after which the same to be divided between sons John, Peter and Richard: to son Peter, £20: to son Richard, £30: to dau. Grace Kendal, £5 and the large Bible: to dau. Mary Moss, £20: to dau. Hannah Passmore, £10: to dau. Rebecca Howard, £20: to son James, the homestead and the six acres of meadow above mentioned, he paying the legacies within two years and maintaining his mother: to wife, Hannah, all the furniture of our lodging room, one horse, saddle and bridle, £7 yearly and to have sufficient meat, drink and fire-wood, with keep of horse, &c.: son James residuary legatee. The inventory of personal property, by Edward Farr and George Bishop, appraised at £224 : 10 : 6.

The will of Hannah Howard of Edgmont, was dated June 29, 1775, and proven April 11, 1782. She gives to dau. Mary Moss, £2: to son John 2*s*, 6*d*: to son Peter 2*s*, 6*d*: to son Richard, ditto: to son James, ditto: to granddau. Jane Chance, dau. of son John, my feather bed, bolster and pillows: to granddau. Esther Andrews, my large Bible, and to her son Benjamin Andrews, 10*s*.: to granddau. Abigail Passmore, 20*s*., and to her brothers and sisters 2*s*., 6*d*., each: to dau. Rebecca Howard the residue.

The name was written Howarth in the deed for land from William Willis, as well as in the marriage certificate.

12. John Sharples[3], John[2], b. at Ridley 8 mo. 16, 1699; d. in Nether Providence 8 mo. 17, 1769; m. 9 mo. 18, 1725, at Concord Mtg., to Mary Key of Aston, b. 3 mo. 8, 1707; d. 10 mo. 24, 1727: Second m. 4 mo. 6, 1729, at Goshen Mtg., to Elizabeth Ashbridge of Goshen, b. 12 mo. 6, 1708–9; d. 12 mo. 18, 1767. His children were—

48. Hannah, b. 11 mo. 13, 1726–7; m. Jeremiah Starr.
49. Mary, b. 2 mo. 17, 1730; m. Thomas Swayne.
50. Margaret, b. 7 mo. 7, 1731; d. 1791; m. Reuben Roberts.
51. Elizabeth, b. 6 mo. 25, 1734; d. 1802; m. Richard Bradley.
52. John, b. 5 mo. 26, 1736; m. ——— Slay.
53. George, b. 5 mo. 14, 1738; d. 5 mo. 17, 1819 m. Mary Lewis.

Moses Key, of Middlewich, in Cheshire, Eng., brought a certificate from Friends of the meeting there, dated 8 mo. 20, 1700. He settled in Nether Providence, but was married 12 mo. 18, 1701, at Concord Mtg., to Elizabeth Yearsley, and removed to Aston township, where he died about 1748. He was an active member of Concord Mtg., and for several years clerk of the Monthly Mtg. His children were Lettice (m. John Chamberlin and Thomas Vernon), William, Mary (m. John Sharples), Elizabeth, Moses, Hannah, Hannah 2d, John, Robert, Rebecca and Ann.

George Ashbridge arrived at Philadelphia, 5 mo. 5, 1698, as recorded in the family Bible, a large book, 20 by 13 inches and 4½ inches thick, printed 1716, presented to Friends' Library, on Cherry Street, Philadelphia, by Sarah Ashbridge. George Ashbridge, of "Edgmond" and Mary Malin, of Upper Providence, were married 8 mo. 23, 1701, at Providence Mtg., and settled in Goshen township. She was perhaps a widow, or possibly a daughter of Randall Malin, of Upper Providence, from Great Barrum in Cheshire, Eng. She died 2 mo. 15, 1728, and he m. again 1 mo. 6, 1729–30, at Goshen, Margaret Paschall, widow; after which he removed to Chester borough, and died in 1748. The children of George and Mary were—

John, b. 6 mo. 1, 1702; d. 5 mo. 21, 1747; m. Hannah Davies.
George, b. 12 mo. 19, 1703–4; d. 3 mo. 6, 1773; m. Jane Hoopes.
Jonathan, b. 9 mo. 25, 1705; probably died young.
Elizabeth, b. 12 mo. 6, 1708–9; d. 12 mo. 18, 1767; m. John Sharples.
Mary, b. 11 mo. 10, 1710–11; d. 11 mo. 20, 1745; m. Amos Yarnall.
Aaron, b. 12 mo. 25, 1712–13; m. Sarah Davies and Elizabeth Sullivan.
Hannah, b. 2 mo. 26, 1715; d. 9 mo. 13, 1793; m. Joshua Hoopes.
Phebe. b. 8 mo. 26, 1717; m. Richard Thomas and William Trimble.
Lydia, b. 11 mo. 22, 1719–20; m. Ellis Davies.
Joseph, b. 5 mo. 9, 1723; m. Priscilla Davis.

John Sharples, Jur., was appointed an overseer of Chester Mtg. 11 mo. 30, 1737–8, in place of John Low, and was succeeded by Thomas Morgan, 7 mo. 28, 1741: appointed again 11 mo. 26, 1746–7, in place of Thomas Vernon, and succeeded by Daniel Sharples 11 mo. 28, 1757: appointed Elder for Chester Mtg. 4 mo. 24, 1758. At Chester Monthly Meeting, 12 mo. 31, 1759:

Chester meeting informs that the ground on which their meeting house is erected was conveyed by deed of 2 mo. 17, 1736, to six trustees, Jacob Howell, Thomas Cummings, John Owen, Samuel Lightfoot, John Salkeld, Jun'r, and John Sharpless, Jun'r, and that by the declaration of trust it was provided that if any of these were disowned or deceased, their places might be filled by appointment of this monthly meeting. John Owen being deceased, and John Salkeld, Jun'r, disowned, the meeting appoints Jonathan Cowpland and Joseph Ashbridge to succeed them.

On 12 mo. 26, 1774, Howell, Cummings and Sharples being deceased, Edward Russell, Caleb Harrison and John Eyre were appointed trustees in their stead.

Elizabeth Sharples brought a certificate from Goshen to Chester in 1729, representing that "her conversation hath been modest and orderly." At Chester Mo. Mtg., 11 mo. 30, 1748–9, "Alice Commings is chosen overseer for Chester meeting along with Eliz: Sharples, in place of our Friend Agnes Salkeld, Deceased." Elizabeth was succeeded by Sarah Sharples 5 mo. 30, 1757, and their positions were reversed 6 mo. 27, 1763. On 12 mo. 28, 1767, "Esther Hoskins is chosen overseer with Elinor Harrison, for Chester Meeting, in the room of Elizabeth Sharples, Deceased."

By a deed dated April 16, 1726, John Sharples of Ridley, yeoman, conveyed to his son John Sharples, cordwainer, "for the sum of five shillings of lawfull money of the s^d^ Province," and "for the natural love & affection which he hath & beareth to the s^d^ John," a messuage or tenement where the son then dwelt, together with 155 acres of land. George Sharpless, the present owner of this homestead, says he resided in the old house from 1832 to 1839, and that it was part of stone and part of frame, the sides of the latter being covered with clapboards. The timbers were evidently cut with a whip-saw. The building was torn down about thirty years ago and some of the joists and doors used in the construction of a kitchen to the present mansion, which stands some rods nearer to the Providence Road.

John Sharples, 3d, also inherited some more land by the will of his father, including a few acres in Chester township, which was probably marshy ground, then considered valuable for hay and pasture, as little had been done toward the cultivation of the so-called artificial grasses.

By deed of Apr. 21, 1763, John Sharples and wife conveyed to James Mather of Chester, Innkeeper, a lot in Chester for £45, which his father bought of Jonas Sandelands in 1712.

In 1764 he was assessed in Nether Providence with 105 acres of land, with buildings, 65 acres uncultivated land, 4 acres of marsh in grass, 5 horses, 5 cattle and 5 sheep. He died intestate and letters of administration on his estate were granted Sept. 9, 1769, to Thomas Swayne. The inventory of his personal property, appraised 9 mo. 12, 1769, by William Swaffer and Isaac Weaver, amounted to £364 : 0 : 1. The following were some of the items:

A silver watch and two walking Cains,	£5 : 15 : 0
Two Bibles, one Testament, Sewel's History, Thomas Story's Journal, and other books, ...	4 : 13 : 2
Six silver tea spoons, 7 cups, 3 saucers &.a bowl, ...	0 : 19 : 6

One Silver Tankard, ...	9 : 10 : 0
One old clock, ...	1 : 10 : 0
A Shoemaker's seat, hammers, pinchers, all, &c., ...	0 : 7 : 6
His forth part of the Iron works of the Saw Mill and a third part of his Right in the said mill for about 2 years yet to come, ...	5 : 0 : 0

His share of various crops at home, and hay at the marsh mentioned.

The administration accounts, filed Dec. 17, 1770, show a total of £425 : 12 : 5½, and on the same date a petition was presented to the Orphans' Court for an inquisition on the real estate. By the old English laws in regard to intestates, the eldest son was entitled to a double share, but in this case he was deceased, leaving an only daughter, who thus inherited twice as much as her uncle. The lands consisted of 195 acres surrounding the homestead, 8½ acres in Ridley, on the Delaware River, and 4 acres in Chester township, valued altogether, by Sheriff, Jesse Maris, and twelve jurors, at £1253 : 2 : 6, making the shares worth £179 : 0 : 4, each. The surviving son and eldest daughter declining to take the property at this valuation, it was awarded May 31, 1771, to Reuben Roberts, who had married the second daughter, Margaret.

The following petition relative to a change in the township line, having been chiefly in the interest of the Sharpless family, is here presented verbatim :

Chester ſs: To the Honourable Justices of the Court of Genl Quarter Sessions of the Peace to be held at Chester the Twenty Seventh day of February Anno Domini 1753.

The Petition of John Sharpless, Daniel Sharpless, Isaac Weaver and Thomas Swayne, inhabitants of the Westermost parts [of] Ridley Township in the County of Chester aforesaid,

Humbly Sheweth,

That your Petitioners live in a very remote Part of the township of Ridley between Crum & Ridley Creeks, joining to the Township of Nether Providence, far from the principal part of the inhabitants of the said townships.

That your petitioners labour under very Great Hardships in being obliged, when warned by the Supervisors, to travel as far as the Township of Lower Darby to repair and amend the highways thereabouts, itt being upwards of five Miles from the nearest of your Petitioner's Plantations, when the Inhabitants of the other End of the said township Seldom or never Come to repair the Roads on that End of the Township where your Petitioners dwell; and also are at very Great inconveniency in being obliged to meet at the Whitehorse tavern to Consult about any affairs Relative to the said Township.

Your Petitioners therefore Pray that your Honour would be Pleased to take your Petitioners' Case into Consideracon, and order that all that part of Ridley Township aforesaid, lying to the Westward of the Eastermost line of the lands late of Thomas Dell, the Elder, & Thomas Dell, ye younger, deceased, may be Joyned to the Township of Nether Providence, and that the same may allways hereafter be deemed Taken and Esteemed to be part of the said Township of Nether Providence, and your Petitioners as in Duty bound Shall Pray,

JOHN SHARPLESS,
DANIEL SHARPLESS,
ISAAC WEAVER,
THOMAS SWAYNE.

SAM^L^ MINSHALL,
THO^S^ VERNON,

MOSES VERNON,
DA^D^. WEATHERBY,

The freeholders of Nether Providence In Concurrence with the above Petitioners have Subscribed their Names

WILLIAM LINDSAY,
JOHN MCMICHELL,
JAMES SHARPLESS,
JOSEPH VERNON.

[Endorsed] allowed.

13. Phebe Sharples[3], John[2], b. at Ridley "ye 5 day of the week, near the 9 hour at night, ye 9 of ye 11 mo. under sign Gemini, in year 1701–2;" d. in Willistown township, Chester County, 3 mo. 29, 1772; m. 2 mo. 25, 1732, at Chester Mtg., to Benjamin Hibberd, b. 2 mo. 27, 1707; d. about 1785. 60. Phebe, b. 2 mo. 16, 1745; d. 1 mo. 7, 1795; m. Allen Farquhar.

Josiah Hibberd doubtless came from England but the exact place of his nativity has not been discovered. He settled in Darby township, Chester (now Delaware) County as early as 1692, and on 9 mo. (Nov.) 9, 1698, was married before John Blunston, Esq., to Ann Bonsall, dau. of Richard Bonsall of Darby, and Mary his wife. Daniel Hibberd, possibly a brother of Josiah, had married in 1697, Rachel Bonsall, a sister to Ann, but the father of the latter interposing some objection to the second marriage, it could not be accomplished in the usual way of Friends, hence before a magistrate. The children of Josiah and Ann were;

John, b. 11 mo. 18, 1699; d. 9 mo. 25, 1766; m. Deborah Lewis (1st wife).
Joseph, b. 11 mo. 20, 1700; d. 6 mo. 11, 1737; m. Elizabeth Fearne (1st wife).
Josiah, b. 7 mo. 28, 1701; d. 11 mo. 13, 1727–8, unmarried.
Abraham, b. 9 mo. 28, 1703; d. young or unmarried.
Mary, b. 6 mo. 29, 1705; m. Benjamin Lobb.
Benjamin, b. 2 mo. 27, 1707; m. Phebe Sharples.
Elizabeth, b. 12 mo. 11, 1708–9; d. 3 mo. 19, 1738, unmarried.
Sarah, b. 3 mo. 19, 1711; d. 2 mo. 24, 1795; m. Samuel Garrett.
Isaac, b. 1 mo. 16, 1712–13; m. Mary Lownes.
Ann, b. 3 mo. 12, 1715; m. John Ash.
Jacob, b. 2 mo. 21, 1718; m. Jane Garrett.

Josiah Hibberd, senior, in addition to his land in Darby, purchased 500 acres in Willistown township, by lease and release of May 16, and 17, 1722, from Martha Barker of London, widow of Thomas Barker, to whom a survey of 1000 acres had been made in that township. This land he divided between his sons, John and Benjamin, the deed to the latter being dated Feb. 26, 1731. Josiah Hibberd died 6 mo. (Aug.) 16, 1744, and his widow, Ann, just five years later.

There is a tradition that Phebe Sharples was under engagement of marriage to Josiah Hibberd, Jr., who at his death devised to her a token of his love in the form of £30, and that she invested this in a silver cup; in evidence of which a silver cup or tankard, having the letters P. S. on the side, has been handed down in the line of the Josiahs to the present day. If the said Josiah made a will it must have been verbal and never registered; and if he gave her £30, it is likely that only a part of it was thus expended.

At Goshen Monthly Mtg., 6 mo. 21, 1732, Benjamin Hibberd produced a certificate of membership from Darby, and his wife one from Chester. She was appointed overseer of Goshen Mtg., 9 mo. 17, 1735, instead of Jane Malin, along with Jane Davies; and was succeeded by Jane Haines, 3 mo. 16, 1737: appointed 5 mo. 18, 1748, with others, to visit families: appointed overseer 10 mo. 19, 1748, instead of Hannah Osborne: appointed 4 mo. 19, 1756, with others, to visit families, and 4 mo. 16, 1759, to inspect the necessities of the poor in the stead of Ann Goodwin, remaining in the latter position until her death, when she was succeeded, 12 mo. 10, 1773, by Mary Ashbridge. She was appointed 11 mo. 6, 1761, and again 4 mo. 6, 1764, to join with the overseers in visiting those who neglected the attendance of meetings.

Benjamin Hibberd was appointed overseer of Goshen Mtg., 12 mo. 17, 1745–6, in room of Lawrence Cox, and was succeeded by Aaron Ashbridge 6 mo. 15, 1748: again appointed 1 mo. 19, 1756, instead of Amos Yarnall, and was appointed an Elder 4 mo. 19, 1756. Aaron Ashbridge succeeded him as overseer 12 mo. 17, 1759, but he was again chosen 7 mo. 11, 1777, in place of Samuel Garrett, and was followed by Randal Malin, 12 mo. 9, 1780: was appointed with others, 2 mo. 5, 1779, to visit families: and it is mentioned 1 mo. 7, 1785, that he had been paid £1 : 19 : 9, for transcribing the women's minutes.

He built a brick house in 1742, to which an addition of stone was afterward made. In 1857 the brick part was torn down, at which time Enos Hibberd built a large brick house a few rods northerly from the old one, in which his widow and some of the family still reside.

Benjamin Hibberd and wife, Phebe, by deed of 10 mo. 17, 1765, conveyed to their son Josiah the land in Whiteland township which her father had devised to her. In 1753 Benjamin bought about 102 acres in Willistown, of the estate of Thomas James, dec'd, and in 1774 (Jan. 10,) gave 5 acres thereof to his son Caleb, to which on the following day was added 50 acres taken off the homestead tract. Jan. 13, 1774, he gave to his son Joseph the remainder, 96 acres, 100 perches, of the James tract.

The will of Benjamin Hibberd of Willistown, yeoman, was dated 12 mo. 26, 1781, and proven Oct. 3, 1785, in which he gives to son Josiah "my silver can, having before advanced him in full proportion to my estate:" to son-in-law, Amos Yarnall, and his seven children, £60: to dau. Hannah Sheward, £60: to dau. Phebe Farquhar, £60: to son Joseph, 14 acres, 32 perches, he paying £20: to son Benjamin the homestead, 134 acres, 110 perches, he paying £125: to son Caleb two tracts of 86 acres, 103 perches, and 14 acres, 75 perches, he paying £212: to kinswoman, Ann Rogers, who formerly lived with me, £3.

The inventory of his estate as appraised 9 mo. 19, 1785, by Isaac Massey and Enoch Yarnall, amounts to £277 : 16 : 8, the following being among the items: "To a Silver kan & teaspoons, £4 : 17 : 6."

14. Rebecca Sharples[3], John[2], b. at Ridley 12 mo. 17, 1703–4; d. 9 mo. 30, 1727, unmarried. At Chester Monthly Mtg., 1 mo. 28, 1726, David Lloyd was appointed to draw a certificate to recommend Rebeckah

Sharples to the meeting of Ministers and Elders, Agnes Salkeld and Agnes Cowpland being appointed by women to make inquiry respecting her. The certificate was signed 2 mo. 25, 1726.

16. Ann Sharples[3], John[2], b. at Ridley, (according to the family Bible and the meeting records) 6 mo. (Aug.) 23, 1708; d. Aug. 22, 1786, at Shiloh, Cumberland Co., N. J., aged, according to her tombstone in the Seventh-day Baptist Churchyard, 77 y, 9 m, 29 d: m. about 1726 to Samuel Bond, b. Jan. 1, 1692-3; d. Apr. 10, 1783, "aged 90 years, 3 months and 10 days;" son of Richard and Sarah Bond. Their children were—

61. Richard, b. Oct. 4, 1728; d. Jan. 14, 1819; m. Mary (Jarman) Wells and Mary (Passmore) Booth.
62. Sarah, b. Feb. 9, 1729–30; d. Dec. 30, 1812; m. Ebenezer Howell.
63. Margaret, b. Oct. 4, 1732; d. Oct. 6, 1822; m. Jonathan Davis.
64. Susannah, b. Oct. 21, 1735; d. Apr. 12, 1810; m. Elnathan Davis.

There are some traditions in this branch of the family, which, although not in harmony with the facts, will be noticed.

Morris W. Blair, of Kossuth, Iowa, writes, Jan. 21, 1884,—"The date given of the marriage of Samuel Bond and Anne Sharples, in the genealogy, is probably seven or eight years too late. They eloped at the respective ages of 'under 19, and turned 14,' going to New Jersey on horseback. The father, John Sharples, followed, was too late for the ceremony, but good naturedly joined in the feast and took the children home. Within the year was born to them Richard Clayton Bond in Cecil Co., Md., to which place they removed shortly after marriage."

The name of their eldest child is thus explained: Samuel Bond and Richard Clayton came from England in company, the latter being engaged to marry a sister of the former, but in his absence she died and the disconsolate lover, settling near his friend, remained a bachelor and made his namesake Richard C. Bond his heir. He planted walnuts brought from England, lumber from which made his coffin; also a "claw-footed table" and a "chest of drawers," which were given by her mother to Lydia Job; by her to her daughter, Anne Bruce; by her to Lydia Smith, who on removing to Iowa, in 1857, could not bring them and left them with a step-daughter.

Levi H. Bond of Milton Junction, Rock Co., Wisconsin, born May 10, 1801, writes—"I do remember distinctly of hearing my father frequently say that my great grandfather, Samuel Bond and Richard Clayton came departed this life the 4th day of August in the year 1781, supposed to be about 88 years of age." His will is dated July 8, 1781, and proven Aug. 20, 1781, in which he devised all the land he then lived upon to his well beloved friend Richard Bond senior, of Cecil County, whom he appointed executor: to Phebe Whitacre, £10: to Mary Becket, 40 shillings; to John Baker, 50 shillings: to John Killey, £5: to Hannah Davis, £5, and my Bible: to Jonathan Jarman, £5: to Margaret Davis, £5. His supposed age seems to identify him with the subject of the following record of the Orphans' Court of Chester County, under date of Nov. 29, 1705:

Richard Adams preferred a petition to this Court concerning ye Estate of Thomas Clayton, deceased:

That whereas, Thomas Clayton, a bond servant unto your petitioner, about 6 years ago, on his voyage from England unto this province, died at sea, leving behind him Elinor, a child of about ye age of seven years, and a boy of about five years of age named Richard, for which children's passage your petitioner paid in England and hath ever since mentained them with meat drink and apparrell.

The Court having considered of Richard Adams' charge against ye two orphans, viz., Richard and Elinor Clayton, Dus allow Twenty six pounds to Richard Adams, of Pennsylvania mony, for their passage & dyett in England and dyett on bord ship, dyet in Maryland, and bringing them up to Pennsylvania.

Among the first purchasers of land from William Penn were Bartholomew Coppock of Saltney, in the "county palatine" of Chester, England, and Bartholomew Coppock of High Leigh, in the same county, both of whose deeds bear the same dates, March 21 and 22, 1681. One of this name was a witness to the will of John Worthington, executed on board the "Friendship of Liverpool," Jan. (11 mo.) 16, 1684. Both settled in Springfield township, and their lands were laid out adjoining the line of Marple, the first named being to the eastward of the other. He of High Leigh had married Helen (also written Ellen and Eleanor), a sister to

Marriage Certificate Daniel Sharpless to Sarah Coppock
21 Month April Day 1730

Daniel Williamson, and had three daughters, Mary, m. to Richard Woodward; Deborah, m. to William West, an uncle of the celebrated painter Benjamin West, and Hannah, b. 10 mo. 9, 1684, who m. her cousin Robert Williamson. The father died in Springfield 2 mo. 8, 1720, and his son-in-law, West, to whom he had conveyed his land, died three days later. Dr. Smith (Hist. Del. Co.) represents that Springfield Meeting was first held at the house of this Bartholomew, but the meeting-house was certainly not built on his land. A warrant was granted 7 mo. 17, 1701, to resurvey to Bartholomew Coppock, Jr., a tract of 400 acres in Springfield, formerly laid out for him and his "cousin" Bartholomew Coppock, senior.

Bartholomew Coppock, of Saltney, was married 4 mo. 13, 1678, to Margaret Yarwood. Perhaps she was not his first wife, but she was at least the mother of Jonathan Coppock, b. 1680, who, in 1708, married Jane Owen, dau. of Dr. Griffith Owen of Philadelphia, and she after his death married John Scholler of Springfield, 7 mo. 9, 1719, and a third husband, Robert Taylor, 3 mo. 21, 1724. This Bartholomew also purchased, 2 mo. 12, 1687, from John Nickson (or Nixon), 300 acres in Marple, for £28, Bartholomew Coppock, senior, being a witness to the deed. This was but about half a mile northward of his land in Springfield and it seems that he was living thereon at the time of his death, 12 mo. 20, 1718–19. It is likely that Jonathan occupied the Springfield tract, upon a part of which the meeting-house had been built, and which the executors of his father sold to John Scholler 2 mo. 15, 1719, a few months prior to his marriage with the widow of Jonathan.

Bartholomew Coppock, Jr., the only surviving child of Bartholomew and Margaret, succeeded his father in Marple. He m. 7 mo. 5, 1704, Rebecca Minshall, dau. of Thomas and Margaret Minshall, at whose house Providence Meeting was first held. She was b. 4 mo. 1, 1685, and d. 5 mo. 30, 1708. He then m. 3 mo. 10, 1710, Phebe Massey, widow of Thomas, and dau. of Robert Taylor of Springfield. His mother died 7 mo., 1735, and his second wife 12 mo. 27, 1749. His children were—

Margaret, b. 4 mo. 21, 1706; m. Henry Camm, 4 mo. 5, 1728.
Moses, b. 5 mo. 2, 1708.
Rebecca, b. 5 mo. 14, 1711; m. William Fell, 9 mo. 8, 1744.
Sarah, b. 7 mo. 22, 1712; m. Daniel Sharples.
Esther, b. 10 mo. 12, 1714; m. Seth Pancoast, 3 mo. 21, 1741.
Martha, b. 11 mo. 2, 1716–17.

Daniel Sharples was appointed an overseer of Chester Mtg., 11 mo. 28, 1757, in room of John Sharples, released, and was succeeded by William

Starr, 9 mo. 24, 1762: again appointed 9 mo. 30, 1765, and succeeded by James Barton 9 mo. 23, 1768. In 1758 he became one of the trustees for Chester Meeting, and in 1759 was appointed a trustee for a school lot, in which stations he continued until his death.

Sarah Sharples was chosen overseer for Chester Mtg., 5 mo. 30, 1757, with Jane Bezer, instead of Elizabeth Sharples: appointed with others, 4 mo. 24, 1758, to visit families: appointed Elder 5 mo. 29, 1758, in addition to Grace Lloyd, for Chester Mtg.: succeeded by Elizabeth Sharples, 6 mo. 27, 1763, as overseer: appointed with others 9 mo. 23, 1763, to visit families. On 8 mo. 27, 1764, Elizabeth and Sarah Sharples and Agnes Minshall are appointed to revise the women's minutes, and Sarah Sharples to record them. Sarah Sharples was chosen overseer with Elinor Harrison 8 mo. 27, 1772, instead of Esther Hoskins: appointed with others 1 mo. 27, 1777, to pay a general visit to all the families of this monthly meeting: appointed with others 12 mo. 29, 1777, to join men friends in discouraging "the too frequent use of Spirituous Liquors and visit those that keeps Houses of Publick entertainment:" appointed 3 mo. 30, 1778, to join the committee on reformation: succeeded by Hannah Sharples as overseer 4 mo. 26, 1786: with others appointed 11 mo. 27, 1786, to visit the preparative meetings, and 11 mo. 28, 1790, to visit families.

A lease, dated 25th of March (New Year's Day in Old Style), 1736, but never executed, between John Sharples, of Ridley, yeoman, of the one part, and Daniel Sharples, his son, of the same place, Joyner, of the other part, was intended to give to the latter the possession of all the lands of the father for twenty-one years, at a rent of £6 per annum; and allowing to his father "good and sufficient meat & drink, and one good Riding horse, and Good sufficient fire wood, Ready brought into the yard, for one fire." The father reserved "the Lower Room on ye west end of the Dwelling house," "Two Beds and furniture, one press, one Chest of Drawers, one Silver Tankard, one box, one Cask of Sugar, one Cask of nails, and some other small things."

Daniel Sharples inherited the homestead by the will of his father, together with about 258 acres of land, to which he added about 40½ acres by purchase from Nathan Vernon in 1768. William Starr, who appears to have bought or built a mill on Ridley Creek, obtained from John Sharples 2 mo. 12, 1768, the "Privilege of drowning a part of my Land on the southerly side of Ridley Creek with the water of William Starr's Mill Dam," and of keeping the water up to a mark on a certain rock for the sum of £3. Daniel Sharples was also interested in this matter and on Jan. 13, 1769, conveyed to Starr the right to keep the dam up to a certain height for the sum of £16, according to an award of William Parker, Henry Hale Graham and John Morton, dated Dec. 6, 1768.

At a Court held May 26, 1767:

Daniel Sharpless of Nether Providence came here into Court and did Acknowledge himself to be indebted to our Lord the King in the sum of thirty pounds, to be levied on his goods & Chattles, Lands and Tenements. On condition that he the said Daniel Sharpless do secure and Indemnify the Township of Nether Providence from any charge or Incumbrance that may be brought upon the same in case Phillis Meneneau, alias Hazard, (a slave he lately set free,) by sickness or otherwise be rendered Incapable to support herself.

John Minshall entered into a similar recognizance Aug. 26, 1766, on account of having set free Oram Hazard. "Orum Hazard, alias Negro Hazard of the Township of Middletown * * * and Philis Meneanu, alias Malatoe Philis, of the Township of Nether Providence, having set up papers, signed by John Fairlamb," were married Nov. 9, 1765, at John Fairlamb's house in Middletown. Deed Book O, p. 284, Chester Co.

John Minshall kept a few slaves, which his brother Moses (being a sea captain and trading to the West India Islands,) brought him. On one occasion he found an African which the owner was willing to dispose of in consequence of his being quite sickly, but it was thought a hazard to buy him: he however brought him to Pennsylvania, where he recovered his health. His African name was Oram, to which was added the name of Hazard, and Oram Hazard became his name ever after. He proved to be a very worthy man and after serving some time was liberated. He married and settled on the farm of his master, and was known as one who was quite successful in raising good tobacco. His children were Joel, Jane, Mary, Phebe and Eli.—Minshall Painter's Reminiscences.

Oram Hazard received a legacy of £10 from Richard Blackham, of Philadelphia, who married a cousin of John Minshall. His own will was dated Dec. 24, 1796, of which he appointed Ambrose Smedley executor. Thomas Hazard, Esq., of Thornbury, who is probably the first colored Justice of the Peace in Pennsylvania, is doubtless a descendant from Oram Hazard.

In 1764 Daniel Sharples was assessed in Nether Providence with 4 acres of marsh in grass, 49 acres woodland in Chester, 180 acres of land with the buildings, 34 acres uncultivated land, 6 horses, 7 cattle and 7 sheep; one negro girl and one saw-mill.

The will of Daniel Sharples of Nether Providence, yeoman, was dated

7 mo. 29, 177–, and proven Sept. 7, 1775, of which the following is an abstract:

To wife, Sarah, £200, within twelve months, a bed and furniture with three changes of sheetes and Pillow Ceases, that stands in my lodging Room and all other furniture in the room except the desk: also two silver spoons, three pewter dishes, one of the best cows, bay riding horse, saddle and bridle, use of best bed in room over my lodging room, with six chairs and all other furniture in that room during life, with various other privileges and a maintenance:

To son Daniel the desk, and after his mother's death the furniture in the upper room:

To son Thomas a lot in Chester borough on High Street, 40 x 120 ft., bought of Stephen Cole, with the building erected since; also another lot of the same size and 24 square feet purchased of Henry Platt; also 48 acres which my father bought of Caleb Pusey and devised to me, in Chester borough; also two silver table spoons, a note of his for £10, dated 10 mo. 31, 1765, but the note of £64, dated 1 mo. 4, 1772, he is to pay to his mother as part of her legacy; also best riding saddel and half my carpenter's and joyner's tools:

To son Daniel, subject to his mother's privileges, the land my father devised to me on the north side of Ridley Creek, in Nether Providence, about 200 acres, and about 40 acres I bought of Nathan Vernon, in the same township; with the marsh and upland in Ridley, bought of Peter Dicks—about 8 acres,—in all near 250 acres; also all the stock of horses, cattle, sheep and swine, except as hereafter excepted, with the implements of husbandry and the other half of my carpenter's and joyner's tools. "Itam, I order and appint my son Daniel Sharpless to pay the Recognizance of Thirty Pounds of Indamnification that I entered into at the County Court of Chester, on account of setting free my Negroe woman, Filles, when ever the same appears Requiset, agreeable to the Tanor of the said Recognizance." "Itam, I Give and Bequeath to my son Daniel Sharpless the following Household goods or Furniture, viz.: one silver Tankard, the Clock and the largest brass Kettle," &c:

To dau. Rebeckah Eyre £150:

To dau. Abigail, £200, with the beds and bedding called hers, and one good cow:

Residue to wife and four children.

Executors, sons Thomas and Daniel.

Witnesses, Wm. Swaffer, Isaac Weaver, Roger Dicks.

18. Lydia Sharples³, "the Daughter of ye Above said James Sharples, was born at neither providence ye twetieth day of ye twelveth month, which was ye fourth day of ye week, 1701" (1700–1): d. 11 mo. 20, 1760. She was married 10 mo. 14, 1726, at Providence Mtg., to Abraham Vernon (not Aaron, as in edition of 1816), b. 5 mo. 5, 1706; son of Jacob and Ann Vernon of Thornbury township, Chester Co., Pa. They had children,—

70. Joseph, who probably died young.
71. Abraham, and perhaps others, of whom nothing further is known.

Abraham Vernon, of Thornbury, died intestate and letters of administration were granted to his widow, May 2, 1749. The inventory amounted to £210 : 6 : 1, and the accounts, filed Nov. 26, 1757, show disbursements amounting to £245 : 16 : 5, to persons who do not appear to have been heirs. Lydia Vernon, widow of Abraham, was m. 7 mo. 3, 1758, at Concord Mtg., to Jacob Way of Kennet township, Chester County.

Jacob Vernon, son of Randall and Sarah Vernon, from Sandyway, Cheshire, Eng., was married 5 mo. 1701, to Ann Yearsley, dau. of John and Elizabeth Yearsley, from Middlewich, Cheshire, Eng., and had several children.

19. Mary Sharples³, "the Daughter of ye Above Said James Sharples, was born at neither providence ye twentith Seventh day of ye Seckond month, & hit was the Seckond day of ye week, 1702;" d. in Goshen township, Chester Co., about 1780; m. 2 mo. 25, 1722, at Providence Mtg., to Joseph Garrett, b. in Darby 2 mo. 25, 1701, d. in Goshen about 1770. Their children were—

72. Joshua, mentioned in edition of 1816: nothing further known.
73. Caleb, ditto.
74. Sarah, married Thomas White; d. 3 mo. 10, 1791.
75. James, d. 12 mo. 25, 1793, unmarried.
76. Jonathan, married Hannah Brinton; d. 1801.
77. Mary, married Joseph Eldridge.
78. Esther, mentioned in edition of 1816: nothing further known.
79. Jane, married Josiah Haines.
80. Joseph, b. 3 mo. 12, 1743; d. 10 mo. 1, 1792; m. Charity Collins.
81. Abraham, married Mary Taylor; d. about 1806.

Ann Garratt wife of William
Garat was born the 19 of March in the yeare 1642.

One Thomas Garrat married Ellin Raworth, 4 mo. 1672, and lived at Baulderton, Nottinghamshire, Eng., where the following children were born: Thomas, 3 mo. 26, 1674; Sarah, 1675; Mary, 1677; Timothy, 1678; Mary, 1679; John and Dorothy, 1680; Thomas, 1682. He was doubtless the son of John and Mary Garrat, and the same Thomas who emigrated in 1684 with Robert Pennell (see p. 87). In the records of Darby Meeting, Penna., we find the death of Thomas Garrett, 12 mo. 1, 1684, and of Ellen Garrett, 10 mo. 7, 1702.

William Garratt[1], son of John and Mary, was married 2 mo. 19, 1668, to Ann Kirke, and resided at Harby in the county of Leicester, Eng., from 1672 till 1684. He had the following children:

Anne, b. 12 mo. 4, 1668, at "Hosse"; buried 9 mo. 10, 1672.
Mary, b. 9 mo. 1670, at "Hose"; d. 11 mo. 16, 1703; m. Abel Noble.
Samuel, b. 5 mo. 7, 1672, at Harby; d. 1 mo. 4, 1743–4; m. Jane Pennell.
Hannah, b. 4 mo. 23, 1674; m. George Emlen and William Tidmarsh.
Sarah, b. 4 mo. 23, 1676; m. Randall Croxson.
Alce, b. 4 mo. 24, 1678; m. Joseph Pennell.
William, b. 2 mo. 4, 1679; d. 1 mo. 5, 1726–7; m. Mary Smith.
Thomas, b. 11 mo. 1681; d. 12 mo. 1716–17; m. Rebecca Vernon.
John, b. 1 mo. 22, 1685–6, in Penna.; d. 8 mo. 21, 1713, unmarried.

William Garratt and Samuel Levis, both of Harby, purchased 1000 acres of land in Penna., by deeds of lease and release, Aug. 9 and 10, 1684, and having obtained a certificate of membership from Friends at Harby, dated 5 mo. 20, 1684, they came over the same year. William settled in Upper Darby and was a serviceable member of the meeting for about thirty-seven years, after which he removed to Philadelphia. His wife died (or was buried) 2 mo. 7, 1721, and he in 1724.

Samuel Garratt², son of William and Ann, was married in 1698 to Jane Pennell, dau. of Robert and Hannah of Middletown, and remained on the homestead in Darby. They had children as follows:

Mary, b. 4 mo. 7, 1699; m. Thomas Oldman and Obadiah Eldridge.
Joseph, b. 2 mo. 25, 1701; d. about 1770; m. Mary Sharples.
Hannah, b. 7 mo. 17, 1704; m. William Lewis.
Samuel, b. 10 mo. 20, 1706; d. 1 mo. 19, 1707.
Samuel, b. 8 mo. 22, 1708; d. 1 mo. 29, 1747; m. Sarah Hibberd.
Nathan, b. 12 mo. 13, 1711; d. 9 mo. 16, 1802; m. Ann Knowles.
James, b. 4 mo. 17, 1714; d. 6 mo. 13, 1736.
Thomas, b. 10 mo. 26, 1717; d. 1 mo. 16, 1747–8; m. Rebecca Sykes.
Jane, b. 4 mo. 20, 1719; m. Jacob Hibberd.

Joseph Garrett³ took a certificate from Darby Mo. Mtg., dated 5 mo. 4, 1722, which, with one for his wife from Chester, was presented to Goshen Mo. Mtg., 6 mo. 3, 1722. Their residence was a short distance northeasterly from Goshen Meeting, of which he was appointed an overseer 1 mo. 12, 1732–3, in place of Isaac Malin. He was succeeded by John Holland, 12 mo. 16, 1735–6. Mary Garrett was appointed an overseer, 3 mo. 16, 1743, instead of Hannah Ashbridge, and was succeeded, 7 mo. 10, 1744, by her sister-in-law, Sarah Garrett. The will of Joseph Garrett of Goshen was dated 5 mo. 1, 1769, and proven Aug. 30, 1770, of which he appointed his sons James and Joseph executors. To his wife he gave a home and maintenance with "all the legacy left to her by her mother," &c.: to son James a tract of land purchased of Robert Williams: to son Jonathan the tract bought of Stephen Beakes, with part of the homestead, in all 140 acres: to son Joseph the remainder of the homestead, he paying £100 to his brother Abraham, and to have the 8 day clock: to son Abraham £300 more: to dau. Sarah White, £50: to dau. Jane Haines, £100: to gr. son Joseph Eldridge, £25 at 21.

The will of Mary Garrett, dated 4 mo. 22, 1773, proved June 10, 1780, gives to dau. Sarah White a case of drawers, looking-glass, £5, &c.: to sister Esther Gorman some clothing and a warming pan: to son Jonathan his father's watch and £5: to gr. son Joseph Eldridge, £5: to gr. dau. Jane Haines 5 shillings: sons James and Abraham residuary legatees.

In 1764 Joseph Garrett was assessed in Goshen with 220 acres and buildings, worth £35, per annum, 280 acres of woodland, at £7, per 100, 7 horses, 8 cattle and 12 sheep. He was a weaver by trade. In the inventory of his estate, 9 mo. 24, 1770, consisting of four pages, not summed up, the following items are mentioned:

Bonds, Bills and their amount at simple interest .	£848 : 11 : 11
Cash in the house	44 : 6 : 2
Book debts	70 : 19 : 5
One bed and furniture	20 : 0 : 0
Eleven silver spoons	11 : 10 : 0

20. James Sharples[3], "ye Son of ye Above Said James Sharples, was born at neither providence ye fifth day of ye ninth month, & it was ye Sixth day of ye weeke, 1703;" d. in N. P., 1775; m. 4 mo. 12, 1729, at Springfield Mtg., to Elizabeth Taylor, b. 4 mo. 9, 1705: dau of Isaac and Sarah Taylor of Springfield. Their children, as mentioned in the edition of 1816, were—

82. Sarah, married to Nathan Dicks, d. about 1759.
83. Isaac, not further mentioned.
84. Mary, ditto.
85. Lydia, ditto.
86. Rebecca, married Leonard Helm.
87. James, m. Ann Wilson, and probably died before his father.
88. Joshua, m. Susanna Brogden: d. 1811.
89. Job, not further mentioned.
90. Nathaniel, m. Elizabeth Wilkinson; d. 6 mo. 9, 1789.

Robert Taylor[1], of Little Leigh, Cheshire, Eng., is supposed to have come over in 1682, but his wife, Mary (Hayes—possibly his second wife), and children arrived on the "Endeavour" of London, 7 mo. 29, 1683. They settled in Springfield township, where Robert died in 1695, and his widow married Joseph Selby in 1701. His children were Isaac, Josiah (m. Elizabeth Pennell and Sarah ———), Mary (m. Henry Lewis), Phebe (m. in 1692 to Thomas Massey, and in 1710 to Bartholomew Coppock). Thomas (m. Hannah Howell), Jonathan, Jacob and Martha, of whom at least four were by his wife, Mary Hayes.

Isaac Taylor, the eldest son, was m. 9 mo. 4, 1689, in Cheltenham, Philadelphia Co., to Sarah Broadwell, who, with her mother, Mary, and sister Mary, arrived on the "Unicorne" of Bristol, 10 mo. 16, 1685. They settled on land given to him by his father, in Springfield, where Isaac died in 1716. His children were—

Isaac, b. 6 mo. 28, 1690; m. Sarah Smith.
John, b. 7 mo. 27, 1692; m. Elizabeth (Hall?)
Joseph, b. 11 mo. 11, 1694; m. Mary Maris.
Mary, b. 10 mo. 21, 1697; m. Job Thomas.
Benjamin, b. 7 mo. 18, 1700.
Sarah, b. 1 mo. 9, 1703; m. Thomas Massey, first cousin.
Elizabeth, b. 4 mo. 9, 1705; m. James Sharples.
Josiah, b. 4 mo. 7, 1708; m. Jane Stewart. (Ancestor of Bayard Taylor.)

James Sharples³ was, for several years prior to his death, a trustee of Providence Meeting, but does not appear to have taken an active part in the affairs of the Society. On 4 mo. 26, 1756, a complaint was made against him for refusing to refer to arbitrators a matter in dispute with Joel Willis, but a committee subsequently reported that Joel had no right to complain of James Sharples, "for that he had broke no part of his engagement."

James Sharples² of Lower Providence, yeoman, and Mary, his wife, in consideration of the sum of five shillings and natural affection, conveyed to their son James, 162 acres of the N. E. part of their land, Aug. 6, 1729. This was bounded on the South, except for a short distance, by the old Philadelphia road. On Sept. 9, 1748, Mary Sharples, widow, conveyed by deed of gift, to her son James, 40 acres additional on the south side of the road, from Crum Creek westward.

In 1764 James Sharples³ was assessed in Nether Providence with 160 acres and buildings, worth £15 per annum; 40 acres of uncultivated land, at £6 per 100; £3 per annum, ground rent; 3 horses, 3 cows and 3 sheep. His tax amounted to £1 : 6, and he was appointed to collect the tax for that year. On Oct. 16, 1766, he and Elizabeth his wife conveyed to John Hinkson of N. Providence, yeoman, the 40 acres on the south side of the Philadelphia road, and on Mar. 13, 1770, they sold to Elisha Jones, of Springfield, yeoman, one acre and twelve perches, on the north side of the road at Crum Creek bridge.

Elizabeth Sharples was chosen overseer of Providence Meeting, 8 mo. 28, 1751, instead of Judith Broom, and was succeeded by Ann Vernon, 3 mo. 24, 1755. She was living in 1775, but the date of her death is unknown.

The will of James Sharples was dated Feb. 18, 1775, and proven June 19, 1775. The following is a synopsis: To wife, Elizabeth, during life, the profits of the lease to James Crozer—£3 per annum, half the dwelling house and a maintenance, two feather beds and their furniture, six black walnut "Cheers," case of drawers, oval table, all my pewter marked "E. T."; two brass kettles and two iron pots: To grandson James Sharples, son of James, £5, at 21; to be paid by son Nathaniel: To son Joshua one English Shilling: "And as for my daughter Rebecca and my Granddaughters, Elizabeth Sharples, Mary Richards, Sarah and Abigail Dicks, I do not see cause to give anything but love and good will:" To son Nathaniel the homestead, about 161 acres, subject to his mother's privileges and maintenance, and he to pay his nephew, James, £5; also to son Nathaniel the profits of the above lease after his mother's death, with my horse, mare and colt, and cow, and residue of estate; he paying all debts, &c. Wife and son Nathaniel, executors. Witnesses, James Crozer, Joseph Gibbons, Junr, and Caleb Davis.

The inventory of personal estate, Sept. 15, 1775, by James Crozer and Caleb Davis, amounted to £125 : 1 : 7.

21. Rachel Sharples[3], "ye Daughter of ye above Said James Sharples, was born at neither Providence ye ninth day of ye fifth month, and it was ye Sixth day of ye weeke, 1708," and was married 8 mo. 17, 1728, at Providence Mtg., to Thomas Dell, of Ridley, where they settled. She died at the age of about 30 years. Their children are said to have been six in number (1st ed.) but only the following are named:

91. Abraham, probably died young.
92. Sarah, married Isaac Weaver: died in her 82d year.
93. Mary, b. 7 mo. 16, 1734; d. 10 mo. 5, 1801; m. William Pennell.
94. Lydia, probably died young.

Thomas Dell[1], of Upton, Co. Bucks, Eng., yeoman, born 12 mo. 22, 1665–6, son of Thomas and Elizabeth of that place, was married at Reading, Co. Berks, 5 mo. 22, 1691, to Mary Eldershaw of Reading, spinster, dau. of Edward and Mary Eldershaw of Southwark in Surrey. Their children were—

Mary, b. 5 mo. 31, 1695; died unmarried, after 1720.
Elizabeth, b. 6 mo. 1, 1697; d. 1743; m. William Swayne.
Sarah, b. 6 mo. 11, 1699; d. 7 mo. 27, 1714 (or 1715), unmarried.
Thomas, b. 9 mo. 29, 1701; d. about 1748; m. Rachel Sharples.
Edward, b. 2 mo. 24, 1704; d. 5 mo. 20, 1704.

Thomas Dell, "Late of Reading in Barkshire in Old England produced a certificate to the Satisfaction of this meeting," 10 mo. 27, 1708. By deed of Feb. 9, 1709, he obtained from John Faucit a "Stone messuage or Tenement where ye s^d^ Thomas Dell now Inhabits, with ye Two Tracts or parcels of Land and Tenements thereunto belonging," containing 260 acres, in Ridley, for £375. One of these tracts, being 200 acres, was the remainder of Thomas Nossiter's land, of which John Sharples[1] bought the other half, and this had been sold to Walter Faucit, the father of John, in 1684.

Thomas and Mary Dell were active members of Chester Preparative and Monthly Meetings, she being for many years clerk of the women's meeting. The women first began to keep separate minutes in 1695, and in 1712, the meeting directed "Agnes Salkeld to pay Mary Dell four pound for new transcribing of the ould booke into ye new one, out of the monthly meeting stock." The new book, bought of Francis Knowles, of Philadelphia, 3 mo. 28, 1711, for fifteen shillings, is now in possession of Sarah L. Miller, of Media, Pa.

On 8 mo. 25, 1742, "The Representatives of Chester Meeting acquainted this meeting that there is some Differance depending between John Crosby and Thomas Dell because the said John Crosby and Peter Dicks, haveing built a forge on Crum crick, ye damm whereof overflows some part of ye said Dell's land, the Damage of which they have not yet been capable to settle, neither by themselves nor by some assistance they have had; ye said Thomas Dell haveing insisted to have a certain sum of money yearly or to have the dam Pull'd down." A committee appointed by the meeting afterward awarded Thomas Dell £5 per annum, to which the others agreed, but it is not clear what was the result.

Thomas Dell died 6 mo. 15, 1750, aged 84, and his widow, Mary Dell, 9 mo. 11, 1751, aged 81.

By deed of 2 mo. 13, 1731, Thomas Dell of Ridley, yeoman, and Mary, his wife, gave to their son, Thomas Dell, two tracts of land in Ridley, containing together 157 acres, being part of the 260 acres already mentioned. Thomas Dell, senior, by will, 8 mo. 31, 1749, devised the messuage where he lived and about 108 acres to grandsons, Thomas and Samuel Swayne, for twenty-five years, and then to the two daughters, Sarah and Mary, of his son Thomas, deceased.

Thomas Dell, Jr., died intestate, and letters of administration were granted May 2, 1748, to Joseph Garrett. An inventory of his personalty made 3 mo. 5, 1748, by Caleb Harrison and Moses Vernon, amounted to £193 : 0 : 3. By proceedings in the Orphans' Court it appears that beside the property in Ridley, he was possessed of a messuage and 265 acres in Fallowfield township. On petition of his daughters, Sarah and Mary, the Court appointed John Sharples and Robert Squibb to be their guardians.

22. Sarah Sharples[3], "ye Daughter of ye Above Said James Sharples, was born at neither Providence ye twenty Seventh day of ye First month, & it was ye seckond day of ye week, 1710; died about 1800; married 1 mo. 21, 1733–4, at Providence Mtg., to Edward Woodward, Jr., of Middletown, born 10 mo. 28, 1707; died 1746. Their children were:

95. Mary, married Samuel Crosley: d. 6 mo. 1, 1823.
96. Abigail, b. 6 mo. 29, 1738; d. 11 mo. 10, 1815; m. Vincent Gilpin.
97. Lydia, married ——— Porter.
98. Hannah, married Jonathan Dawes.
99. Edward, married Mary (Engle) James; d. 10 mo. 7, 1805.

Edward Woodward, Jr., was appointed an overseer of Providence Meeting, 2 mo. 28, 1746, in room of Mordecai Taylor, and was succeeded by Nathan Taylor, 10 mo. 29, 1746. His widow was married 4 mo. 9, 1760, at Providence Mtg., to George Gilpin of Birmingham township, widower, and took a certificate to Concord Mo. Mtg. for herself and children, Lydia and Edward, dated 10 mo. 27, 1760. Her second husband was buried 10 mo. 17, 1773, and she received a certificate from Concord to Chester, dated 8 mo. 3, 1774.

Richard Woodward[1], with Jane, his wife, settled in Thornbury township, where he purchased 230 acres of land from John Simcock, by deed of 1 mo. 6, 1687. In 1698 he conveyed this land to his sons, Richard and Edward, and removed to a purchase of 250 acres in Middletown, where he died 10 mo. 7, 1706, aged about 70 years. His widow was alive in 1715.

Edward Woodward² received a deed from his father Dec. 10, 1698, for 100 acres in Thornbury, to which he added 100 acres by purchase from John Simcock, 12 mo 23, 1702–3; all of which he sold May 30, 1704, to Philip Taylor, and on the same date purchased from Thomas Taylor, brother to Philip, 200 acres in the southern part of Middletown, which was then his residence. He was married 3 mo. 24, 1705, to Abigail Edge, dau. of John and Jane, of Providence. She died 9 mo. 27, 1716, leaving five children:

Margaret, b. 12 mo. 22, 1705; m. Aaron Vernon of Providence.
Edward, b. 10 mo. 28, 1707; m. Sarah Sharples.
Abigail, b. 5 mo. 24, 1710; m. Moses Vernon, bro. of Aaron.
Mary, b. 6 mo. 25, 1712; probably died unmarried.
Hannah, b. 5 mo. 2, 1715; m. William Hunter of Newtown.

Edward Woodward, senior, married again 3 mo. 23, 1722, Alice Allen, widow, dau. of George and Sarah Smedley, by whom he had a son George, who died unmarried, and a dau. Jane, who married Nathaniel Newlin. About 1734 they removed to Newtown township, where he married a third time, 4 mo. 15, 1743, Elizabeth, widow of Peter Taylor of Providence. He died in Newtown, 1754.

Edward Woodward, Jr., received a deed of gift from his father, dated Dec. 30, 1741, for the homestead in Middletown. He died intestate and administration was granted to Sarah, his widow, Oct. 18, 1746. An inventory of his estate, by Caleb Harrison and John Martin, amounted to £709 : 4, beside the 200 acres of land. The widow filed her accounts Mar. 15, 1747–8, and at the same time petitioned for guardians for her five children, upon which Abram Vernon and John Fairlamb were appointed. Her will was dated Feb. 12, 1793, and proven Feb. 16, 1800, in which she gave her daughter Lydia Porter £5, and to her grand son, Edward Woodward, her eight-day clock, &c., &c.

24. David Sharples³, James², b. 4 mo. 24, 1715, in Nether Providence, m. Priscilla Powell, dau. of Joseph Powell of Marple, and settled on a farm in Providence. They had six children:

100. Mary.
101. Esther.
102. Ann, married to John Andrews Dec. 18, 1766 (St. Michael's and Zion Church record). No further information obtained.
103. David, married to Sarah Moore.
104. Jesse, married to ——— ———.
105. Lydia.

In the edition of 1816, the marriage of David Sharples and the names of his children are given, but nothing further, and their history is rather obscure. He was complained of by Providence Meeting, 6 mo. 25, 1740, for marriage by a "priest," as ministers of other denominations were then styled by Friends; and having been precautioned he was disowned, 8 mo. 27, 1740, for this offence. No further information has been obtained respecting his wife's parentage, though there is little doubt that she was of the family of Thomas Powell, who came from the "Lordship of Rudheith" in Cheshire, Eng., in 1682. The family settled in Upper Providence and were Friends, but through the influence of George Keith became Episcopalians. Thomas died in 1714, leaving a second wife, Anna, and sons John, Joseph and Thomas. One Joseph Powell of Nether Providence made his will May 2, 1752, of which he appointed his wife Katharine and John Sharples, executors. He does not mention any daughter, Priscilla. Joseph Powell of Marple died about 1775, leaving several children and grandchildren, but there is no mention of a Priscilla among them.

Mary Sharples, widow of James, by deed of gift, dated Dec. 20, 1748, conveyed to her son David Sharples, yeoman, 102 acres in Nether Providence, adjoining land of Joseph Powell, James Sharples and others. David Sharples of Nether Providence, yeoman, and Priscilla, his wife, conveyed this land April 25, 1759, to Peter Dicks, for £280 : 10. This is the last that has been noticed of David Sharples.

An inventory of the estate of Priscilla Sharples, late of Darby township, widow, was made Feb. 25, 1782, by Robert Pennell and James Pennell, containing the following items:

Apparel	£2 : 18 : 3
Cash in bills of credit of the States of Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware & Continental money	39 : 4 : 6
Cash due on bond, bill, note, &c., Interest Included	357 : 5 : 8
Book debts	17 : 13 : 3
4 yards of Cloth @ 17-6 ₱	3 : 10 : 0
1 Book	0 : 1 : 0
1 Long wheel	7 : 6
1 Littel wheel	0 : 0 : 6
	£421 : 0 : 8

There is no record of the granting of letters of administration, yet Daniel Young filed an account Mar. 13, 1784, as administrator of the estate of his mother-in-law, Priscilla Sharples, of Darby. This shows a total of receipts of £438 : 13 : 6, disposed of, in part, as follows:

By Cash paid Nathan Pearson for a Coffin	4	0	0
By nursing the Deceased in her last Illness & funeral Expences paid Geo: Husticler ℔ Rec^t	10	12	6
By Cash paid Samuel Taylor (Funeral Expences) ℔ Rec^t	2	14	7

By Effects Delivered Samuel Taylor, ditto	5	7	11
By Effects Delivered Geo: Husticler, ditto	1	0	0
By Effects in Daniel Young's hands, ditto		19	6

The accounts showed a balance in hand of £154 : 18 : 6, to all of which Daniel Young made his mark.

The evidence here presented is to the effect that Daniel Young, George Husticler and Samuel Taylor had married daughters of David Sharples, but the names of their respective wives are unknown. Neither is anything further known of the husbands or wives.

25. Esther Sharples³, James², b in Nether Providence, was married 3 mo. 18, 1738, at Providence Mtg., to Mordecai Taylor, b. 12 mo. 7, 1713; d. 1747; son of Peter and Elizabeth (Jarman) Taylor of Upper Providence. They had two children—

106. Mary, m. to Jacob Dunn; d. 12 mo. 28, 1836.
107. Sarah, m. to William Robinson; d. 2 mo. 12, 1818.

Esther married a second husband, Richard Gorman, of Providence, and had issue—

108. Esther, b. 1 mo. 29, 1750; d. 1838, unmarried.
109. James, b. 9 mo. 15, 1751; d. 1835, unmarried.
110. Enoch, b. 12 mo. 27, 1752; d. 1837; m. Martha Thomson.
111. Rachel, b. 11 mo. 25, 1754; d. 1833, unmarried.
112. Lydia, b. 9 mo. 27, 1760; d. 2 mo. 25, 1851; m. Alexander Dowell.
113. Hannah, b. 3 mo. 19, 1763; d. 1853, unmarried.

William Taylor[1] and his brother, Peter, came from Sutton in Cheshire, Eng., 1682, and settled in Upper Providence, where they took up 350 acres each, in right of their purchase of 1250 acres before leaving England. A part of each tract is now included in the town of Media. Margaret Taylor, wife of William, d. 1 mo. 3, 1682–3, and her husband three days later, leaving three children, Joseph, Mary, who m. Samuel Robinett (son of Allen), and Elizabeth, who m. John Powell (son of Thomas).

Peter Taylor[1] was married in 1685, to Sarah, dau. of John Houlston, by whom he had five children, Peter, b. 3 mo. 20, 1686; John, b. 12 mo. 1, 1687; Sarah, b. 5 mo. 6, 1690, m. Robert Thornton; William, b. 4 mo. 19, 1694; Samuel, b. 12 mo. 13, 1696–7.

Peter Taylor, Jr.[2], was married 2 mo. 28, 1712, to Elizabeth, dau. of John and Margaret Jarman of Radnor, b. 9 mo. 16, 1690. They settled on a part of his father's tract in Providence; perhaps at the homestead, as his father, about this time, removed to Caln township, where he died 9 mo. 15, 1720.

Peter, Jr., died March, 1739–40, and his widow was married 4 mo. 15, 1743, to Edward Woodward. Their children were, Mordecai, b. 12 mo. 7, 1713; Nathan, b. 1 mo. 29, 1715; Sarah, b. 12 mo. 2, 1718, m. John Heacock; Margaret, m. to Peter Thomas; Peter, m. to Elizabeth Hall; John, Joseph, Elizabeth, m. to William Smedley.

The will of Mordecai Taylor, of Upper Providence, was dated 6 mo. 7, 1747, and proved Oct. 19, 1747, in which he gave to his wife, Esther, the use of the real estate during life, after which it was to be divided between his two daughters. The land consisted of 150 acres which he had purchased from John Davis and Margaret his wife, by deed of Oct. 4, 1737. The inventory by Henry Camm and George Miller amounted to £200.

Richard Gorman was received into membership at Providence Meeting, 10 mo. 30, 1745. He produced an acknowledgment, 4 mo. 25, 1750, for himself and wife, Esther, for their marriage by a priest. He was complained of 5 mo. 29, 1758, on account of a debt to Daniel Sharples, and on 7 mo. 31, 1758, it appears that his goods had been seized but not yet sold, and he was also complained of for suing David Sharples, who apprehended himself in danger of having to pay money twice over. Richard was disowned 11 mo. 27, 1758. In 1786 he was assessed in Marple.

Esther Gorman, widow of Richard, died about 1807. A beaver hat, large pewter dish, a pewter mug and a rolling pin, which belonged to her, are now in possession of her grandson, Enoch Dowell, and the last is still in use.

26. Susanna Sharples³, Joseph², b. in Nether Providence 12 mo. 18, 1705; m. 2 mo. 19, 1726, at Middletown Mtg., to Joseph Chamberlin, son of Robert and Mary Chamberlin (or Chamberlain) of Concord, where they settled and he died 5 mo. 30, 1772. They had three children—

114. Mary, who died young.
115. Hannah, m. to Robert Pennell, d. about 1768.
116. Benjamin, m. to Elizabeth Mercer, d. 1763.

Robert Chamberlain¹ was doubtless from Wiltshire, Eng. His mother, Elizabeth, with her second husband, Francis Hickman, came from that part of England prior to 1685, in which year the latter died. Beside Robert Chamberlain she had at least three children by her first husband, viz., Elizabeth, m. in England to Richard Ridgway, the ancestor of the Ridgway family of Penna. and New Jersey, Sarah, m. to Richard Arnold, 2 mo. 19, 1681, near Burlington, N. J., and Jean, m. to Charles Jones. By her second marriage she had Joseph Hickman, Benjamin (ancestor of those of the name in Chester County, Pa.), Mary, who m. Joseph Edwards, and Hannah, m. to Robert Way.

Robert Chamberlain married Mary ——— and settled in Concord township, where he purchased 100 acres of land 9 mo. 27, 1686. He also owned land in Aston township: died about 1732. His children were—

Susanna, b. 7 mo. 13, 1691; m. John Pyle.
John, b. 10 mo. 1, 1692; d. 1731; m. Lettice Key.
Robert, b. 8 mo. 17, 1694; d. 1731–2; m. Sarah Woodward and Cicely ———.
Mary, b. 10 mo. 21, 1698; d. 9 mo. 10, 1726; m. Daniel Pyle.
Jacob, b. 2 mo. 30, 1702 (perhaps should be Joseph).
Joseph, b. —— —— ——; d. 5 mo. 30, 1772; m. Susanna Sharples.

Joseph Chamberlin² (as he wrote his name), made his will Apr. 26, 1772 (proven June 9, 1772), beginning thus: "In Awful Remembrance of the Mercys and Favours of the great and Gloriouse God, I, Joseph Chamberlin of Concord," &c: To wife, Susanah, the use of two rooms at the east end of my house, with cellar, use of well, oven, orchard, one horse and one cow, one-fourth of household furniture, and £300: To grandson, Joseph Pennell, my plantation whereon he now dwells, in Aston, about 180 acres; it being the same which formerly belonged to my brother John Chamberlin: To grandson, Thomas Pennell, my plantation whereon I dwell, with the land I purchased of John Nicklin; in all about 280 acres, subject to my wife's privileges: To granddaughters Mary Fairlamb, Abigail Pennell and Lydia Pennell, £200, each: To Hannah, wife of Jonathan Haycock, £5: To Executors, wife and grandson, Joseph Pennell, £40, in lieu of commissions: Residue to five grandchildren. He was buried at Concord Mtg., 6 mo. 1, 1772.

27. Joseph Sharples[3], Joseph[2], b. in N. Providence 7 mo. 8, 1707; d. in Middletown 1 mo. 4, 1769; m. 4 mo. 19, 1740, at Concord Mtg., to Mary Pyle, b. 1 mo. 31, 1723; d. 1 mo. 23, 1812; buried at Middletown Mtg., 1 mo. 26, 1812. They had eleven children, born in Middletown, viz.:

117. Jacob, b. 4 mo. 21, 1741; d. 1802; m. Sarah Haines.
118. Joseph, b. 5 mo. 31, 1743; d. 179–; m. Mary Hibberd.
119. Daniel, b. 5 mo. 30, 1745; d. 12 mo. 25, 1822; m. Elizabeth Dicks.
120. Hannah, b. 12 mo. 20, 1747; d. 10 mo. 2, 1823; m. Abraham Pennell (see No. 445).
121. Caleb, b. 3 mo. 12, 1750; d. 7 mo. 4, 1821; m. Ruhene Jordan.
122. William, b. 10 mo. 4, 1752; d. 9 mo. 2, 1805; m. Mary Martin.
123. Mary, b. 9 mo. 2, 1756; d. after 1838; m. Morris Truman.
124. Amos, b. 4 mo. 7, 1759; d. 9 mo. 4, 1807; m. Lydia Hill.
125. Nathan, b. 9 mo. 27, 1761; d. 4 mo. 19, 1829; m. Rachel Pennell.
126. Benjamin, b. 8 mo. 7, 1764; d. 5 mo. 28, 1857; m. Hannah Bonsall.
127. Jonathan, b. 10 mo. 17, 1767; d. 1 mo. 20, 1860; m. Edith Nichols.

Daniel Pyle, b. 5 mo. 29, 1694, son of Robert and Ann, of Bethel township, Chester (now Delaware) County, Pa., m. 3 mo. 14, 1717, at Concord Mtg., Mary Chamberlin, dau. of Robert and Mary: 2d m. 11 mo. 9, 1727, at Concord Mtg., to Mary Pennell, of Aston, dau. of John and Mary (Morgan) Pennell. He had four children.

Susanna, b. 12 mo. 3, 1718; d. 5 mo. 15, 1776; m. John Griest.
Hannah, b. 12 mo. 21, 1720; d. 2 mo. 23, 1727.
Mary, b. 1 mo. 31, 1723; d. 1 mo. 23, 1812; m. Joseph Sharples.
Robert, b. 6 mo. 18, 1730; d. —— —— ——; m. Rebecca Hampton.

Joseph Sharples, senior, and Lydia his wife by deeds of lease and release, Aug. 19, and 20, 1734, conveyed to their eldest son Joseph, for five shillings and "the natural Love and affection they have for their said son, and for his better preferment in the world," a messuage or tenement and two tracts of land in Middletown. The first tract consisted of 60 acres, part of the original survey of 300 acres, and the second of 100 acres purchased from Samuel Tomlinson. Lydia made her mark, "L."

May 2, 1752, John Grist of York Co., yeoman, and wife, Susanna, and Joseph Sharples, Junr, of Chester Co., yeoman, and wife, Mary, release to Robert Pyle of said county, weaver, one moiety of a messuage and 300 acres in Bethel, which Robert Pyle, the grandfather, conveyed May 1, 1717, to his son Daniel, who died intestate, leaving the three children, Susanna, Mary and Robert; of whom the last inherited a double share. This release was for Robert's share but it appears by a draft of the whole that his sisters had 170 acres thereof.

Joseph Sharpless, Jr., by lease and release, Feb. 15, and 16, 1739, conveyed to his brother Samuel, 21 acres and 44 perches of land, part of the 60 acres given to him by their father, for £31 : 17 : 6. In 1764 he was assessed in Middletown with 138 acres and buildings, worth £20 per annum, 6 horses, 5 cows and 10 sheep; on all of which the tax was £1 : 7 : 6.

He died intestate and letters of administration were granted Feb. 25, 1769, to his widow and son Joseph. The inventory, by Robert Mendenhall and Isaac Chamberlin, amounted to £405 : 15 : 9½, including an eight-day clock, valued at £16.

Mary Sharples and others were appointed 12 mo. 29, 1777, to endeavor to discourage the too frequent use of spirituous liquors, and to visit those who kept taverns in order to prevail with them to decline the business. She was chosen an overseer for Middletown Mtg., 12 mo. 28, 1778, with Agnes Minshall and Abigail Swaffer, and was succeeded 9 mo. 22, 1786, by Phebe Emlen. She probably died at the residence of her son-in-law, Abraham Pennell, who soon after, in accordance with her request, sent a copy of the records in her Bible to her children Mary and Jonathan, in the western part of the State.

"James Broome of Marsfield, son of Francis Broome of Marsfield aforesaid, in the County of Gloucester, Druget maker, and Mary Alexander, spinster, Daughter of William Alexander of Nailsworth in the Parish of Horsley in the County aforesaid, mercer," and Edith(?) his wife, were married 1 mo. (Mar.) 5, 1713 at a public meeting of Friends at Nailsworth, England. The certificate of this marriage, on parchment, is now in possession of Edward Bringhurst, of Wilmington, Del. James Broome produced a certificate of membership to Concord Mo. Mtg. 10 mo. 2, 1717, from "ffrenchay in Glosetershare," and on 8 mo. 5, 1719, requested one from Concord as he was going "to Grate Brittain about his Lawfull Busness." It is noted 4 mo. 6, 1720, that he "being gone to sea and his wife suddenly Died of Child Bed and Leaving tow small children behind her," of whom she wished William Pyle to have the care. James Broome in his will, dated 7 mo. 13, 1721, proven 12 mo. 19, 1721–2, mentions his dau. Edith, and devises to son Alexander an estate in Marshfield, Gloucestershire, Eng., to which place he was to be sent when four years old, unless his relations were then dead or unwilling to receive him. An estate in West Jersey was directed to be sold.

The name of Mendenhall was originally Mildenhall (sometimes contracted to Minall), from the manor of Mildenhall in Wiltshire. John Mendenhall came over as early as 1683, and settled in Concord, where also his brother Benjamin found a home, and a sister, Mary, became the wife of Nathaniel Newlin, in 1685. Another brother, Moses, and a sister Margery, wife of Thomas Martin, from Great Bedwin, Wiltshire, arrived 10 mo. 16, 1685, but Moses afterward returned to England.

Benjamin Mendenhall¹ was married 2 mo. 17, 1689, to Ann Pennell, dau. of Robert Pennell "of Chester creek," and resided in the northern part of Concord township, where he died 2 mo. 1740, then being in the station of an Elder for Concord Meeting. He was sometimes styled a wheelwright. The children of Benjamin and Ann were—

Ann, b. 3 mo. 31, 1690; died young.
Benjamin, b. 3 mo. 5, 1691; d. 5 mo. 13, 1743; m. Lydia Roberts.
Joseph, b. 3 mo. 17, 1692; d. 1748; m. Ruth Gilpin.
Moses, b. 2 mo. 19, 1694; d. 9 mo. 1731; m. Alice (Bowater) Pyle.
Hannah, b. 6 mo. 11, 1696; m. Thomas Marshall and Peter Grubb.
Samuel, b. 1 mo. 28, 1697; probably died young or unmarried.
Rebecca, b. 10 mo. 10, 1699; m. Thomas Gilpin.
Ann, b. 7 mo. 22, 1703; m. John Bartram, the first American botanist.
Nathan, b. 8 mo. 16, 1705; probably died young or unmarried.
Robert, b. 7 mo. 7, 1713; d. 6 mo. 23, 1785; m. Phebe Taylor, &c.

Benjamin Mendenhall² was married 3 mo. 9, 1717, at Gwynedd Meeting, to Lydia Roberts, b. in Wales about 1694, d. 7 mo. 4, 1752 (as the wife of William Hammans); dau. of Owen and Mary Roberts of Gwynedd, (now) Montgomery Co., Pa. They settled in Concord and had children—

Mary, b. 1 mo. 21, 1717–18; d. 3 mo. 10, 1760; m. John Hibberd.
Hannah, b. 11 mo. 19, 1719; d. 8 mo. 19, 1760; m. Nathan Yarnall.
Samuel, b. 9 mo. 2, 1722; d. about 1787; m. Esther Williamson.
Martha, b. 12 mo. 8, 1724; d. 10 mo. 20, 1812; m. Benjamin Sharples.
Joshua, b. 11 mo. 11, 1727; d. aged 88 yrs., 25 days; m. Lydia Mendenhall.
Lydia, b. 3 mo. 24, 1737; d. 7 mo. 21, 1813, unmarried.

Benjamin Mendenhall² was "recommended" as a minister to the Meeting of Ministers and Elders, 6 mo. 2, 1725, and on 1 mo. 7, 1742–3, received a certificate to visit Friends in Virginia and North Carolina, in company with Samuel Hopwood, from England. When about to return he was taken ill and died at the house of Zachariah Nixon in Perquimans Co., N. C., aged 52 years.

Benjamin Sharples was appointed an overseer of Middletown Mtg., 2 mo. 27, 1741, in room of Nathan Yarnall: succeeded by Samuel Sharples, 8 mo. 29, 1744: appointed again 12 mo. 25, 1758, instead of Philip Yarnall, dec'd, and succeeded, 8 mo. 29, 1763, by Joseph Talbot, Junr.: mentioned

3 mo. 23, 1764, as a subscriber to George Fox's Journal: produced a manumission 9 mo. 30, 1776, for a "Melotto boy under his care," which was ordered to be recorded.

Martha Sharples was appointed overseer 6 mo. 27, 1763, instead of Hannah Yarnall: appointed with others 9 mo. 23, 1763, to visit families: succeeded 3 mo. 24, 1775, by Abigail Swaffer as overseer: appointed with others, 1 mo. 27, 1777, to visit families, and 3 mo. 23, 1781, to assist the overseers in laboring for a reformation.

Benjamin Sharples purchased 387 acres in West Caln township, by lease and release dated Aug. 5, and 6, 1734, from his uncle Samuel Lewis, to whom it had been patented June 18, 1734. Benjamin conveyed this to his father, July 24, and 25, 1736, and by deeds of the same date received from his parents the homestead in Middletown, with 150 acres of the original survey and a small tract of 9 acres on the west side of Chester Creek, in Aston township, for £20, and natural affection. He built a new stone house in 1753, a little easterly from the first dwelling, and this, with an addition made in 1802, by Jesse Darlington, forms the residence of Jesse Darlington, the grandson. In 1764 he was assessed with 150 acres and buildings, worth £21, per annum, 8 horses, 14 cattle and 11 sheep.

His will, dated 2 mo. 10, 1785, was proven June 2, 1785, in which, after providing for the maintenance of his widow, giving her £150, and during her widowhood the use of "all the East end of my House, being the new addition," &c., he devises as follows: To children of son Benjamin, deceased, £50: To dau. Edith Ferris, £78: To son Joshua, £100: To son Aaron, £220: To dau. Amy, £150: To dau. Hannah, £56: To dau. Hester, £150: To dau. Sarah Sharples, £155, with a bed, bedding and furniture thereunto belonging, a new case of drawers and a walnut candlestick, "all of which were called my Daughter Rebeckah's;" also a new saddle and bridle: To dau.-in-law Elizabeth Sharples, 20 shillings, and to her son Benjamin, £100: To son Samuel the messuage or tenement and tract of land whereon I now dwell, 160 acres, at 21, he paying £300, to other legatees and providing for his mother; To son Joshua the homestead at a reasonable rent until Samuel is of age, and the latter to be put to a trade: Residue to the eight surviving children, Joshua to have a double share.

The inventory by Abraham Sharples and Joseph Pennell, amounted to £1780 : 0 : 2½, of which £1358 : 7 : 4, was in bonds, &c.

Benjamin Ferris, of Wilmington, wrote in a little memorandum book his childish recollections of his grandfather Benjamin Sharples, who died when the former was less than five years old.

29. Samuel Sharples[3], Joseph[2], b. in Nether Providence, 12 mo. 7, 1710–11; d. in Middletown 11 mo. 24, 1790; m. 3 mo. 26, 1736, at Concord Mtg., to Jane Newlin, b. about 1715; d. 10 mo. 28, 1798, aged 83 years. They had twelve children—

144. Mary, b. 3 mo. 20, 1737; married Cornelius Wood.
145. John, b. 7 mo. 26, 1738; d. 6 mo. 16, 1805, unmarried.
146. Thomas, b. 12 mo. 26, 1739–40; d. 11 mo. 24, 1811, unmarried.
147. Lydia, b. 4 mo. 24, 1742; d. 3 mo. 30, 1831; m. William Russell.
148. Abigail, b. 1 mo. 5, 1743–4; d. after 1816; unmarried.
149. Samuel, b. 11 mo. 17, 1745–6; d. 11 mo. 1746–7.
150. Hannah, b. 11 mo. 14, 1747–8; d. 9 mo. 28, 1826; m. William Iddings.
151. Susanna, b. 11 mo. 21, 1749–50; d. 4 mo. 13, 1842; m. Jacob Talbot.
152. Phebe, b. 5 mo. 25, 1752; d. 7 mo. 28, 1826; m. Peter Smedley.
153. Rachel, b. 6 mo. 3, 1754; d. 5 mo. 1831; m. Nathaniel Walter.
154. Samuel, b. 9 mo. 3, 1756; d. 7 mo. 1764.
155. Joel, b. 11 mo. 28, 1760; d. 9 mo. 25, 1795; m. Hannah Mendenhall.

Nicholas Newlin, a gentleman in easy circumstances, with Elizabeth, his wife, and children emigrated from Mt. Melick, County Tyrone, Ireland, in 1683, and settled in Concord township, (now) Delaware Co., Pa. His certificate from Friends in Ireland, dated 12 mo. 25, 1682, expresses dissatisfaction, with his removal, for which he had given no satisfactory reason, "but our Godly jealousy is that his chief ground is fearfulness of sufferings here for the testimony of Jesus, or coveting worldly liberty." He gave evidence before the Provincial Council, 7 mo. 7, 1683, respecting ill usage of sailors by James Kilner, master of the Levee of Liverpool, upon which he doubtless had been a passenger.

In 1685 he was appointed to a seat in the Provincial Council, and was for a time one of the justices of the courts of Chester County. He had a large estate in Concord and Birmingham and built a mill at the former place in very early times. Friends' meetings were held at his house as early as 1687, and after his death, May, 1669, were continued at his widow's. She died in 1717. Some of their children appear to have remained in Ireland, but three of them, Nathaniel, John and Rachel, came to this country and from the first are descended those of the name here. John died unmarried and Rachel married Ephraim Jackson.

A horoscope among the "Taylor Papers" bears the inscription, "Netus Natheniel Nulen anno 1665, desem 18 d: 3 h: 21 m: P. M.," which would make it appear that Nathaniel was young when married, 2 mo.

(April) 17, 1685, to Mary Mendenhall, from Wiltshire. They had the following children, according to the Concord Meeting records:

Jemima, b. 12 mo. 9, 1685–6; married Richard Eavenson, 1712.
Elizabeth, b. 1 mo. 3, 1687–8; married Ellis Lewis, 1713.
Nicholas, b. 3 mo. 19, 1689; married Edith Pyle, 1715.
Nathaniel, b. 1 mo. 19, 1690; d. 12 mo. 1731–2; m. Jane Woodward.
John, b. 12 mo. 28, 1690–1; d. about 1753; m. Mary Woodward.
Kezie, b. 12 mo. 22, 1695–6; married William Baily.
Mary, b. 2 mo. 12, 1699; married Richard Clayton, 1724.

Nathaniel Newlin continued to reside in Concord and was a prominent person both in the Society of Friends and in the community, being for several years a member of the Provincial Assembly, a commissioner of property, justice of the county courts and a trustee of the Loan Office of the province. In 1724 he purchased a tract of over 7000 acres on Brandywine, now known as Newlin township. Although advanced in life he married again 2 mo. 17, 1729, Mary Fincher, and died in the following month.

John Newlin[3] was married in 1711 to Mary, dau. of Richard and Jane Woodward, of Middletown, who survived him, and died 11 mo. 24, 1790, aged 101 years. Their children were—

Mary, m. 5 mo. 20, 1752, to John Hall of Concord.
Jane, m. 3 mo. 26, 1736, to Samuel Sharples (29).
Rebecca, m. 2 mo. 16, 1740, to Richard Fawkes of Newtown.
John, m. 9 mo. 13, 1745, to Mary, dau. of Nicholas Pyle.
Abigail, m. 2 mo. 17, 1745, to Moses Palmer of Concord.
Sarah, m. 2 mo. 20, 1771, to John Worrall of Edgmont.
Nathaniel, m. to his cousin Jane, dau. of Edward Woodward.

Joseph Sharples and wife Lydia conveyed to their son Samuel Sharples, of Middletown, weaver, July 24, and 25, 1736, 100 acres of the original survey in Middletown, being the eastern part thereof. Samuel also purchased from his brother Joseph, by lease and release, Feb. 15, and 16, 1739, 21 acres, 44 perches more of the original tract; and by deed of April 5, 1754, obtained from Thomas Grisell and Margaret, his wife, 95¾ acres adjoining, to the estward, which almost exactly coincided with the 90 acres of overplus land, cut off by the re-survey of 1701–2, and patented to Thomas Martin. In 1764 he was assessed with 217 acres and buildings, worth £22 per annum, 7 horses, 7 cattle and 19 sheep: tax £1 : 11 : 3.

Samuel Sharples was appointed an overseer of Middletown Mtg., 8 mo. 29, 1744, in room of Benjamin Sharples, and was succeeded by Lawrence Cox, 8 mo. 29, 1750 · was again appointed, 5 mo. 29, 1758, in place of James Pennell. Jane Sharples was chosen overseer 7 mo. 27, 1772, instead of Abigail Worrall, and desiring to be released was succeeded by Agnes Minshall, 6 mo. 26, 1775. Samuel was buried at Middletown Meeting 11 mo. 27, 1790, and his widow 10 mo. 30, 1798. By his will he devised to his son Joel the land purchased from Thomas Grisell, and the remainder of land to his son John.

30. Lydia Sharples³, Joseph², b. in Middletown, 8 mo. 7, 1713; d. 1741; m. 8 mo. 21, 1736, at M. Mtg., to John Martin, son of Thomas and Mary (Knight) Martin of Middletown. He m. 2d wife, Phebe Mercer, of Westtown, 8 mo. 20, 1743, and died in 1747, followed by his wife in Nov. of same year. No issue by either wife.

31. Nathan Sharples³, Joseph², b. in Middletown 9 mo. 7, 1715; d. in Goshen Township (now West Chester borough) 1755; m. 10 mo. 10, 1741, at Birmingham Mtg., to Hannah Townsend, b. 6 mo. 9, 1718; d. 12 mo. 31, 1790; dau. of Joseph and Martha Townsend of East Bradford township. Their children were—

156. Joseph, b. 1 mo. 24, 1744; died young, before 5 mo. 13, 1755.
157. Martha, b. 9 mo. 16, 1745; married Jacob Haines.
158. Lydia, b. 7 mo. 27, 1746; died young, before 5 mo. 13, 1755.
159. Nathan, b. 8 mo. 29, 1749; died young, before 5 mo. 13, 1755.
160. William, b. 1 mo. 9, 1752; d. 10 mo. 11, 1817; m. Ann Hunt.
161. Hannah, b. 11 mo. 15, 1753; d. 1804, unmarried.

Nathan Sharples removed with his parents to West Caln township, in 1737, and on June 4, 1740, they conveyed to him 193 acres of land in that township, it being the western half of the tract which his brother Benjamin had formerly owned. This land lay about a mile westward of West Caln Meeting and was lately owned principally by Phinehas Ash. Nathan married and took his wife to this place, but in 1744 they removed to a part of her father's land in Bradford, containing 32 acres, on which Nathan took a lease for seven years dated Mar. 25, 1743 (1744?), Joseph Townsend agreeing to erect a barn thereon by the 1st of June, 1744. A certificate dated 10 mo. 20, 1744, transferred their right of membership from Bradford to Concord Monthly Meeting, of which latter meeting Birmingham was a branch.

Nathan Sharples of Bradford, yeoman, and wife Hannah, Apr. 22, and 23, 1747, conveyed to Nathaniel White, of West Caln, their land in that township, for £200, and by deeds of lease and release, 3 mo. (May) 4, and 5, 1747, purchased from William Dean, of Birmingham, and wife, Lydia, 203½ acres, in Goshen township, for £400. This is now included in the southern part of the borough of West Chester, being bounded by the eastern and western limits of the borough and extending from Union Street southward 84 perches.

Nathan probably removed his dwelling place ere long to his new purchase which was adjoining the land of his father-in-law. His will, dated 5 mo. 13, 1755, and proven June 11, 1755, gives to his wife the plantation of 200 acres, whereon he lived, until his son William should arrive at the age of 21 years; also the personal estate, out of which she was to raise the sum of £100, for his daughters, Martha and Hannah, when of age: William to have the land and pay his sisters £5, each, his mother £5, yearly, and provide her a home.

Hannah Sharples was married again, 4 mo. 13, 1758, at Birmingham Mtg., to Charles Ryant of Goshen, formerly of Concord, whose first wife was Ann Chamberlin, dau. of John and Lettice, of Aston. By his second wife he had two children—

Ann, b. 1 mo. 13, 1759; d. 8 mo. 29, 1823; m. Caleb Haines.
Nathan, b. 8 mo. 27, 1762; probably died young.

To Hannah Ryant her father devised the 32 acres whereon she had lived in Bradford, and she with her husband conveyed it to her nephew, Nathan Sharples (son of Jacob), in 1775. Mary Brinton and Hannah Ryant were appointed overseers of Birmingham Mtg. 8 mo. 7, 1758, in room of Martha Townsend and Sarah Taylor; and Hannah was succeeded by Elizabeth Painter, 8 mo. 7, 1760. Charles Ryant married a 3d wife, Mary Carrell, Sept. 22, 1791, before Thomas Cheyney, Esq., for which he was disowned by Friends.

Richard Townsend, b. 9 mo. (Nov.) 30, 1645, at or near Cirencester, in Gloucestershire, Eng. is thought to have been the son of a Richard Townsend who, as a Friend, suffered persecution by imprisonment at Cirencester in 1660, 1662 and 1675. It is also stated that the son became a Friend and "received the Truth in the love thereof" 3 mo. 1st, 1672, went to London in the 3d mo. 1676, and was married to Ann Hutchins, 3 mo. 25, 1677. He came to Pennsylvania in company with William Penn, on the Welcome, 1682, and settled at first near Chester, where he was concerned in setting up the first mill near that place, for which the timbers were brought, ready framed, from England. About the close of 1683, he removed to the neighborhood of Germantown, Philadelphia County, where he erected another mill. In Proud's History of Pennsylvania will be found some account of his experiences as written by himself. He became a minister among Friends and paid a religious visit to England in 1706–8. In 1713 he removed to Philadelphia. He died at the residence of his nephew, Joseph Townsend, in East Bradford, 1 mo. 28, 1732, and was buried on the 30th, at Philadelphia. His children were Joseph, b. 10 mo. 2, 1678, d. young; Hannah, b. 8 mo. 13, 1680, m. Isaac Cook of Germantown, 9 mo. 14, 1706, and d. 2 mo. 18, 1763; James, b. on the Welcome, 9 mo. 2, 1682, d. young; Mary, b. 3 mo. 22, 1685; Joseph, b 5 mo. 16, 1687, m. 9 mo. 11, 1711, to Elizabeth Harmer, and left a dau., Ann, b. Feb. 20, 1713, who m. Thomas Sugar Dec. 15, 1735.

Richard Townsend of Bucklebury in Berkshire, weaver, perhaps the father of the emigrant above, was buried 5 mo. 19, 1697, aged 95.

William Townsend of Bucklebury, carpenter, brother of Richard, the emigrant, was married 11 mo. 28, 1679 to Jane Smith, but she did not long survive, and he was married again, 2 mo. 1, 1683, at Faringdon Magna, Berks, to Mary Lawrence of Little Coxwell, by whom he had Joseph, William, Mary, b. 5 mo. 4, 1689, and Joan, b. 4 mo. 27, 1690. He was buried at Bucklebury 5 mo. 19, 1692 (if the date has been correctly copied.)

Joseph Townsend[1], b. 11 mo. 18, 1684, was young when his father died and lived some time with Oliver Sansom, a highly valued Friend. He was bound apprentice Sept. 29, 1699, to Jonathan Sargood, a weaver, for seven years: was married 9 mo. 27, 1710, to Martha Wooderson, b. 9 mo. 18, 1683, dau. of Julian and Esther Wooderson. They with his sister Joan received a certificate from a Monthly Meeting at Newbury in Berkshire, dated 11 mo. 15, 1711, which was presented to Abington Mo. Mtg., Penna., of which his uncle Richard was then a member.

Joseph and wife brought a certificate from Abington to Concord 2 mo. 11, 1715; thence to Chester 6 mo. 1, 1720, and he and his wife were both overseers of Chester Meeting for some time, but on 7 mo. 26, 1725, they received a certificate to Abington. Articles of agreement were signed Oct. 21, 1725, between John Wanton, of Newport, Rhode Island, and Joseph

Townsend, of Bristol township, Philadelphia Co., weaver, for the conveyance to the latter of 800 acres in East Bradford, Chester Co., Pa. The price was £40, per 100 acres, to be paid in three instalments—£100 immediately, £100 on Oct. 21, 1726, and the remainder Oct. 21, 1727. The deeds of lease and release were executed Sept. 6, and 7, 1727. He appears to have removed at once to the land, as his certificate from Chester was brought to Concord Mo. Mtg. 11 mo. 3, 1725; after which he and his wife were active members of Birmingham Meeting. He died 4 mo. 9, 1766, and his widow 3 mo. 2, 1767; both buried at Birmingham. Their children were—

William, b. 5 mo. 26, 1711; d. 11 mo. 13, 1792, unmarried.
Mary, b. 8 mo. 16, 1713; d. 10 mo. 8, 1781; m. Henry Woodward.
Joseph, b. 4 mo. 8, 1715; d. 10 mo. 3, 1749; m. Lydia Reynolds.
John, b. 12 mo. 2, 1716; d. 8 mo. 18, 1803; m. Joanna England.
Hannah, b. 6 mo. 9, 1718; d. 12 mo. 31, 1790; m. Nathan Sharples.
Martha, b. 1 mo. 26, 1721; d. 4 mo. 3, 1748, unmarried.
Richard, b. 5 mo. 23, 1727; d. 5 mo. 4, 1738.
Esther, b. 5 mo. 23, 1727; d. 11 mo. 1, 1728–9.

32. Jane Sharples[3], Joseph[2], b. in Middletown, 12 mo. 4, 1718; d. 1775; m. 8 mo. 22, 1740, at Concord Mtg., to Jacob Pyle, b. about 1717, son of John and Susanna Pyle of Thornbury township. They are said to have had eleven children, of whom three died young and their names are unknown. The others were—

162. Caleb, b. 8 mo. 8, 1741; d. about 1808; m. Mary Matthewson.
163. Levi, married Margaret Johnson.
164. Hannah, d. 1 mo. 12, 1808, aged about 62 years; m. Jonathan Heacock.
165. Benjamin, d. 4 mo. 30, 1831; m. Sarah Heacock.
166. Jacob, m. Elizabeth Chamberlain and Elizabeth Blair.
167. Lydia, m. Alexander Soley.
168. John, b. 3 mo. 12, 1758; d. 12 mo. 14, 1837; m. Alice Crosley.
169. Esther, m. John Heacock.

Jacob and Jane Pyle resided in Thornbury, near the present village of Thornton, Delaware Co., Pa. It is said he died in his 69th year. In 1764 he was assessed as a weaver with 15 acres, one mare and one cow.

Robert Pyle[1] of Horton in the parish of Bishops Cannings, county of Wilts, maltster, and Ann Stovey of Hilperton in the same county, were married Nov. 16, 1681. Her father, William Stovey, had been the victim of long continued persecution on account of his religious principles; died at Hilperton 11 mo. 7, 1705, over 80 years of age. William Smith of Bromham house in Wiltshire, having purchased from William Penn 1250 acres, by lease and release Aug. 1, and 2, 1682, conveyed 150 acres thereof to Robert Pyle May 1, and 2, 1683, and the latter doubtless embarked for Pennsylvania soon after.

William Coole, of Devizes in Wiltshire, writing to his sister Sarah Bezer, of Chichester, Penna., 12 mo. 24, 1683, says, "I sent several letters by they (when John Gibbens & Rob. Pile & Edward Beazer went) & A Box with butens & knives & other things. I hope they are Rec[d] because I saw yesterday 2 leters from Rob. Pile." Again writing to his sister Jean Coole 2 mo. 18, 1684, he says, "this day we Rec[d] thy letter dated y[e] 20th of y[e] 8th mo: 83, which was great satisfaction to us because we long waighted to hear from you because I understood by a leter y[t] came from R: Pile y[t] his family was at y[e] widdow Beazer's house & not a word of y[m] how they was; w[ch] leter came near 2 months agoe."

Robert Pyle's brothers Nicholas and Ralph were also among the early settlers. It is conjectured that their father's name was Robert, as we find that Robert Pyle of Stanton Barnard in the county of Wilts, yeoman, executed a power of attorney, Aug. 29, 1688, to enable Robert Pyle, Jun[r], and Nicholas Pyle of Pennsylvania to collect money due on bond to the former. The bond had been given by George and John Chandler March 31, 1686, and they had subsequently embarked for Pennsylvania.

Robert Pyle took up his 150 acres of land in Bethel township, where he settled, and died about 1730. The children of Robert and Ann Pyle were—

Sarah, b. 11 mo. 27, 1682; d. 12 mo. 16, 1706; m. John Vernon.
Robert, b. 7 mo. 17, 1684; d. 1717; m. Elizabeth Swaffer.
William, b. 11 mo. 26, 1685; d. 1734; m. Olive Bennett.
John, b. 6 mo. 8, 1687; d. 1752; m. Lydia Thomas and Susanna Chamberlin.
Mary, b. 11 mo. 13, 1688; m. Thomas Moore, 1713.
Jacob, b. 1 mo. 5, 1691; d. 1717; m. Alice Bowater.
Joseph, b. 11 mo. 5, 1692; d. 1754; m. Sarah Dicks and Sarah (Pennell) Gibbons.
Daniel, b. 5 mo. 29, 1694; d. 1736; m. Mary Chamberlin and Mary Pennell.

The monthly meetings were frequently held at Robert Pyle's house, and he appears to have acted as clerk thereof. No other member took a more active part in Church affairs.

Nicholas Pyle[1] purchased, Mar. 1, 1688, from John Palmer and wife Mary, and John Hannum and wife Margery (daughters of Robert Suddery), 150 acres in Bethel, and settled thereon, but on Mar. 2, 1696, conveyed the land to his brother Robert, and removed to Concord township, at what is now Concordville. He was married 9 mo. 1688, to Abigail Bushell, and in 1713 to Ann Webb. His children were Mary, Edith, Nicholas, Samuel, James, Joseph and Sarah, all by his first wife except perhaps the last. He died in 1716.

Ralph Pyle[1] unlike his brothers, was not a Friend. He lived in Concord and his first wife, Elinor, who died July 25, 1726, aged 63, was buried at the Episcopal Church in that township. He died about 1741, leaving a wife, Mary, and son William. The latter married Betty Chads, a sister of John Chads of Chads' Ford, and died June 1, 1746, aged 46: buried at Concord Church.

John Pyle[2], son of Robert, was married in 1710, to Lydia Thomas, dau. of Peter and Sarah, and again 7 mo. 20, 1716, to Susanna Chamberlin, dau. of Robert and Mary, of Concord. By the first he had Sarah (m. Henry Phillips) and Moses (m. Mary Darlington and Mary Cook): by the second, Jacob (m. Jane Sharples), William, Ebenezer, Stephen, Israel, Mary (m. Benjamin Trego) and Susanna (m. Thomas Fryer).

33. Abraham Sharples[3], Joseph[2], b. in Middletown 1 mo. 7, 1720; d. in Nether Providence, 1784; m. 8 mo. 2, 1751, at Concord Mtg., to Ann Young, b. about 1731; d. 1769, in her 38th year; dau. of John and Mary (Barber) Young, of Chester. They had nine children,—

170. Mary, b. 5 mo. 6, 1752; m. Gideon Hizer.
171. Phineas, died in the first year of his age.
172. Phebe, b. 11 mo. 15, 1755; d. 1787; m. Abner Coppock.
173. Esther, died about the year 1776, aged about 19 years.
174. Abraham, b. 10 mo. 16, 1758; d. 8 mo. 30, 1849; m. Dinah Flower.
175. Lydia, b. 8 mo. 18, 1760; d. 4 mo. 14, 1818; m. James Moore.
176. Grace, b. 3 mo. 9, 1761; buried at Middletown 6 mo. 7, 1816.
177. Rebecca, b. 9 mo. 16, 1768; d. 1794, unmarried.
178. Enoch, died aged about one year.

Abraham Sharples removed with his parents to West Caln township in 1737; received a certificate from Bradford Monthly Meeting to Chester, 9 mo. 15, 1744; thence to Concord 3 mo. 30, 1748. He and his wife received one from Concord 9 mo. 6, 1756, to Goshen, and thence to Chester, with six children, 10 mo. 8, 1762. He received one to Concord 9 mo. 25, 1772, with children Mary, Esther, Abraham and Rebecca, but returned to Chester with one dated 7 mo. 5, 1775, with children Mary, Esther, Abraham and Rebecca. The inventory of the estate of Abraham Sharples of Nether Providence, made 9 mo. 23, 1784, by William Swaffer and Daniel Sharples, amounted to £71 : 15 : 5½. He died intestate and administration was granted to his son Abraham, Oct. 5, 1784.

Robert Barber, cordwainer, was an early settler in the neighborhood of Chester and was married in 1690 to Hannah Ogden, but it does not appear that he left any children. He died in 1708, and in his will mentions a nephew, James Barber, whose daughter and only heir, Mary Barber, became the wife of John Young, cooper, of Chester. James Barber m. Susanna Richards of Aston and was a taxable in Chester from 1715 to the time of his death in 1732. He was doubtless a brother to Robert Barber who married Hannah Tidmarsh, 5 mo. 17, 1718, at Chester Mtg., and in 1728 removed to the neighborhood of Columbia on the Susquehanna, where he had taken up 1000 acres of land.

John Young was of Middletown, 1730, and of Chester 1732, 1734, 1739 and 1740. He and his wife were deceased before their daughter's marriage, and she was received into membership, at Concord Mtg., 7 mo. 3, 1750. James and Thomas Young were witnesses to her marriage and may have been near relatives. Administration on the estate of John Young was granted to Henry Camm Oct. 20, 1742.

34. Jacob Sharples³, Joseph², b. in Middletown 10 mo. 14, 1722; d. in Concord 7 mo. 19, 1775; buried next day at Concord Mtg.: m. 9 mo. 23, 1748, at Concord Mtg., to Ann Blakey, dau. of Charles and Susanna Blakey, deceased, of Philadelphia, from England. She d. 10 mo. 8, 1811. Their children were—

179. John, b. 9 mo. 28, 1749; d. 10 mo. 29, 1834; m. Elizabeth Yearsley and Hannah Smith.
180. Susanna, b. 5 mo. 23, 1751; died young.
181. Nathan, b. 9 mo. 28, 1752; d. 1 mo. 9, 1837; m. Rachel Baldwin.
182. Lydia, b. 12 mo. 31, 1754; d. 8 mo. 1, 1799; m. David Dutton.
183. Joseph, b. 6 mo. 12, 1757; d. 10 mo. 27, 1796, unmarried.
184. Jesse, b. 11 mo. 6, 1759; d. 1 mo. 6, 1832; m. Joanna Townsend.
185. Ann, b. 12 mo. 28, 1761; d. 9 mo. 14, 1844; m. James Carter and Abraham Jefferis.
186. Jane, b. 10 mo. 23, 1764; d. 3 mo. 11, 1844; m. John Haines.
187. Martha, b. 10 mo. 4, 1767; d. 1 mo. 8, 1832; m. Joseph Pyle (see No. 693).
188. Hannah, b. 12 mo. 8, 1770; d. 3 mo. 26, 1847; m. William Phillips.

Jacob Sharples removed with his parents to West Caln township in 1737. He received a certificate from Bradford Mo. Mtg., 9 mo. 15, 1744, to Chester; thence to Concord 2 mo. 25, 1748, and as a member of Birmingham particular meeting obtained a certificate to Chester 7 mo. 7, 1763, with his wife and six children: thence to Concord 5 mo. 26, 1766. He was appointed an overseer of Birmingham Mtg. 8 mo. 8, 1770, in room of John Carter, deceased, and was succeeded by Samuel Osborn 2 mo. 7, 1776. Ann Sharples, his widow, was married 8 mo. 21, 1776, at Concord Mtg., to Joseph Talbot of Aston, being his third wife. He died 6 mo. 16, 1783. His widow received a certificate from Chester to Darby Mo. Mtg., 11 mo. 24, 1783; thence to Concord 1 mo. 3, 1788; thence to Philadelphia (N. District) 1 mo. 9, 1793.

Jacob Sharples probably settled in East Bradford at the time of his marriage. A John Sharples is in the list of taxables of that township, in 1750, but this must have been an error instead of Jacob. In 1764 Jacob was assessed in Upper Darby, with a house and 135 acres of land, 4 horses, 6 cattle and 12 sheep. In 1775 he was in Thornbury with 265 acres and buildings, worth £30, per annum, 1 servant, 6 horses, 8 cattle and 12 sheep. It is thought his residence in this township was a little south-west of the present Westtown Station, but he was probably a renter. In his will, dated 7 mo. 9, 1775, proven July 26, 1775, he gives to his wife the best bed and furniture thereunto belonging, £30, and the interest of £180, during life: to son John £20: to dau. Lydia Dutton the interest of £50 during life or the principal after her husband's death: executors to sell stock, household goods and utensils of husbandry, and the residue of estate to be divided between eight of the children, John, Nathan, Joseph, Jesse, Ann, Jane, Martha and Hannah, when of age: after wife's death the £180 to be divided between these children, giving the sons each £27 : 10, and the daughters £17 : 10: son Jesse to be put to a trade: son Nathan and cousin Isaac Sharples executors.

The inventory by Robert Mendenhall and John Townsend 8 mo. 4, 1775, contains many articles not summed up, among which are, wearing Apparell, £21 : 12 : 6; 16½ hives of bees £6 : 5; Bonds £241 : 2; Bills, notes, &c., £272 : 17 : 7.

Lydia (Phillips) Porter of Philadelphia has her grandfather's bible in which is written "March 10th, 1758: Jacob and Ann Sharpless in memory of y^r Brother John Blakey," by which it appears to have been a gift from John Blakey.

Of Charles Balkey nothing further has been learned. A bible which belonged to John Sharples, son of Jacob, contains this record of "Charles & Susanna Blakey's children:"

John Blakey's Nativity, Old Style, March 21st 1724.
My sister Ann Sharpless, her do., about the year 1727.
Susanna Blakey, her do., not known.

At Goshen Mo. Mtg., 3 mo. 20, 1745: "Ann Blakey Requesteth to be joined in membership with Friends, so this meeting Receives her as her conduct agrees with our Principles." She obtained a certificate from Goshen to Concord Mo. Mtg., 10 mo. 21, 1747. John Blakey was evidently of a pious turn of mind judging from the character of the books which he presented to his relatives, but it is supposed he did not become a Friend. He died Feb. 10, 1806, aged 82 years.

35. William Sharples³, Joseph², b. in Middletown 3 mo. 1, 1725; d. in Concord 5 mo. 4, 1751, and buried on the 6th at Concord Mtg.: m. 10 mo. 30, 1747, at Concord, to Abigail Sharp, dau. of Joseph and Mary, deceased, of New Garden township, b. 2 mo. 28, 1729; d. 2 mo. 14, 1805. They had two children,—

189. Abraham, b. 1748; d. 9 mo. 22, 1835; m. Phebe Valentine and Catharine F. Wistar.
190. William, b. 1750, of whom no further trace has been discovered. The edition of 1816 says, "Of William we have no account."

William Sharples removed with his parents to West Caln in 1737, and received a certificate from Bradford to Concord Mo. Mtg., 9 mo. 15, 1744. Upon his marriage he settled at Newlin's mill in Concord. His will, dated 3 mo. 24, 1750, and proven Aug. 13, 1751, gives to his wife, Abigail, £200, some furniture, all the pewter she brought with her, a riding mare and half the profit from my leased land in Sadsbury: to son Abraham my writing desk, to be kept for him until he arrive to the age of twenty-one years: remainder of estate to be divided between Abraham and a child yet unborn: wife and brother Samuel Sharples to be executors.

The inventory, by William Trimble and Joseph Gilpin, near three pages, amounts to £470 : 8 : 6, including £292 : 9 : 11, in bonds and bills. Of books there were "Life of our Saviour," £1, "George Fox's Epistle," 5 shillings, "Quarrels Emlims," "half of Chalkleys Jornall." Three cows were valued at £10 : 10; one mare, £10; one coult, £4; 8 sheep, £2; 3 swine, £2.

Abigail Sharples, widow, was married 11 mo. 22, 1752, at Concord

Mtg., to Moses Palmer of Concord, whose first wife was Abigail Newlin. He was the son of John Palmer[2] and Martha Yearsley, b. 5 mo. 26, 1721, d. 6 mo. 20, 1783. By his first wife he had a son, John, and by the second seven children,— Martha, b. 9 mo. 7, 1753; d. 2 mo. 18, 1831; m. Joseph Chamberlain.

Moses, b. 4 mo. 12, 1757; d. 8 mo. 29, 1840; m. Sarah Phillips, Hannah Pennell[6] (Joseph[5], Hannah[4], Susanna[3], Joseph Sharples[2]), and Hannah Gilpin.
Joseph, b. 4 mo. 21, 1759; d. 7 mo. 30, 1838; m. Hannah Peters.
Abigail, b. 8 mo. 26, 1762; d. 1841, unmarried.
Aaron, b. 7 mo. 17, 1765; d. 3 mo. 10, 1842; m. Sarah Wilton.
Mary, b. 1 mo. 24, 1768; m. ——— Lockhart.
Ann, b. 1 mo. 9, 1771; d. about 1820; m. Benjamin Starr.

Joseph Sharp, from Ireland about 1711, settled in Londongrove township, Chester Co., Pa., where he died in 1746. He was married 9 mo. 4, 1713, at Concord Mtg., to Mary Pyle, b. 6 mo. 23, 1689, dau. of Nicholas and Abigail Pyle, of Concord. They had children,—

Abigail, b. 5 mo. 26, 1714; d. 9 mo. 27, 1726.
Elizabeth, b. 5 mo. 25, 1717; d. 10 mo. 1719.
Mary, b. 7 mo. 17, 1719; d. 10 mo. 1719.
Elizabeth, b. 12 mo. 19, 1720; m. Jeremiah Douglas.
Sarah, b. 6 mo. 5, 1723; d. 10 mo. 22, 1723.
Joseph, b. 8 mo. 19, 1724; m. Deborah Miller; removed to Carolina.
George, b. 9 mo. 4, 1726; probably died young.
Abigail, b. 2 mo. 28, 1729; m. William Sharples and Moses Palmer.
Mary, b. 6 mo. 21, 1731; d. 6 mo. 30, 1731.
Samuel, b. 8 mo. 30, 1734; d. about 1819; m. Mary (Harlan) Starr.

Joseph Sharp, tanner, in his will dated 4 mo. 21, 1746, gives to his dau. Abigail Sharp the tenant right of 350 acres of the London Company's land in Sadsbury township, Lancaster Co., Pa., and £200, at 18: to son Samuel the homestead of 300 acres, partly in New Garden township, his uncle Samuel Pyle to have care of him until he is 21.

36. George Smedley[4], Jane[3], b. 6 mo. 2, 1719, in Middletown; d. 12 mo. 1, 1765, in Willistown; m. 12 mo. 22, 1757, at Goshen Mtg., to Hannah Matson of Easttown, b. 6 mo. 25, 1724; d. 10 mo. 15, 1810; widow of John Matson and dau. of Jacob and Alice Norbury of Edgmont township. They had four children—

191. Hannah, b. 10 mo. 2, 1758; d. 3 mo. 2, 1827; m. Benjamin Cox.
192. Jeffrey, b. 5 mo. 23, 1761; d. 10 mo. 28, 1847; m. Amy Hoopes.
193. Joshua, b. 1763; d. 9 mo. 11, 1777.
194. Francis, b. —— —— ——; d. 12 mo. 18, 1821; m. Dinah Lewis and Sarah Jones(?).

George Smedley received a certificate from Chester to Goshen Mo. Mtg., 2 mo. 29, 1745, and settled on a farm in Willistown. His will, dated 8 mo. 21, 1765, proven Dec. 24, 1765, gives to his wife one-third of the personal estate, a home and privileges; to dau. Hannah £50, at 18; to son Jeffrey that part of the plantation I live on, at 21; to sons Joshua and Francis, the other part, on the east side of the road and next lands of my brothers Caleb and Joshua; to brother Joshua all my right to a plantation in Edgmont, where Moses Meredith lives.

39. Grace Howard[4], Hannah[3], b. 3 mo. 11, 1721; d. 12 mo., 1774; m. 11 mo. 24, 1739–40, at Middletown Mtg., to Benjamin Kendall, of Chester borough, son of John Kendall of Bentam in Yorkshire, England. It is said they had several children, but only the following are named:

195. Ann, m. to Benajah Andrews and Thomas Stapleton.
196. Joseph, d. 3 mo. 5, 1785, aged 36 years.
197. Rebecca, of whom nothing further is known.

Benjamin Kendall received a certificate from Chester Mo. Mtg., 4 mo. 30, 1735, to Settle Mo. Mtg., Yorkshire, Eng.; and being returned from Old England, where he went to visit his relations, he produced a certificate to Chester, 7 mo. 26, 1737. He received a certificate to Philadelphia, 7 mo. 30, 1745, for himself, wife and three apprentices, Peter Howard, John Cummings and Thomas Pedrick. Having visited England again he brought a certificate from Grace Church Street, London, to Philadelphia, dated 9 mo. 20, 1752. He was a cordwainer, that is, a shoemaker.

40. Mary Howard[4], Hannah[3], b. 8 mo. 11, 1722; d. 10 mo. 11, 1790; m. 2 mo. 27, 1749, at Middletown, to Isaac Moss, of Philadelphia, b. 11 mo. 18, 1726–7, d. 7 mo. 27, 1790; son of Abraham and Rebecca (Marshall) Moss, of Salem Co., N. J. She received a certificate from Chester to Philadelphia Mo. Mtg., dated 4 mo. 26, 1749. The Phila. records give the age of Isaac Moss as 67 years. The edition of 1816 says they had two children, but it appears there were others.

198. Thomas, probably married.
199. Samuel, d. 9 mo. 12, 1781, aged 25 years.
200. Hannah, d. 12 mo. 1762, aged 9 years.
201. Isaac?
202. Rebecca?

Thomas Shourds, the historian and genealogist of Salem Co., N. J., says that Isaac Moss, son of Isaac, came to Salem where he purchased a lot, built a handsome house and ended his days. He was honored and highly respected for his great philanthropy in assisting the poor. His sister Rebecca kept house for him and was his principal heir. He was a diligent attendant of Friends' meetings, was an old man at the time of his death and said to have never married.

The Phila. records give the death of Rebecca, a dau. of Thomas Moss, 4 mo. 26, 1773, aged 14 months. No further attempt has been made to trace the family.

41. John Howard[4], Hannah[3], b. 2 mo. 3, 1725; d. 10 mo. 12, 1793; m. 8 mo. 22, 1747, at Middletown Mtg., to Elizabeth Perry, dau. of Christopher Perry, deceased, of Philadelphia. She was buried at Middletown, 4 mo. 1, 1790, and her husband 10 mo. 14, 1793. Henry Howard devised to his son John, for seven years, a plantation in Edgmont and Newtown, whereon the latter resided; after which the same was to be divided between John, Peter and Richard Howard. In 1764 John Howard was assessed in Edgmont with 60 acres and buildings, and two cattle. His children were—

203. Peter, probably died unmarried.
204. Jane, m. Benjamin Chance.
205. Grace, m. George Good.
206. Perry, m. Elizabeth Evans.
207. Mary, m. Benjamin Worrall.

42. Peter Howard[4], Hannah[3], b. 1 mo. 15, 1726–7; d. 4 mo. 7, 1803; m. 12 mo. 2, 1756, at Philadelphia Mtg., to Elizabeth Chadwick, dau. of John Chadwick, deceased, of Yorkshire, England. She d. 8 mo. 7, 1765, and he m. 12 mo. 31, 1767, at Phila. Mtg., Sarah Price, dau. of Robert Osborn, deceased, of Philadelphia. She d. 7 mo. 16, 1773, aged 46 years. By the first wife there appear to have been seven children, and three by the second, viz.:

208. Henry, probably died unmarried.
209. Peter, died young.
210. William, died (or buried) 3 mo. 24, 1761.
211. Infant, buried (?) 2 mo. 15, 1762.
212. Infant, buried (?) 2 mo. 15, 1762.

213. Isabella, d. 7 mo. 4, 1796, aged 32 y. 7 m. 7 d.; m. Thomas Williams.
214. Hannah, died (or buried) 7 mo. 18, 1769, aged 4 years.
215. Rebecca, b. 10 mo. 28, 1768; d. 7 mo. 1, 1818; m. Timothy Abbott.
216. Peter, died (or buried) 7 mo. 19, 1771, aged 15 months.
217. Robert, died (or buried) 6 mo. 24, 1773, aged 3 months.

Peter Howard removed to Philadelphia as an apprentice to his brother-in-law, Benjamin Kendall, a shoemaker, in 1745. On Jan. 17, 1769, Peter Howard of Philadelphia city, cordwainer, and Sarah, his wife, executed a release to James Howard of Edgmont, yeoman, for a one-third interest in 60 acres of land devised to Peter and his brothers, John and Richard, by their father, for £109 : 0 : 10.

The edition of 1816 says: "Peter married Elizabeth Chaddock, from England: and after her death he married Sarah Paschall, of Philad^a. By both he had ten children, though how many by each cannot be ascertained, neither all their names: but such as are recollected are as follow: Henry, Isabella, Rebecca, Peter dec'd, and Peter." As one of the children was then living this statement indicates considerable apathy on this subject in those who might have given a more correct record.

43. Hannah Howard⁴, Hannah³, b. 2 mo. 15, 1729; d. 3 mo. 2, 1774; m. 1 mo. 28, 1754, at Providence Mtg., to Augustine Passmore of Milford hundred, Cecil Co., Md., b. 7 mo. 27, 1714; d. 5 mo. 25, 1782; being his second wife. Their children were—

218. Richard, b. 12 mo. 11, 1754; d. 9 mo. 23, 1817; m. Deborah Griscom.
219. Hannah, b. 6 mo. 13, 1756; m. Joseph England.
220. Rebecca, b. 4 mo. 13, 1758; d. 11 mo. 24, 1826; m. George Wakefield.
221. Henry, b. 7 mo. 29, 1761; m. Martha Busel.
222. Phebe, b. 9 mo. 11, 1763; d. 11 mo. 13, 1803; m. William Williamson.
223. Abigail, b. 7 mo. 17, 1765; cert. from Nottingham to Goshen, 1787; thence to Philadelphia, 1795: probably died unmarried.

Hannah Passmore received a certificate from Chester Mo. Mtg., to Nottingham, dated 3 mo. 25, 1754.

William Passmore, said to be the son of William, was of the parish of Ruscombe in Berkshire, Eng., and married 1 mo. 6, 1654, Margery Ball. Their son John Passmore¹ was married 11 mo. 3, 1701, to Mary Buxcey, dau. of Humphrey Buxcey, and resided for some time in the parish of Hurst, Berkshire, whence he removed to Pennsylvania about the year 1713, and settled in Kennet, Chester County. He afterwards removed to West Marlborough township where he died about 1746. The children of John and Mary Passmore, so far as known, were William, John, Eleanor, Augustine, George, Mary and Samuel.

Augustine Passmore[2] married first, Judith Farlow, and on application was received into membership by Friends of Kennett Mo. Mtg., 2 mo. 1, 1738; whence he and his wife received a certificate of removal to Nottingham Mo. Mtg., 10 mo. 2, 1738. Their children were—

Ann, b. 9 mo. 10, 1738; m. John Ogilvie.
George, b. 11 mo. 21, 1742; no further information.
Alice, b. 10 mo. 8, 1744; m. James Howard (see No. 47).
Mary, b. 3 mo. 15, 1747; m. Jonathan Booth and Richard Bond (No. 61).
Augustine, b. 1 mo. 31, 1749; m. Elizabeth Neal.

The following document was contributed by James Trimble of Fairville, Chester County, formerly of Nottingham, Md., who is now in his 88th year, and with a mind well stored with a knowledge and traditions of the past:

Whereas I, Augustine Passmore, of Ceacil County, Mariland, did Manimit and set free (the first day of the ninth mo: 1777) a Certain Neagro Woman named Prudence, who after the manimition was Signed before the time was Expired in which it took Place, was Delivered of a Child who She Called Moses, which Child I never Claimed as my property & do hereby bind me my Heirs and assigns from ever Claiming any Right thereunto.

As Witness my hand & Seal this 25th of the 12th mo: 1778.

Sealed and Delivered in the Presence of
HEZEKIAH ROWLS,
WM SWAYNE,
JOEL BAILY.

AUGUSTINE PASSMORE (SEAL.)

N. B. the child was Born 29th of the fourth month, 1777.

The intention was probably to say that the manumission took effect 9 mo. 1, 1777. Richard Barnard, of Newlin township, Chester County, who was probably one of a committee appointed by the Quarterly Meeting to visit such members as held slaves, notes in his diary, 5 mo. 6, 1780, "At Gustin Pasmore's: said he would be willing to lave to the judgement of indiferent men what is Due to the Negro woman that lived with him till she was between 30 & 40 years old."

46. Richard Howard[4], Hannah[3], b. in Edgmont 3 mo. 9, 1736; d. in N. Y. 11 mo. 24, 1825; m. Jane Wood of Rockland Co., N. Y., and had five children,

224. James, went to Indiana; married, but left no children, and died at New Albany.
225. Henry, m. Elizabeth Parmelee; d. about 1834.

226. William, b. about 1772; d. about 1821; m. Mary Butcher.
227. Richard, married, but left no children; died on Staten Island, N. Y., about 1870.
228. Jane, m. William Cargill.

Richard Howard received a certificate from Chester Mo. Mtg. to Philadelphia, dated 7 mo. 31, 1758, and brought one back to Chester, 10 mo. 31, 1763. At a meeting held 4 mo. 30, 1770, it was represented that Thomas Low, Richard Howard and four others "have several years ago left these parts without acquainting this Monthly Meeting, or seeking to obtain certificates, agreeable to our Discipline; and as we can give no account where any of the above named persons are, ... this meeting doth hereby declare the said Thomas Low [and others] . . . . . to be no members of our Religious Society."

William Cargill, of Nyack, N. Y., b. 1806, writes thus of his grandfather Richard Howard: "He served in the American army, if not the seven years of the Revolutionary war, the greater part of it. After the close of the war he came in a place now called Sparkill, a railroad station on the North Jersey and New York railroad running from Jersey City into this place. It branches off at Sparkill to the Erie road and runs just west of my grandfather's little place, for he bought a small place in this, Rockland County, Orange township. At that time it was called Tappan, not over three miles from where Major Andre was tried and executed. Just about the close of the war he changed his situation in life and married a lady in New City, located in Clarkstown, the capital of this county. This is a very beautiful spot, and was settled by the Wood Family, and from the Wood Family a number of noted men have sprung. My grandmother's name, therefore, was Jane Wood, until she married Richard Howard. He was a tailor by trade but taught school a portion of his time. A lady residing in this village, named Catharine Blauvelt, went to school to him. His portrait can be seen by calling at my brother's, Mr. Henry Howard Cargill, No. 99 Barrow Street, New York City."

47. James Howard[4], Hannah[3], b. in Edgmont 11 mo. 9, 1738; d. 3 mo. 19, 1825; buried the 21st at Middletown; m. 11 mo. 12, 1761, at East Nottingham Mtg. to Alice Passmore, b. 10 mo. 8, 1744; d. 6 mo. 27, 1784; dau. of Augustine and Judith Passmore of Milford hundred, Cecil Co., Md.: second marriage 2 mo. 1, 1787, to Hannah Jones, widow of Richard Jones, and (supposed) dau. of Moses and Elizabeth Harper, of East Bradford. She d. 8 mo. 16, 1792, and was buried on the 18th at

Goshen Mtg., perhaps by the side of her first husband. The children of James Howard were—

229. Jonathan, b. 11 mo. 28, 1762; d. 6 mo. 21, 1828; m. Sarah Bishop and Hannah Passmore.

238. Infant son, b. 6 mo. 1, 1784; d. 6 mo. 13, 1784.
239. Richard, b. 9 mo. 10, 1787; enlisted in the war of 1812, and was never heard from afterward.
240. Harper, b. 7 mo. 3, 1792; d. 2 mo. 3, 1857; m. Hannah Pratt.

James Howard was a farmer and resided on the lands in Edgmont which formerly belonged to his father, a part of which he inherited and the remainder he purchased from the other heirs. In 1764 he was assessed with 100 acres and buildings, 3 horses, 4 cattle and 9 sheep. In 1786 he was the assessor and returned for himself 150 acres, worth £600, 4 horses, £36, and 4 cattle, £20.

At a monthly meeting, 12 mo. 25, 1780, James Howard produced an acknowledgment for paying a fine for refusing to collect taxes, chiefly for military purposes; also a fine or double tax for not taking the Test of Abjuration and Allegiance. He was complained of 9 mo. 21, 1787, for marriage by a magistrate to one not a member, and was disowned 1 mo. 28, 1788.

48. Hannah Sharples[4], John[3], b. 11 mo. 13, 1726–7; m. 4 mo. 24, 1760, at Chester Mtg., to Jeremiah Starr, late of Berks Co., Pa., son of John Starr of the county of Cavan, in Ireland. They had three children.

241. Mary, b. about 1761 or '2; d. 10 mo. 4, 1848; m. John Goodwin.
242. Sarah, died unmarried.
243. John, married Phebe Massey.

Jeremiah Starr produced a certificate from Exeter, Berks Co., to Chester Mo. Mtg., 7 mo. 31, 1758, and received one for self and wife to Exeter 5 mo. 26, 1760: produced one from Exeter to Chester, 4 mo. 26, 1762, for self, wife and dau. Mary: returned to Berks Co. about 1772. In 1764, he farmed 160 acres of land in Chester township, belonging to Samuel Lightfoot.

49. Mary Sharples⁴, John³, b. 2 mo. 17, 1730. d. between 1763 and 1770; m. 3 mo. 18, 1749, at Chester Mtg., to Thomas Swayne³, b. 9 mo. 19, 1726, d. 12 mo. 23, 1792; son of William and Elizabeth Swayne of East Marlborough, Chester Co., Pa. They had four children.

244. Phebe, b. 3 mo. 9, 1750; d. 7 mo. 11, 1829; m. William Horne.
245. George, b. 5 mo. 15, 1752; d. 1 mo. 30, 1831; m. Miriam Foreman.
246. Elizabeth, b. 2 mo. 1, 1754; d. 3 mo. 12, 1766.
247. Infant, died young.

Francis Swayne¹, son of William Swayne of Berkshire, England, married Elizabeth Milton and about the year 1704 they became Friends, in which society he was afterward a minister. They came to Pennsylvania in 1710, bringing a certificate from Friends of Reading Mo. Mtg., in Berkshire, and settled in East Marlborough township, Chester County, where Francis died 9 mo. 30, 1721, and was buried on his own farm. His children were William, Francis, Edward, Elizabeth, Jane and Sarah.

William Swayne², b. 1 mo. 30, 1689; d. 1735; came to Penna. before his parents, on the ship Saulsbury, landing at Philadelphia 9 mo. 15, 1708. In 1717 his father conveyed to him 195 acres of land in E. Marlborough. He was married 7 mo. 29, 1720, at Chester Mtg., to Elizabeth Dell, b. 6 mo. 1, 1697, d. 1743, dau. of Thomas and Mary Dell of Ridley. They had nine Children,

William, b. 4 mo. 11, 1721; d. 9 mo. 8, 1785; m. Ann Pusey.
Francis, b. 12 mo. 18, 1722; d. —— —— ——; m. Betty Baily.
John, b. 8 mo. 27, 1724; d. 2 mo. 28, 1755, unmarried.

Samuel, b. 12 mo. 13, 1730; d. 7 mo. 25, 1808; m. Hannah Hayes.
Joseph, b. 6 mo. 22, 1732; d. in infancy.
Ann, b. 3 mo. 1735; d. 4 mo. 24, 1764; m. George Webb.

Thomas Dell of Ridley, in his will dated 8 mo. 31, 1749, devised his lands to his wife, during life, after which his grandsons, Thomas and Samuel Swayne were to have the use of them for 25 years and at the expiration of this term they were to be divided between the daughters, Sarah and Mary, of his son Thomas Dell, deceased.

Thomas Swayne[3], produced a certificate from New Garden Mo. Mtg., to Chester, dated 9 mo. 24, 1750, for self and wife; it being three months after his grandfather's death. Mention is made, 2 mo. 24, 1755, of a difference between William Pennell, Jr., and Isaac Weaver (who had married the daughters of Thomas Dell, Jr.), of the one part, and Thomas Swayne of the other part, which Chester Meeting had not been able to settle. Thomas was not inclined to refer the matter to arbitrators, and it was concluded, 4 mo. 28, 1755, to allow him two weeks to do so: "But if Thomas Swayne refuse or neglect to appoint men and enter into Bonds, longer than two weeks, Then this meeting gives liberty to William Pennell and Isaac Weaver to proceed to the tryal of the case by Law, as they may be advised, But withall requires the friends so concerned to behave towards each other as friends, and in the moderation becoming Brethren proceed in the case to the last." The sequel is not given.

Thomas Swayne received a certificate to New Garden, 3 mo. 23, 1759, for self, wife and three children, but brought one back, dated 4 mo. 2, 1763, for the same persons. He was appointed overseer of Springfield Meeting 7 mo. 25, 1768, in room of John Levis, and received a certificate to Darby Mo. Mtg., 5 mo. 25, 1772.

50. Margaret Sharples[4], John[3], b. 7 mo. 7, 1731; d. 1791; m. Reuben Roberts, son of Ellis, and had the following children:

248. Tacy, married John Baker.
249. Ellis, married Ann Shaw; d. 2 mo. 13, 1825.
250. Alice, b. about 1764; d. about 1798; m. Charles Cecil.
251. Abigail, b. about 1766; d. 4 mo. 24, 1833; m. Isaac Engle.
252. John, b. 7 mo. 15, 1772; d. 12 mo. 18, 1831; m. Hannah Lyne.

Reuben Roberts produced a certificate from Gwynedd Mo. Mtg., Pa., to Chester, 6 mo. 26, 1745, and became a member of Middletown Mtg.: received a cert. to Gwynedd, 8 mo. 29, 1750, and again produced one from that meeting 11 mo. 28, 1757. He and his wife presented acknowledgments 6 mo. 30, 1760, for their marriage "by a priest," and his paper was directed to be read at Providence Mtg., hers at Chester.

After the death of John Sharples[3], his real estate, consisting of 195 acres in Nether Providence, and two other lots of 4 acres and 8 acres, was awarded by Orphans' Court in 1771, to Reuben Roberts who obtained releases from the other heirs as follows: from Richard Bradley of Wilmington, N. C., on behalf of his wife, July 20, 1771: from William Swaffer of Chester, guardian of Lucretia W. Sharples, Nov. 30, 1771: from George Sharples of Germantown, same date: from Jeremiah Starr of Limerick township, Philadelphia Co., in behalf of his wife, same date, and from Thomas Swayne, George Swayne, William Horne and wife, Phebe, April 5, 1774. The shares were £179: 0: 4, but Lucretia W. Sharples, as the daughter of the eldest son, received a double share or £358: 0: 8½; to secure which Reuben Roberts mortgaged to William Swaffer, Oct. 21, 1771, the land east of the Providence road, 97 acres, and 8½ acres in Ridley, on the Delaware River. In order to pay the other shares he mortgaged the land on the west side of the road, 98 acres, Nov. 30, 1771, to John Price, Esq., of Lower Chichester, for £200. This was satisfied Dec. 1, 1775, by payment to Elisha Price, executor of John Price. June 8, 1776, Reuben Roberts and wife, for £5, conveyed to Thomas Leiper of Philadelphia city, tobacconist, one quarter of an acre on Crum Creek for use of a mill race; and on Nov. 16, 1776, they conveyed to Roger Dicks, for £530, 58 acres of the eastern part of the land, next to Crum Creek. This enabled them to discharge the mortgage to William Swaffer, which was satisfied Nov 20, 1776. They had conveyed 5 acres, 61 perches in Chester township to Thomas Sharples, Jan. 2, 1772, which was probably the lot called 4 acres in 1771.

In 1774, Reuben Roberts was assessed in Nether Providence with 170 acres and buildings, worth £17, per annum, 3 horses, 5 cattle and 8 sheep, yet he had in reality 195 acres of land. In 1796 a survey and division of his remaining land was made by Roger Dicks, in accordance with which survey Reuben Roberts made his will, giving to his son Ellis the buildings and about 38½ acres on each side of the Providence road; to son John about 50 acres of the northern part of the farm, and about 8 acres to Abigail Engle.

51. Elizabeth Sharples⁴, John³, b. in Ridley 6 mo. 25, 1734; d. at Wilmington, N. C., in 1802; m. 5 mo. 15, 1755, at Chester Mtg., to Richard Bradley, son of John Bradley, deceased, of Yorkshire, Eng. They had seven children.

253. Lucy, b. 1756; d. Oct. 7, 1843; m. Thomas Brown.
254. John, b. 1758; d. 1811, unmarried.

255. Elizabeth, b. 1763; d. 1847; m. John Lord.
256. Mary, b. 12 mo. 24, 1767; d. 1 mo. 27, 1815; m. William Green.
257. Richard, b. 1769; d. 1834; m. Rebecca Green and Eliza C. Yonge.
258. Susan, b. 1771; d. 1842; m. Joshua G. Wright.
259. Anne, b. 1773; d. 1787.

At Chester Mo. Mtg., 12 mo. 25, 1752, "Richard Bradley appeared here and produced a certificate from Settle Monthly Meeting in Yorkshire, Great Brittain, Which is Received and ordered to be Lodged with other certificates." (A recent search for the document was unsuccessful.) As members of Providence Mtg., he and his wife received a certificate to Goshen 8 mo. 25, 1755, which says that he "some years ago came well Recommended by certificate from England to us, and during his abode here his conversation hath been sober and orderly. Elizabeth, his wife, being brought up among us, hath been of an orderly conversation and well esteemed of us: their affairs setled to satisfaction as far as we know." They took a certificate back to Chester, dated 5 mo. 16, 1757, and received one for themselves and a child directed to Cane Creek, North Carolina, dated 4 mo. 24, 1758.

It is said they settled at first in Guilford County where there was a colony of Friends, but they afterward removed to Wilmington, where many of their descendants still reside. The Friends' records of that State have not been accessible but it is understood that their children left the Society early in life, yet their posterity hold in great veneration the memory of their Quaker ancestor, Elizabeth Bradley. Richard Bradley's mother is said to have been a Wood and his birth-place Kendal in Yorkshire.

52. John Sharples[4], John[3], b. in Ridley, 5 mo. 26, 1736; d. prior to 1771, (it is presumed) in North Carolina; m. ———— Slay and left one child.

260. Lucretia Woomy, "married a man in S. Carolina about the year 1783. She also married a second time. This is all we can say respecting her." (Edition of 1816.)

John Sharples, Jun[r], received a certificate from Chester Mo. Mtg., 6 mo. 30, 1760, to Dunn's Creek Mo. Mtg., Bladen Co., N. C. Enclosed with the inventory of his father's property is a bond given by John Sharples, Ju[r]., and John Sharples, sen[r], both shoemakers, to Daniel Sharples, for £50, dated 6 mo. 3, 1760: witnesses, Nehemiah Davis and Richard Bradley. A receipt is endorsed Dec. 3, 1761, for £4: 10, the interest to date, and on

5 mo. 4, 1767, a receipt for the "princeble in full," signed by Daniel Sharples, together with the following memorandum: "I paid sixty five pounds to Daniel; it would have been sixty-six pound, ten shilings, only he bated me 30 shilings, which I shall Expect John shall be acoumptable to me for, as so much of what he ma have."

At an Orphans' Court, Dec. 18, 1770, on petition of Thomas Swayne, William Swaffer was appointed guardian for Lucretia Woomy Sharpless, under 14 years of age, dau. of John Sharpless, Jr., deceased.

One Joseph Sleigh or Slay produced a certificate to Chester Mo. Mtg., 6 mo. 26, 1734, from Cork, Ireland, but he was disowned in 1764, and nothing is known of his family.

53. George Sharples[4], John[3], b. in Ridley, 7 mo. 14, 1738; d. in Philadelphia 5 mo. 17, 1819; m. 11 mo. 19, 1761, at Springfield Mtg., to Mary Lewis, b. 5 mo. 29, 1739; d. 7 mo. 14, 1818; dau. of John and Alice Lewis of Ridley. They had seven children,

261. John, b. 9 mo. 23, 1762; d. 1810; m. Juliana Lehman.
262. Elizabeth, b. 10 mo. 2, 1764; d. 11 mo. 23, 1832, unmarried.
263. Mary, b. 4 mo. 29, 1767; d. 5 mo. 21, 1843, unmarried.
264. Alice, b. 3 mo. 27, 1770; d. 10 mo. 11, 1796; m. Samuel Holmes.
265. George, b. 10 mo. 28, 1772; d. 3 mo. 4, 1777.
266. Margaret, b. 3 mo. 17, 1776; d. 1 mo. 21, 1815; m. Daniel Middagh.
267. George, b. 2 mo. 22, 1779; d. 6 mo. 27, 1822; m. Sarah Tippin.

George Sharples received a certificate from Chester Mo. Mtg., to Philadelphia 2 mo. 27, 1758. His wife received one to the same meeting 7 mo. 26, 1762. They may have resided temporarily in Ridley after this date as we find one George Sharples an inmate of Ridley township, 1764, but they were living in Germantown in 1771, and later: in 1816 they lived with their unmarried daughters in Philadelphia.

John Lewis of Philadelphia city, "Bisket baker," son of Samuel Lewis of Haverford, carpenter, and Grizzel, his wife, was married March 20, 1734–5, at Springfield Mtg., to Alice Harvey, b. 10 mo. 10, 1713; dau. of Joseph Harvey of Ridley, who m. in 1708, Mary Simcock, b. 11 mo. 4, 1688, dau. of Jacob and Alice Simcock of Ridley. Jacob Simcock, son of John and Elizabeth, from Cheshire, Eng., was married 11 mo. 15, 1684, at Chester, to Alice Maris, b. 8 mo. 17, 1660; d. 10 mo. 10, 1726; dau. of George[1] and Alice Maris of Springfield, from Worcestershire, Eng.

Traditions are not often reliable yet are generally based on facts.

Rebecca R. Jones[7], of Doylestown, Pa., writes thus of the wife of George Sharples: She could trace her ancestry back as far as Prince John and Richard of Wales. The name was originally Llewellyn, which became changed to Lewis, and some of the family married into the Sharples family in England. She treasured up many little relics of her own family, as well as those of her husband's. Silver and table linen were all stamped with the family crest—the dove with the olive branch. My great-grandmother's old chest, that had crossed the sea, contained papers and letters, also clothing, of a style that led my aunt to suppose the Sharples family belonged to the higher classes of English society. Unfortunately in the lapse of time, with its changes, the old chest with its contents have been scattered and lost, I could never learn what became of all these relics of the past.

Josiah Hibberd settled on a farm in East Whiteland, at or near the present Frazer Station, Penna. R. R., for which his parents gave him a deed 10 mo. 17, 1765. The title to this land runs as follows: William Penn conveyed Oct. 24, and 25, 1681, to William Jenkins, of Tenby, in Pembrokeshire, Wales, 1000 acres in Penna.; who conveyed 500 acres thereof Sept. 3, 1686, to Francis Howell of Lancilio in Caermarthenshire. Of this 300 acres was laid out at "Duffrin Mawr" (Welsh for Great Valley) in Whiteland, and Francis Howell, by will dated July 15, 1695, devised it to his brother Thomas Howell, who conveyed it Sept. 1, 1700 to James Thomas. By warrant of Feb. 18, 1701 the land was resurveyed by David Powell and found to be 483 acres. James Thomas partly conveyed 150 acres thereof to Alexander Ross, and afterward, with Martha his wife, and Alexander Ross and Katharine his wife conveyed the same to John Sharples², Jan. 31, 1714, who devised to his daughter Phebe Hibberd. Benjamin Hibberd and wife conveyed the same June 20, and 21, 1757, to George Smedley, Jr., who reconveyed it on the 22d to Benjamin Hibberd in order to vest the title in the latter instead of his wife. There is a survey of apparently the same land in the name of Daniel Sharples, called 270 acres and allowance, and in the deed to Josiah Hibberd the lines are said to be 140 and 320 perches, which would make 280 acres. Josiah also purchased, in 1774, 12 acres, 119 perches, adjoining his other land in Whiteland, and by deed from George Arnold, dated Aug. 21, 1787, became the owner of 800 acres on Lost Creek, Harrison Co., Va. By his will, dated Sept. 18, 1802, he devised all his lands in Pennsylvania and Virginia to his sons, Owen and Josiah, to be equally divided between them.

Josiah Hibberd was appointed overseer of Goshen Mtg., 9 mo. 6, 1765, in room of Josiah Garrett, and was succeeded by Randall Malin, 11 mo. 11, 1768. He was appointed 9 mo. 5, 1777, one of a committee on Sufferings occasioned by the war, but on 5 mo. 7, 1779, his wife made an acknowledgement for having paid his double tax or fine, imposed for non-compliance with military requisitions.

Robert Owen with Rebecca, his wife, and some children, came from Wales in 1690, and settled in Merion township, near Philadelphia, where he died 5 mo. 8, 1697. His son John, b. 12 mo. 26, 1692, d. 1 mo., 1752, settled at Chester, and was at different times elected Sheriff of the county. He was married 8 mo. 22, 1719, at Springfield Mtg., to Hannah Maris, b. 12 mo. 17, 1698; dau. of George Maris² and Jane Maddock, of Springfield. They had children, Jane, m. to Joseph West, George, Elizabeth, m. James Rhoads, Susanna, m. Josiah Hibberd, and Rebecca, m. to Jesse Maris.

280. Jane, b. 8 mo. 29, 1769; d. ——, 1819; m. John Cooper.
281. Jesse, b. 9 mo. 27, 1774; d. 3 mo. 20, 1849; m. Phebe Yarnall.
282. Ezra, named in first edition; no further record.

Amos Yarnall, Jr., was appointed an overseer of Goshen Mtg., 7 mo. 9, 1762, in place of Aaron Ashbridge, and was succeeded by Joseph James, 4 mo. 6, 1764. Jane Yarnall was appointed overseer 7 mo. 6, 1770, in room of Rebecca Ashbridge, and was succeeded by Mary Garrett, Jr., 1 mo. 8, 1773. They were both subjects of other appointments and active members of the meeting.

Francis Yarnall[1] and his brother Philip came from Cloynes in the county of Worcester, England, and settled at first in Springfield township, on 100 acres of land which was surveyed to Francis, Oct. 17, 1683, and patented 12 mo. 6, 1685. This was about a mile from Springfield Meeting, on the road to Clifton. Francis afterward purchased 510 acres in Willistown township, adjoining the line of Edgmont, and extending westward from Crum Creek nearly two miles. He was a member of the Provincial Assembly in 1711, and died in 1721. He was married in 1686 to Hannah Baker and had the following children:

Sarah, b. 5 mo. 28, 1687; m. William Askew.
John, b. 10 mo. 24, 1688; m. Ann Coppock and Jane Thomas.
Peter, b. 8 mo. 20, 1690; m. Alice Worrilow.

297. Phebe, b. 6 mo. 21, 1784; no further account.
298. Benjamin, b. 11 mo. 15, 1786; d. 8 mo. 26, 1864; m. Charity Beeson.

At Chester Mo. Mtg., 9 mo. 24, 1701, "Aaron James, latly arived from Staford months meeting in Old England, produced from thence a certificate on the behalfe of himselfe & wife to the full satisfaction of this meeting." He purchased 142 acres of land in Westtown from Joseph Hickman, by deed of 12 mo. 24, 1701–2, and settled in that township where he died 2 mo. 8, 1752. Elizabeth, his wife, died 9 mo., 19, 1751. They had six children,

Thomas, b. 4 mo. 20, 1700; m. Hannah Pyle, 1 mo. 22, 1731–2.
Mary, b. 5 mo. 15, 1702; m. Amos Townsend and Joseph Yarnall.
Sarah, b. 7 mo. 1, 1704; m. Joseph Gilbert 9 mo. 16, 1744.
Aaron, b. 11 mo. 9, 1706; d. 9 mo. 10, 1750; m. Hannah Elwall, b. July 28, 1715.
Joseph, b. 1 mo. 29, 1709; m. Hannah Hickman.
Ann, b. 3 mo. 24, 1711.

Aaron James and Elizabeth, his wife, conveyed, Oct. 26, 1741, to their son Aaron, the above tract of 142 acres in Westtown, and the latter settled thereon. He was married 8 mo. 28, 1741, at Concord Mtg., to Hannah Elwall of Westtown. They had three children, Jane, who married Joseph Hibberd, Jacob, b. 4 mo. 4, 1744, m. 9 mo. 14, 1763, to Christina Ryan, and Isaac, b. 10 mo. 13, 1745, who d. in Willistown, 1772, unmarried. The land was divided and 98 acres thereof assigned to Jane and Isaac, and the latter conveyed his interest to Joseph Hibberd 3 mo. 5, 1771, who, with his wife, sold the 98 acres to Nathan Matlack, 3 mo. 26, 1781.

Joseph Hibberd also obtained 96 acres, 100 perches of land in Willistown, by gift from his father Jan. 13, 1774, and with his wife sold the same, Oct. 9, 1784, to his brother Caleb Hibberd. A certificate was granted by Goshen Mo. Mtg., 12 mo. 17, 1784, for Joseph Hibberd and family, directed to Pipe Creek Mo. Mtg., in Frederick Co., Maryland, where it is presumed they ended their days. His father devised to him 14 acres and 32 perches of land in Willistown.

58. Benjamin Hibberd[4], Phebe[3], b. in Willistown 8 mo. 25, 1740; d. 4 mo. 14, 1819; m. 10 mo. 19, 1769, at an appointed meeting in Willistown, to Mary Garrett, b. in Willistown; d. 4 mo. 19, 1811; dau. of Isaac Garrett[3] (William[2], William[1],) and Elizabeth Hatton, of Willistown. They had five children,

299. Amos, b. 11 mo. 1, 1770; d. 10 mo. 30, 1853; m. Hannah Garrett.
300. Enos, b. 11 mo. 5, 1773; d. 4 mo. 3, 1790.
301. Benjamin, b. 10 mo. 29, 1775; d. 2 mo. 10, 1818, unmarried.
302. Lydia, b. 10 mo. 2, 1777; d. 12 mo. 28, 1842; m. Josiah Garrett.
303. Orpah, b. 2 mo. 18, 1782; d. 7 mo. 31, 1827, unmarried.

Benjamin Hibberd remained at the homestead, which he inherited, and was assessed in 1786 with 148 acres, 2 horses and three cattle; in 1799 with the same land, valued at $11 per acre, house, brick and stone, and stone spring-house, and stone and frame barn, 3 horses and 6 cattle. He was appointed 12 mo. 11, 1801, to record certificates of removal, in the room of Abraham Pratt, and on 10 mo. 8, 1802, was chosen overseer of Willistown Meeting in room of Amos Garrett. He was succeeded by Amos Garrett, as overseer, 9 mo. 9, 1808, and by Samuel Grubb 10 mo. 1, 1817, as recorder of certificates. It is said that his death was caused by his clothes taking fire when he was burning brush.

WILLISTOWN MEETING.

The marriage of Benjamin Hibberd in 1769, at a meeting in Willistown is the first allusion to a meeting being held in the township. It was probably held at first in a private house, and only in the winter, when traveling was more difficult. Other marriages are stated to have been accomplished there, as follows: one 11 mo. 25, 1773; one 12 mo. 22, 1774; one 11 mo. 21, 1782 and two in 1784. At Goshen Mo. Mtg., 4 mo. 9, 1784, "The ffrds who have usually held a meeting During the winter season at Willistown, now Request, with the approbation of Goshen & Newtown preparative meetings, to have a meeting settled there & to hold a preparative meeting; which is left for further sollid consideration." The subject was again considered 10 mo. 8, 1784 when it was concluded to drop it for the present. On 6 mo. 8, 1787, "The friends who have usually attended the Willistown meeting Requests to have a meeting settled there, to be held on first and fifth days, except the day before Goshen Mo. meeting, which is left under consideration another mo." At the next meeting it was concluded to forward the request to the Quarterly Meeting, at a session of which, held 11 mo. 10, 1788, it was granted after the manner proposed.

The present meeting-house was built in 1798, but at what date a prior one was erected we have no account at present. After the new one was built the old one was used for some time as a dwelling, but upon the division in the Society, in 1828, the Orthodox portion again made use of the old building. It was torn down about the year 1875.

314. Samuel, b. 8 mo. 29, 1792; d. 2 mo. 2, 1822, unmarried.

Caleb Hibbard substituted the "a" in his name for the "e" used by his father and the others of the family, and his descendants follow his example. He learned the tanning business and established a tannery on his farm. His father gave him 50 acres of the original tract Jan. 11, 1774, and 5 acres of another tract the day previous. In 1784 he bought his brother Joseph's farm, out of which the 5 acres had been taken. His father also devised to him about 101 acres in two tracts. In 1774 he was assessed with 50 acres, 1 horse and 2 cattle; in 1786, with 176 acres, a tanyard, 1 horse and three cattle. In 1799 he had the same land, worth $10, per acre, 2 stone houses, 2 log barns, tanyard and buildings, 2 horses, 4 cattle and a saw-mill.

Peter Thomas[1] and Sarah Stedman both of "Springtowne" declared their intentions of marriage before Chester Mo. Mtg., 1 mo. 1, and 2 mo. 5, 1686, and were married 2 mo. 15, 1686, at John Simcock's house in Ridley. They afterward removed to Willistown and settled on a tract of 528 acres, on Crum Creek, next above Francis Yarnall. Peter died 4 mo. 5, 1722. Their children, so far as known, were Lydia, m. in 1710 to John Pyle, Peter, Jacob, m. 9 mo. 6, 1717 to Elizabeth Richards, and Joseph m. 1718, to Jemima David.

Peter Thomas[2] of Willistown, was married in 1711, to Elizabeth Goodwin, and had children, Jacob, Sarah, Peter, John, Thomas, Isaac, Elizabeth, Mary, Rachel, James and Lydia.

Isaac Thomas[3], b. 4 mo. 21, 1721; d. 1 mo. 19, 1802; was married 3 mo. 16, 1745, at Birmingham Mtg., to Mary Townsend, dau. of John Townsend (and Catharine?) of Westtown township, from Long Island. They continued to reside in Willistown and had eleven children, Phebe, b. 2 mo. 21, 1746; d. 11 mo. 22, 1827; m. Caleb Hibbard.

Enos, b. 11 mo. 12, 1747; d. 3 mo. 8, 1805; m. Sarah Garrett.
Nathan, b. 10 mo. 20, 1749; m. Sarah Scott.
Hannah, b. 10 mo. 31, 1751; d. 9 mo. 22, 1785; m. Daniel Sharples (No. 69).
Isaac, b. 5 mo. 12, 1754; d. 3 mo. 20, 1806; m. Hannah Jackson.
Mary, b. 8 mo. 23, 1756; d. 5 mo. 13, 1759.
Jonathan, b. 10 mo. 21, 1758; d. 5 mo. 26, 1759.
Townsend, b. 6 mo. 4, 1760; d. 3 mo. 28, 1846; m. Beulah Eyre.
Thomas, b. 6 mo. 3, 1763.
Martha, b. 2 mo. 22, 1765; d. 5 mo. 28, 1837; m. John Larkin.
Mordecai, b. 7 mo. 21, 1767; d. 5 mo. 7, 1837; m. Lydia Hoopes.

As a cabinet-maker Isaac Thomas made the old-fashioned long eight-day clocks which are now much sought after as relics and specimens of antique furniture. Caleb Hibbard (the son?) also made some of them early in this century.

60. Phebe Hibbard[4], Phebe[3], b. in Willistown 2 mo. 16, 1745; d. 1 mo. 7, 1795; m. 4 mo. 11, 1765, at Goshen Meeting, to Allen Farquhar, b. 10 mo. 16, 1737, O. S.; d. 10 mo. 15, 1798; son of William and Ann Farquhar, of Pipe Creek, Frederick Co. Md. They had ten children,

315. Benjamin, b. 5 mo. 8, 1766; d. 8 mo. 8, 1827; m. Rachel Wright.
316. Amos, b. 7 mo. 5, 1768; d. 5 mo. 1835; m. Mary Elgar.
317. William, b. 11 mo. 15, 1770; m. Sarah Updegraff.
318. Infant son, b. 9 mo. 10, 1772; d. 11 mo. 5, 1772.
319. Allen, b. 9 mo. 15, 1773; d. 11 mo. 22, 1827; m. Mary Poultney.
320. Caleb, b. 3 mo. 26, 1776; m. Sarah Poultney.
321. Jonah, b. 3 mo. 13, 1778; d. 4 mo. 10, 1857; m. Elizabeth Beal.
322. Hannah, b. 3 mo. 10, 1780; m. Josiah Updegraff.
323. Mahlon, b. 6 mo. 27, 1782; d. 12 mo. 21, 1808, unmarried, in Ohio.
324. James, b. 7 mo. 29, 1786; cert. to Fairfax, Va., 10 mo. 17, 1812; d. at Jefferson City, Mo., unmarried.

Allen Farquhar[1], grandfather of Allen, above, came from Ireland, and in 1725 and 1726, was a resident taxable in Chester Co., Pa., as of New Garden township. After this he removed to Pipe Creek, Md. His son William[2], b. in Ireland 7 mo. 29, 1705; d. at Pipe Creek 9 mo. 21, 1778, remained in Chester County for some time and became a member of New Garden Mo. Mtg., where he married, 2 mo. 19, 1733, Ann Miller, dau. of James and Katharine (Lightfoot) Miller, also from Ireland. In 1735 they removed to Pipe Creek, taking a certificate to Hopewell Mo. Mtg., in Virginia, and settled near where the town of Union Bridge now stands, on land conveyed to him by his father for being a faithful and filial son, provided he would move from "ye province of Pennsylvania to ye province of Maryland," and occupy the same. William was a tailor, and, tradition says, used to make up buckskin breeches, take them to Annapolis, and with the proceeds "enter" more land, until, about 1760, he had possession of 2000 acres: also that his sister Hannah Owings, a Catholic, from near Emmettsburg, Md., used to have long discussions with him about the heresy of his faith. He was influential in having a Friends' meeting established at Pipe Creek, and a memorial of him was published in 1787.

His watch, said to have been brought from Ireland, is now in possession of Pemberton Wood, of Union Bridge.

The children of William² and Ann Farquhar were—

James, b. — mo. 20, 1733.
William, b. 10 mo. 11, 1735; m. Rachel Wright and Mary Baily.
Allen, b. 10 mo. 16, 1737; m. Phebe Hibberd (No. 60).
Mary, b. 11 mo. 22, 1739; m. Joseph Wright.
George, b. 6 mo. 9, 1742.
Samuel, b. 5 mo. 8, 1745; m. Phebe Yarnall (No. 274).
Elizabeth, b. 6 mo. 13, 1748; m. Joel Wright.
Moses, b. 11 mo. 3, 1750.
Susannah, b. 9 mo. 5, 1753; m. Solomon Shepherd.

Allen Farquhar² died 12 mo. 12, 1800, in his 81st year, and Sarah, his widow, 7 mo. 4, 1829, in her 97th year. They had seven children, Thomas, b. 11 mo. 16, 1751, m. Hannah Edmundson; Sarah, b. 11 mo. 13, 1753; William, b. 12 mo. 24, 1755; Rachel, b. 2 mo. 7 1764; Robert, b. 7 mo. 13, 1766; Mary, b. 11 mo. 6, 1769; Samuel, b. 9 mo. 21, 1772. Thomas and Hannah had children, Joseph, Thomas, Allan, William, David and John B., of whom David was the father of Joseph Farquhar of East Bethlehem Washington Co., Pa. The family were doubtless of Scotch ancestry.

Isabella G. Putnam[7] (Mary[6], Lydia[5], Richard Bond[4]), of Mount Pleasant, Iowa, says that her great-grandfather represented Cecil County in the Maryland Assembly for twenty-one years. What is known of his landed possessions there, has been mentioned in the history of his parents. He removed to Virginia in 1799, and took up the fine bottom land lying on Lost Creek and its tributaries, at what is now Lost Creek Station, Harrison Co., W. Va. The following letter, without date, must have been written about 1808, or early in 1809; when the writer was 80 years of age.

VIRGINIA, Harrison County, near Clarks Burg.

MY DEAR SISTERS:

I send these lines with the greatest affection; if yet a living hoping they will find you in health, and hope you are traviling that narrow way that leads to Everlasting happyness, and that you may set down with Christ on his throne where I hope you and I may meet through the merits of our Dear Redeemer and sing that new song, Glory and honour to the lamb who hath redeemed us to our God By his own Blood. And my Dear sisters I shall inform you how we are at present: our Relations are generly well and have the nessesaries of Life and Likely to do well in life: my Children are all married but Maryann, and expect shee will before long, Except Rachel, who Continues out of her reason. My self has had a long spell of Illness this three months; have not been able to do any thing, and now have a gathering in one side my head which has been very painfull and yet is not Easy. I must Conclude with my Sincear prayer for your Everlasting hapiness, our Loves being rememberd to you. from your Brother

RICH^D BOND.

[On outside] To Sarah Howell, Margret Davis,
and Susannah Davis.
favourd by our Elder John Davis.

62. Sarah Bond[4], Ann[3], b. in Cecil Co., Md., Feb. 9, 1729–30; d. at Shiloh, N. J., Dec. 30, 1812; m. about 1749 to Ebenezer Howell of New Castle Co., Del., born at sea about 1727; d. at Shiloh 1790. His father is thought to have been Thomas Howell, from Wales, and one Reynold Howell, of New Castle County, was a relative. The family records are in possession of their grandson Lewis Howell, Shiloh, N. J., but he being much from home among his children it has been impracticable to obtain exact dates. He has however sent the following as approximate, for the children of Ebenezer and Sarah Howell:

340. Samuel, b. 1750; d. 1769, unmarried.
341. Richard, b. 1752; d. 1802; m. Kezia Burr.

342. Lewis, b. 1752; d. about 1778; twin with Richard, unmarried.
343. Sarah, b. 1754; d. 1826; m. four times.
344. Ebenezer, b. 1756; d. 1776.
345. Azariah, b. 1758; died young.
346. Susanna, b. 1760; d. 1778.
347. Tamar, b. 1762; d. 1784.
348. Margaret, b. 1763; d. unmarried.
349. Anne, b. 1764; d. 1780.
350. George, b. 1766; d. 1848; m. Anna Mulford.

Lewis Howell also writes (1884), after referring to Samuel and Ann Bond, as Seventh-day Baptists, as follows: "My grandfather, E. Howell, did not belong to that school but respected his wife's views so much that he sold out his possessions in New Castle County and bought land in Shiloh, so that his wife, Sarah, might be near a Church of the Sabbatarians. She observed the seventh day as a sabbath, and he the first day, while they lived. The sons followed the father and the daughters the mother,—not a very promising plan for happiness, although my father told me it was never made a cause of trouble. Ebenezer Howell purchased the farm near Shiloh in 1768, built a brick house in 1770; lived on it till he died: (my father, George, ditto, and the prospect is that I shall as I am 82.) was a Judge of the Courts for Cumberland County before the Revolution, of course a mark for the tories. His wife did not want to know where he was at night as they, the tories, would call and enquire for him."

63. Margaret Bond⁴, Ann³, b. in Cecil Co., Md., Oct. 4, 1732; d. Oct. 6, 1822, at Shiloh, N. J.; m. Jonathan Davis, b. July 7, 1734; d. July 23, 1785; son of David Davis, pastor of the Welsh Tract Baptist Church in New Castle Co., Del. They had eight children,

351. Ann, married Elijah Ayars.
352. Samuel, b. Nov. 3, 1760; d. Feb. 18, 1834; m. Anna Sheppard, Mary Ayars, Hannah Smalley and Hannah (Hall) Sheppard.
353. David, b. Nov. 3, 1760; d. July 1, 1844; m. Naomi Dunn.
354. Ammi, b. April 1, 1762; d. Jan. 29, 1817; m. Jonathan Davis (No. 360).
355. Susanna, died unmarried.
356. Sarah, d. Dec. 17, 1789; m. David Thomas.
357. Richard, d. Jan. 1833; m. Ruth Young.
358. John, b. Dec. 1775; d. Aug. 6, 1854; m. Mary Jones.

It is claimed that Jonathan Davis, before leaving New Castle County, founded Newark Academy, now Delaware College. He became a Sabbatarian, perhaps through the influence of his wife, and was ordained

Nov. 13, 1768, at the request of the Church at Shiloh, Cumberland Co., N. J., and succeeded Elder Jonathan Davis, who died Feb. 2, 1769, as pastor; in which station he continued until his death. During this time a new meeting-house was built, of brick, and there was a large increase of membership. He is said to have given the name of Shiloh to the Church and place, which had been known as Cohansey Corners.

Rev. David Davis, the 5th pastor of the Welsh Tract Church, was born in 1708 in the parish of Whitchurch and county of Pembroke, Wales; arrived in this country in 1710, was ordained in 1734, and died Aug. 19, 1769. We are not informed as to his parents, yet they doubtless brought him over. His wife, Rachel, was the daughter of Rev. Elisha Thomas, the the 2d pastor of the Welsh Tract Church, who was born in 1674, in Caermarthenshire, Wales, and arrived in Penna., 1701: died Nov. 7, 1730, and was buried at Welsh Tract, where a tomb-stone was erected to his memory. His daughter Rachel married first, ——— Jones, and secondly David Davis.

A paper in possession of Susan J. Bowen of Bridgeton, N. J., apparently written by David Davis, contains a partly mutilated record of his family, viz.:

My son Rees Davis was borne September the 20, 1732: Died Nov^{r}: 1: 1756.
My son Jonathan Davis was borne July the 7: 1734.
My son Thomas David was borne Decem the 24: 1735.
My son John Davis was borne Septem the 7: 1737.
My Daughter Susanah Davis was borne Septem 29: 1739.
My Daughter Mary Davis was borne Aug.(?) the 28: 1741.
My Daughter Margret Davis was borne June the 28: 1743.
And my Dear Wife Died July the 23: 17—

There appears to have been a child by a second wife but the name and date are missing. Morgan Edwards, in his "Materials towards a History of the American Baptists," 1770, mentions these children of David and Rachel Davis (except Thomas), and says that they, with the exception of John and Margaret, were married into the families of Miles, Bonham, Bentley and Parr. John supplied the church for a time after his father's death, but in 1770, was about to remove to Boston.

361. Jacob, b. Sept. 30, 1761; d. Jan. 23, 1822; m. Elizabeth Woodruff.
362. Ebenezer, b. May 7, 1763; d. Mar. 13, 1827; m. Margaret Tomlinson.
363. Jedediah, b. Apr. 30, 1765; d. Mar. 8, 1829; m. Rebecca Sheppard and Amarilla Lennox.
364. Susanna, b. Aug. 15, 1767; d. Jan. 19, 1770.
365. Samuel Bond, b. Jan. 1, 1770; d. Oct. 30, 1836; m. Sarah Sheppard and Lavina (Ayars) Davis.
366. Jeremiah, b. June 6, 1771; d. Dec. 27, 1799; m. Martha Swinney.
367. Elnathan, b. Mar. 26, 1774; d. Sep. 14, 1842; m. Hannah Crosley and Catharine Ayars.
368. Susanna, b. Jan. 19, 1777; d. Aug. 16, 1837; m. Mahlon Davis.
369. Margaret, b. Jan. 24, 1780; d. Jan. 16, 1837; m. Dickinson Sheppard and Reese Ayars.

Elnathan and Susanna Davis resided on a farm on the south side of the pike, running to Bridgeton, about half a mile east of Shiloh. Both were buried at the Shiloh Seventh-day Baptist Church; she on Apr. 14, 1810, when Joel Smith preached from Eccl. xii. 6 and 7. Micajah Ayars says "there are one or two linen towels in our family that Susanna Davis made, we suppose about one hundred years old."

Elnathan was a noted surveyor and much employed in his own and neighboring counties, and even as far off as Maryland. His journeys to that province, when a young man, becoming frequent, his friends inquired the cause, to which he would answer, "Interest on a bond to be attended to." Tradition says that not until he brought home his bride did the friends suspect it was a living bond that had drawn him thither. He held the appointment of deputy surveyor for Cumberland County and was employed in making some important surveys. His accuracy was so well known that later surveyors have seldom disagreed with the lines run by him.

About the year 1662, three brothers, John, Jonathan and William Davis, came to New England in the company of Welsh Baptists under the leadership of the Rev. John Miles. They named the place of their settlement Swansea from that of their home in Wales. About the year 1687 a number of families, including the Bowens, Barretts and others, under the Rev. Timothy Brooks, removed to South Jersey, and settled at Bowentown, Barretts Run and Shiloh. Some of the Davis family removed to Long Island, whence Jonathan and Elnathan Davis, supposed to be sons of one of the above three brothers, came to Trenton, and Elnathan became the Surveyor General of New Jersey. Jonathan Davis, Jr., son of Elnathan settled at Shiloh, married Esther, daughter of Isaac Ayars, and had six children:

Jarman, b. Feb. 24, 1732; m. Esther Ayars.
Jonathan, b. Jan. 26, 1734; d. Jan. 21, 1753.
Elnathan, b. Dec. 13, 1735; m. Susanna Bond.
Isaac, b. July 27, 1737.
Edith, b. Nov. 13, 1739.
Naomi, b. Mar. 10, 1757; m. Caleb Ayars.

SHILOH CHURCH.

Jonathan Davis of Long Island, born May 15, 1675, married a Bowen of the Rev. John Miles' company, and about the year 1700 settled at Trenton with his brother Elnathan Davis, the Surveyor General. He frequently visited his wife's relatives at Bowentown, and being a Seventh-day Baptist gained numerous converts in that vicinity. It appears that in 1716, these Sabbath-keepers had a temporary organization, and held meetings from house to house. At length, on the 27th of March, 1737, the Seventh-day Baptist Church of Shiloh was organized with the following articles of faith and agreement, and names as found in the oldest records.

We whose names are hereunder written do join together upon the articles and agreements following:

1st. We believe that unto us there is but one God, the Father, and one Lord, Jesus Christ, who is the Mediator between God and mankind. We believe the Holy Ghost is the Spirit of God. 1 Cor. 8: 6; 1 Tim. 2: 5; 2 Tim. 3: 16; 2 Peter 1: 21; John 14: 26.

2d. We believe that all Scripture of the Old and New Testaments given by inspiration, is the word of God, (2 Peter 1: 19–21; 2 Tim. 3: 16; Mark 7: 13; 1 Thess. 2: 13; Acts 4: 29–31.) and is the rule of faith and practice.

3d. We believe that the ten commandments that were written on two tables of stone by the finger of God continueth to be the rule of righteousness unto all men. Matt. 5: 17–19; Mal. 4: 4; James 2: 10; James 1: 25; Romans 7: 25; 3: 31; 13: 8–10; Eph. 6: 2.

4th. We believe the six principles recorded in Hebrews 6: 1, 2, to be the rule of faith and practice.

5th. We believe that the Lord's Supper ought to be administered and received in all Christian churches. Luke 22: 19, 20; 1 Cor. 11: 23–26.

6th. We believe that all Christian churches ought to have church officers in them, as elders and deacons. Titus 1 : 5 ; Acts 6 : 3.

7th. We believe that all persons thus believing ought to be baptized in water by dipping, plunging, after confession is made by them of their faith in the above said things. Mark 1 : 4, 5 ; Acts 2 : 38 ; Acts 8 : 36, 37 ; Rom. 6 : 3, 4 ; Col. 2 : 12.

8th. We believe that a company of sincere persons being found in the faith and practice of the above said things may be said to be the church of Christ. Acts 2 : 41, 42.

9th. We give up ourselves first unto the Lord, and to one another, to be guided and governed by one another according to the word of God. 2 Cor. 8 : 5 ; Col. 2 : 19 ; Psa. 133 : 1 ; 84 : 1, 2, 4, 10.

To Jonathan Davis, senior, is ascribed the honor of being the founder of the church. He died in 1750, leaving no children. His nephew, Jonathan Davis, Jr., was chosen at the constitution of the church as the first settled pastor, and under his labors the members increased from eighteen to about one hundred. He had for many years a colleague in the person of Eld. Samuel Bowen, of the Timothy Brooks company.

On the 24th of March, 1738, Caleb Ayars, Sr., deeded to the church one acre of land for a meeting-house lot and burial ground, and a frame house for worship, 30 by 40 ft., was erected the same year. One feature of this first meeting-house consisted of a large fire place in the centre of the room. Another fact was that the pastor, at his death, Feb. 2, 1769, in his 60th year, was buried under the floor of the meeting-house, between the pulpit and the fire place. The spot is now identified by the large flat tombstone placed over his remains.

The second pastor was Rev. Jonathan Davis from the Welsh Tract in Delaware, who had been ordained to the ministry Nov. 12, 1768, and continued his labors till his death, July 23, 1785. It was this man, so eminent for learning and piety, that gave the name of Shiloh to the place which was formerly called Cohansey Corners. Rev. Jonathan Jarman was his colleague for some years and after his death supplied the church till he moved to Cape May, where he died, but his remains were brought back to Shiloh for burial. Rev. Thomas Jones, a First-day Baptist minister supplied the church for a time, and Philip Ayars, a prominent member, administered the ordinance of baptism in the absence of a pastor.

In 1786 Nathan Ayars was called by the church and ordained, and remained pastor till his death in 1810. About 1790 a division took place in regard to doctrine, and under the preaching of Eld. Moses Winchester a few openly espoused the theory of final restoration.

John Davis, the youngest son of the second pastor, was ordained in 1807, and continued his labors with the church till 1842, when he resigned on account of age. Under his pastorate there were large revivals and probably the most extensive ingatherings in the history of the church. During the year 1831, when he was assisted by Eld. William B. Maxson, there were added no less than one hundred and one members.

Rev. Azor Estee was the next pastor, and remained nearly three years. Under his ministration, assisted by Eld. John Green, about ninety were added to the church. In 1844, Solomon Carpenter took the oversight of the church but was soon transferred to the China mission. In 1845, Eld. Samuel Davison, a convert to the Sabbath, took the pastoral charge, and was succeeded in 1848 by Rev. Giles M. Langworthy, whose sickness and premature death again left them without an undershepherd.

Rev. Enoch Barnes, a convert from the Methodists, supplied the pulpit during the summer of 1850. Eld. George R. Wheeler of Salem also officiated occasionally, but was soon called to the pastorate of the Marlboro Church. Rev. William Jones, a convert to the Sabbath while laboring in Hayti under the Baptist Free Missionary Society, was called to take charge of the church in the fall of 1850. During his ministry the present brick meeting-house was completed and dedicated, the old building donated to the Union Academy and fitted up especially for the wants of that institution. After the dedication of the new meeting-house Eld. Jones continued the meetings from night to night which resulted in a large ingathering of the young people. In 1853 he resigned in order to go as a missionary to Palestine and was succeeded the following Spring by Rev. Walter B. Gillette. The latter, after a successful pastorate of twenty years, with many refreshing seasons and large accessions to the church, the cause of education advanced and the present Academic building erected, resigned the pastorate to go as missionary in the Western Association.

In April, 1873, Rev. A. H. Lewis was called to the pastoral care of the church. A parsonage in the village was purchased and remodeled at a cost of about three thousand dollars. In 1875 the number of communicants was about three hundred and seventy-five. A. H. Lewis remained with the Church till July 3, 1876, when he returned to Alfred Centre, N. Y., whence he came, to take charge of the theological department in the University. He is now pastor of the Plainfield, N. J., Seventh-day Baptist Church. Rev. D. H. Davis, a graduate of Alfred University, was the next pastor, but after three years he was chosen by the General Conference, Sept., 1879, to go as a missionary to China, where he is now pastor of a church in Shanghai.

Rev. Theodore L. Gardiner, a graduate of Alfred University, began his pastoral labors in Dec., 1879, and still remains very acceptably with the Church. He is often called upon to fill the pulpits of different churches, in the absence of their pastors. He is an earnest worker in the cause of temperance, and an advocate of prohibition, upon which he is frequently called to speak in different places.

The first land owned by the church, being one acre, forms the north-east corner of the present graveyard. Since then additions have been made until there are now about six acres. The first house was used for thirty-three years when it was moved to the village and used as a mechanic's shop by Elijah Ayars. Said Dea. John Bright's mother—"It was on account of the old meeting-house stopping at Cohansey Corners, in imitation of the ark resting at Shiloh, that our village received that beautiful name, which it has ever since retained." The frame of the old building was afterward taken down, and now forms part of the barn owned by Caleb Henry Sheppard. In 1771, a brick meeting-house 36½ by 40 ft., was erected, and in 1824, a large gallery, on three sides, was added. In 1850 this building was donated to the Union Academy and used till the new academy building was finished, when it was taken down and the large trees which surrounded it cut away to make room for an enlargement of the graveyard. In 1850 the present building, 42 by 64 ft., was erected, and dedicated in 1851, of which we give a view. A picture of the second building might have been of more interest to the older members but this will be familiar to the greater number. Hundreds have gone forth to help build up other churches in various places in the West, but they and their descendants must look back to Shiloh as the home of their fathers, whose bones lie thickly buried in the quiet graveyard there. The fact that the church has been largely composed of the descendants of the Sharpless Family is the excuse for giving so much of its history, which is mostly taken from an account prepared in 1875, by Ethan B. Swinney, one of the family.

The architect and builder of the present structure was David A. F. Randolph, and among the carpenters who worked at it were Abel S. Randolph, Howell W. Randolph, Isaac Randolph, Micajah Ayars, Mordecai T. Davis, Percival F. Davis, Hugh D. Ayars and William T. Sheppard; the most of whom are mentioned elsewhere in this work.

65. Thomas Sharples⁴, Daniel³, b. in Ridley (now Nether Providence), 8 mo. 29, 1738; d. in Chester township, 1796; m. 6 mo. 23, 1763, at Chester Mtg., to Martha Preston, b. 6 mo. 22, 1744; d. 10 mo. 6, 1797; dau. of Jonas and Jane Preston of Chester township. They had eight children,

370. William, married Ann Morrison.
371. Preston, died young.
372. Jonas, b. 7 mo. 9, 1769; d. 1 mo. 5, 1851; m. Susanna Fairlamb.

376. Samuel, married Rebecca Y. Judge.
377. George, married Anna Sackett.

Thomas Sharples was appointed a trustee for Chester Meeting 11 mo. 28, 1763, in place of Jonathan Cowpland, disowned: received a certificate to Duck Creek 6 mo. 28, 1773, with wife and four children, William, Preston, Jonas and Jane: produced one from thence 8 mo. 30, 1779, with wife and children, William, Jonas, Jane, Thomas and Preston. On 9 mo. 21, 1781, Chester Mtg. complained that he had taken a Test and paid fines and taxes demanded of him for military purposes, and had collected a tax from those that were free to pay; for which he was disowned 1 mo. 28, 1782. The following is a copy of the testimony against him:

Whereas Thomas Sharpless, having a birthright amongst us (the People called Quakers), but for want of attending to the dictates of Truth in his own heart, hath deviated so far as to take, or subscribe to, a Test, the tenor of which is inconsistant with our Religious principles, & hath paid a fine or fines in Lieu of personal service in the Militia; therefore in order to clear the Society from the reproach of such conduct, we disown him from being a member thereof, until he, being sensible of his Errors, may Condemn the same to the satisfaction of this meeting: which that he may is our desire.

Signed in & on behalf of Chester Monthly Meeting, held the 28th of 1 Mo: 1782.

by Thos. Evans, Clk.

Thomas Sharples, wheelwright, was assessed in Chester, 1764, with a dwelling house, two lots and a cow. In 1786, he had a house and wharf, two horses, six cows, two spoons and 75 acres of land. His father devised to him in 1775, a house and some lots, with 48 acres of land, and his wife's parents had given them a house and 20 acres by deed of Jan. 16, 1771. Thomas bought from Nehemiah Davis and wife, Eleanor, 4½ acres, Feb. 7, 1770, and from Reuben Roberts and wife, Margaret, 5 acres, 61 perches, Jan. 2, 1772. The last piece was conveyed to John Crosby Jan. 25, 1793. On July 17, 1790, Joseph Russell of Philadelphia, merchant, and wife, Ann, conveyed to Thomas Sharples of Chester, wheelwright, and wife, Martha, two pieces of Upland and marsh, about 20 acres, being part of a larger tract called the Horse Shoe. The house and lot of 4½ acres, bought from Davis, were conveyed to William Willis of Chester borough Mar. 25, 1796. Thomas bought two acres of marsh from William Swaffer, or his executors, but dying intestate before a deed was executed, the same was conveyed to his administrators, his widow and son William, 12 mo. 31, 1796.

Martha Sharples was appointed on a committee to have care of the poor, but being deceased was succeeded by Mary Davies, 12 mo. 25, 1797. Her will was dated 9 mo. 7, 1797, and proved Oct. 19, 1797, in which she gives to her son William the house and plantation where I now dwell, given me by my father, Jonas Preston; also the marsh bought of Joseph Russell, he paying the balance of the purchase money, £106, and £260, to the rest of the children: The 8 acres on Chester Creek in the borough, and a lot of my late husband to be valued together and divided so as to accommodate two of my children: dau. Jane's share to be put at interest during her life and the principal paid to her children: to grandchildren Thomas Sharples and Martha Shaw, £25, each: to son William the walnut desk and bookcase which was his fathers: to son Preston all the furniture in my bed room: my half of the mill in St. George's hundred, New Castle County, Del., to be sold.

William Preston, and Jane, his wife, "of Bradley in the parish of Huthersfield, Old England," arrived in Pennsylvania in the year 1718, bringing a certificate from Brighouse Monthly Meeting of Friends, held 11 mo. 17, 1717, at Harwood-well, near Halifax, in the county of York. They with their seven children, John, Martha, Joseph, Sarah, William, Jonas and Mary, settled in Buckingham, Bucks Co., Pa.

Jonas Preston, the youngest son, was born in Yorkshire, 11 mo. 19, 1710, and died in New Castle, Del., 2 mo. 1, 1772. He married Jane Paxson, of Bucks County, and had children, William, b. 11 mo. 25, 1732–3; Mary, b. 9 mo. 20, 1734; John, b. 10 mo. 20, 1736, d. 6 mo. 4, 1740; Jane, b. 10 mo. 16, 1738, d. 6 mo. 8, 1740; Sarah, b. 10 mo. 13, 1740, m. John Eyre received a certificate from Concord to Chester Mo. Mtg., 7 mo. 4, 1757, and on 8 mo. 29, declared his intention of marriage with Elizabeth, dau. of Enoch Cummings. At the next meeting, 9 mo. 26, 1757, "Report is made that Elizabeth Cummings is Deceased, Therefore an end is put to their proceeding." He was appointed overseer for Chester Mtg., 12 mo. 25, 1769, in room of Nathaniel Squibb; 8 mo. 30, 1773, on a committee to make repairs to Providence Mtg., House; 12 mo. 26, 1774, a trustee for the meeting-house lot in Chester, and 1 mo. 30, 1775, an Elder for Chester Meeting. Caleb Harrison was appointed overseer 4 mo. 29, 1776, in room of John Eyre, who had removed, and a certificate was granted for the latter and his family to Concord, 6 mo. 24, 1776. John Eyre was appointed an Elder for Chichester Mtg., 10 mo. 9, 1776.

Rebecca Eyre was appointed overseer 3 mo. 5, 1777, in room of Mary Dutton, and was succeeded by Hannah Dutton 9 mo. 8, 1779, whose place she resumed 7 mo. 4, 1781. She was appointed an Elder 11 mo. 6, 1782, and was succeeded by Martha Dingee as overseer 9 mo. 3, 1783.

John Eyre m. again 4 mo. 29, 1799, Isabella Campbell, and they had a dau. Mary Ann, b. 1 mo. 29, 1800, who, with her mother, was received into membership 6 mo. 4, 1806. The widow m. 12 mo. 9, 1813, Robert Innis, and both were suffocated in 1841, by the fumes of a coal fire in their bed room.

Robert Eyre[1] was born in England Jan. 30, 1648, O. S., the day upon which Charles I. was beheaded. He married Ann, dau. of Francis Smith, of Devizes in Wiltshire, and came to Penna. about 1682; and from 1683 to 1690, was Clerk of the Courts of Chester County. His residence was in Bethel, on land of his father-in-law, who, in 1686, conveyed 150 acres to him and his wife. The children of Robert and Ann Eyre, so far as known, were Robert, Ann, Jane, William and Francis.

William Eyre[2] became a Friend and was married at Haverford Mtg., 1723–4, to Mary Davis, dau. of Lewis and Florence David of Darby. He resided in Bethel until his death, in 1763 or '4. Their children were, Lewis, d. 1771, unmarried; William, d. 11 mo. 18, 1814, aged 88, unmarried; Robert married and removed to Va.; Rebecca, m. 2 mo. 27, 1749, Joseph Askew; Jane, m. 1756, to Robert Wilson, Jr.; Ann, d. 12 mo. 3, 1812, aged 73, unmarried; Isaac, m. 6 mo. 26, 1766, at Chester Mtg., to Ann Preston: second wife, Abigail Dicks. 383. Caleb, b. 3 mo. 2, 1785; d. 1 mo. 31, 1864; m. Hannah Baily and Ann Pennock.
384. Abigail, b. 3 mo. 18, 1787; d. 2 mo. 23, 1868; m. John Paxson.
385. Phebe, b. 5 mo. 15, 1790; d. 3 mo. 18, 1866; m. William Walter.

On 11 mo. 27, 1780, Sarah Sharples, Abigail Swaffer, Phebe Miller and Martha Sharples were appointed to view and correct the rough minutes of the women's meeting, and Abigail Sharples to record them. After her marriage she received a certificate from Chester to Kennet Mo. Mtg., dated 6 mo. 24, 1782. Daniel Mercer and wife, Rebecca, conveyed to Solomon Mercer 163 acres in E. Marlborough, 2 mo. 17, 1785, and Solomon and wife conveyed 100 acres thereof to his son Daniel Mercer of West Bradford, 4 mo. 2, 1806, for £475, and affection.

Thomas Mercer[1] from "Ayno-on-the-Hill" in the county of Northampton, Eng., with Mary, his wife, settled in Thornbury township, near the Westtown line, where he purchased 238 acres of land, by deed of 1 mo. 12, 1699–1700. He also bought 500 acres in East Marlborough. He died about 1716, and his widow in 1723. Their children were, Thomas Mary (m. Wm. Pennell), Elizabeth (m. Joseph Woodward), Ann (m. Joshua Peirce), Joseph, and Richard who died young.

Thomas Mercer[2], b. 1690, was married in 1711 to Hannah Taylor, dau. of Josiah and Elizabeth (Pennell) Taylor. He inherited the homestead and had eleven children, Rachel, Daniel, Robert, Thomas, Ann, Hannah, Phebe, Mary, Patience, Thomas and David. The father died in Westtown about 1758.

Daniel Mercer[3], b. 9 mo. 14, 1714; d. 6 mo. 25, 1807; m. 9 mo. 20, 1735, to Rebecca Townsend, dau. of John and Catharine(?) Townsend of Westtown, from Long Island. She d. 10 mo. 13, 1792, aged 82. Daniel inherited 250 acres of land in East Marlborough by the will of his grandfather, and settled thereon upon his marriage. His children were Solomon, Rebecca, Jesse, David, Daniel and Phebe.

Solomon Mercer[4], b. 10 mo. 30, 1736, was first married about 1760, to Olive Pyle, who d. 2 mo. 3, 1780; dau. of John Pyle[3] (William[2], Robert[1]) and Rachel Walter. They had at least three children, Rachel, b. 7 mo. 13, 1766; Daniel, b. 3 mo. 15, 1768, m. Alice Baily; John, b. 4 mo. 8, 1775, m. Hepzibah Simcock.

69. Daniel Sharples[4], Daniel[3], b. in Ridley 4 mo. 12, 1751; d. 6 mo. 20, 1816; m. 11 mo. 22, 1775, at Newtown Mtg., to Hannah Thomas, b. 10 mo. 31, 1751; d. 9 mo. 22, 1785; dau. of Isaac and Mary (Townsend) Thomas of Willistown: 2d m. 11 mo. 20, 1788, at Chichester Mtg., to Sarah Reynolds, b. 12 mo. 15, 1758; d. 9 mo. 29, 1842; dau. of Henry and Sarah Reynolds of Upper Chichester township. The births of their children were as follows:

386. Isaac, b. 4 mo. 10, 1776; d. 1 mo. 17, 1866; m. Elizabeth Larkin.
387. John, b. 9 mo. 31, 1778; d. 3 mo. 12, 1854; m. Ruth Martin.

392. Beulah, b. 4 mo. 19, 1793; d. 3 mo. 10, 1871; m. William Thatcher.
393. Hannah, b. 7 mo. 7, 1796; d. 11 mo. 28. 1841; m. John Mendenhall.

The anti-slavery movement in the Society of Friends may be said to have commenced with the protest of the settlers at Germantown in 1688, which was forwarded to the Yearly Meeting, but "It was adjudged not to be so proper for this meeting to give a positive judgment in the case, it having so general a relation to many other parts; and therefore, at present, they forbear it." Although Friends were in advance of others in this matter yet the leaven was slow to work. In 1711, Chester Quarterly Meeting expressed dissatisfaction with the buying or importation of negroes, and the subject was frequently revived in after years; and finally, in 1758, the Yearly Meeting advised that those who should vindicate the practice and be concerned in so doing, should not be permitted "to sit in meetings for discipline or to be employed in the affairs of Truth."

At Chester Mo. Mtg., 11 mo. 25, 1776: Thomas Evans, Daniel Sharples and William Fell "are appointed to join with the Quarterly Meeting's committee in treating with all such members belonging to this meeting as hold slaves, whether arrived to full age or in their minority, agreeable to the Directions of the Yearly Meeting." At this meeting a manumission was produced from Ann Yarnall, for a negro woman, and "Isaac Sharples is appointed to provide a Book and therein to record all the Manumissions that have been or may hereafter be produced to this Meeting."

A committee reported to the meeting held 7 mo. 26, 1773, that they had visited all the members who held slaves "in order to excite them to restore to that injured People their undoubted natural Right to Liberty, consistant with Christianity & the common Rights of Mankind, And proposals have been made by some towards their Freedom. We may also inform the Meeting that since the former visit from this Meeting several slaves have been set free."

Daniel Sharples was appointed an overseer of Chester Mtg., 12 mo. 30, 1776, in room of James Barton. The Revolutionary war now in progress made this a trying time to Friends, on account of their conscientious opposition to all wars and fighting. At a monthly meeting held 8 mo. 25, 1777: "Agreeable to the Directions of the Yearly Meeting, Nathan Yarnall, William Fell, James Wood, George Miller, Daniel Sharples, Richard Blackham & Joseph Talbot, Jun., are appointed to Endeavour to unite together in order to administer suitable advice & Counsel to those that are or may be in need thereof, at this time of outward commotion & Tryal: And keep a regular Record of friends' sufferings within the verge of this Mo^ly Meeting."

Daniel Sharples and others were appointed, 11 mo. 24, 1777, to join with a committee of the Quarterly Meeting in laboring to discourage the frequenting of taverns and dram shops, the distillation or use of liquors distilled from grain, or selling of grain for that purpose. John Sharples, Daniel Sharples, Abraham Pennell, Sarah Sharples, Hannah Sharples, and others, were appointed 3 mo. 30, 1778, to join with a committee of the Quarterly Meeting in laboring "for a Reformation in regard to the Due & Wakeful attendance of meetings, Plainness of speech, apparel & Household Furniture."

At Chester Monthly Meeting 3 mo. 31, 1783:—

"Chester Preparative Meeting informs this Meeting that there is four Lotts or pieces of Land belonging to their said meeting, Granted by Deeds of conveyance at sundry times to several Trustees for the use of Friends belonging to said Meeting: that some of the said Trustees are Deceas'd, some disowned & some removed away out of the verge of said meeting: that according to the powers granted in three of the Deeds of Trust, among other things it is provided and Expressed that when any of the said Trustees should depart this life, are Disowned or remove away, that the Preparative Meeting at Chester should chuse or appoint others in their room or stead. Therefore the Preparative Meeting appoints for the burying ground Lott Daniel Sharples, Tristram Smith & Daniel Pederick in the room or stead of Edw[d] Russell, Samuel Howell & Daniel Sharples, who are all Deceas'd; and for the schoolhouse Lott Daniel Sharples, Tristram Smith & Dan[l] Pederick, in the room or stead of Joseph Hoskins & Daniel Sharples, who are Deceas'd & John Eyre who is removed away: and for the Lott bought of Jesse Maris, Daniel Sharples, Tristram Smith & Daniel Pederick in the room or stead of Jonas Preston and John Fairlamb, who are deceas'd, and James Barton, who is Disown'd: and as to the Lott whereon the Meeting House stands, by the Deed executed by the Trustees for the same the Monthly Meeting is empowered to appoint; Therefore in pursuance thereof this Meeting appoints Daniel Sharples, Tristram Smith & Daniel Pederick in the room or stead of Jonathan Cowpland and Thomas Sharples, who are Disown'd, & Edward Russell, who is Deceas'd."

Daniel Sharples was appointed an Elder for Chester Mtg., 5 mo. 31, 1784, and on 12 mo. 29, 1789, William Worrall and Daniel Sharples were appointed to have the oversight of burials within the compass of their meeting. On 12 mo. 25, 1797, Daniel Sharples, Roger Dicks, Amos Sharples & others were appointed to extend advice and assistance to the black people within the limits of the meeting, many of them having been liberated by Friends.

Daniel Sharples was succeeded by Isaac Engle as overseer, 9 mo. 24, 1804. Beside the foregoing he served under a great many appointments of more or less importance.

Hannah Sharples received a certificate from Goshen to Chester Mo. Mtg., 2 mo. 9, 1776: was appointed 3 mo. 30, 1778, to join the committee on reformation: chosen overseer for Chester Mtg., 4 mo. 26, 1779, with Elinor Harrison, in room of Sarah Sharples, released: being deceased, is succeeded by Grace Malin, 5 mo. 29, 1786.

Sarah Sharples, 2d wife of Daniel, produced a certificate from Concord Mo. Mtg., 4 mo. 27, 1789: was appointed Elder for Chester Mtg., 7 mo. 28, 1794: appointed 10 mo. 27, 1800, on committee to have care of the poor, a fund being established by advice of the Yearly Meeting: 4 mo. 26, 1802, proposes to accompany Sarah Matson, a minister, in a visit to Catawissa, Muncy, Half-Moon Valley, Warrington and Monallen, which visit they performed. She also accompanied Sarah Talbot on a visit to the Western Quarterly Meeting and its branches in 1819; and in 1820, to Warrington Quarter and its branches. In 1823 she went as companion to Sarah Emlen, a minister, to attend Baltimore Yearly Meeting.

Daniel Sharples inherited from his father the old homestead in Nether Providence (formerly Ridley), with 240 acres of land, and 8 acres of marsh and upland in Ridley. On Jan. 25, 1793, Daniel and wife conveyed to John Crosby of Ridley, for £6, the right to dam the water of Ridley Creek to a certain height for use of a mill in Chester township. In this conveyance the saw-mill of Thomas and Daniel Sharples is mentioned. On the same date Crosby obtained 5 acres, 61 perches of land in Chester township, from Thomas Sharples, and conveyed to Daniel 27 acres in Nether Providence, on Ridley Creek. Daniel and wife conveyed to George Hinkson of Chester township, 2 mo. 8, 1797, the 8 acres 121 perches of upland and marsh in Ridley, for £275; it being the same which his father had purchased from Peter Dicks May 16, 1758. In 1798, James Barton and Caleb Cobourn conveyed to Nicholas Fairlamb and Daniel Sharples, a small lot for the use of a school. By deed of 10 mo. 31, 1801, Daniel purchased from his nephew, Jonas Sharpless, 48 perches of land in Chester opposite the breast of Daniel's mill-dam, in order to erect a "Butment" thereon. He also purchased from his nephew, George Sharples, 18 acres, 16 perches, on Ridley Creek, Sept. 30, 1806. Some mention is made on page 36 of his building of mills and houses.

By his will, dated 1 mo. 27, 1815, he gave to his wife $800, with some personal property including six large table spoons marked I. R., a home and privileges, &c.: to son Isaac, the messuage, fulling mill, carding mill and land where he lives, about 27 acres, he paying to dau. Hannah $600, and to his step-mother $12 per annum: to son John the land where he lives, about 90 acres, he paying his step-mother $13, per annum: to son Enos the messuage and grist mill and saw-mill, with the land where he lives, about 20 acres, he paying my executors $3000, and to his step-mother $12 per annum: to son Henry the messuage and land whereon he lives, about 130 acres, subject to his mother's privileges and maintenance and the payment of $13, per annum, to her: to dau. Beulah Thatcher $2000, including the bond for $300, against her husband: to dau. Hannah Sharpless about 17 acres in Chester, purchased of George Sharpless, and about 3 acres of the land my father purchased of Nathan Vernon; $600, to be paid by son Isaac, and $600 additional. A codicil gives to his son, John, a strip of land one perch in width, which his grandfather had reserved on the northwest side of his land for a passage to Providence Road.

William Reynolds is said to have married Margaret Exton, by whom he had John, b. 1650, Francis, b. 1652, and Henry, b. 1655.

Henry Reynolds¹ came from England in 1676, and settled in Burlington, N. J., after a passage of twenty-two weeks. He was married there, 11 mo. 10, 1678, to Prudence Clayton, dau. of William and Prudence Clayton, of Chichester, Pa., to which place he removed, and there resided until his death, 8 mo. 7, 1724, at the age of 69 years. His widow died about four years later. Their children were Margaret, Mary, Francis, Prudence, Deborah, William, Henry, John, Hannah and William.

Francis Reynolds², b. 8 mo. 15, 1684; d. 1760; m. 10 mo., 1712, to Elizabeth Acton, b. 12 mo. 26, 1690; dau. of Benjamin and Christianna (or Christian) Acton of Salem, N. J. He inherited the homestead with 290 acres, in Chichester, and continued to reside thereon. His children were, Prudence, b. 1 mo. 16, 1713–14, m. John Dutton; Lydia, b. 2 mo. 24, 1716, m. Joseph Townsend, Jr., of East Bradford; Christian, b. 4 mo. 22, 1718, m. John Hoopes, of Goshen; Henry, b. 4 mo. 12, 1720, d. 11 mo. 17, 1765, m. Sarah Davis; Benjamin, b. 8 mo. 26, 1722, m. Sarah Baker and Phebe White; John, b. 10 mo. 13, 1725; Samuel and Francis.

Henry Reynolds³, m. 7 mo. 25, 1751, Sarah Davis, b. 4 mo. 14, 1734; dau. of John and Rebecca Davis of Darby, and resided in Upper Chichester, where he died in middle life, leaving six children, viz., Elizabeth, b. 3 mo. 13, 1754, d. 3 mo. 26, 1818, m. George Martin; Rebecca, b. 11 mo. 21, 1755, m. John Martin; Joseph, b. 1 mo. 25, 1757; Sarah, m. Daniel Sharples (No. 69); James, b. 12 mo. 21, 1760, m. Hannah Webster; John, b. 3 mo. 17, 1764.

74. Sarah Garrett⁴, Mary³, was married 11 mo. 5, 1751, at Goshen Mtg., to Thomas White, son of Nicholas and Jane, of Goshen. They resided on a farm in Willistown near the Goshen line. He d. 8 mo.

6, 1784, and by his will devised to Goshen Mo. Mtg. £200, for the use of the poor. His widow spent her last years in the family of her nephew, Joseph Eldridge and d. 3 mo. 10, 1791. Their clock, made by Isaac Thomas, of Willistown, is now in the family of Reuben Eldridge, of West Chester. William Eldridge, of Bartlett, O., has a copy-book of Sarah Garrett's dated "ye 4 of ye 12 m. 1735:" No children.

75. James Garrett[4], Mary[3], d. in Goshen 12 mo. 25, 1793, unmarried. By his will, dated 12 mo. 19, 1793, he gave to his nephews and nieces £10, each; to Goshen Mtg. £20, and to his nephew Joseph Eldridge, "now living with me," his farm of 150 acres, subject to the payment of the other legacies, amounting to £245.

76. Jonathan Garrett[4], Mary[3], m. about 1766, Hannah Brinton, dau. of John[3] (William[2], William[1]) Brinton and Hannah Vernon[3] (Jacob[2], Randall[1]) of Kennet township, Chester Co., Pa. Their marriage being by a "priest," he was disowned by Goshen Mo. Mtg., 1 mo. 9, 1767, and she by Concord, 12 mo. 3, 1766. They had seven children,

394. Mary, m. Francis Hickman.
395. Letitia, m. John Johnson.
396. Hannah, m. William Reed.
397. James, b. 12 mo. 1, 1775; d. 3 mo. 6, 1851; m. Ann Engle.
398. Jonathan, m. Ruth Baker.
399. Lewis, m.
400. Noah, m.
401. John, b. 1 mo. 31, 1789; d. 1 mo. 19, 1872; m. Hannah Smedley.

Jonathan Garrett inherited a part of his father's land in E. Goshen, north from Friends' Meeting-house, containing 140 acres. On Sept. 16, 1777, a few days after the Battle of Brandywine, the American and British forces had some skirmishing near his residence, a general battle being prevented by a severe rain storm. He was standing in the open doorway when a cannon-ball passed between his legs and out the back door, opposite, into a bank of earth from whence it was afterward dug out. He remarked to his wife that they had better take the children to the cellar. Shortly after this the British invaded his property and took everything eatable they could lay hands on, together with their horses, among which was a favorite mare which her father had given to his wife. Jonathan's watch is now in possession of his grandson, Jonathan B. Garrett, of West Chester, Pa.

On the occasion of a flood which carried away his fences, Jonathan laid claim to some rails on the property of his neighbor, Jesse Reece, whence an unfortunate quarrel arose and Jesse struck him several blows on the head with a fence stake, from which death resulted the succeeding night. From the evidence it is inferred that Jonathan died 9 mo. 8, 1801, and Jesse, being a member of Goshen Meeting, was disowned for the rash act, 11 mo. 6 1801, at which time he was not to be found. He must have remained away for a considerable time but eventually surrendered himself and was indicted for murder, May 28, 1805. The jury who tried the case were Phineas Waterman, William Sharples, Joseph Cotterell, Joseph Peirce, Nathan Sharples, Taft Benjamin, Abraham Wells, Isaac Taylor, Jun., Thomas Downing, Esq., Abraham Pratt, Jabez Hoopes and Jesse Garrett, who, on June 1st, returned a verdict of manslaughter. Jesse Reece was sentenced to two years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The land of Jonathan Garrett was sold by his son James and his widow, as administrators, to Bartholomew Trener, by deed of Aug. 1, 1811.

77. Mary Garrett⁴, Mary³, was married about 1762, to Jonathan Eldridge, of Goshen, who was not a Friend and the marriage being "by a priest" she was disowned 11 mo. 5, 1762. They had two children,

402. Hannah, b. 10 mo. 2, 1763; d. 2 mo. 22, 1764.
403. Joseph, b. 10 mo. 11, 1765; d. 1 mo. 17, 1845; m. Lydia Griffith.

Jonathan Eldridge is said to have been a twin brother to David Eldridge of New Jersey, where the family were among the earliest settlers; also that he had a brother William and some sisters but he was the only one of the family who came to Chester County. After the death of his first wife he and his son Joseph were received into membership at Goshen Mtg., 2 mo. 8, 1771, and he was married again 10 mo. 3, 1771, at that place, to Sarah Davis, dau. of Ellis and Lydia Davis of Goshen. By her he had a dau. Lydia, who never married. The marriage certificate states that he was the son of Thomas Eldridge, then deceased.

He resided in East Marlborough township for a time previous to and after his second marriage, but in 1774 he was assessed in Goshen with 100 acres and a saw-mill. He lived at what has been since known as McCall's Mill, and now or late of Samuel Hannum, just west of the line between East and West Goshen. His death resulted from a cut on his hand when cutting a stick with his knife, in the woods, which, though apparently trifling, brought on lockjaw. (It has been erroneously stated that his death was caused by an accident at the mill.) His widow m. 12 mo. 1, 1779, William Allen, of Londongrove township.

79. Jane Garrett[4], Mary[3], was married about 1768, to Josiah Haines, son of Isaac and Catharine (Davis) Haines of Goshen, being his second wife. They had one child,

404. Jane, b. 8 mo. 4, 1772; d. 12 mo. 1852; m. Asa Cadwalader.

John Haines "of Ancocas Creek," Burlington Co., N. J., was a purchaser of several hundred acres of land in and near the present borough of West Chester, Pa., and by his wife Esther (Borton) had several children. To his son Isaac he conveyed, May 30, 1717, 254 acres in Goshen, and the latter having married Catharine, dau. of Ellis David, in 1714, settled thereon. By his will, in 1766, he devised the homestead and 193 acres to his son Josiah, who was first married 4 mo. 11, 1765, to Mary Cock, of Thornbury. The second marriage was by a justice, for which their acknowledgment was accepted 12 mo. 9, 1768. He was again married (9 mo. 4, 1775 ?) to Ann Price, widow of David, and dau. of William and Mary Husband, by whom he had several children. For his last marriage, which was by a priest, and to one not a member, he was disowned by Goshen Mo. Mtg., 7 mo. 5, 1776. By deed of Apr. 23, 1787, he and his wife conveyed the homestead to William Rogers (now belonging to the heirs of Benjamin Hoopes), and removed to Washington Co., in the western part of Penna., where Josiah died 2 mo. 6, 1822, in the 90th year of his age.

80. Joseph Garrett[4], Mary[3], b. in Goshen 3 mo. 12, 1743; d. 10 mo. 1, 1792; m. Oct. 8, 1770 (Christ Church record, Phila.), Charity Collins, b. 1 mo. 5, 1751, dau. of Henry and Hannah Collins of Goshen. He inherited the homestead of his father, now the residence of his grandson, Joseph Garrett, near Goshen Meeting, and had six children,

405. Benjamin, b. 1 mo. 9, 1771; d. 4 mo. 30, 1856; m. Debbie Lewis.
406. Joseph, b. 6 mo. 14, 1773; d. 7 mo. 27, 1855; m. Margaret Lewis.
407. Lydia, b. 10 mo. 1 (or 1 mo. 10), 1775; d. 5 mo. 25, 1827; m. James Gibbons.
408. Nathan, b. 12 mo. 10, 1778; died young.
409. Elizabeth, b. 7 mo. 17, 1780; d. 11 mo. 1, 1838; m. William Thatcher.
410. Sarah, b. 6 mo. 23, 1783; d. 7 mo. 31, 1850; m. Nathan Pim and Jabez Coulson.

For his marriage "by a priest" Joseph Garrett was disowned by Goshen Mo. Mtg., 11 mo. 8, 1771. He was assessed in Goshen, 1774, with 200 acres and buildings, 50 acres of woodland, 5 horses, 12 cattle and 7 sheep. In 1786, he had 150 acres, valued at £787 : 10, 100 acres at £350, a grist mill, £300, 2 horses, £30, and 5 cows, £25 ; in all £1492 : 10. By his will, dated June 2, 1792, and proven Oct. 9, 1792, after providing for his wife he gives the grist mill and some land to his son Benjamin, and the homestead with remainder of land to son Joseph. His five surviving children were received into membership by Goshen Mtg., 1 mo. 11, 1793.

Joseph Collins was appointed constable for Goshen 12 mo. 22, 1708–9, and purchased from Richard Thomas 125 acres of land, 9 mo. 16, 1713. This was adjoining the north-eastern part of the borough of West Chester. In his will, dated 3 mo. 12, 1732, proven Sept. 7, 1735, he mentions his wife, Mary, gives to his eldest son, John, £5 ; to his dau. Sarah, wife of Thomas Malin, £5, and the above land to his sons Joseph and Henry. The latter settled upon and became the owner of this land, but died in 1752, leaving three children, Mary, Ann and Charity. His wife, Hannah, was the dau. of Joseph and Mary (Hickman) Hunt, and after his death married, Nov. 20, 1753, Nathaniel Moore, who bought the land of his predecessor and died there in 1777. Their children were Joseph (M.D.), who inherited the land, Thomas, Amor (?), Benjamin and Nathaniel. Mary Collins died unmarried and her sister Ann married Aaron Hoopes, 11 mo. 26, 1767.

81. Abraham Garrett⁴, Mary³, was married April 16, 1772 (Christ Church Record, Phila.), to Mary Taylor. He was disowned by Goshen Mo. Mtg., 3 mo. 5, 1773, for his marriage "by a priest." His brother James, in 1793, devised to him £5, and to each of his four children, Hannah, Levi, Ezra and Curtis, £10. Abraham purchased 143½ acres of land in Springfield township from James Carter and Rebecca, his wife, by deed of April 13, 1772. Letters of administration on his estate were granted May 17, 1806. It does not appear that his wife survived him. Their children were,

411. Hannah, died before her father, probably unmarried.
412. Levi, married Mary ———.
413. Ezra, married Mary ———.
414. Curtis, married Mary ———.
415. Jane, married James Edwards.

82. Sarah Sharples[4], James[3], was married 2 mo. 7, 1748, at Providence Mtg., to Nathan Dicks, b. 11 mo. 2, 1719; d. about 1760; son of Peter and Sarah Dicks of Providence. They settled on a farm in Chester township, purchased from John Pennell and wife, Martha, by deeds of July 20 and 21, 1750, and are said to have had seven children, of whom the names of only four are given, the others dying young, viz.,

416. Elizabeth, b. 3 mo. 8, 1749; d. 10 mo. 24, 1835; m. Daniel Sharples (No. 119).
417. Mary, b. about 1751; d. 9 mo. 29, 1793; m. Samuel Richards.
418. Sarah, m. John Wood.
419. Abigail, b. about 1759; d. 5 mo. 23, 1847; m. Isaac Eyre.

Nathan Dicks died possessed of 149¾ acres of land in Chester township, which was divided among his four children or their representatives, by Robert Mendenhall, Henry Hale Graham, Isaac Weaver, James Gibbons and James Barton. The mother died about 1759.

Peter Dicks[1], of the city of Chester, Eng., flax dresser, by deed of Aug. 16, 1684, purchased from James Dicks "of Ockleston in the county palatine of Chester," Eng., weaver, for £5, 250 acres of land in Pennsylvania, which the latter had bought from William Penn, by lease and release, March 2, and 3, 1681, for the same price. As witnesses to the deed of 1684, were Joseph Greene, Abel Maddock, Roger Dicks and Job Dicks. It has been stated that Peter was the son of James. He and Bartholomew Coppock were witnesses to a will on board the "Friendship of Liverpoole," Jan. 16, 1684–5. His land was taken up in Birmingham township, 1685, and there he died about 1704, leaving a widow, Esther (or Hester), who m. John Mendenhall in 1708, and the following children: Hannah, m. Jonathan Thatcher, Elizabeth, m. Richard Trantor, Sarah, m. Joseph Pyle, Nathan, who inherited the homestead, Peter, Esther, m. Francis Swayne[2], Deborah, m. Jonathan Fincher.

Peter Dicks[2] was married in 1716, to Sarah (Hayes) Powell, widow of Thomas Powell, Jr., of Providence, and went there to reside. They had children, Joseph, James, Nathan, Sarah, Peter, Esther, Abraham, John and Job. Peter married a second time 3 mo. 17, 1750, at Chester Mtg., Sarah Swaffer, dau. of William and Mary (Caldwell) Swaffer, of Nether Providence; and having bought from the Swaffer heirs the land taken up by Rebecca (Sharples) Caldwell, he died thereon 8 mo. 25, 1760. He was a minister and active member of the Society of Friends, as well as an enterprising citizen, being interested in iron works in different places. He devised £50 to the Pennsylvania Hospital. His widow d. 11 mo. 25, 1793 in her 82d year. Her children were, Jane, b. Nov. 4, 1751, d. 2 mo. 10, 1833, m. John Peirce; Roger, b. 7 mo. 30, 1753, d. 12 mo 29, 1808, m. Rebecca Maris.

86. Rebecca Sharples⁴, James³, was married Sept. 17, 1760 (St. Michael's and Zion Church record, Phila.), to Leonard Helm (Halebs. edition of 1816), b. in Baltimore Co., Md., 7 mo. 13, 1737; d. 1790; son of Maybury and Ann Helm. Both were buried in the family burying ground near Baltimore. Their children were—

420. Mary, b. 7 mo. 2, 1761; d. unmarried.
421. James, b. 6 mo. 11, 1763; d. 7 mo. 1, 1824; m. Elizabeth Strebeck.
422. Joseph, b. 2 mo. 4, 1765; d. unmarried.
423. Ann, b. 9 mo. 13, 1768; d. 12 mo. 7, 1853; m. John McKean.
424. Elizabeth, b. 10 mo. 23, 1770; d. unmarried.
425. William, b. 4 mo. 23, 1773; d. unmarried.

At Chester Mo. Mtg., 12 mo. 26, 1763, complaint was made of Rebekah Sharples, now wife of Leonard Helm, for marriage by a priest to one not a member, and being removed to Maryland. A testimony against her was signed 1 mo. 30, 1764, and directed to be read at Providence Meeting.

Maybury Helm, supposed b. in Maryland, 1708, d. 1790; m. about 1734, Ann Parrish, dau. of Edward and gr. dau. of Capt. Edward Parrish, who emigrated from Yorkshire, Eng., prior to 1669, and patented large tracts of land in Anne Arundel, Howard and Baltimore Counties, a portion of which, called "Parrish's Fear" is now in possession of Rebecca and Mary McKean, daughters of John and Ann McKean. Leonard Helm was a farmer and surveyor.

87. James Sharples⁴, James³, according to the former edition, married Ann Wilson of Lancaster County, Pa., where they settled, and had a son, Isaac. His father, in his will, Feb. 18, 1775, does not mention his son James as living, but devised £5, to his grandson, James Sharples, son of James. As the grandson is so named more than once we will call him

426. James, of whom nothing certain is known. See next generation.

In the assessment of 1764, James Sharples, Jr., is put down among the single men, in Nether Providence, but afterward transferred to the inmates, and a mason by trade. His marriage probably took place about that time. George Wider and one Anna Catharine Sharpless, widow, were married (St. Michael's and Zion Church record) June 1, 1766, but nothing further is known of her. One James Sharpless was a private in Capt. Peter Z. Lloyd's company, in the Revolutionary War, 1776, but his place in the family has not been found.

88. Joshua Sharples[4], James[3], "married Susanna Brogdon, daughter of Samuel Brogdon, of Middletown, and settled in Providence." (Edition of 1816.) They had two children,

427. Isaac, b. 1772; d. 1852; m. Hannah Wright.
428. Samuel, d. 1863; m. Mary Holmes.

In 1786 Joshua Sharples was a taxable in Chester township with 32 acres of land and one cow. He died in 1811, about the 67th year of his age.

Samuel Brogdon was a taxable in Chester township, 1735–40, but was not of that or Middletown in 1747, 1750, 1764 or 1774. John Taylor, who established iron works at the site of Glen Mills on Chester Creek, and owned a store which was under the charge of his son Isaac, wrote thus to the latter, July 22, 1742: "Son Isaac,—Let sister Mary have goods to the value of three pounds, five shillings, being for half a Ton of Pig Iron, & charge it to account." The son endorsed this, "fathers order for aunt Mary Brogdon." Whether she was the mother of Susanna has not been ascertained, but the name was not a common one. It is somewhat singular that no notice appears to have been taken by the meeting of Joshua's marriage.

90. Nathaniel Sharples[4], James[3], b. in Nether Providence, d. there 6 mo. 9, 1789; m. Sept. 27, 1773 (Christ Church record, Phila.), to Elizabeth Wilkinson, b. 2 mo. 14, 1755; d. in Middletown 5 mo. 1, 1826; dau. of Josiah and Mary Wilkinson of Providence. They had six children,

429. James, b. 12 mo. 26, 1774; d. 1 mo. 19, 1807; m. Sarah Woodward.
430. Job, b. 7 mo. 26, 1776; d. 4 mo. 14, 1806; m. Mary Johnson.
431. Josiah, b. 4 mo. 25, 1778; d. in Middletown 3 mo. 31, 1809, unmarried; fell from a horse.
432. Sarah, b. 3 mo. 8, 1781; d. 5 mo. 11, 1817; m. John Minshall.
433. William, b. 2 mo. 4, 1784; d. in Middletown, 12 mo. 12, 1835, unmarried.
434. Mary, b. 5 mo. 8, 1786; d. 5 mo. 1, 1851; m. Peter Worrall.

Nathaniel Sharples was complained of 7 mo. 25, 1774, for marriage "by a priest," and was disowned by Chester Mo. Mtg., 11 mo. 28, 1774.

He inherited the homestead with 161 acres, by the will of his father, and was a tavern-keeper from 1785 till his death. In 1787 he was assessed with 37 acres, 2 horses and 1 cow, the remainder of his land being probably leased to some one else. His widow m. John Vernon[5] (Jonathan[4], Jonathan[3], Thomas[2], Thomas[1]), who d. in Upper Providence 11 mo. 3, 1801, leaving children, Frederick, b. 1 mo. 20, 1793; Jennetta, b. 5 mo. 15, 1796. The widow m. a 3d husband, Isaac Burn, b. 7 mo. 4, 1753; being his second wife.

Josiah Wilkinson, supposed from Bucks Co., Pa., was a tavern-keeper at the "Boot," in Goshen township, 1761–3, and was succeeded by (his son-in-law ?) Joseph Lacey, 1765–1771. Josiah removed to Nether Providence and in 1772 purchased 109 acres there which formerly belonged to Joseph Sharples[2]. By his first wife, Rosamond, he had Matilda (Lacey), b. May 10, 1741; Israel, b. Dec. 24, 1743; Josiah, b. Aug. 15, 1745; Kezíah, b. Aug. 7, 1746; and by second wife, Mary Carver, b. 2 mo. 6, 1733, had William, b. Nov. 27, 1753; Elizabeth, m. to Nathaniel Sharples; John, b. Dec. 13, 1763; Joseph, b. June 13, 1766, m. Hannah Calvert; Thomas, b. Feb. 26, 1769; Asa, b. Apr. 22, 1772. Joseph and Hannah Wilkinson removed to New London township, Chester Co., and have numerous descendants, of whom William Steele, a grandson, has furnished some of these records.

92. Sarah Dell[4], Rachel[3], was married 7 mo. 20, 1750, at Chester Mtg., to Isaac Weaver, son of Richard and Elizabeth, of Chester borough. It is said that he died in his 89th year and she in her 82d, and another account places his birth about 1723. His grandson, Harmon Weaver, says he died near Morgantown, Va., in his 93d year. They had ten children,

435. Thomas Dell, b. 9 mo. 27, 1751; d. about 1804; m. Jane Hinkson.
436. Joshua, b. 12 mo. 28, 1753; d. 6 mo. 2, 1827; m. Mary Trego.
437. Isaac, b. 3 mo. 1, 1756; d. 5 mo. 22, 1830; m. Abigail Price.
438. Elizabeth, b. 7 mo. 27, 1758; d. 7 mo. 16, 1841; m. William Jones.
439. Baldwin, b. 11 mo. 20, 1760; d. 3 mo. 1, 1795; m. Mary Beaumont.
440. James, b. 3 mo. 25, 1763; d. 10 mo. 21, 1855, unmarried, in Virginia.
441. Richard, b. 7 mo. 17, 1765; d. 8 mo. 14, 1843, in Illinois; descendants not found.
442. William, b. 1 mo. 25, 1768; no further record.
443. Abraham, b. 3 mo. 31, 1770; d. 6 mo. 14, 1845, unmarried, in Virginia.
444. Sarah, b. 9 mo. 21, 1774; m. ——— Sims (?)

In the division of the estate of Thomas Dell, Jr., the lands in Ridley (now Nether Providence) consisting of 157 acres in two contiguous tracts, were awarded to Sarah Weaver, and the land in Fallowfield township, 265 acres, to Mary Pennell, who paid £20, to Sarah, to make them equal. The real estate of their grandfather, Thomas Dell, Sr., which he devised to them after twenty-five years of use by Thomas and Samuel Swayne, also became the property of Isaac and Sarah Weaver by purchase from William and Mary Pennell. The claim of the Swaynes was probably the cause of the dispute which has been noticed (see page 190) and it is likely that Thomas Swayne resided thereon until the death of his wife. Isaac Weaver was assessed in Nether Providence, 1764, with 190 acres and buildings, 70 acres of uncultivated land, 9 horses, 6 cattle and 5 sheep. He and wife, by deed of Oct. 1, 1766, conveyed to William Starr of same township, 48 acres, for £500.

Isaac Weaver produced an acknowledgment 3 mo. 29, 1749, for himself and wife, Mary, on account of their marriage by a priest, which was accepted, and ordered to be read at a First-day meeting at Chester. The maiden name of his wife has not been discovered but her death must have occurred very soon after this date, as he married again sixteen months later. For want of promptness in the payment of his debts, and the neglect to attend meetings he was disowned 2 mo. 24, 1772. In 1788, the parents and most of the children removed to Monongalia Co., Va., and settled near Morgantown; and a certificate of membership was granted 5 mo. 26th, for Sarah and her minor children, William, Abraham and Sarah, directed to Westland Mo. Mtg. Their son James received one to the same place, dated 6 mo. 30, 1788. It is represented that James and Abraham succeeded their parents at the homestead in Virginia, and their sister Sarah, a widow, kept house for them.

Anthony Weaver "of ffinstocke in the parrishe of Charlbury in the County of Oxford, blacksmith," by lease and release, Feb. 20, and 21, 1681, from William Cecil, became possessed of 125 acres of land in Penna., which was afterward laid out in the southern part of Aston township. He married in 1686, Ann Richards, dau. of Joseph and Jane Richards, of Aston, and died soon after, leaving no children. His brother William Weaver, a brass-founder, came from Boston, N. E., to inherit the land, and in obedience to the Mosaic law, as regards raising up children unto his brother, was the father of twins, born in 1689. The names of the children are unknown. One William Weaver took up 250 acres in Caln township, 1720, and died about 1727, leaving a widow, Mary, and minor children, Nathan, William, Hannah and Jonathan, for whom Richard Weaver, of Chester, and Thomas Moore were appointed guardians. The father is referred to a few years later as "Old Will Weaver," but whether on account of his real age or to distinguish him from his son is uncertain.

Richard Weaver married Elizabeth Baldwin, b. Dec. 16, 1694, dau. of Thomas Baldwin, b. in Oxfordshire, Eng., Dec. 1657, and Mary his wife, b. in Sussex, Aug. 24, 1653. Beside Isaac they had children Mary, m. William Hay, 1737, Judith, Susanna and Valentine. The parents and children were received into membership by Friends, 1 mo. 25, 1733, but about 1756, after Richard's death, all except Isaac joined the Episcopal Church.

93. Mary Dell[4], Rachel[3], b. in Ridley 7 mo. 16, 1734; d. 10 mo. 5, 1801; m. 2 mo. 25, 1751, at Middletown Mtg., to William Pennell, b. 11 mo. 27, 1725–6; d. 9 mo. 5, 1783; son of William and Mary Pennell, of Middletown. They had ten children,

445. Abraham, b. 4 mo. 9, 1753; d. 9 mo. 25, 1840; m. Hannah Sharples.
446. Robert, b. 7 mo. 14, 1755; d. 7 mo. 23, 1845; m. Mary Garrett.
447. Dell, b. 1 mo. 12, 1758; d. 6 mo. 9, 1829; m. Hannah Hill.
448. Samuel, b. 4 mo. 12, 1760; d. at sea, leaving one son.
449. Rachel, b. 8 mo. 1, 1762; d. 6 mo. 9, 1802; m. Nathan Sharples (No. 125).
450. Esther, b. 7 mo. 13, 1765; d. 5 mo. 22, 1802; m. David Garrett.
451. William, b. 11 mo. 29, 1767; d. 11 mo. 25, 1817; m. Dorothy Graham.
452. Aaron, b. 12 mo. 19, 1769; d. 10 mo, 28, 1794, at Albany, N. Y., unmarried.
453. Jesse, b. 8 mo. 1, 1772; d. 2 mo. 4, 1819; m. Hannah Grubb.
454. Mary, b. 10 mo. 3, 1775; d. about 1859; m. Henry Lawrence and Reece Heacock.

The residence of William and Mary Pennell was in Middletown on the brow of the hill a little east of north from the present Glen Riddle; now the property of William Webster. Mary received 265 acres in Fallowfield township, as her share of her father's estate, and also inherited from her grandfather one-half of a tract of 108 acres in the southern part of Nether Providence. She and her husband conveyed their interest in the last to Isaac Weaver, May 17, 1770, for £200. William Pennell purchased, Dec. 31, 1773, from Peter Grubb the iron-master, of Lancaster Co., 250 acres in Middletown, extending eastward from Chester Creek, at the present Wawa Station. In 1764, he was assessed with 300 acres and buildings, 200 acres of uncultivated land, a grist mill, a saw mill, 8 horses, 10 cattle and 10 sheep, 2 servants and one negro. In 1774, he had 750 acres, grist and saw mills, 5 servants, 11 horses, 22 cattle and 30 sheep. He died intestate possessed of this land together with 100 acres in Aston and the 265 acres in Fallowfield, all of which were appraised at £6754 : 2 : 9.

William Pennell[2], b. 8 mo. 11, 1681; d. 1757; son of Robert and Hannah of Middletown; m. 8 mo. 26, 1710, at Concord Mtg., Mary Mercer, dau. of Thomas[1] and Mary of Thornbury. They settled on land which his father purchased in Middletown, 1685, but he removed to Chester borough before his death. They had eight children.

Thomas, b. 9 mo. 3, 1712; m. Mary Yarnall, 2 mo. 5, 1739.
Hannah, b. 7 mo. 9, 1714; m. Thomas Holcombe, 7 mo. 24, 1741.
James, b. 6 mo. 21, 1717; m. Jemima Matlack 8 mo. 15, 1741.
Phebe, b. 6 mo. 7, 1719; probably died young.
Ann, b. 11 mo. 26, 1721; m. George Edge, 9 mo. 19, 1741.
Robert, b. 9 mo. 16, 1723; d. 2 mo. 19, 1803; m. Hannah Chamberlin (No. 115).
William, b. 11 mo. 27, 1725–6; m. Mary Dell.
Samuel, m. Sarah Norris and Rachel ———.

95. Mary Woodward[4], Sarah[3], d. in Providence, 6 mo. 1, 1823, in 87th year; m. 10 mo. 17, 1754, at Providence Mtg., to Samuel Crosley, b. in Middletown, 8 mo. 31, 1732; d. 2 mo. 1825; son of Charles and Hannah Crosley, of Middletown. He was complained of 6 mo. 27, 1757, for suing Samuel Minshall at law, without consent of the meeting, and was disowned 12 mo. 31, 1759, for neglecting to pay debts to others. In 1764 he was a tenant of Frederick Engle in Middletown, and about 1772, removed to Birmingham, but returned to Middletown or Providence, 1796. Their children so far as known were—

455. Joseph, residing in Wilmington, Del., 1848; no further record.
456. Robert, m. Ann Harvey, b. 1 mo. 23, 1772; left no issue.
457. Sarah, m. Emmor Porter.
458. Hannah, m. Isaac Malin (her first cousin), son of William and Elizabeth (Crosley) Malin; no issue.
459. Woodward, d. 5 mo. 4, 1848, in 79th year, unmarried.
460. Lydia, b. 1772; d. 4 mo. 24, 1856; m. Samuel Jones.
461. Betty, b. 2 mo. 22, 1777; d. 10 mo. 14, 1814; m. James Hinkson.
462. Mary, d. 5 mo. 23, 1848, in 69th year, unmarried. She and her brother Woodward lived on some property belonging to the latter, near Media, Delaware Co., Pa., of which 26 acres was purchased in 1849, by the Directors of the Poor as an addition to the Alms House farm.

96. Abigail Woodward[4], Sarah[3], b. 6 mo. 29, 1738; d. 11 mo. 10, 1815; m. 12 mo. 6, 1758, Vincent Gilpin, b. 10 mo. 8, 1732; d. 8 mo. 5, 1810; son of Joseph and Mary (Caldwell) Gilpin, of Concord. This marriage was "by a priest," and perhaps at the Old Swedes' Church, at Wilmington. He made an acknowledgment to Concord Mtg., 2 mo. 4, 1760, and received a certificate to Wilmington, 1 mo. 8, 1761. Abigail offered an acknowledgment to Chester Mo. Mtg., 10 mo. 29, 1759, but the matter was not then acted upon. On 11 mo. 29, 1762, an additional charge was brought against her for having been one of the persons who caused Richard Gorman to be sued at law, and she was disowned 5 mo. 30, 1763. The "testimony" against her was as follows:

> Whereas, Abigail Woodward, now the wife of Vincent Gilpin, was Educated among us, the people Called Quakers, but for want of a faithfull adherence to the Divine principle in her own heart, gave way to a Libertine Spirit so far as to be married by a priest; and also hath Refused to give a satisfactory account of the sueing a member of our Society: Therefore we do hereby Disown the said Abigal Gilpin to be of our Society, until she Comes to a true Sence of her misconduct and Condemn the same to the satisfaction of this meeting, which that she may is our Desire. Signed in and on behalf of Chester Monthly Meeting, held at Providence 30th Day of the 5th month 1763.

> Sarah Minshall, Clark.

Her husband appealed to the Quarterly Meeting on her behalf, but the judgment of Chester Mo. Mtg., was confirmed. A recommendation was signed by David Ferriss and thirty-eight other Friends in Wilmington, twenty of them being women, in which they say: "We find her to merit the Character of a sober, Honest Woman and a Good neighbour; and that she attends our Religious meetings as well as a person in her Circumstances may reasonably be expected to do." This was dated 7 mo. 16, 1764, and on 7 mo. 30, 1764, an acknowledgment from her was accepted by Chester Mo. Mtg., which granted her a certificate to Wilmington, 5 mo. 27, 1765.

Soon after marriage they settled on the Brandywine, above Wilmington, now a part of the Dupont estate, and built or enlarged a flour mill, where he remained many years, sending flour to Wilmington, and shipping considerable quantities to the West Indies. He was at different times part owner of several of the vessels trading from Wilmington. The brig Nancy, which was the first vessel to hoist the American Flag in the West Indies, and possibly in any foreign port, was partly owned by Vincent Gilpin, and named for his daughter Ann. For an account of this and her being chased ashore by English cruisers and blown up, see Reminiscences of Wilmington, by Elizabeth Montgomery. A rather amusing story is told at his expense. The vessels in which he was interested, taking out flour, &c., brought back, among other products of the West Indies, considerable quantities of molasses and rum. The old gentleman had a large invoice of the latter stored in Wilmington during the war, at the time the British forces marched from the Chesapeake toward Philadelphia. Fully expecting them to come by way of Wilmington, he sent his rum for safe keeping to Chester County, and stored it at the old family place, then perhaps in possession of his brother Israel Gilpin, in the very house which was the head-quarters of the British commander, Gen. Howe, after the Battle of Brandywine. These facts and a large part of the records of the descendants of Abigail Gilpin have been furnished by George Gilpin, of Philadelphia, who has published a chart of the descendants from Vincent and Abigail Gilpin. Their children were—

463. Edward, b. 4 mo. 27, 1760; d. 4 mo. 15, 1844; m. Lydia Grubb.
464. Ann, b. 8 mo. 13, 1762; d. 6 mo. 18, 1822; m. John Ferris.
465. Hannah, b. 12 mo. 27, 1764; d. unmarried.
466. William, b. 4 mo. 3, 1767; d. 8 mo. 25, 1773.
467. James, b. 1 mo. 11, 1769; d. 10 mo. 1, 1798; m. Sarah Littler.
468. Aratus, b. 2 mo. 29, 1772; d. 9 mo. 25, 1773.
469. William, b. 8 mo. 18, 1775; d. 12 mo. 2, 1843; m. Ann Dunwoody.
470. Gertrude, b. 8 mo, 13, 1778; m. John Smith.

Joseph Gilpin[1], b. 1664, son of Thomas Gilpin and Joan, of Warborough, in Oxfordshire, Eng., and sixteenth in descent from Richard De Gylpyn, of the Manor of Kentmere, was married 12 mo. (Feb.) 23, 1691, at Baghurst in the county of Southampton, to Hannah Glover of the latter county, daughter of ——— and Alice (Lamboll) Glover. The father had suffered much persecution on account of his religious principles, and the son, determined to seek a home of greater freedom, with his wife, and two children embarked for Pennsylvania. They landed at New Castle and settled in Birmingham, Chester (now Delaware) County near Dilworthtown, where for some years they lived in a cave on land which was given to the wife by her uncle, William Lamboll, of Reading, Eng. At Concord Mo. Mtg., 12 mo. 10, 1695, "Joseph Gilpin prodused certificate from friends in England And friends was satisfied therewith." He died 9 mo. (Nov.) 9, 1741, and his widow 1 mo. 12, 1757. They had fifteen children, as follows:

Hannah, b. 12 mo. 15, 1692, at Dorchester, Eng.; d. 1 mo. 8, 1746–7; m. William Seal.

Samuel, b. 4 mo. 7, 1694, at Dorchester; d. 12 mo. 7, 1767; m. Jane Parker.

Rachel, b. 12 mo. 12, 1695, in Penna.; d. 5 mo. 20, 1776; m. Joshua Peirce.
Ruth, b. 6 mo. 28, 1697; m. Joseph Mendenhall 8 mo. 30, 1718.
Lydia, b. 11 mo. 11, 1698–9; d. 10 mo. 2, 1750; m. William Dean.
Thomas, b. 5 mo. 23, 1700; d. 10 mo. 25, 1756; m. Rebecca Mendenhall, Hannah Knowles and Ann Caldwell.
Ann, b. 5 mo. 11, 1702; d. 9 mo. 15, 1759; m. Joseph Miller and Richard Hallett.
Joseph, b. 1 mo. 21, 1703–4; d. 12 mo. 31, 1792; m. Mary Caldwell.
Sarah, b. 4 mo. 2, 1706; d. 6 mo. 7, 1783; m. Peter Cooke.
George, b. 2 mo. 16, 1708; d. 10 mo. 15, 1773; m. Ruth Caldwell and Sarah (Sharples) Woodward.
Isaac, b. 1 mo. 23, 1709–10; d. 1745; m. Mary Painter.
Moses, b. 1 mo. 8, 1711–12; m. Ann Buffington, widow of Thomas.
Alice, b. 10 mo. 7, 1714; m. Richard Eavenson, 2 mo. 11, 1739.
Mary, b. 11 mo. 16, 1716–17; d. 4 mo. 17, 1806; m. Philip Taylor.
Esther, b. 1 mo. 9, 1718–19; d. 1 mo. 10, 1795; m. Samuel Painter.

Joseph Gilpin[2] was married 10 mo. 17, 1729, at Kennet Mtg., to Mary Caldwell, dau. of Vincent Caldwell, from Derbyshire, Eng., and Betty, his wife, dau. of George and Ann Peirce, of Thornbury. They resided for some time in Concord, but removed to Christiana hundred, Del., about 1762, taking a certificate to Kennet Mo. Mtg., and became members of Centre Meeting. They had twelve children, whose births, as obtained from one source, are given below. Another account gives names to the months as though these were all in New Style, making a difference of two months in most cases and ten in others.

Ruth, b. 10 mo. 23, 1730; d. 7 mo. 27, 1781; m. Daniel Stubbs, 1751.
Vincent, b. 10 mo. 8, 1732; d. 8 mo. 5, 1810; m. Abigail Woodward.
Orpha, b. 7 mo. 15, 1734; m. Joseph Shallcross, 10 mo. 23, 1754.
Nun, b. 9 mo. 10, 1736; d. in boyhood.
Gideon, b. 8 mo. 4, 1738; d. 8 mo. 20, 1825; m. Sarah Gregg and Susanna (James) Hoopes.
Israel, b. 8 mo. 1, 1740; d. 7 mo. 4, 1834; m. Elizabeth Hannum.
Betty, b. 8 mo. 3, 1742; m. William Cleaney (or Clenny), about 1764.
William, b. 9 mo. 1, 1744; probably died young.
Hannah, b. 2 mo. 14, 1746; m. John Grubb 11 mo. 23, 1769.
Joseph, b. 1 mo. 23, 1748; d. 1836; m. a widow, dau. of Capt. Giles.
Thomas, b. 1 mo. 11, 1750; d. 1802; m. Lydia Rice, Sarah Grey and Sarah Council.
Mary, b. 4 mo. 12, 1752 (or 1756); m. Adam Williamson, 10 mo. 19, 1774.

98. Hannah Woodward[4], Sarah[3], probably born in Middletown, was married at Wilmington Mtg., 10 mo. 9, 1760, to Jonathan Dawes, son of Edward and Mary, of Wilmington. She received a certificate from Chester to Wilmington Mo. Mtg., 4 mo. 27, 1761. Jonathan removed from Wilmington to Philadelphia, taking a certificate dated 3 mo. 16, 1774, but no family is mentioned. He m. 10 mo. 19, 1775, 2d wife Ann Miller, dau. of William and Ann, b. 2 mo. 25, 1743, d. 12 mo. 27, 1825. Jonathan was a merchant in Philadelphia.

99. Edward Woodward[4], Sarah[3], d. 10 mo. 6, 1805; m. about 1780, to Mary James, widow of Joseph James of Upper Providence and dau. of Frederick and Abigail (Vernon) Engle, of Middletown. Her first husband was accidentally shot at Chester during the Revolution and left children, Samuel, Frederick, Abigail and Hannah James. Edward removed with his mother, Sarah Gilpin, within the limits of Concord Mo. Mtg., in 1760, and was disowned by that Meeting 11 mo. 3, 1779, for removing without a certificate and taking the test of allegiance to the new government. Mary was disowned by Chester Mo. Mtg., 10 mo. 30, 1780, for her marriage by a priest. Her second husband, by will dated 9 mo. 26, 1805, devised his land in Middletown, on the east side of the great road, about 160 acres, to his son Edward, at 21; and to his five daughters that part of his land on the west side of the road, being 80 acres. He was buried at Middletown Mtg., 10 mo. 7, 1805. His widow married a 3d husband, John Levis, and was buried at Middletown, 2 mo. 1, 1818. A "child" of Edward Woodward was buried there 1 mo. 2, 1799, and those who survived were—

471. Sarah, m. James Sharples (No. 428) and Edward Salyards.
472. Alice, m. Jacob Warner.
473. Edward, physician, d. 1818, unmarried.
474. Jane, d. 11 mo. 22, 1828; m. Richard Fawkes.
475. Mary, m. John W. Hamilton; no issue.
476. Elizabeth, m. Hugh Wagstaffe.

The discipline of the Society of Friends required those contemplating marriage to have the consent of parents, verbal or written, at the time of "passing meeting," as the declaration of their intentions is usually termed. This will explain the following document:

"These may Inform all whome it Doth Concern that the proposels of marriage Between Aquilla Star and Abigail James is Concented to by Abigail James's mother and step-father. these from

EDWARD WOODWARD and
"April 25, 1796." MARY WOODWARD."

103. David Sharples[4], David[3], probably born in Nether Providence, d. Oct. 20, 1777(?); m. Dec. 17, 1774 (record of German Reformed Ch., Phila.), to Sarah Moore, b. 3 mo. 16, 1758; dau. of Amos and Elizabeth Moore. According to tradition David was killed during the attack on Red Bank, N. J., which took place Oct. 20, 1777, and the gun which he carried is preserved by his descendants. He left one child, 477. Benjamin, b. 10 mo. 26, 1777; d. 3 mo. 26, 1844; m. Mary Cowan.

Amos Moore of Haverford, son of James and Sarah, of Blockley, was married 3 mo. 15, 1751, at Darby Mtg., to Elizabeth Smith, b. 5 mo. 19, 1725; dau. of William and Mary, of Darby. They settled at first within the limits of Goshen Mo. Mtg.; thence to Darby, 1752, and to Haverford, 1758. He died 11 mo. 25, 1815, as recorded in the Sharpless family bible. His daughter Sarah married a 2d husband, —— McCleaster, but little is known of her history.

104. Jesse Sharples⁴, David³, is supposed to have been the same as the father of Jesse, whose children could only say their grandfather was so named.* He may have had other children but nothing is known at present beyond the fact of his being the father of 478. Jesse, d. about 1837; m. Hannah Scott, 1804.

106. Mary Taylor⁴, Esther³, b. in Upper Providence, d. there 12 mo. 28, 1836, aged about 97; m. 10 mo. 21, 1762, at P. Mtg., Jacob Dunn, son of Philip and Susanna (Malin) Dunn, of Newtown. She inherited one-half of her father's land in U. Providence, and spent her life thereon. Her husband lost his right of membership among Friends, in 1771, and is said to have been pressed into the army during the Revolutionary War. She was left to manage her farm and take care of her young children, which she accomplished through many trials and hardships. She had nine children,

479. Mordecai, b. 8 mo. 5, 1763; d. past middle life, unmarried.
480. Philip, b. 11 mo. 30, 1764; probably died unmarried.
481. Elizabeth, b. 11 mo. 18, 1766; d. 10 mo. 14, 1817 m. James Paiste.
482. Esther, b. 10 mo. 15, 1768; d. 2 mo. 7, 1851; m. William Sankey.
483. Susanna, b. 11 mo. 13, 1770; d. 2 mo. 3, 1854, unmarried.
484. Jacob, b. 12 mo. 23, 1775; probably died unmarried.

* James A. Sharpless, of Keyser, Mineral Co., W. Va., b. at Elk Garden Feb. 1, 1844 (m. Carrie A. Nesbitt), is the son of Jesse Sharpless, d. 1883, and Catharine Dixon of Piedmont, and grandson of Aquilla (b. about 1796) and Sarah Sharpless. Jesse always spoke of his grandfather as coming from the eastward, among the first settlers; and later in life passing on westward, leaving only his son Aquilla, who was born there. Jesse had brothers William and others, not named. Perhaps his grandfather may have been a son of Jesse (No. 104).

485. Joseph, b. 4 mo. 13, 1778; died when a young man.
486. Mary, b. 12 mo. 7, 1780; d. 7 mo. 18, 1846; m. Thomas Dent.
487. Sarah, b. 10 mo. 8, 1782; d. when a young woman.

107. Sarah Taylor[4], Esther[3], b. in U. Providence, d. 2 mo. 12, 1819, aged about 76; m. 1764 (license dated Dec. 5), William Robinson, a tailor, from England. She appears to have lived in Philadelphia previous to her marriage, and on recommendation of Friends there, her acknowledgment for marriage by a priest, to one not a member, was accepted by Chester Mo. Mtg., 12 mo. 26, 1765. A certificate to Philadelphia was given her, 5 mo. 26, 1766, and she brought one back to Chester, 12 mo. 26, 1774; about which time they probably settled on her share of her father's land in U. Providence. Both were buried at Sandy Bank graveyard, near Media, and a stone marked "W. R., aged 76, 1813," is supposed to indicate his grave. His will was dated Apr. 19, and proven May 13, 1813. Sarah died possessed of about 96 acres of land, valued at $3840, which was taken by her son John. Her children were,

488. Esther, b. Sept. 27, 1767; died in childhood.
489. Margaret, b. Jan. 5, 1769; d. May 4, 1846; m. Thomas Nuzum.
490. Sarah, b. Jan. 3, 1771; married James Nuzum.
491. William, b. Jan. 24, 1773; married Lydia Martin.
492. Elizabeth, b. June 27, 1775; d. Oct. 6. 1849, unmarried.
493. Joseph, b. Jan. 2, 177–; died in childhood.
494. Mary, b. Dec. 23, 177–; died in childhood.
495. Hannah, b. July 12, 1781; d. 10 mo. 20, 1849; m. Nathan Yarnall.
496. Esther, b. Oct. 1, 1783; d. 1849, unmarried.
497. John, b. April 6, 1787; d. Oct. 10, 1861; m. Sarah Keighler.
498. Joseph, b. Dec. 31, 1789; died unmarried.

110. Enoch Gorman[4], Esther[3], b. in Upper Providence, 12 mo. 27, 1752; d. 1837; m. 4 mo. 16, 1789, before Thomas Cheyney, Esq., to Martha Thomson of Providence, dau. of Moses and Grace (Hoopes) Thomson. They were both members of Springfield Mtg., and were disowned 4 mo. 26, 1790, on account of their marriage. They and their children were inclined towards Friends, but were not members of any religious society. They afterward resided in Willistown, on the farm formerly of Thomas White. In 1858, the principal part of the land was sold to Enoch Dowell, and the survivors of the family continued on the remainder. Their children were—

499. Grace, b. 10 mo. 4, 1789; died unmarried.
500. Esther, b. 10 mo. 18, 1791; d. 4 mo. 11 1855, unmarried.

501. Mary, b. 10 mo. 14, 1793; d. 2 mo. 23, 1845; m. Abel Lewis.
502. Martha, b. 7 mo. 30, 1796; d. 6 mo. 20, 1829, unmarried.
503. Enoch, b. 10 mo. 2, 1799; died unmarried.
504. Hannah, b. 2 mo. 1, 1802; died unmarried.
505. Job, b. 8 mo. 8, 1805; d. 1 mo. 3, 1874, unmarried.
506. Sarah, b. 5 mo. 20, 1807; d. 7 mo. 1, 1864.

112. Lydia Gorman[4], Esther[3], b. in U. Providence 9 mo. 27, 1760; d. at residence of her son Enoch, 2 mo. 25, 1851; m. about 1783, Alexander Dowell, of Philadelphia, carpenter. They settled on a farm in Providence, but about 1815, he bought property in Hamilton Village (West Philadelphia), and retired from farming: d. in Phila., 7 mo. 26, 1836, aged 96 years. Except James and Ruth of the children, who were Presbyterians, the family inclined towards Friends. There were eleven children,—

507. Eliza, b. 2 mo. 5, 1785; d. 2 mo. 8, 1883, unmarried.
508. Hannah, b. 9 mo. 20, 1786; d. 7 mo. 13, 1814, unmarried.
509. Esther, b. 9 mo. 15, 1788; d. 10 mo. 2, 1813, unmarried.
510. James, b. 9 mo. 28, 1790; d. 1842, unmarried.
511. Richard, b. 10 mo. 27, 1792; d. 1833; m. Barbara George.
512. Rachel, b. 2 mo. 5, 1795; d. 1815, unmarried.
513. Alexander, b. 4 mo. 23, 1797; d. 10 mo. 15, 1833; m. Eleanor Crowell.
514. Lydia, b. 2 mo. 6, 1800; d. 8 mo. 9, 1850, unmarried.
515. Jane, b. 3 mo. 1, 1802; d. 1811.
516. Enoch, b. 6 mo. 26, 1804; m. Jane Kelly.
517. Ruth, b. 10 mo. 13, 1806; d. 4 mo. 9, 1865; m. Christopher C. McClure.

115. Hannah Chamberlin[4], Susanna[3], b. in Concord, m. 3 mo. 1, 1746, at Concord Mtg., Robert Pennell, b. 9 mo. 16, 1723; d. 2 mo. 19, 1803; son of William and Mary Pennell of Middletown (see No. 93). She was living 12 mo. 10, 1767, but died within a year after and Robert was married again 11 mo. 9, 1769, at Middletown Mtg., to Susanna Fairlamb, widow of John Fairlamb of Middletown and dau. of Frederick and Ann Engle, of the same township. He was assessed in 1764, with 165 acres and buildings, 170 acres of uncultivated land, 4 horses, 6 cattle and 6 sheep. Robert and Hannah had seven children,

518. Mary, b. 1 mo. 12, 1747–8; d. 11 mo. 20, 1818; m. Frederick Fairlamb.
519. Joseph, b. 10 mo. 1, 1749; d. 6 mo. 27, 1820; m. Sarah Meredith.
520. Thomas, b. 1 mo. 21, 1752; d. 4 mo. 14, 1826; m. Ann (Fairlamb) Pedrick.
521. Susanna, b. 3 mo. 10, 1754; died young or unmarried.

522. William, b. 6 mo. 28, 1756; died young or unmarried.
523. Abigail, b. 10 mo. 6, 1759; d. 11 mo. 25, 1787; m. Cyrus Newlin.
524. Lydia, b. 5 mo. 27, 1762; m. Thomas Jacobs.

116. Benjamin Chamberlin[4], Susanna[3], m. "by a priest," Elizabeth Mercer, for which he made acknowledgment to Concord Mtg., 12 mo. 6, 1756. By his will dated 3 mo. 23, 1763, proven 4 mo. 25, 1763, he gives to Joseph Pennell my least gun and twenty shillings; to Thomas Pennell, twenty shillings; to Mary Pennell, forty shillings; to Susanna, Abigail and Lydia Pennell, twenty shillings each; residue to wife, Elizabeth. He was a farmer in Aston township. His widow was received into membership 11 mo. 6, 1765, and m. 1 mo. 15, 1766, at Concord Mtg., to Henry Reynolds, of Wilmington. Henry Mercer was a witness to the marriage.

117. Jacob Sharples[4], Joseph[3], b. in Middletown 4 mo. 21, 1741; d. 1802, near Hockessin Mtg., Del.; m. 5 mo. 2, 1765, at Hockessin, Sarah Haines, b. 6 mo. 13, 1745, d. 1815, dau. of Joseph and Elizabeth Haines of Kennet, Chester County. They had no children. He received a certificate from Chester Mo. Mtg., to Concord, 8 mo. 26, 1765; thence to Kennet, 6 mo. 7, 1769; thence to New Garden, 7 mo. 16, 1778.

118. Joseph Sharples[4], Joseph[3], b. in Middletown 5 mo. 31, 1743, was married 5 mo. 18, 1769, at Middletown Mtg., to Mary Hibberd, b. in Willistown, 9 mo. 18, 1750; buried at Middletown 10 mo. 3, 1798. They received a certificate from Chester Mo. Mtg., 5 mo. 27, 1771, to Kennet, and thence to New Garden, 8 mo. 12, 1790. After this they removed to Bedford County, about 150 miles westward, which must have been but a short time before his death, of which the date has not been obtained. At the instance of Hockessin Meeting, Mary was recommended as a minister, 8 mo. 14, 1788, and in the winter of 1792–3, she joined with some others in a religious visit to the families of Willistown Mtg.; and again in the latter part of the year 1794, she performed similar service within the limits of Kennet Mo. Mtg. She received a certificate from New Garden to Chester, 5 mo. 6, 1797, for herself and some of her children. It is probable that her husband died in 1795 or 1796, but as no motion was made to remove their right of membership from New Garden during his life their stay in Bedford County must have been brief. In the fall of 1798 the yellow fever prevailed in Philadelphia, yet Mary Sharples and sixty or seventy other country Friends attended, several of whom perished by this terrible disease. The meeting commenced on the 22d of 9th month, and on the 5th of 10th month Joshua Sharples (No. 131) wrote thus:

I this day heard of the affecting account of the decease of three Friends more who attended the Yearly Meeting, viz., dear James Emlen, [Robert Kirkbride] and cousin Mary Sharples. She was a sweet minister; had some close trials to pass through in her lifetime. She buried her husband among strangers in Bedford county, where they had removed not long before. She was left with a number of small children, in low circumstances, yet was graciously cared for, and way was made beyond her expectation, both for the disposal of herself and her children. She appeared in a lively manner in the Select Yearly Meeting, and towards the close of her communication let the meeting know that a full apprehension of duty, and knowing her peace was concerned in her obedience thereto, had enabled her to press through difficulties in getting there; that she had left some of her children with tears in their eyes, begging her not to go. She lived to return home and was taken sick the Fifth-day following as she sat in meeting, and in seven days was carried off; and is, without any doubt, at rest in the mansions of bliss.—The Friend, xxi. 77.

In 1799 a memorial of Mary Sharples was forwarded to the Yearly Meeting by Friends of Chester Monthly Meeting. The children of Joseph and Mary Sharples were—

525. Mary, b. 2 mo. 23, 1771; d. 6 mo. 12, 1812, unmarried, perhaps in Wilmington, as her death was recorded there.

119. Daniel Sharples[4], Joseph[3], b. 5 mo. (July) 30, 1745; d. 12 mo. 25, 1822; m. 1771, Elizabeth Dicks (No. 416), b. 3 mo. 8, 1750 (1749, by one account); d. 10 mo. 24, 1835; dau. of Nathan and Sarah Dicks of Chester township. He was buried at Middletown 12 mo. 27, 1822, and she 10 mo. 26, 1835. Their bible, printed 1770, is now in possession of Elizabeth (Pratt) Darlington; also a book entitled "Eden, or A Complete Body of Gardening," printed 1757. For their marriage "by a priest," they were disowned by Chester Mo. Mtg., 11 mo. 25, 1771.

Daniel became the owner of the real estate of his father, about 141 acres, but for some reason the other heirs did not convey their interests directly to him. On March 17, 1783, Daniel Sharpless, Abraham Pennell and wife, Hannah, Caleb Sharpless, William Sharpless, Morris Truman and wife, Mary, Amos Sharpless and Nathan Sharpless, all of Chester County, released to their brother Jacob their claim to their father's land in Middletown, for £472 : 4 : 6, now, and £236 : 2 : 2, at the death of their mother. The deed was made in the names of all the children, but Joseph, Benjamin and Jonathan did not sign at that time. The next day Jacob Sharpless of New Garden, yeoman, eldest son of Joseph Sharpless, deceased, and Sarah, his wife, conveyed to Daniel Sharpless of Middletown, yeoman, nine-twelfths of the said real estate for £637 : 9 : 10. Jacob being the eldest son had inherited a double share, or two-twelfths. Joseph and Benjamin released to Daniel, by endorsement on the first deed, Apr. 28, 1787, and Jonathan did likewise, Dec. 31, 1788. The children of Daniel and Elizabeth, besides two who died in infancy, were—

537. Joseph, b. 1 mo. 5, 1772; died young.
538. Enoch, b. 10 mo. 27, 1773; died young.
539. Sarah, b. 3 mo. 22, 1776; d. 7 mo. 7, 1808, unmarried.
540. Hannah, b. 12 mo. 18, 1777; d. 6 mo. 18, 1858; m. Peter Worrall.
541. Elizabeth, b. 11 mo. 28, 1782; buried at Middletown 4 mo. 11, 1797.

121. Caleb Sharples⁴, Joseph³, b. in Middletown 3 mo. 12, 1750; d. in Christiana hundred, New Castle Co., Del., 7 mo. 4, 1821; m. 10 mo. 20, 1773, at Hockessin Mtg., to Ruhene Jordan, b. 12 mo. 25, 1750; d. 4 mo. 29, 1824; dau. of Joseph and Margaret Jordan, of Christiana hundred. Caleb took a certificate from Chester to Kennet Mo. Mtg., dated 9 mo. 25, 1772, and settled on a farm near Hockessin Meeting, of which he was appointed an overseer, 5 mo. 11, 1797. He was also appointed 9 mo. 15, 1785, on the committee to extend care in cases of suffering on account of Friends' testimony against war. Ruhene (or Ruhaney, as the name is modernized) was appointed, 2 mo. 13, 1783, on a committee to "Excite to true moderation & good order at Funerals." She was also appointed an overseer for Hockessin Meeting, 2 mo. 11, 1789, in room of Hannah Way. They had nine children, 542. Mary, b. 8 mo. 26, 1774; d. 3 mo. 18, 1847; m. Josiah Jackson.

543. William, b. 12 mo. 6, 1777; d. 6 mo. 10, 1840; m. Phebe Way, Rebecca Davis and Leah Ann Alsop.
544. Joseph, b. 10 mo. 10, 1779; d. unm. at James Jackson's, in Bart.
545. Elizabeth, b. 9 mo. 11, 1781; d. 10 mo. 6, 1824; m. Jacob Way.
546. Caleb, b. 7 mo. 20, 1783; d. 9 mo. 18, 1868; m. Mary G. Walter and Elizabeth Taylor.
547. Amos, b. 12 mo. 2, 1785; d. 8 mo. 5, 1875; m. Martha Dixon.
548. Margaret, b. 7 mo. 23, 1788; d. 10 mo. 6, 1856; m. John Windle.
549. Edith, b. 6 mo. 5, 1790; d. 3 mo. 31, 1869; m. John Walker.
550. Hannah, b. 8 mo. 3, 1792; d. 12 mo. 22, 1823, unm.; bu. at Hockessin.

122. William Sharples⁴, Joseph³, b. in Middletown 10 mo. 4, 1752 (N. S.); d. 9 mo. 2, 1805; m. 6 mo. 4, 1778, at Middletown Mtg., to Mary Martin, dau. of Jonathan Martin³ (Thomas², John¹) and Martha Squibb of Middletown. They settled in that township, and in 1786 he was assessed with 150 acres, 2 horses and 3 cattle. Jonathan Martin conveyed to them a farm Oct. 17, 1799, for life, after which it was to pass to the children of his other daughter, Lydia, wife of Joshua Clayton, as they had no issue. Mary d. 4 mo. 7, 1815, and was buried at Middletown Mtg. two days later.

123. Mary Sharples⁴, Joseph³, b. in Middletown 9 mo. 2, 1756; d. in Fayette Co., Pa., after 1838; m. 7 mo. 5, 1781, at M. Mtg., to Morris Truman, son of James and Mary Truman of Philadelphia. She received a certificate from Chester to Darby Mo. Mtg., 9 mo. 21, 1781; whence they took one to Philadelphia, 8 mo. 31, 1786. With three children, Joseph, James and Hannah, they produced one to Darby, 10 mo. 4, 1787, and obtained one thence to Chester 5 mo. 2, 1799, with children Joseph, James and Morris. In 1777, Morris Truman and Joseph Cruikshank purchased six acres of land on Darby Creek, below Kellyville, and the next year erected a paper mill thereon, of which Truman became sole owner in 1785. In 1799 the property was sold to John Matthews, and Morris Truman purchased from Samuel Trimble 136 acres on Chester Creek, in Middletown, for £1300. In 1807 the family removed westward, taking a certificate dated 4 mo. 27, 1807, to Redstone Mo. Mtg. In the history of Fayette County it is stated that Morris Truman, with his three sons, settled at Bridgeport (opposite Brownsville), where they erected and put into operation works for the manufacture of steel, about 1811. They afterward built a machine and engine shop for the first steamboats on the Monongahela River. All the family died at Bridgeport except the mother, who died at their country residence. Jonathan Binns, writing to Abraham Pennell, 12 mo. 10, 1830, says, "thy brother-in-law, Morris Truman, died three or four weeks ago." In 1838, "James Truman says his mother is rather better this summer." One child died in infancy and the others were—

551. Joseph, died unmarried.
552. James, m. Margaret Troth.
553. Hannah, born 1786 or 1787; died young.
554. Morris, died unmarried.
555. Mary, died young.
"Morris Truman's child" buried at Middletown, 6 mo. 8, 1802.

124. Amos Sharples[4], Joseph[3], b. in Middletown 4 mo. 7, 1759; d. 9 mo. 4, 1807, "a worthy man;" m. 10 mo. 17, 1793, at Middletown Mtg., Lydia Hill, b. 11 mo. 5, 1774; dau. of John and Mary Hill of Middletown. Amos was a blacksmith and by deed of 10 mo. 23, 1790, purchased a house and four acres in Middletown, from Eli Yarnall. This he sold to Thomas Worrall by deed of 5 mo. 28, 1804, in which he is styled of Middletown, but he with his family had taken a certificate to Darby Mtg., dated 6 mo. 25, 1798. It is said they settled on a farm near Darby. Lydia married a second husband, Isaac Lowry, of New Jersey, 1 mo. 4, 1815. Amos Sharples had seven children,

556. Humphry Hill, b. 8 mo. 21, 1794; bur. at Middletown 7 mo. 11, 1795.
557. Emily, b. 3 mo. 9, 1796; d. 1858; m. Francis Brelsford.
558. Naomi, b. 9 mo. 21, 1797; d. 10 mo. 29, 1833; m. Samuel Holgate.

559. Hill, b. 9 mo. 8, 1799; died in South America many years ago; nothing is known of his family.
560. Rachel, b. 4 mo. 26, 1803; d. 5 mo. 5, 1834; m. Amos Atkinson.
561. Mira, b. 6 mo. 13, 1805; d. 10 mo. 19, 1805.
562. Mary H., b. 10 mo. 27, 1806; d. (or buried) 6 mo. 7, 1824.

William Hill[1] was married in Ireland to Mary, dau. of John and Margaret Hunter, who afterward settled in Newtown township, and it is said their first child was born at sea or shortly before they sailed. William purchased land in Middletown, from the heirs of Peter Hunter, and there died about 1747, leaving six children, Alexander, m. Elizabeth Bennett, John, Peter, m. Catharine Fairlamb, Margaret, m. Thomas Yarnall and Morris Matson, Mary, m. George Peirce, and Christiana, m. George Brinton. Mary Hill, the widow, married James Bennett, and died in 1770. John Hill[2], b. 4 mo. 10, 1736, d. 2 mo. 10, 1814; m. 7 mo. 22, 1760, to Mary Gibbons, b. 2 mo. 15, 1743; d. 4 mo. 4, 1827; dau. of Joseph and Hannah Gibbons of Westtown. They resided in Middletown, on part of his father's land, near the present village of Lima, and had thirteen children,

William, b. 10 mo. 31, 1761; d. 2 mo. 17, 1840; m. Anna Gibson.
Joseph, b. 10 mo. 31, 1761; probably died young.
Humphry, b. 10 mo. 5, 1763; m. Alice Howard, 3 mo. 3, 1791.
Hannah, b. 8 mo. 5, 1765; d. 6 mo. 2, 1836; m. Dell Pennell (No. 447).
Ann, b. 12 mo. 15, 1767; m. Isaac Hibberd, 10 mo. 14, 1790.
Rachel, b. 2 mo. 25, 1770; m. William Gray and Nathan Sharples (No. 125).
Mary, b. 2 mo. 1, 1772; m. Thomas Steel, 11 mo. 6, 1794.
Lydia, b. 11 mo. 5, 1774; m. Amos Sharples and Isaac Lowry.
Tacy, b. 10 mo. 31, 1776; d. 11 mo. 20, 1839; m. Nathan Yearsley, 5 mo. 14, 1812.
John, b. 4 mo. 27, 1779; m. Esther Mendenhall, 5 mo. 28, 1807.
Deborah, b. 10 mo. 12, 1781; m. Dr. Rolph C. Marsh, 1 mo. 7, 1808.
Sidney, b. 6 mo. 22, 1785; m. Edward B. Temple, 5 mo. 8, 1806.
Norris, b. —— 23, 1788; d. young or unmarried.

125. Nathan Sharples[4], Joseph[3], b. 9 mo. 27, 1761; d. about midnight following 4 mo. 19, 1829; m. 4 mo. 7, 1785, at Middletown Mtg., to Rachel Pennell (No. 449), b. 8 mo. 1, 1762; d. 6 mo. 9, 1802; dau. of William and Mary Pennell, of Middletown. Second marriage 5 mo. 10, 1804, at M. Mtg., to Rachel Gray, b. 2 mo. 25, 1770; buried at M. 6 mo. 30, 1808; widow of William Gray, and dau. of John and Mary Hill. Third marriage 5 mo. 16, 1811, at West Grove Mtg., to Rachel Simmons, b. 9 mo. 1, 1776; widow of Henry, and dau. of Joseph and Rebecca Preston, of Londongrove, Chester Co., Pa. "Note, that Nathan married three Rachels, and all of them ministers."

By deed of Nov. 16, 1785, Nathan Sharples and wife, and her sister Esther (afterward wife of David Garrett), became the owners of a messuage, water corn mill, or grist mill, and saw mill, with 60 acres of land in Middletown, which had belonged to William Pennell, his father-in-law. This was at what is now Glen Riddle. In 1790 a stone house was built, which bears the date and initials S. and G. for Sharples and Garrett, and both families are supposed to have resided therein till 1794, when another house was built bearing the initials of Nathan and Rachel Sharples. By deed of Nov. 7, 1798, these became sole owners of the mills and 15 acres of the land, on payment of £1370, to Garretts. Nathan also purchased from Dell Pennell and wife, 3 mo. 13, 1786, 37¾ acres more of William Pennell's estate, and by deed of Mar. 24, 1798, obtained from Jonathan Pennell, of Chester, 119½ acres in Middletown, for which he paid $2000. This last purchase was disposed of Aug. 21, 1800, to William Doyle, for $2151. In 1815, Nathan erected a woolen factory and fulling mill, but in Feb. 1817 he assigned the property to Abraham Sharples, Francis Wisely and John Peirce. After this he operated the mill on the Westtown Boarding School property. He was buried at Middletown 4 mo. 21, 1829. He had seven children,

563. Infant, buried at Middletown 7 mo. 26, 1787.
564. Isaac, b. 12 mo. 16, 1788; d. 2 mo. 9, 1865; m. Sidney Thatcher.
565. Anne, b. 3 mo. 24, 1793; d. 7 mo. 9, 1867; m. Caleb Foulke.
566. Mary, b. 1 mo. 8, 1796; died young or unmarried.
567. Infant, buried at Middletown 5 mo. 5, 1797.
568. Infant, buried at Middletown 3 mo. 18, 1798.
569. Aaron, b. 7 mo. 18, 1799; d. 7 mo. 12, 1864; m. Abigail Thatcher.

126. Benjamin Sharples[4], Joseph[3], b. in Middletown, 8 mo. 7, 1764; d. at Catawissa, Pa., 5 mo. 28, 1857; m. 10 mo. 29, 1801, at High Street Meeting, Phila., to Hannah Bonsall, b. 1 mo. 20, 1782; d. 9 mo. 16 1831; dau. of Edward and Hannah Bonsall of Philadelphia. The marriage certificate, on parchment, is signed by sixty-six witnesses. He received a certificate from Chester to Concord Mo. Mtg., 8 mo. 30, 1779, being placed as an apprentice to a member of the latter meeting. A returning certificate was granted him 6 mo. 6, 1787, and he received one to Sadsbury, 4 mo. 27, 1795; from which place he produced one at Catawissa, 8 mo. 26, 1797. He settled near Sunbury about 1795, and followed the milling business in company with Robert Coburn, for about two years, and for a few years after in company with his nephew, Enos Sharples. About 1805,

Friends Meeting House

Cadawissa Pa

he moved to Catawissa and bought a farm, on which an addition to the town is now being built. In 1809, he bought a grist mill near Catawissa, and in 1812, in company with John Clark, built a paper mill at the same place, which was destroyed by fire in 1883. He quit milling about 1835, and moved into Catawissa, where he died. A life-long member of the Society of Friends, his home was a stopping place for Friends going to and returning from the Yearly Meeting in Philadelphia. His children were—

570. Mary Ann, b. 11 mo. 26, 1802; d. 8 mo. 2, 1876; m. Dr. Marshall Wadsworth.
571. Eliza, b. 2 mo. 16, 1804; never married.
572. Edward, b. 6 mo. 5, 1805; m. Elizabeth Ross and Ann Pancoast.
573. William, b. 3 mo. 12, 1807; m. Mary Ann Dean, Mary Groover and Sarah Catharine Seesholtz.
574. Joseph, b. 12 mo. 6, 1808; m. Mary Ellen Foster.
575. Bonsall, b. 10 mo. 1, 1810; d. 11 mo. 2, 1810.
576. John B., b. 10 mo. 11, 1811; d. 11 mo. 2, 1868; m. Sarah Ann Harder.
577. Harriet, b. 12 mo. 24, 1813; d. 1 mo. 14, 1878; m. George Reifsnyder.
578. Sarah, b. 12 mo. 3, 1816; d. 10 mo. 11, 1847; m. Lewis Yetter.
579. Jesse Kersey, b. 9 mo. 3, 1818; m. Mary M. Harder.

127. Jonathan Sharples⁴, Joseph³, b. in Middletown 10 mo. 17, 1767; d. in Fayette Co., Pa., 1 mo. 20, 1860; m. 4 mo. 18, 1792, at Hockessin Mtg., Del., to Edith Nichols, b. 2 mo. 12, 1769; d. 5 mo. 5, 1823; dau. of Samuel and Elizabeth (Jordan) Nichols, of Mill Creek hundred, Del. Second marriage 4 mo. 27, 1825, at Center Mtg., Fayette Co., to Margaret Miller, b. 4 mo. 5, 1788; d. 3 mo. 31, 1863; dau. of Peter and Tacy Miller. His children were—

580. Samuel, b. 2 mo. 25, 1793; d. 6 mo. 25, 1846; m. Elizabeth Piersol.
581. Elizabeth, b. 12 mo. 29, 1794; d. 5 mo. 7, 1839; m. Jesse Jackson.
582. Joseph, b. 12 mo. 17, 1796; d. 1 mo. 11, 1797.
583. William, b. 2 mo. 5, 1798; d. 11 mo. 22, 1881; m. Mary Colvin, b. 1 mo. 30, 1802, d. 8 mo. 12, 1870. No children.
584. Ellis, b. 5 mo. 16, 1800; d. 11 mo. 4, 1804.
585. Mary, b. 8 mo. 12, 1802; d. 10 mo. 7, 1861; m. Strickler Forrey.
586. Edith, b. 2 mo. 5, 1805; m. William Piersol.
587. Jonathan, b. 6 mo. 8, 1807; d. 9 mo. 24, 1821.
588. Sabina, b. 1 mo. 25, 1810; living in Fayette Co., unmarried.
589. Priscilla Hunt, b. 2 mo. 16, 1826; m. Morgan Campbell.
590. Hannah Pennell, b. 1 mo. 19, 1828; d. 10 mo. 23, 1828.

Jonathan Sharples received a certificate from Chester to Kennet Mo. Mtg., 2 mo. 23, 1789, and took one for himself and wife from that to Wilmington, Del., 6 mo. 14, 1792. At Redstone Mo. Mtg., 12 mo. 25, 1795, they produced one from Wilmington, dated 9 mo. 16, 1795, for themselves and two children. Edith was appointed an overseer for Redstone Mtg., 6 mo. 3, 1808, and Jonathan was doubtless a useful member, but the record has not been obtained. She was succeeded by Agnes Vail 12 mo. 31, 1813. From Ellis's History of Fayette County we take the following:

The first paper mill west of the Alleghenies was built upon Redstone Creek, in Jefferson township, and as that incident was a matter of no ordinary importance in the history of Western Pennsylvania there is good warrant for making a detailed reference to it here. In 1791, Jonathan Sharpless, a blacksmith and general mechanic, living in Chester County, Pa., made a western trip to visit his brother-in-law, Solomon C. Phillips, then living in Washington County. While there Sharpless, who was a staunch member of the Society of Friends, made the acquaintance of Samuel Jackson, also a Friend, who owned and carried on a grist mill just across the Monongahela, at the mouth of Redstone Creek, in what is now Jefferson Twp. Sharpless made frequent journeys over to Jackson's mill and in some manner they came to discuss the subject of the want of a paper mill west of the mountains, and from that to speculate upon the feasibility of themselves supplying the want. The result of their discussions was an agreement to build such a mill upon the Redstone Creek, on some land owned by Jackson. As a precedent thereto, Sharpless returned home to provide the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, his half of the capital necessary to start the proposed enterprise; also to further investigate the business of paper making as conducted on the Brandywine, that the new firm might have some practical knowledge of the business before embarking in it, for neither knew anything of the details of paper manufacture. Sharpless found the work of raising fifteen hundred dollars upon the fruits of his smith labor a slow process, but within two years he had laid by the amount, and in 1793 he set out with his family for the West, prepared to set the paper mill in motion. In 1794 the erection of the structure was begun, upon the Redstone Creek, in what is now Jefferson township, and on what is the present site of the Parkhill grist mill, near the mouth of Washwater run.

Sharpless was noted during his residence in Chester County as a skillful inventor, and among other things he invented a powerful pressing-screw for use in the U. S. Mint, in Philadelphia. The story goes that when the Mint was in its infancy a visitor remarked upon the poor work made by the coin-pressing machines, saying he knew of a young blacksmith who could make a screw infinitely better than the ones there in use. He named Jonathan Sharpless as the man, and Sharpless was thereupon engaged to make a screw. It proved so satisfactory that he was at once requested to furnish more. His contract completed he was asked to make out his bill, and named two hundred and fifty dollars as his price, although, truth to tell, he feared the bill would be rejected as too high, for his work upon the whole job had not covered more than a month's time. After paying it the Mint superintendent gleefully remarked, "Mr. Sharpless, those screws are of such value to us, that had you asked three times two hundred and fifty dollars you would have got your price."

As to Mr. Sharpless' shop in Redstone, it may be related in passing, that there he made for Capt. Shreve, what are said to have been the first anchors used on the Monongahela river.

He located in Franklin township not long after the year 1800, and in 1810 was driving a grist mill, saw mill, sickle-factory and fulling mill, which amount of business was, for those days, very extensive. There he lived until his death, about 1860, at the age of more than ninety years.

Some account of the last Illness and expressions of our much beloved Friend, Benjamin Sharples, jr.

He left home the 10th day of the Sixth month, 1780, in company with several Friends, of a Committee of our Quarterly meeting, to pay a visit to the free Negroes at Deer-creek; and from thence had thoughts of attending the Quarterly meeting at Fairfax: but after about a seven miles ride, found himself so poorly, as to be discouraged from proceeding; and on his return home that evening, his disorder, which proved to be a bilious cholic, was violent; which he was favoured to bear with much Christian patience, not appearing over anxious, but in a good degree resigned, either to live or die: yet willing that all might be done for him that could be, if thereby he might be relieved, according to the will of Providence, or restored to health; often expressing a care for his wife and children, who appeared to be doubly near to him in his afflicting moments. He did not at first appear apprehensive that his sickness was unto death, but rather intended for his purification, and the honor of his deliverer; or, as he expressed it in the words of the text, "not unto death, but for the glory of God." He would often say, there is a great to-do about this poor body of mine; appearing very sensible of the tenderness of those about him; saying to his wife, if his days should be lengthened, he should never lose the remembrance of her tenderness in his afflictions; often desiring her not to care more for him than was needful; adding, "Providence is able to raise me up, if it be his will; appearing to put his whole trust and confidence in the Father of Spirits. At the arrival of his wife's father, he seemed much cheered, and sat up all the evening and conversed freely; appearing, through the greatest part of his illness, desirous of comforting his wife with a hope of his recovery; yet on the fourth day thereof, he informed a friend, who came to see him, what his mind was with respect to his wife and children, if it should please Providence to take him away at this time, and how he would have his effects disposed of amongst them. The Friend replied, he had no thoughts but that he would recover; he answered, he had no desire to live, but for their sakes, to wit: his wife and children; but added, if he should have longer time, he hoped it might be spent to the honour of the Great Master. At the arrival of his wife's mother, he appeared comforted; and she ministered unto him, according to ability, but with no other success, than to mitigate the pain for a time. On the sixth day of his illness, being asked if he was willing to have the advice of a Physician, he expressed a willingness thereto, though his trust appeared to be in the Great Physician of value; on the same day, as a Friend was sitting by him, he said: What signifies credit and reputation among men; its real value is small; often drawing us into the world, and the encumbering things thereof; and proving the cause of our losing many sweet moments, the Lord would favour us with, for Oh! 'tis the quiet, humble life, the Christian ought to live; for no man knoweth the hour wherein the Son of Man cometh: with many more weighty expressions, which were not retained: The Friend answering there is nothing in this world, that need engage us to stay here: He answered, no, nothing but our connexions. On the 7th in the morning, as a friend was taking leave of him, he said, 'Tis a brave thing to be prepared against the day of death. His eldest daughter being in the room on some occasion; and he observing her looking on him, said; Well my daughter, what dost thou think of me. She answering, I think thou lookest very poorly: He replied, ah! and I am very poorly, and have no expectations, but from the mercy of the Father of all mercies, who is able to raise from the dead. And though he has been pleased to take from you a dear and tender parent, which was a great loss to you and me, yet he hath never been wanting in his love, but hath made up her loss to us; and if he is pleased to take me from you now, he is able to provide for you, all that is necessary, and I believe he will, as you trust in him, love and fear him; which I hope you may, for I have no greater joy than to see my children love the Truth. On the 8th, in the evening, about the 9th or 10th hour, his disorder growing more violent, and he, having a clearer prospect of his approaching end, in an affecting frame of mind, said to his wife; my dear, I believe I am going to leave thee: and desired to see his children: then, in a solemn manner, begged that the Lord might forgive all his offences, and every misstep of his life, with every omission of duty. Desiring all present to pray for him, in that awful period of time, being very near the transition into a never ending eternity. He, in a very affectionate and fatherly manner, took leave of his children, administering salutary and suitable advice, according to their age and capacities; saying to his eldest daughter, My dear, I have loved thee for thy obedience to me, and tenderness towards me; and for thy sobriety in life, which I hope thou wilt continue in, and be obedient to thy dear mother, and love her, that she may love thee, and be kind to thee: and do thou be kind to thy dear brothers and sister, and love them, and take care of them. To his eldest son: Thou seest what a low condition I am in; and if the Lord should take me away, love thy dear mother, and be kind to her. Be temperate in eating and drinking, and moderate in all things. Get a good trade, but do not grasp after much, but be content with a little. I have not much to leave thee, but be industrious, and thou wilt have enough if it is got honestly. Be not proud nor high minded, but live in humility and self denial, bearing the cross. Then he took leave of his wife in much affection, and lay still for a considerable time; after which, he broke forth in prayer, in language bespeaking one whom the Lord would receive in mercy, into the joys of his kingdom. To a friend present, he very friendly said, improve thy time, let not one day be lost: setting forth the awfulness of that period wherein we must appear before the great Judge to give an account of the deeds done in the body. About two hours before his departure, he said: my pains are very great, but it may be best that I should bear pain before

I die: then, after laying still for some time, looking on two Friends present, he said: In a little time I shall be with your Father and my Father! speaking very little after, but appeared sensible to the last.

A Testimony from Nottingham Monthly-meeting, approved there the 29th day of the 7th month 1780, concerning our friend Benjamin Sharples, jr. deceased.

He was son of Benjamin Sharples of Middletown, in Chester county, Pennsylvania; and received a gift in the ministry, in which he frequently appeared in a brief, acceptable manner to Friends: being exemplary in meekness of conduct, diligent and wakeful in the attendance of religious meetings, piously careful in training up his children, affectionately kind as a husband, father, and friend, and well beloved amongst his neighbours. The latter years of his life being spent with us, we thought it just, briefly to express our sense thereof. In his last illness, his disorder and pain was sharp, though his judgment and senses appeared clear, nearly to his last, bearing his afflictions with calmness, and humble resignation; saying to a friend, the day before he died: perhaps I may not be long here, but I am resigned; I humbly hope, I am fully resigned: To another, the same evening, he said: Although I cannot charge myself with wilful neglect of duty, yet I see I might have been more attentive and diligent, but have a lively hope, my omissions will be forgiven, and my transgressions blotted out. Many other expressions he dropt in a pious, weighty frame of mind; and was sometimes heard in fervent prayer: He spake of the need of improving time, and the awfulness of that period, wherein we must appear before the great Judge, to give an account of the deeds done in the body. And apprehending his end near, he took his solemn leave of his wife and children; expressing strong desires for his children's preservation in the way of truth: speaking to them, especially the two eldest, in an affecting manner, and in language expressive of a religious father's anxious care for the well-doing of his offspring, in great clearness and integrity of mind, though under much bodily pain. He quietly departed this life, the 18th of the 6th month, 1780, in the 40th year of his age; and on the 21st, was decently interred in Friends' Burying-ground at East Nottingham.

Signed by direction, and on behalf of Nottingham Monthly-meeting aforesaid, by

In an old manuscript memoir of Benjamin Ferris[3], of Oblong, N. Y., as quoted by Benjamin Ferris[5], of Wilmington, the following occurs: "My Grandfather, Samuel Ferris[1], came from Reading, forty miles northwest from London, and settled Eastward from Boston, at Groton; then moved to Charlestown, where my father, Zechariah Ferris[2] was born. He married Sarah Reed, whose father came from Dorsetshire in the southward parts of England, and from the town of Awley. He settled in old Fairfield, Conn., where my mother was born, and where I was born likewise." Zechariah afterward removed to New Milford, his being one of the first twelve families settled there. His children were Joseph, Deborah, David, Sarah, Benjamin, Hannah, John and Zechariah. The parents were of the Presbyterian faith but several of the children became Friends.

David Ferris, b. at Stratford, Conn., 3 mo. 10, 1707, removed to Philadelphia, 1733, became a Friend, and in 1735 married Mary Massey. In 1737 he settled in Wilmington, Del., where he d. 12 mo. 5, 1779, having been a minister about twenty-four years. His brother Zechariah came to Wilmington and was received into membership by Friends, 12 mo. 2, 1739: was recommended as a minister 2 mo. 3, 1742, and d. 1 mo. 6, 1803, aged 85 y, 1 m, 24 d.

John Ferris[3] of New Milford, b. 1710, was married 3 mo. 15, 1738, to Abigail Tryon of New Fairfield, and they had seven children, as follows: Deborah, b. 12 mo. 7, 1738; Abigail, twin with Deborah; Nathan, b. 6 mo. 7, 1740; Rosamond, b. 10 mo. 7, 1741; Ziba, b. 6 mo. 13, 1743; Matthew, b. 1 mo. 14, 1745; Elizabeth, b. 12 mo. 7, 1746. With these children they removed to Wilmington, in 1748, bringing certificates "from our Monthly Meeting held at the Oblong in ye County of Dutches & Province of New York, ye 21st of ye 2nd mo: 1748." Of John it is said he "hath ye Love of his neighbours here amongst us. He hath also a Gift in ye Ministrey which has been to our Comfort." He died of small-pox in 1750. Zebulon Ferris, perhaps a nephew, produced a certificate from Nine Partners, N. Y., dated 3 mo. 17, 1750.

Savage says (Genealogical Dictionary) that Zechariah (Samuel?) Ferris of Charlestown, 1675, had children, Zechariah, baptized 6 Feb. 1676, Sarah, 12 Nov. 1676, Hannah, 18 July, 1680. The name was written "Ferriss" by the second, third and fourth generations.

"Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright. For the end of that man is peace."

Edith Ferris was the daughter of Benjamin and Edith Sharples, of Middletown, Chester county, Pennsylvania. She was born the 10th of 1st Month 1743 [N. S.]. From nature she received a good person, and rare beauty of features; but being, early in life, brought under the humbling power of the pure principle of Truth, revealed in her heart, she was mercifully preserved from the snares attendant on those pleasing qualities. She was unaffectedly modest, social in her disposition, and possessed an unusual flow of animal spirits, great fortitude, and a clear, sound understanding. These endowments rendered her useful, and uncommonly exertive in the various stations of life, as daughter, wife and mother, which she filled with great propriety.

By obedience to the law written in the heart, she became qualified for usefulness in the Church; and for near eighteen years, filled the station of overseer, to the satisfaction of her friends. By keeping in the spirit of love and meekness, she gained the affection of those among whom her duties compelled her to be a reprover; she was remarkably clear in her views respecting the discipline established amongst us, and always asserted, that it was only by keeping in that spirit which first dictated and established our beautiful system of church government, that we could be qualified for usefulness to our fellow beings, or promote the glory of God. Under these impressions, she endeavoured to exercise her gifts, in a faithful and upright manner; and with such unabating love for the cause of truth and righteousness, as to leave a testimony of her integrity in many hearts. She was a tender, faithful friend:—and having passed through deep, humbling baptisms, she knew how to feel for those who were afflicted; and her sympathizing spirit often led her to visit them. She was qualified to speak a word of consolation to their minds, and direct them to seek counsel of Him who had been her unfailing Helper.

She had a testimony to bear against all superfluity, and was herself an example of plainness in dress, address and all things under her care; and very careful to bring up her children in true christian simplicity.

In the year 1794, she was left a widow; and in 1802, she lost her eldest son. By these removals, she was deprived of the two main pillars of her earthly hopes. They were both heavy afflictions, which her heart never ceased to feel, but she bore them with true christian patience, and resigned her dearest treasures in the language of Job,—"The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be his name."

She was a diligent attender of religious meetings; and careful to arrange her household concerns, so as to take her children and family with her; and her demeanour, during worship, exhibited a humble reverential frame of mind. For several of the last years of her life, when the infirmities of age had taken the place of youthful vigour, she used to nurse herself with more care than she would otherwise have done, to procure this enjoyment; and I have known her, for months together, attend both meetings on First-day, when she was so overdone by the exertion, as to be unable to sit up the whole of next day. Religious worship, and her bible, were her chief sources of enjoyment, during the latter years of her life. On Fifth-day, the 26th of 1st month, she attended meeting, and that evening was weaker than usual. She continued to grow more feeble, until Second-day, the 30th, when she went into her chamber, and left it no more. From the first of her illness, she considered it as the last messenger, and bore all the sufferings of her extremely painful disease (the Erysipelas) with great patience and sweetness. She arranged all her little concerns with perfect composure; and the last day she was with us, said—"All my prayers are answered: I did desire an abatement of my sufferings, and to have a little tranquil enjoyment of you before I went; and now my pain and distress are gone, and I have nothing on my mind but to enjoy you, and the last great work to do." Her understanding was clear and perfect to the last, and her end was crowned with extraordinary calmness. It seemed like the unfettering of a happy spirit, whose future peace had already commenced. She departed about 12 o'clock, on the night of the 8th of 2d month, 1815, and her remains were interred on the 10th.

"Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, from henceforth: yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them."

By deed of 3 mo. 20, 1769, Joshua Sharples purchased from William Lamborn and Samuel McCool 130 acres of land in Kennet township (now of Ziba Way and others), for £519:17. A certificate from Chester Mo. Mtg., 3 mo. 24, 1769, for himself and wife, was directed to New Garden Mo. Mtg., of which they became active and useful members. She was appointed an overseer of New Garden Mtg., 10 mo. 5, 1771; an elder 8 mo. 7, 1773; and recommended as a minister 12 mo. 7, 1775, in which station she visited other meetings. Joshua was appointed an overseer 4 mo. 1, 1775, and was active in efforts to abolish slave-holding among Friends. They received a certificate to Concord Mo. Mtg. 6 mo. 5, 1779, which says they were "Diligent attenders of meetings for Worship and Discipline, careful to bring out their family, & both serviceable members: she a minister well approved." For a few years they were members of Concord particular meeting, of which he was appointed an overseer, 11 mo. 3, 1784. By deed of 4 mo. 19, 1784, he purchased from Amos Davis and Eleanor, his wife, a farm of 200 acres in E. Bradford (now Birmingham), and 23 acres in Westtown, for £1550, and being removed to Birmingham Meeting, he was succeeded by Thomas Speakman 5 mo. 4, 1785, as overseer of Concord. He was appointed an elder 2 mo. 8, 1786. On the back of his first marriage certificate he made the following entry:

Edith Sharples departed this Life on the 18th of 1st Mo., 1787, about 5 o'clock in the Morning, after an illness of 3 days. On the 20th she was interred at Birmingham, her Corpse being accompanied by a great number of Friends; many of whom were from a Considerable distance: on which occation a large and Solemn Meeting was held, which the Lord Graciously owned. She was in the prime of life, a Minister distinguishly Gifted, and beloved as far as known. Her removal was a Close stroke to many, and a great Loss to the Church, having left very few equals behind her. Aged 43 years and 7 months, a minister 12 years and upwards.

In the Collection of Memorials, 1787, will be found a more extended account of Edith Sharples. Ann Sharples, second wife of Joshua, was appointed an overseer 4 mo. 6, 1796, in room of Ann Carter, and was appointed an elder 2 mo. 8, 1797. Both she and her husband were frequently engaged in visiting meetings and families, as companions to ministers or otherwise.

In 1798 Joshua Sharples accompanied several Friends on a visit to the Indians in the western part of New York, under the Chief, Cornplanter; the object being to examine into the feasibility of attempting their civilization in accordance with a concern of the Yearly Meeting. Of this visit he appears to have been the journalist and his account thereof has been printed in "The Friend," xxi. 14, &c. The result being encouraging, an institution was established at what is now known as Tunesassa, where his son-in-law and daughter, Rachel, were afterward engaged until the death of the latter. Joshua also wrote some account of the ravages of the yellow fever, in 1798, which may be found in the same volume. He was one of the founders of the Birmingham Library organized in 1795.

In the 4th mo., 1800, Joshua and Ann Sharples took charge, as superintendents, of the Friends' Boarding School in Westtown, which had been opened about a year, and continued in that station till 10 mo. 17, 1811, when they returned to their home on the farm.

Philip Yarnall[1] from Cloynes in Worcestershire, was married 2 mo., 1694, to Dorothy Baker, and settled in Edgmont township, where he died about 1734, and his widow, who was a minister, in 1743. They had ten children:

John, b. 1 mo. 5, 1694–5; d. 7 mo. 5, 1749; m. Abigail Williamson.
Philip, b. 9 mo. 29, 1696; d. 11 (or 12) mo., 1758; m. Mary Hoopes.

Sarah, b. 8 mo. 25, 1700; m. Evan Ellis, 2 mo. 21, 1726.
Benjamin, b. 8 mo. 20, 1702; d. young or unmarried.
Thomas, b. 6 mo. 10, 1705; married Martha Hammans, 9 mo. 21, 1734.
Nathan, b. 12 mo. 27, 1707; d. 1 mo. 10, 1780; m. three times.
Samuel, b. 2 mo. 12, 1710; married Sarah Vernon, 9 mo. 13, 1740.
Rebecca, b. 6 mo. 6, 1712; m. William Jones, 1 mo. 20, 1739–40.
Mary, b. 8 mo. 23, 1718; m. Samuel Milner, 1 mo. 26, 1741.

Nathan Yarnall[2] was first married 8 mo. 13, 1731, at Middletown Mtg., to Rachel Jackson, b. 5 mo. 10, 1710; d. 2 mo. 11, 1749, dau. of Ephraim and Rachel (Newlin) Jackson, of Edgmont, where they settled. Second marriage, 3 mo. 10, 1750, at M. Mtg., to Hannah Mendenhall, b. 11 mo. 19, 1719; d. 8 mo. 19, 1760; dau of Benjamin and Lydia, of Concord (see p. 169); 3d m. 1 mo. 5, 1769, at Chester Mtg., to Jane Bezer, widow of John. She d. 5 mo. 25, 1775. Nathan had eleven children:

Ephraim, b. 5 mo. 6, 1733; m. Dorothy Yarnall (of Philip[2]), and Sarah Holton.
Nathan, b. 4 mo. 2, 1736; d. 1 mo. 10, 1779; m. Phebe Schofield.
Benjamin, b. 4 mo. 5, 1738; m. Elizabeth Folwell, 4 mo. 30, 1761.
John, b. 12 mo. 8, 1739; m. Elizabeth Newlin, 2 mo. 3, 1774.
Edith, b. 3 mo. (May) 13, 1743; m. Joshua Sharples.

Isaac Sharples was appointed recorder of marriage certificates 7 mo. 31, 1775, in room of his brother-in-law, Joseph Talbot; and 11 mo. 25, 1776, to record manumissions of slaves. It is mentioned 1 mo. 26, 1778, that he and Joseph Talbot had been paid for transcribing the minutes, and a ream of paper. Isaac Sharples and others were added to committee in Suffering Cases, 8 mo. 31, 1778, and on 12 mo. 28, 1778, he was appointed clerk of the Monthly Meeting, in room of Joseph Talbot, Jr. Thomas Evans succeeded him in the last position, 4 mo. 24, 1780. On 3 mo. 25, 1774, Isaac received a certificate to Wrightsborough, Ga., "to see whether it may be suitable for Him to settle amongst you."

Elizabeth Sharples, widow of Isaac, received a certificate from Chester to Concord Mo. Mtg., 6 mo. 27, 1785, and thence to Westland, Washington Co., Pa., 11 mo. 5, 1788. There she became the wife of Rees Cadwalader, but her further history is unknown.

An account of the last sickness and death of Isaac Sharples, with some of his last expressions, mostly taken down in writing, by his sister Rebecca; being as follows.

My dear brother Isaac Sharples was taken sick on the 8th of the first month, 1780, which proved to be the small-pox; we were in hopes for several days, he would have had it favourably, though much afflicted with a sore throat, and a watery humour in his mouth, which disturbed his rest, so that he slept but little; on the 14th, and 6th of the week, (when I went into the room,) he was sitting up in his chair, with a pen and paper in his hand, and said, "Well sister, I want to make my will, for I am as fully convinced in my mind, that I shall die of the small-pox, as that I have it." I replied, "Why dost thou think so?" He answered, "not because I feel much amiss, but so it seems to me." The same morning he expressed something like it to his wife; saying, "I have thought so from the first, and am now convinced of it; but not much dissatisfied about it, only on thy account." She being troubled, he drew his chair towards her, and desired she might not grieve. He at several times expressed to her that he felt as though there was a pure stream within him. He continued very cheerful for several days after, bearing his affliction with becoming patience and resignation. Most that saw him, thought he had the disorder favourably; but about the turn, his fever increasing, the swelling fell, and his breathing became more difficult: at which time he was willing the doctor should be sent for. This was on the seventh day of the week; that night he desired all might be still and quiet, saying, "I feel pretty well." He often remembered his dear wife; and all his expressions were seasoned with love, calling us his dear sisters. He complained of a great load and oppression about his heart, saying, "I am so spent I must go." I asked if he was willing? After a short pause, he said, "I believe it will be my gain:" with some more words which were not well understood. He then said, "Steward, give up thy stewardship, for thou mayest be no longer steward." After a while he called his dear wife to him; and kissing her, said, "My dear, I believe I must go and leave thee!" She asked him what he thought of his preparation for the awful change? After a pause, he said, "I have nothing to boast of; if I am prepared, it is through the mercy of God: I have a secret hope it is so,—I have faith, yea, a living faith, that there is a place prepared for me in the place of rest!" And further said, "pray for me, my dear, in these trying moments." Then calling for his mother, and affectionately kissing her, said, "farewell, dear mother! I believe thou must part with thy son, for my strength is nearly spent:" and on her inquiring if he was willing to go, he further said, "I feel a degree of living faith, that will preserve me from all the fiery darts of the wicked one!" He then desired her to be as a mother to his dear wife and little son. Then calling for his father, he took leave of him, saying, "I have lived with thee many years, and endeavoured to do the best I could; do remember my dear wife and little son; be kind to her, and take care of her as one of thy own children, until she is otherwise provided for." He was much concerned for his wife, charging her father and mother, as he took leave of them, to be kind to her, and not to bear hard upon her, nor grieve her. And when taking leave of his sister Amy, he gave her the like charge. His brother Aaron coming to him, he bid him farewell, saying, "I desire thee to redeem thy time, that it may be well with thee in the end." He called for Cæsar, a negro man who was hired with us, and bid him farewell; giving him a charge to take care and not love strong drink too well; saying, I am afraid it will injure thee yet." After giving his brother Joshua some directions about settling his accounts, he seemed so spent he could not have held it much longer. He enquired what time it was: and being told it was about the 9th hour, said, he thought he should not go before twelve; and saying a few words in prayer, some of which were not understood, he desired the Lord might grant him admittance into his favour, to praise his name; saying, "amen, amen." Then lay as though he was expiring; and after some hard struggles, he seemed to revive a little; and calling for me, kissed me, and bid me farewell, calling me his "Dear Sister," (as he had often done that day,) and asked if we ever saw any body so far gone, to recover? Being asked if he desired it, he answered, "only because it will be so hard for you to part with me!" He afterward seemed uneasy, as though he had something to say; being asked, he said, "No, I believe I have said all!" And being raised higher in his bed, he seemed to doze a little, laying more easy than he had for some time before; drawing his breath shorter and shorter, until he quietly expired, as if falling into a sweet sleep; and no doubt, is entered into rest.

He departed this life on the 23d day of the first month, 1780, being in the 32d year of his age.

[First edition, p. 101.]

Our beloved sister Rebecca wrote the following short testimony concerning her dear deceased brother Isaac Sharples, a little before she was seized with the same disorder.

It resteth on my mind to add something concerning my dear brother, whose exemplary life and conversation, preached loudly to those who knew him. He was well beloved by friends and others: a lover of harmony, both at home and abroad; often exhorting the children to love and quietude, and was concerned that his neighbours might live in unity: well knowing that without it, truth's prosperity would be obstructed; and if he thought any had aught against him, he could not be easy until it was removed. He was serviceable in Church affairs, and concerned that the work of reformation might go on in its proper channel; and that there might not only be an outward conformity, but that all parts of our conduct and conversation might correspond therewith: being deeply exercised that Friends might bear a faithful testimony to the truth we make profession of, now in this time of outward trials.

I well know he was often a silent burden-bearer on these; as well as on many other accounts; always more in substance than in shew! What shall I say to set forth his hidden worth, that others may be excited thereby to an humble, steady walking in an inward labour of spirit; and so our souls may be prepared for our final change! And then, whether life or death, we shall be ready to obey the Lord's call.

He was of a meek and quiet spirit, a loving and faithful husband, a dutiful and obedient son, a tender and affectionate father, and a truly kind and helpful brother; the loss of whom I sensibly feel; and he will be greatly missed in this family, as well as in more public services in the Church.

REBECCA SHARPLES.
[First edition, p. 105.]

Eli Yarnall's testimony concerning Isaac Sharples, aforesaid.

Having unity with the foregoing testimony concerning this my dear deceased friend and cousin, I find freedom to add a few words thereto, concerning his services in the church, for the reason before mentioned: that others may walk in the footsteps of the flock of Christ's companions, and follow him, as they have such for example, that when the alarming proclamation is sounded, "Steward, give up thy stewardship, for thou mayest be no longer steward." the pangs of a death-bed may be mitigated, by having a well grounded hope of entering into that rest, which is finally prepared for the righteous; which was the case with this our dear friend, as appears by his own words "I have a living faith, there is a place prepared for me in the place of rest." He was a diligent attender of religious meetings, both for worship and discipline; in the latter of which, he was very serviceable; being truly united in spirit with the faithful labourers, for the prosperity of truth, and the honour of God: his sentiments were seasoned with meekness and submission, rather preferring the judgment of others; and when nominated for services, being loath to excuse himself, submitted thereto in diffidence and a sense of his own inability; but I believe, through Divine assistance, he never failed to perform them to the satisfaction of his brethren. Being for some time chosen as clerk in our Montly-meeting, and well qualified for that weighty service; in labouring for the restoration of those who had broken the rules of our discipline, he manifested great tenderness, in a plain, sincere manner; pressing the necessity of true repentance; which would be manifested by amendment of life; and would excite them to a diligent attendance of meetings for Divine worship, being himself an experimental witness of the benefit arising from it. I believe he may justly bear the character of a watchman on Zion's walls; being careful that the enemy might be guarded against in every appearance. He was much concerned, lest any whose hearts have been truly touched, should, for want of patiently abiding under the humbling hand, and duly trying the spirits, mistake imagination for revelation, and follow the heat of their own spirits into inconvenient things; and for want of being established on the immutable foundation, by their instability, bring dishonour to the truth, and a burthen on faithful Friends; being also an example in that middle path, that shuns extremes.

His corpse was accompanied by a great gathering of Friends and others, and decently interred in Friends' burial-ground in Middletown, on the 25th of the month aforesaid; on which occasion, we were favoured with a solemn meeting, the spring of the Gospel ministry being opened in a very powerful and efficacious manner, to the tendering many hearts.

ELI YARNALL.
[First edition, p. 107.]

133. Rebecca Sharples⁴, Benjamin³, b. in Middletown, 10 mo.

29, 1749; d. 2 mo. 9, 1780, unmarried. She and Isaac Coates, of East Caln, declare their intention of marriage 3 mo. 22, 1771, but at the next meeting it was minuted that "the marriage laid before last meeting, between Coates and Sharples, is put by, on account of the man's indisposition of mind." Although his aberration was but temporary they never renewed their engagement, and he married Hannah Stalker, 12 mo. 1, 1773. Rebecca Sharples was chosen at the age of twenty-seven, 6 mo. 24, 1776, to the responsible position of clerk to the women's monthly meeting, in which she continued until her death. She was also appointed 6 mo. 30, 1777, to transcribe the minutes after revision by a committee. She wrote her name "Rebekah."

Soon after our beloved friend Rebecca Sharples had written the forementioned testimony of her deceased brother, she was taken ill of the same disorder, in which she lay 14 days. The tender and near affection, not only of her near relations, but several other Friends, engaged them to attend on her with the utmost diligence and care, that no endeavours might be neglected that could tend to lighten her affliction, or alleviate her distress, which she bore with wonderful patience and resignation of mind; during which time she dropt many weighty expressions: such as could be remembered were taken down in writing, and are to the following effect, viz.:

On the 30th of the first month, a Friend who was sitting by her, observing she was likely to have a great load of the disorder, said to her, he hoped she was not terrified about what might be the event: she answered, no, I am resigned, I have been wonderfully preserved in resignation. The same day, another Friend speaking to her concerning her state of mind, she replied, "it has been more my desire to feel his presence, who is strength in weakness, than to live." On the 3d of the 2d month, towards evening, being under much bodily affliction, it pleased the Lord, in his unerring wisdom, for the trial of her faith and patience, (and perhaps not for her sake only) to hide his face, and withdraw his presence during the night season; in which the adversary, the accuser of the brethren, was permitted to assault her on every hand. She signified in substance, that her dwelling was as amongst fiery spirits; that she was fixed and bound in the anguish and portion of the miserable; that she looked around, and saw no redemption; was ready to despair of mercy, and to fear that her residence was to be there forever; her exercise and conflict of mind, that she might be restored to a state of acceptance, was great beyond description. A Friend who attended on her, under a deep concern and sympathy with and for her, that she might be preserved in stability and patience, had some expressions to arise in his mind, which he dropt to her by way of encouragement. She answered: his words felt good, but her help was not in man. After some time she signified she believed it was as he said, a trial of her faith and patience; and that she felt a degree of faith and hope, that she should be again raised out of that state; and that she yet felt love to her friends. Towards morning she uttered divers pathetic sentences, with much ardour and weight; setting forth what she had seen and felt in that deep probation, great part of which cannot be remembered. She said: "I have seen wonderful things, which I am not now able to express!"—a little after said, "I feel myself like the dry bones in the open valley, which had neither sinews nor flesh, yet were raised up, and became an army of living instruments." She was in great anxiety to know the cause why she was so deeply tried, signifying she had overhauled all her past conduct, wherein things which she thought she had done innocently, and from a sense of duty, were now accounted unto her for presumption. She also said: "I have been thinking about Innoculation, and cannot see any cause to repent that I have not joined with it." In the morning she seemed fainty, but soon after revived. At another time she said: "Oh, the trials and troubles that are in the world! they that will not be brought down by one means, must by another." On the 6th of the 2d month, she mentioned to a friend, that she had passed through a sore conflict, being tempted to believe she was bound in the chains of darkness, but that she was finely got over it: and being asked if she expected to be raised up again amongst us, she replied (after a solemn pause) I can say, "his will and not mine, be done; if he hath a work yet for me to do, I desire to be obedient; but if not, it is better to go now, than to stay here without his presence." To another friend, she said, "Oh! I love my friends yet: and though I am now in a low state, if it be his will so to do, he is able to raise me; but I can say, 'his will be done:' and though some faithful labourers are taken away, I believe others will be raised up in such a manner, that the Testimony will be advanced, to the honor of his great name. Oh that young convinced Friends may keep their places, and be faithful! Be thou faithful. At another time, being told that her brother Aaron was there, she desired him to come to her, saying: "Thou seest, brother, what a poor condition I am in: and thou as well as I, have seen how it has lately been with brother Isaac. It is a great satisfaction, that I am quite easy; I feel nothing to lay heavy on my mind: Do remember our dear parents, comfort and support them in their old age; remember, they have had great care and toil on our account; do nothing to grieve or cross them. It has been my care these fifteen years, to smooth and make their passage easy through the descent of life. Remember our little sisters and brothers; I feel an engagement of mind on their account; they have the stamp of virtue on their countenances; set them a good example in sobriety and plainness: thou knowest not how soon thou mayest be in my condition, and then it will be a great satisfaction to have an easy mind."

In the early part of her illness, she expressed an uneasiness with some things in the house, which she believed not consistent with primitive simplicity; and gave directions how to dispose of her own property, giving some of her clothing to the poor neighbours. She frequently expressed a desire that her friends about her might feel and sympathize with her, saying, "I have need of the help of your spirits in these trying moments." The day she died, she called to her cousin, who attended on her, saying, "I see a light, exceeding the brightness of the sun!" Apprehending her end drew hear, she desired that her younger brother, and four sisters, who lay in the disorder below stairs, might be brought up, that she might take her leave of them; which she did in an affecting manner, one after another, as they came to her bed-side; giving them a charge to be dutiful and kind to their parents, and endeavour to live so as to end well; saying to one of them, "Farewell, dear sister; do not grieve for me, my head will be laid safe; do not forget these trying moments, and do not mind pride and high-mindedness; for it is an evil, and a hurtful thing: but live in the humility of the Spirit, and in meekness, for that is the bond of peace." They all manifested their love and near affection for her, by their grief and tears at their solemn parting; may they ever remember, both her advice and example! She likewise took a solemn leave of her parents, with tender affection bidding them farewell. Some time after, being thought near her end, she said nearly as follows, "I am passing through the valley and region of the shadow of death! I desire your prayers, that I may have an easy passage." After this she revived a little. A few hours before she departed, she was under a close exercise of spirit, to be fully given up to her heavenly Father's will, and that her friends might give her up; saying,

"O how hard it is to give up!" Praying for resignation, and that His will might be done: and some time after, said in a solemn manner—"Oh give up! for the earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof: therefore give up to Him." After which she lay in a quiet frame of mind, saying several times, "I feel easy." Some hours before she departed, her brother Joshua asked her how she was? She answered, "I feel quiet and resigned, which is a favour, but am looking for every moment to be my last!" After which she asked for her brother Benjamin, to lean on him, that she might breathe more easy; and desiring to lay down again, after a little while she quietly expired, leaving a sweet savour behind her, in the 31st year of her age.

On the 11th of the 2nd month, 1780, her remains were decently interred in Friends' burial ground at Middletown being attended thither by a great concourse of friends and neighbours; where a solemn meeting was held, and several living testimonies were borne, to the edification of the honest hearted.

136. Aaron Sharples[4], Benjamin[3], b. in Middletown 8 mo. 26, 1756; d. 8 mo. 25, 1798; m. 5 mo. 11, 1783, to Mary Ellwood, b. 10 mo. 23, 1764; d. 3 mo. 14, 1797; dau. of John and Catharine Ellwood, of Bristol, Bucks Co., Pa. They settled at Bristol, where the eldest child was born, after which they removed to New York City, where both died and were interred in Friends' burial ground there. He received a certificate from Chester to Philadelphia, 5 mo. 31, 1773, and brought one back from the Southern District, Phila., 6 mo. 28, 1779. On 6 mo. 24, 1782, one was signed for him, directed to Falls Mo. Mtg., Bucks Co., Pa. They had five children:

613. Rebecca, b. 4 mo. 9, 1785; d. 6 mo. 10, 1786.
614. John, b. 5 mo. 17, 1787; d. 11 mo. 11, 1787.
615. Sarah, b. 10 mo. 2, 1788; d. 6 mo. 24, 1836; m. Rowland Jones.
616. Joseph, b. 12 mo. 5, 1790; went to sea about 1816, and the vessel was never heard from afterward.
617. Mary, b. 10 mo. 15, 1793; d. 7 mo. 13, 1827; m. Thomas Garrett.

137. Amy Sharples[4], Benjamin[3], b. 11 mo. 17, 1758; d. 1 mo. 3 1831; m. 10 mo. 4, 1787, at Middletown Mtg., Jesse Darlington, b. in East Bradford 2 mo. 16, 1762; d. 4 mo. 26, 1842; son of Thomas Darlington[2] (Abraham[1]), and Hannah Brinton[4] (Edward[3], William[2], William[1]), of East Bradford. He received a certificate from Concord to Bradford Mo. Mtg., 12 mo. 6, 1780, and brought one back dated 2 mo. 14, 1783. He learned the weaving business and is said to have shown remarkable patience with tangled threads. Amy Darlington received a certificate to Concord 12 mo. 31, 1787, and was appointed overseer 6 mo.

5, 1793, for Birmingham Mtg., in room of Rachel Sharples. The parents and four children received a certificate to Chester, 1 mo. 4, 1797.

Jesse Darlington, of Middletown, and William Poole, of Wilmington, executors of Samuel Sharples, by deed of 2 mo. 11, 1797, conveyed to Isaac Glover Gilpin, of Birmingham, the Sharples homestead in Middletown, with 150 acres of land, and 9 acres in Aston, for £2200; and Isaac G. Gilpin, with Hannah, his wife, conveyed the same to Jesse Darlington, 2 mo. 13, 1797, for the same sum. The latter built an addition to the house, in 1802, which is now the residence of his grandson of the same name. Jesse and wife were buried at Middletown Mtg. Their children were—

618. Martha, b. 7 mo. 9, 1788; d. 2 mo. 19, 1868; m. Eli D. Peirce.
619. Rhoda, b. 5 mo. 9, 1790; d. 10 mo. 16, 1826; m. Isaac Hewes.
620. Mark, b. 1 mo. 8, 1794; d. 10 mo. 4, 1794.

622. Samuel S., twin with Edward, d. 12 mo. 22, 1859; m. Susanna Dennison.
623. Benjamin, b. 8 mo. 23, 1797; d. 10 mo. 8, 1807; a triplet.
624. Joshua, b. 8 mo. 23, 1797; d. 8 mo. 29, 1797; a triplet.
625. Thomas, b. 8 mo. 23, 1797; d. 7 mo. 17, 1877; m. Hannah P. Dilworth.
626. Jared, b. 8 mo. 15, 1799; d. 12 mo. 7, 1862; m. Mary Dutton.
627. Amy, b. 9 mo. 11, 1805; d. 11 mo. 4, 1847; m. Jesse Palmer.

140. Hannah Sharples⁴, Benjamin³, b. 4 mo. 9, 1765; d. 4 mo. 11, 1795; m. 9 mo. 5, 1782, at Middletown Mtg., to Peter Yarnall of Concord, b. in Philadelphia, 2 mo. 17, 1754; d. 2 mo. 25, 1798; son of Mordecai and Mary (Roberts) Yarnall. They had six children:

628. Mordecai, b. 5 mo. 3, 1784; d. at Wheeling, Va., about the 27th year of his age.
629. Rebecca, b. 1 mo. 25, 1786; d. about 1859, at Columbia, Pa., unmarried.
630. Isaac, b. 12 mo. 6, 1787; d. 11 mo. 9, 1791.
631. Peter, b. 2 mo. 13, 1790; d. 11 mo. 4, 1878; m. Matilda Purdy.
632. Israel, b. 1 mo. 31, 1792; died young.
633. Benjamin S., b. 10 mo. 10, 1794; d. 10 mo. 1815; m. Percy Mariner.

The personal history of Peter Yarnall is full of interest. His father, Mordecai Yarnall², son of Francis¹, removed from Willistown township, Chester Co., Pa., before Peter's birth, and was a valued minister in the Society of Friends. Somewhat late in life he married, 3 mo. 3, 1768, Ann Maris, widow of Joseph, and changed his residence to Springfield township, where he died about the commencement of the Revolutionary War. Peter was placed apprentice in Philadelphia, to learn the business of a tanner and currier, but his master shortly declined the business, and he was placed with another, within the limits of Uwchlan Mo. Mtg., Chester

Co.; to which he produced a certificate, dated 10 mo., 1770. Owing to a disagreement with his master, who appears to have been of a violent temper, he absconded, went to New York, and enlisted in the army. For this he was disowned by Uwchlan Mo. Mtg., 9 mo. 10, 1772; soon after which, through the exertions of his father's friend, John Pemberton, his release from the army was obtained, and he then went to reside with Stacy Potts, at Trenton, N. J., till he was twenty-one years of age. Removing to Germantown, Pa., he followed the tanning business a short time, but becoming acquainted with Dr. Bond, he was induced to study medicine at the hospital in Philadelphia. In 1776, he entered the American army as surgeon's mate, and afterward acted as surgeon; and to use his own words "continued in a long course of vanity and dissipation, * * * pursuing one scene of licentiousness and cruelty after another." Early in 1779, he embarked on a privateer for a cruise to the West Indies, from which he returned to Philadelphia 6 mo. 4th of that year, and again connected himself with the Pennsylvania Hospital. About a year later a change appears to have come over his feelings: he began to attend the meetings of Friends, and under a deep sense of contrition for his past conduct he offered an acknowledgment therefor to Uwchlan Monthly Meeting, 12 mo. 7, 1780, which was, after due consideration, accepted. A certificate transferring his membership to Philadelphia was granted 4 mo. 5, 1781, and from thence he received one to Concord, dated 8 mo. 29, 1781. Before leaving the city he had begun to speak in meetings, and he was recommended as a minister by Concord Mo. Mtg., 6 mo. 5, 1782. His wife received a certificate from Chester to Concord, 10 mo. 28, 1782. In 1785 there appeared to be an opening for him at York, in York Co., as a physician, and they removed thither with their child, taking a certificate to Warrington Mo. Mtg., dated 6 mo. 8, 1785. York Monthly Meeting was established the next year, and Hannah was the first clerk for the women's meeting.

Here, as well as at Concord, Peter was much engaged, in religious visits to families and distant meetings. It is said of him that the powers of his memory were uncommonly retentive, and his apprehensions quick and lively. Hence the anecdotes of his repeating sermons among the soldiery, when in the army, and thus working on their passions till many were in tears. As a physician he was skilful, attentive and much beloved for his tenderness and assiduity; for he knew how to sympathise with the afflicted, either in body or mind. As a neighbor, he was kind, sociable and obliging. In meetings his countenance was solid, and clothed with reverential awe.

When he rose to advocate the cause of Truth, it was with solemn dignity in his manner and countenance—humility and meekness conspicuously marked his features. His elocution was, at first, soft and slow, but as he proceeded, life and energy increased till his whole soul became so completely absorbed in his subject, that he appeared unconscious of his gesticulations, which were considerable. Pathetic entreaty, persuasive love, and powerful appeals to the understanding and the heart, with clear and cogent illustrations of gospel truths, rendered his ministry peculiarly convincing and consolatory.

He and his wife, with their four children, received a certificate from York to Horsham Mo. Mtg., Montgomery County, 8 mo. 10, 1791, and it is supposed settled at what is now called Hatborough, where Hannah died. He was married again, 2 mo. 15, 1797, at Byberry Mtg., to Hannah, widow of Joseph Thornton, and daughter of Edmund and Elizabeth Haines, b. at Evesham, N. J., 2 mo. 26, 1765; d. 7 mo. 2, 1822. They had a daughter who married ——— Richardson. After his second marriage Peter resided at the former home of James Thornton, in Byberry, where he died. Some account of his life and parts of his journal have been published in Friends' Miscellany, vol. ii.; and in Biographical Sketches and Anecdotes of Friends, an interesting memoir will be found.

Lines to the memory of Hannah Yarnall (late wife of Peter Yarnall,) who departed this life, April 11th, 1795, in the 31st year of her age.

Flown is a spirit to the realms above,
Where holy souls breathe forth in strains of love:
Her gentle manners, joined to pious trust,
Are sweet memento's, now she's laid in dust.
Short was her warning, while her mind, serene,
With passive fortitude endur'd the scene.
Tho' fondest ties, which form our social chain
Compos'd its links on this terrestrial plain:—
Tho' daughter, mother, sister, friend, and wife,
Were strong attractions to allure to life;
With mild obedience she resign'd them all;
Nobly attentive to a greater call.
Her lively faith presented brighter views,
Than what the earth-born worldling, keen pursues.
Finite at best, each glitt'ring bauble flies,
And bursts the bubble, when the mortal dies.
Then deep eternity succeeds to time,
All-wondrous rapture, soaring and sublime.

One universal church shall there extend,
And virtuous spirits, in true homage, bend
Before the splendors of Jehovah's throne,
Where sin and sorrow are alike unknown.
No vain distinctions bind: no narrow sects:
One general shepherd, one pure flock protects.
One font of love, beams forth the glorious light,
Perpetual day dispels the gloom of night.
Nor sun nor moon with waning lustre fades,
But one resplendent blaze, the whole pervades.

A testimony of the Monthly Meeting of Horsham, concerning our beloved friend Peter Yarnall, deceased; who departed this life at his house in Byberry, the 20th day of the 2nd month, 1798, in the 45th year of his age, after a short illness.

It appears that this our valued friend was born in the city of Philadelphia, and was the son of our ancient, esteemed friend, Mordecai Yarnall; from whose precepts and example, in the time of his youth, he widely departed; which was cause of much grief to his pious father: so that he might justly be compared to the prodigal, that wandered into a far country, and spent his portion in riotous living.

In the time of the late revolution, he entered into the army, where he continued a considerable time: but being followed by the holy reproofs of the great Shepherd of Israel, he was at length made willing to deny himself, take up his cross, and become a fool in the eyes of his former associates; and, after enduring a season of conflict, and deep baptism, he was qualified for, and called to the work of the ministry; in which he became zealously engaged to promote the cause of truth and righteousness.

He settled with his family within the compass of our Monthly Meeting, a few years since; where he fervently laboured in the work of the ministry; and of him we think it may be said, that he was fervent in spirit, serving the Lord, and edifying the church; willing to spend and be spent in His cause; to whom he often acknowledged his great obligations, for plucking him as a brand from the burning; having frequently, in his testimony, to declare of the Lord's long suffering, and gracious dealings with him; and to invite the prodigal son to return to the father's house, where there is bread enough, and to spare (which he had abundantly experienced) and to rest no longer satisfied with feeding upon husks. Much of his time was given up in travelling abroad, to promote truth and righteousness amongst mankind; being eminently gifted in the work of the ministry; yet he was not forward or hasty in his public appearances, but was concerned to wait for renewed qualifications from time to time.

He frequently had religious meetings appointed amongst those not of our society; and was often favoured to lift up his voice in the power and authority of truth, to publish the gospel of salvation, to the awakening of the careless, and to the encouragement of the weary travellers Zionward; on whom, at times, his doctrine dropped as the dew on the tender herbs. He was frequently concerned to promote the ancient and edifying practice of visiting friends in their families, for which service he was well qualified; and divers times (we believe) profitably engaged therein; being of a meek and courteous disposition, and generally beloved by friends and others. He several times visited most of the eastern and southern states. During his last visit to the former, in a letter to a friend, he wrote:—"I have been under close apprehensions, since I first came to New England, that if spared to get home (which perhaps may be granted) I should never have it in my power to be here more."

Some of his last expressions being retained, are nearly as follow. In the afternoon of the 14th of the 2nd month, being taken very ill, he thus addressed himself to his wife. "My dear, I don't know that I ever felt myself more poorly than at this time. I feel no anxiety on my own account, but thine and the childrens', and the precious cause of truth. If my gracious Master has anything for me to do, I should be willing to be raised again; but have seen that I should be a man of affliction, as long as I am continued. The Lord's will be done." Some time after, desiring his wife to sit by him, he said, "Heaven is a glorious place; into which I have no doubt of an entrance, if I should be removed at this time. I acknowledge it is awful to think of appearing before the bar of the just Judge; but on looking at it I feel my mind centered in uninterrupted quiet." Towards evening, he said he thought of trying to sit up, and have the family to sit down together with him, which was his frequent practice, when in usual health.

15th. Being queried with respecting sending for a physician, he said his dependance never had been upon outward physicians; but believed they might sometimes be means of giving some temporary relief to the poor body.

16th. The Physician being come to see him, he told him that his dependance was in the Lord Jesus alone, not on medicine, but submitted to those about him in taking it. On perceiving his wife to be affected, he said, "My dear, thou must give me up to the Lord, who certainly will do right: may our dwellings be beside the still waters: mayest thou be enabled to keep there in the deepest proving seasons." Some time after, he said,—"O the preciousness of the unity of the spirit. I never felt my dear friends nearer to me, I think at any time; and I thought I never felt a greater flow of love towards them universally, than when in our meeting last, although I was silent."

17th. A friend coming to see him, he said, "I have been sensible of many infirmities; but I believe I have an evidence that my gracious Master has blotted out my transgressions." Some hours after, addressing his daughter, he said, "If I should be taken away now I am apprehensive I shall go to rest, though I am a poor weak creature, and have nothing to boast of: I have been concerned for thee, and the rest of my children; and have prayed for you since I have been on this sick bed." After recommending obedience and gratitude to her observance, he added, "I desire thou mayst so live, that the Lord may bless thee; and to walk in his fear, is the only way to obtain it." After speaking of the weight of his disorder, he said, "but we should not call anything hard, dispensed by the Divine hand." Some time after he said, "the Lord Jesus, my Saviour, is near, whatever becomes of this poor body. I hope my gracious Master will give me patience to wait his time." Speaking to the children, he said: "O my dear children, love, fear, and serve God." He divers times addressed them nearly after this sort, when coming to speak to him: "Now dear children, you see the need of preparing for such a time as this: I should be miserable indeed, if I did not feel an easy mind." At another time, calling them by name, he said, "My dear children, remember the many religious opportunities we have had together; may they be unto you as bread cast upon the waters."—"Oh the goodness of the blessed Jesus," was frequently his language.

He often appeared to be in fervent supplication, when very little could be understood, but, "Lord, thy will, not mine, be done."

A little before his departure, being asked how he was, said: "In the Lord's keeping; I have that evidence." He then took an affectionate farewell of his wife, and quietly expired without sigh or groan.

And seeing it hath pleased the great Head of the church, in his wisdom, which is unsearchable, to remove from works, this our dear friend; thereby stripping the church of one who was concerned for the enlargement of her borders; may we unite in fervent supplication to Him who is the great Lord of the harvest, that he may be pleased to qualify, and send forth more faithful labourers into his harvest.

[First edition, p. 123.]

To the Memory of the late pious Peter Yarnall.

When those, whom flatterers call the great, have died,
The sons of folly, wealth, ambition, pride;
What mourning throngs have crowded round their grave,
With solemn songs from death their name to save;
But when the truly great, the pious, die,
How few the breasts that swell with sorrow's sigh!
Yet there are minds, O Yarnall! where thy name
Shall be embalm'd with honourable fame;
Minds that delight in virtue, and disdain
To stoop to soothing adulation's strain;
Such souls sincerely give melodious praise,
To those who fairly win th' immortal bays.
If aught earth-born, can give the laurel crown,
Those spirits, whom their God and Saviour own,
Who nobly forfeit wealth, and ease, and life,
To wage with vice a more than mortal strife;
Who climbs the steeps where heaven and virtue lead,
May humbly claim the imperishable need.
Such is the high and honourable claim,
That virtue boldly pleads for Yarnall's name.
His private sphere, e'en clouded eyes shall find,
By deeds of light, an image of his mind.
A cordial love, where love was due alone,
Expressed in nature's unaffected tone,
Stamping each heart, that tenderness could feel,
Deep with sincerity's undoubted seal.
But if reproof were due, reproof was heard,
With angel meekness gracing every word,
T'was music of the soul, that won esteem
E'en from the guilty heart.

His friends were numerous; friends, to whom his heart
Could freely the full flood of love impart;
But by no friends, and by no sect, confin'd,
Were the warm wishes of his ardent mind.
Taught in the school of Wisdom, Heav'n's first law,
He felt fraternal love for all he saw.
The rich and poor, with equal fervour loved;
Superior merit only most approved.
Like those of old, whose strong affections flowed
From their own kindred, till they spread abroad
O'er the wide earth, where'er mankind were found:
Such was his heart, it knew no other bound;
And like those too, commission'd from above,
He journey'd full of meekness as of love,
To teach wild erring mortals how to find,
Amidst the storms of life, true peace of mind.
By Truth eternal, on this errand sent,
He ne'er forgot his Master's deep intent,
But as th' unerring Spirit led the way,
He taught us how to act, and how to pray.
Strange as some new philosophers may deem,
The mighty wonders of the Gospel theme;
His hopes were founded on the sacred Rock;
From that deep well, his argument he took;
And none with mitred head has ever strove
With purer zeal, to show his Master's love;
To justify the wisdom of his ways,
And waft on wings of truth, his name to praise.
No mere lip-service did he dare impart,
To him whose right is an unsullied heart.
His soul was with such reverence impress'd,
That on his countenance it stood confess'd,
Ye who have seen him rise to plead the cause
Of Heaven, and advocate his Saviour's laws;
Ye know that language is too poor to trace,
His unaffected dignity and grace;
And when the music of his voice was heard,
Ye felt the power of every burning word;
And by the workings of your hearts, confess'd
That something more than human touched your breast.
Yes, sainted Spirit! thy commission came
From Him, whom mortal tongues, Jehovah name!
Thy thoughts and life were plac'd within his hand;
Thy lips were sealed, or free, at his command;
And when he bade thee speak, his spirit own'd,
Thy words were truth, and thy blest labours crown'd.
T'was his deep wisdom taught thee to descry,

Thoughts that lay hidden from each human eye;
To see beneath religion's fair outside,
The selfish heart of vanity and pride,
And in thy warning voice, his spirit spoke,
While the dark breast with awful terrors, shook;
But when Heaven's mercy dwelt upon thy tongue,
Deep strains of holy rapture pour'd along;
For thy mild spirit lov'd to sound abroad,
The wondrous mercies of the eternal God.
Oft has it drawn, in living hues of thought,
The touching parable thy Saviour taught;
Show'd when the prodigal returning came,
To seek his father, full of grief and shame;
Repentant bowed his face upon the earth,
And own'd himself unworthy of his birth;
Thrill'd by parental love, o'ercame with joy,
The father threw his arms around his boy;
Forgave his crimes, prepar'd the gladsome feast,
And mingl'd tears of rapture with his guest.
T'was here, thy beaming eloquence of soul,
Shed a transparent glory round the whole.
Thine was a zeal like Paul's above all fear;
Though meek, yet bold; though cautious, yet sincere;
A zeal, obedient to thy God's command,
Whose value, Christians only understand,
But now, alas! (if man may dare to sigh,
O'er those whom Heaven calls to their native sky,)
Alas! no more my all attentive ear,
The inspirations of thy soul shall hear;
My heart no longer vibrate to thy voice,
Mourn with thy spirit, or with that rejoice.

643. Anna, b. 2 mo. 7, 1810; m. Jesse Hallowell.
644. John Morton, b. 7 mo. 10, 1812; d. 11 mo. 25, 1879; m. Ann Suplee.

144. Mary Sharples[4], Samuel[3], b. in Middletown, 3 mo. 20, 1737; d. at Winchester, Va.; m. 11 mo. 11, 1762, at Middletown Mtg., to Cornelius Wood, son of Nathan and Hannah, of Wilmington, Del. At Concord Mo. Mtg., 9 mo. 14, 1715, Nathan Wood, late of Yorkshire, produced a certificate from the Mo. Mtg. held at Settle, 12 mo. 2, 1714–15. He was married 6 mo. 2, 1721, at Chichester Mtg., to Hannah Whitaker, and about 1733 removed to the neighborhood of Wilmington before the place was so named. Cornelius Wood turns up as a member of Goshen Mo. Mtg., whence he received a certificate to Concord 8 mo. 21, 1758, and thence to Chester, 10 mo. 9, 1760. In 1764, he was a tenant under Joseph Baker, in Middletown; to whom he paid £5 : 10, per annum, rent, and was assessed with one horse and one cow. He received a certificate to Goshen, 6 mo. 29, 1772, with wife and children, Isaac, John, Jane, Nathan and Samuel: thence to Chester, 5 mo. 11, 1781, with children, John, Jane, Nathan, Samuel, Hannah, Lydia and Mary: thence to Concord, 6 mo. 28, 1784, with the same family, except Samuel: thence to Chester, 6 mo. 4, 1788, with children, Hannah, Lydia and Mary; their dau. Jane also taking one of same date. Cornelius and Mary received one to Hopewell, Va., 11 mo. 24, 1794, and their daughters, Jane, Lydia and Mary, also. The parents were living at Winchester, Va., in 1816. Their son Nathan took a certificate from Concord 3 mo. 5, 1788, to Crooked Run, Va.; thence to Chester, Pa., 10 mo. 31, 1789; thence to Hopewell, 7 mo. 29, 1793. Samuel took one from Chester to Darby dated 10 mo. 27, 1788, and perhaps from thence to Hopewell, Va. Cornelius and Mary had eight children:

645. Isaac, b. 8 mo. 19, 1763; d. 3 mo. 3, 1855; m. Lydia Grubb.
646. John, b. 3 mo. 17, 1765; d. 2 mo. 9, 1845; m. Catharine Littler.
647. Jane, b. in Westtown, 1 mo. 16, 1767; d. at Winchester, Va., before 1816, unmarried.
648. Nathan, d. at Winchester, 8 mo. 2, 1826, unm.; bur. at Hopewell.
649. Samuel, d. at Winchester, before 1816, unm.
650. Hannah, b. 3 mo. 22, 1773; d. at Winchester, unm.; bur. at Hopewell.
651. Lydia, b. 3 mo. 22, 1775; d. after 1816, unm.; bur. at Hopewell.
652. Mary, b. 5 mo. 24, 1778; d. unm., after 1816.

145. John Sharples[4], Samuel[3], b. in Middletown, 7 mo. 26, 1738; d. 6 mo. 16, 1805, at the homestead, unmarried. By the will of his father, dated 1 mo. 24, 1785, and proven Dec. 21, 1790, he inherited the homestead with about 120 acres of land, it being a part of the original patent in Middletown. This he devised to his brother Thomas, during life, and then to his nephew Joshua Sharples, subject to some legacies. He exercised a fatherly care over the children of his brother Joel, who died in early life, and kindly assisted other members of the family in various ways. He was also an active member of the meeting and the subject of the following appointments: 3 mo. 30, 1778, to assist the Quarterly Meeting's committee on departures from primitive simplicity: 8 mo. 31, 1778, to be one of the committee in suffering cases: 4 mo. 26, 1779, to be elder for Middletown Meeting: 2 mo. 26, 1781, on committee to assist the overseers: 3 mo. 31, 1783, receives a "minute" to accompany Eli Yarnall, a minister, in a visit to Duck Creek General Meeting, and some meetings adjacent: 11 mo. 27, 1786, with others, to visit the preparative meetings and labor for a reformation: 12 mo. 25, 1786, receives a minute to accompany Eli Yarnall to the eastern shore of Maryland: 2 mo. 23, 1789, added to committee having care of the black people, &c. &c.

146. Thomas Sharples[4], Samuel[3], b. 12 mo. 26, 1739–40; d. 11 mo. 24, 1811, unmarried: buried on the 26th at Middletown. He remained at the homestead with his brother John and Sister Abigail. He purchased 400 acres of land, on the west fork of the Monongahela river, in Monongalia Co., Va., adjoining lands of Peter Taylor and others, and devised the same to his sister Phebe Smedley. He was active in the affairs of the meeting, the following being some of his appointments: 12 mo. 28, 1778, to succeed his brother John on the committee having care of schools: 12 mo. 25, 1780, on committee in suffering cases: 4 mo. 29, 1782, to be treasurer, to receive all subscriptions, gifts and legacies given for the support of schools within the monthly meeting: 7 mo. 28, 1783, to be overseer of Middletown Mtg., in room of Thomas Evans, released: 12 mo. 25, 1786, "Thomas Sharples is appointed Treasurer of the fund for schooling Negroe Children in the room of Thomas Evans, deceased;" in which position he is succeeded by William Smedley 12 mo. 20, 1793. He received a minute 4 mo. 26, 1802, to accompany Sarah Matson and Sarah Sharples on a visit to Catawissa, Muncy, &c.: 9 mo. 24, 1804, succeeded by Enos Painter as treasurer of the school fund, and at his request was released from being overseer 2 mo. 26, 1810.

147. Lydia Sharples[4], Samuel[3], b. 4 mo. 24, 1742; d. 3 mo. 30, 1831; m. 6 mo. 2, 1791, at Middletown Mtg., to William Russell, son of William and Mary Russell of Edgmont. He d. 2 mo. 13, 1802, "being upwards of 70 years of age," and was buried the 15th, at Middletown. While a widow she resided for some time with her brothers, John and Thomas; but after the death of the latter she and her sisters, Abigail and Rachel, received certificates, 4 mo. 27, 1812, to Uwchlan Mo. Mtg., where their sister Phebe Smedley was living. No children.

150. Hannah Sharples[4], Samuel[3], b. 11 mo. 14, 1747–8; d. 9 mo. 28, 1826, and buried next day at Middletown; m. 5 mo. 23, 1771, at Middletown Mtg., to William Iddings[4], b. 11 mo. 21, 1749; d. 1804, at Berwick, Pa., son of William Iddings of Robeson, Berks Co., Pa. He was doubtless the great-grandson of Richard Iddings[1], husbandman, of Nantmel township, Chester Co., who died in 1726, leaving sons, Richard, William and John. William Iddings[2], died in Nantmel, 1740, leaving wife, Mary, and ten children, Richard, William, Mary and others unknown at present. William Iddings[3], of Robeson (supposed son of William[2]), became a Friend and m. 6 mo. 26, 1766, at Robeson Mtg., a 2d wife, Hannah Musgrave, widow, and in 1774 removed with her and some of his children to Brandywine township, Chester Co. He m. 9 mo. 25, 1799, at E. Caln Mtg., a 3d wife, Abigail Windle, a widow, and d. 12 mo. 1, 1800, in his 75th year; a minister. His children, by 1st wife, were William, Joseph, Benjamin, James, John and Hannah.

William Iddings[4] produced a certificate from Exeter Mo. Mtg., Berks Co., to Chester, 8 mo. 27, 1770, and took one thence to Wilmington, Del., 12 mo. 27, 1784, with wife and six children. Afterward they removed to Berwick, Northumberland (now Columbia) Co., Pa., where William died. Hannah, with some of her younger children, returned to Middletown and she kept house for her brother Thomas at the homestead. She was buried at Middletown Mtg., 9 mo. 29, 1826. She had nine children:

653. Jane, b. 3 mo. 15, 1772; d. 4 mo. 7, 1857; m. Jacob Emich.
654. Hannah, b. 9 mo. 4, 1773; d. 7 mo. 14, 1845; m. Benjamin Doane.
655. William, b. 11 mo. 6, 1775; d. 12 mo. 23, 1786.
656. Phebe, b. 5 mo. 7, 1778; d. 1 mo. 25, 1842; m. Joseph Townsend John.
657. Samuel, b. 8 mo. 5, 1780; d. 2 mo. 4, 1853; m. Hannah Mendenhall.
658. Thomas, b. 11 mo. 5, 1782; d. m. Mary Owen.
659. Rachel, b. 11 mo. 14, 1785; d. 1 mo. 11, 1852; m. Samuel Sharpless (No. 791).
660. Tamar, b. 3 mo. 20, 1788; d. 1 mo., 1821; m. James Furey.
661. Ruth, b. 1 mo. 16, 1791; d. 6 mo. 22, 1841; m. Samuel Sharpless (No. 681).

151. Susanna Sharples[4], Samuel[3], b. in Middletown 11 mo. 21, 1749–50; d. near Richmond, 4 mo. 13, 1842, and was buried at Orange Meeting, Wayne Co., Ind.; m. 11 mo. 22, 1770, at Middletown Mtg., to Jacob Talbot, b. 8 mo. 19, 1748; d. near Richmond, 12 mo. 4, 1831, and buried at Orange Mtg. They received a certificate from Chester Mo. Mtg., 8 mo. 29, 1774, to Concord, and thence to Hopewell, Va., 4 mo. 6, 1785. They settled for a few years near Winchester; afterward in Tennessee, where they resided in 1816, but removed to Wayne Co., Ind., before their deaths. Lydia B. Jones, of Penn, Cass Co., Mich., 2 mo. 18, 1885, says, "I wish to write a few words about my dear grandmother, Susanna Talbot, who, I think, was a woman of more than ordinary abilities. She died in the 93d year of her age, retaining her mental faculties, as well as a good degree of bodily strength, until about four days before her death. She was a devoted Christian, a member of the Society of Friends; of which Society most of her descendants are to-day. To the last she maintained a great love for her native State, as well as great regard for her family name; often speaking of the published Record of the Sharples family."

The children of Jacob and Susanna were—

662. John, d. about 1846; m. Mary McClure.
663. Samuel, b. 6 mo. 28, 1773; d. 8 mo. 21, 1851; m. Martha Gregg.
664. Hannah, d. unmarried.
665. Jane, d. young.
666. Rachel, b. 9 mo. 25, 1780; d. 10 mo. 21, 1851; m. William East.
667. Lydia, b. 7 mo. 31, 1782; d. 7 mo. 28, 1863; m. John Bundy.

John Talbot[1], the grandfather of Jacob, is said to have come from England and settled in Middletown about the year 1700, and he was certainly here in 1710. John Turner, perhaps the brother or father of John Talbot's wife, bought of Joshua Hastings, Oct. 30, 1718, 268 acres of land in Middletown, near the Friends' Meeting-house, and conveyed one-half thereof Nov. 22, 1718, to John Talbot. The latter made his will June 12, 1721, which was proven July 22, 1721, in which he mentions his wife, Mary (also calls her Elizabeth), and children, Mary, Joseph, Benjamin, John, Elizabeth, Sarah, Rachel and one unborn (Hannah). John Turner devised the other half of his purchase to Benjamin Talbot, but the will was probably declared void, and cannot be found. Joseph Talbot, as heir at law of John Turner, released the land to his brother Benjamin, Apr. 26, 1734, but in 1741, purchased it from him, having previously taken the land of his father, and thus became the owner of all the Turner tract. He also purchased from William Hill June 10, 1737, 98 acres in Middletown, which was the same that had been cut off the original Sharples survey as overplus land; and this he conveyed, Jan. 22, 1741–2, to Edward Grisell (Griswold), whose eldest son and heir, Thomas Grisell, conveyed it April 5, 1754, to Samuel Sharples.

Joseph Talbot[2] was first married about 1732, to Hannah, dau. of Joseph and Mary Baker of Thornbury. Her father was the son of Joseph and Mary Baker of the same place, and her mother the dau. of John and Ann (Maris) Worrilow, of Edgmont. Her mother had married a second husband, Dr. John Taylor, who purchased and settled on the land of her first husband, being 430 acres, and who established iron works on Chester Creek, at what is now Glen Mills. In 1761, Joseph Talbot and all of his children except Margaret, Mary and Martha, who were then married, became members of Friends' Meeting, at Middletown. He was married there 5 mo. 8, 1761, to Lydia Townsend, widow of Joseph[2], and dau. of Francis Reynolds, and a third time, 8 mo. 21, 1776, at Concord Mtg., to Ann Sharples, widow of Jacob (No. 34), and dau. of Charles and Susanna Blakey. His residence was in Aston township from 1773, till his death in 1783. His children, all by the first wife, were—

Margaret, m. Thomas Grisell, son of Edward, of Edgmont.
Mary, m. Robert Rogers and John Brinton.
Joseph, m. Hannah Pennell, 1 mo. 13, 1762; d. 7 mo. 22, 1807.
Martha, m. Daniel Broomall, and d. 5 mo. 3, 1812.
John, m. Sarah Levis, and d. 1 mo. 20, 1820.
Rachel, b. 9 mo. 27, 1745; d. 9 mo. 22, 1784; m. Francis Townsend.
Jacob, b. 8 mo. 19, 1748; d. 12 mo. 4, 1831; m. Susanna Sharples.
Elizabeth, m. Isaac Sharples, 2 mo. 13, 1777, and Rees Cadwalader.
Hannah, m. about 1775, Francis Dutton, and went to Virginia.
Susanna, m. Nathan Pennell, 4 mo. 10, 1776, and d. 10 mo. 16, 1816.

152. Phebe Sharples[4], Samuel[3], b. 5 mo. 25, 1752; d. 7 mo. 28, 1826; m. 6 mo. 6, 1782, at Middletown Mtg., to Peter Smedley, b. 1 mo. 28, 1754; d. 2 mo, 15, 1828; son of William and Elizabeth (Taylor) Smedley of Middletown. They received a certificate to Uwchlan Mo. Mtg., 11 mo. 25, 1782, and settled on a heavily timbered farm which he purchased in Uwchlan township. Here he started the coopering business, then an important industry, and which he continued, in connection with farming, the rest of his life. To the former, probably more than to the latter, he was indebted for what financial success he had. As his means increased he added to his original purchase two other adjoining tracts, and later, a tract of 150 acres in what is now Upper Uwchlan; all now in possession of his grandchildren except 75 acres of the last tract, owned by John R. Hoffman. Joseph H. Smedley has the original homestead of 82 acres, joined on the west by William T. Smedley, and next to the latter is the farm of Sharpless and T. C. Smedley. Peter and Phebe had nine children:

672. Elizabeth, b. 3 mo. 8, 1783; d. 11 mo. 14, 1873; m. John Meredith.
673. Joel, b. 8 mo. 22, 1784; d. 4 mo. 14, 1857; m. Jane Cox and Hannah Cox.
674. Jane, b. 1 mo. 1, 1786; d. 10 mo. 18, 1864; m. John Evans.
675. Peter, b. 11 mo. 30, 1787; d. 2 mo. 5, 1864; m. Priscilla Smith.
676. William, b. 9 mo. 13, 1789; d. 9 mo. 27, 1860; m. Permela Taylor.
677. Isaac, b. 4 mo. 29, 1791; d. 11 mo. 26, 1872; m. Mary Hawley.
678. Samuel, b. 8 mo. 12, 1793; d. 2 mo. 17, 1862; m. Ruth Davis.
679. Phebe, b. 12 mo. 18, 1795; d. 11 mo. 21, 1860; m. Benjamin Davis.
680. Lydia, b. 11 mo. 22, 1797; d. 6 mo. 29, 1835; m. Sandwith Downing.

William Smedley³, b. 9 mo. 19, 1728; d. 3 mo. 6, 1766; son of George and Mary (p. 135); m. 4 mo. 5, 1753, at Providence Mtg., to Elizabeth Taylor, b. 1731, d. 2 mo. 22, 1789; dau. of Peter and Elizabeth (p. 164) of Upper Providence. They resided in Middletown and had six children:

Peter, b. 1 mo. 28, 1754; d. 2 mo. 15, 1828; m. Phebe Sharples.
Mary, b. 10 mo. 21, 1755; d. 12 mo. 20, 1843; m. J. Hoopes and F. Wilkinson.
George, b. 3 mo. 11, 1758; d. 7 mo. 9. 1827; m. Hannah Mercer.
Joseph, b. 4 mo. 22, 1761; d. 1 mo. 22, 1791, unmarried.
Samuel, b. 6 mo. 28, 1763; d. 1 mo. 15, 1791, unmarried.
William, b. 8 mo. 9, 1765; d. 4 mo. 10, 1839; m. Deborah Lightfoot.

153. Rachel Sharples⁴, Samuel³, b. 6 mo. 3, 1754; d. at the residence of her nephew, Samuel Sharples; buried 5 mo. 23, 1831, at Middletown Mtg.; m. 4 mo. 10, 1800, at M. Mtg., Nathaniel Walter, of Concord, b. 1 mo. 13, 1745; d. 12 mo. 13, 1805; she being his second wife. She went to Uwchlan about 1812, and lived near Uwchlan Mtg. with her sisters Lydia and Abigail for some years, but returned to Middletown. No children.

155. Joel Sharples⁴, Samuel³, b. in Middletown, 11 mo. 28, 1760; d. 9 mo. 25, 1795, and buried on the 26th at M. Mtg.; m. 5 mo. 26, 1784, at East Caln Mtg., to Hannah Mendenhall, b. 3 mo. 23, 1762; d. 11 mo. 5, 1797, and buried on the 6th at M. Mtg.; dau. of Joshua[3] (p. 169) and Lydia Mendenhall[3] (Aaron[2], John Mendenhall[1]), of East Caln township. Her father had eight children, David, b. 11 mo. 11, 1755, m. Mary Vickers, 6 mo. 3, 1778; Jemima, b. 12 mo. 9, 1757, m. Thomas Vickers, 6 mo. 30, 1779; Jonathan, b. 10 mo. 24, 1759; Hannah, above; James, b. 2 mo. 2, 1764; Isaac, b. 4 mo. 29, 1766; Aaron, b. 2 mo. 1, 1769; Martha, b. 12 mo. 10, 1772, m. Daniel Williams, 10 mo. 11, 1815.

Joel Sharples and family received a certificate from Chester Mo. Mtg., 4 mo. 30, 1787, to Darby, and remained in Upper Darby township three years. By deed of 3 mo. 24, 1790, he purchased from the executors of Richard Baker, 103 acres in Middletown, adjoining his father, for £516 : 11 : 3. The latter devised to him 95 acres, purchased of Thomas Grisell, subject to the payment of £5 per annum to his mother during her widowhood and at the end of that term, £60 to his brother Thomas. Joel's death was caused by a fall in his barn. His children were—

681. Samuel, b. 11 mo. 14, 1785; d. 11 mo. 21, 1866; m. Ruth Iddings.
682. Joshua, b. 10 mo. 30, 1790; d. 3 mo. 17, 1868; m. Mary Ann King.
683. Lydia, b. 12 mo. 9, 1792; d. 4 mo. 18, 1824; m. Israel Yarnall.
684. Beulah, b. 4 mo. 24, 1796; d. 10 mo. 16, 1797; buried at Middletown.

157. Martha Sharples[4], Nathan[3], b. 9 mo. 16, 1745; m. 11 mo. 6, 1783, at Birmingham Mtg., to Jacob Haines, son of Isaac and Mary (Cox) Haines, of Goshen. He m. 2d wife, Mary Hoopes, 4 mo. 6, 1797, and a 3d, Lydia Thomson, 5 mo. 14, 1801. He d. 9 mo. 25, 1811, aged 60 years, leaving one child, by the last wife, named Martha, who m. Joshua Darlington.

160. William Sharples[4], Nathan[3], b. in Goshen township (now West Chester borough), 1 mo. 9, 1752, in a log house which stood about 60 feet S. W. of the present brick dwelling (built 1801) on the south side of Dean Street, between High and Church Streets; d. 10 mo. 11, 1817, in the house next south of the Bank of Chester County; m. 10 mo. 7, 1773, at Birmingham Mtg., Ann Hunt, b. 1 mo. 16, 1755; d. 11 mo. 5, 1820; dau. of William and Sarah Hunt, of Westtown township. They had seven children:

685. Sarah, b. 7 mo. 30, 1774; d. 2 mo. 10, 1832; m. Philip Derrick.
686. Lydia, b. 8 mo. 8, 1776; d. 2 mo. 15, 1844; m. Dr. Levi Roberts.

688. William, b. 6 mo. 9, 1783; d. 6 mo. 10, 1784.
689. Hannah, b. 11 mo. 6, 1785; d. 10 mo. 5, 1843; m. Isaac Rogers.
690. Rebecca, b. 6 mo. 9, 1789; d. 7 mo. 22, 1836; m. David Townsend.
691. Nancy, b. 11 mo. 10, 1792; d. 4 mo. 30, 1806.

The log house in which William Sharples was born was torn down about 1802; the well belonging thereto, a square one, is under the porch of the present house, and unused. He was three years of age at his father's death; received a good education for those times, under Ralph Forrester, at the school on a lot at the N. W. corner of High and Gay Streets. His cyphering book is preserved, dated "1766, 11th mo. 10th, Goshen." He was apprenticed to John Marshall to learn cabinet making, on a small farm in E. Bradford, which his mother received from her father, Joseph Townsend. Being the only surviving son of his father, he inherited the homestead farm at the age of 21. He married and built a small log shop on the Wilmington road, near where Dean and High Streets meet. This was afterward used as a dwelling, but torn down about 1819. Here he carried on his trade, and several articles of his make remain in the family.

It would appear that all of his children were born on the farm, except Ann, who was not born till after he had purchased the house on High Street.

In 1789, he built a large barn with stone, stable high, and frame above, which was the admiration of the neighboring farmers, and a departure from the old style of log barns. This stood partly in what is now Church Street, and where Alfred Sharples's house stands. It was moved about 1845, to a lot S. E. of Price and Darlington Sts., and afterward burned by lightning.

William Sharples sold to Joseph McClellan, 90 acres, being all that he owned east of the Wilmington road; extending from thence to the borough line, and from Union to Nields St., for $1600. In 1792, he bought from James and Hannah Smith a messuage and lot on High St., opposite the Court House, for $933.33, on which it would appear that James Smith had built the north house between 1789, and 1792. William Sharples built the south end, including the entry, which he used as a store. Since the Bank of Chester County was established at its present location, this old house has been remodeled to some extent. In 1794, the room or rooms over the store were rented to Jones, Hoff & Derrick, who here printed the "West Chester Gazette," beginning 1st mo. 4th, 1794, and continuing six months. It is believed this was the first printing done within the present limits of Chester County. In 1797, the "Literary Museum" was published in the same rooms for six months, by Philip Derrick and Nathan Sharples, under the firm name of Derrick & Sharples; but in the language of the late Dr. Darlington, "both enterprises were decidedly premature, and consequently abortive."

In 1795, William Sharples was elected a member of the "Pennsylvania Society for the Abolition of Slavery." In 1798, the rooms over the store were added to the dwelling. In 1799, William Jones was taken into partnership, under the firm name of Sharples & Jones; the merchandize of the firm being then valued at $1824. Jones remained about one year, at the end of which time the stock was valued at $1937.20.

The town of West Chester was erected into a borough March 28, 1799, and William Sharples became the first burgess; being also reelected in 1807, and 1811. The "West Chester Fire Company" was organized in 1799, with William Sharples at its head.

In 1803, 9 mo. 17th, the contents of the store were sold to Obadiah Ketchum and David Niess, under the firm name of Ketchum & Niess, who continued until March, 1804, when they failed, leaving their creditors to divide a considerable loss, and the store again fell into the hands of William Sharples.

In 1807, William Taylor became a partner in the store (Sharples & Taylor), and continued three years, when he withdrew, as it is said, because Wm. Sharples had decided to discontinue the sale of spirituous liquors.

In 1815, David Townsend had charge of the store, and remained in it until he was offered the situation of Cashier in the Bank of Chester County.

William Sharples died in 1817, leaving all his real estate to his son Nathan, subject to the life estate of his mother and legacies to all of his sisters. The store was continued for a time under the firm name of Nathan Sharples & Co., the other being his sister Hannah. She marrying Isaac Rogers soon after, the merchandize was sold to John W. Townsend and Passmore Hoopes, who removed it a few doors further north, and the house and lot were sold to the Bank of Chester County. Ann Sharples, widow of William, remained in the house some time after the sale.

William Sharples was in West Chester a prominent man in his day; he was frequently employed as attorney in fact, trustee, executor or guardian. Various were the trusts from time to time placed in his charge for care or adjustment.—Extract from Memoir by P. P. S.

Joseph Hunt, from England, landed in Pennsylvania Aug. 1, 1714, the same day on which Queen Anne died. He settled in Westtown township, and married 3 mo. 21, 1724, at Concord Mtg., Mary Hickman, b. May 9, 1702, dau. of Benjamin and Ann (Buffington) Hickman, of Westtown. He died, perhaps in Newtown township, 2 mo. 18, 1771, supposed to be 82 years of age, and was buried on the 20th at Concord Mtg. His children were William, Joseph, m. Deborah Jones and Ann Trego, John, m. Hannah Jefferis and Mary Stanley, Hannah, m. Henry Collins and Nathaniel Moore, Mary, m. James Smith, Jane, m. Thomas Mercer, and Elizabeth, m. Peter Osborne.

William Hunt succeeded his father at the homestead in Westtown, where he died in 1790. He was first married 10 mo. 25, 1753, at Birmingham Mtg., to Sarah Fred, dau. of Nicholas and Ann (Need) Fred, of Birmingham. She d. 1 mo. 25, 1773, and he m. 6 mo. 16, 1774, at B. Mtg., Susanna Yearsley, widow of Nathan, and dau. of Jacob and Mary Wright. She d. 6 mo. 9, 1815, aged 88 y., 7 m., 15 d.

The children of William and Sarah Hunt were:

Ann, b. 1 mo. 16, 1755; d. 11 mo. 5, 1820; m. William Sharples.
Mary, b. 7 mo. 8, 1756; d. 5 mo. 6, 1849; m. William Seal.
Joshua, b. 1 mo. 17, 1759; d. 3 mo. 9, 1830; m. Lydia Davis.
Rebecca, b. 3 mo. 17, 1761; d. 12 mo. 14, 1840; m. Titus Taylor.
Eli, b. 4 mo. 25, 1763; d. —— —— ——; m. Kitty Sheppard.
Benjamin, b. —— —— ——; d. —— —— ——; m. Ellen Huey.

162. Caleb Pyle⁴, Jane³, b. Oct. 8, 1741; d. about 1808; m. Apr. 6, 1767, at the Swedes' Church, Wilmington, to Mary Matthewson, who d. about 1827. As a member of Concord Mtg., he was disowned 10 mo. 7, 1767, for marriage by a priest to one not a member. Of her family nothing has been learned: perhaps the name has been generally written "Mattson." Caleb Pyle resided in the neighborhood of Thornton, in Thornbury township, Del. Co., Pa., and had sixteen children:

692. Stephen, b. Nov. 14, 1767; m. Lydia Reece and Rebecca Stokes.
693. Joseph, b. Apr. 26, 1769; m. Esther Mendenhall and Martha Sharples.
694. Abner, b. July 20, 1770; d. 1846; m. Mary Mendenhall.
695. Benjamin, b. Mar. 13, 1772; probably died young or unmarried.
696. Caleb, b. Mar. 25, 1774; died young.
697. Jacob, b. Sept. 14, 1775; d. Aug. 31, 1856; m. Mary Mendenhall.
698. Isaac, b. Jan. 15, 1777; d. 1843; m. Sarah James.
699. Jane, b. Mar. 16, 1778; m. Joseph McAffee.
700. Hannah, twin with Jane; probably died young or unmarried.
701. Mary, b. Nov. 22, 1779; d. Dec. 14, 1859; m. James Smith.
702. Caleb, b. Oct. 8, 1781; probably died young or unmarried.
703. John, b. Oct. 7, 1783; d. Oct. 1, 1855; m. Elizabeth Taylor and Ann Lodge.
704. Jonathan, b. June 27, 1785; married.
705. Moses, b. Mar. 10, 1787; d. June 5, 1866; m. Eunice Pilkington, &c.
706. Aaron, twin with Moses; d. Oct. 9, 1823; m. Sarah Parks.
707. Albin, b. Oct. 2, 1789; d. Feb. 18, 1875; m. Maria Pyle.

163. Levi Pyle⁴, Jane³, a cabinet-maker, was married about 1767, to Margaret Johnson, from Ireland. He was disowned by Concord Mo. Mtg., 9 mo. 9, 1767, for marriage by a priest to one not a Friend, and Caleb Peirce, senior, was censured for encouraging him so far as to lend him a horse on the occasion. She died in 1791, in her 41st year. They lived at Thornton, Del. Co., Pa., and had eleven children:

708. Nathan, married Martha Palmer.
709. James, b. Mar. 12, 1770; d. June 7, 1837; m. Mary Logan.
710. Levi, m. Elizabeth Palmer, Mar. 21, 1793.
711. Moses, married.
712. Job, b. July 5, 1776; d. Sept. 10, 1851; m. Amy Palmer.
713. Jane, married Jonathan Pyle (?).
714. John, married Sarah Bail (?).
715. Benjamin, married Alice Bail (?).
716. Hannah, married Herman Gregg.
717. Margaret, married Joseph Green.
718. A son, died young.

164. Hannah Pyle[4], Jane[3], m. 11 mo. 19, 1766, at Concord Mtg., Jonathan Heacock[3], son of John and Sarah, of Middletown. They settled in Lower Darby about two miles below Darby village, on the Calcoon Hook road. In 1774 he was assessed with 112 acres and buildings, 9 acres of marsh, 2 horses and 3 cattle. A certificate for the family, from Chester to Darby Mo. Mtg., was granted 2 mo. 26, 1776. He died 9 mo. 1, 1832, aged 88 years, and she 1 mo. 12, 1808, aged about 62 years.

Jonathan Heacock[1] married Ann Till, dau. of John Till of Stafford Meeting, and obtained a certificate, dated 12 mo. 13, 1710, from Wolverhampton Mo. Mtg., in Staffordshire, directed "To ffriends in the Province of Pensilvania, or any of the adjacent Colonies." The time of their arrival is unknown, but the certificate was presented to Chester Mo. Mtg., 7 mo. 29, 1718. At first he was a renter but afterward purchased a farm in Marple, near the line of Springfield township. Their children were, Mary, b. 3 mo. 26, 1712, m. Robert Penrose; John, b. 9 mo. 23, 1713, m. Sarah Taylor; Jonathan, b. 3 mo. 10, 1715, m. Susanna Morgan, 3 mo. 9, 1745; William, b. 1 mo. 13, 1716–17, m. Ann Roberts; Ann, b. 12 mo. 11, 1718–19, m. James Morgan; Joseph, b. 3 mo. 31, 1722, m. Hannah Massey, 10 mo. 25, 1752, and settled at the homestead in Marple.

John Heacock[2] m. 7 mo. 19, 1739, at Providence Mtg., Sarah Taylor, dau. of Peter and Elizabeth, of Providence, and settled in Middletown, where he d. 11 mo. 13, 1794, and was buried in a coffin made by himself from a walnut tree, which grew from a seed he planted in early life. His children were, Jonathan, Ann, Nathan, John and Hannah. The children of Jonathan[3] and Hannah Heacock were—

719. Joseph, b. 7 mo. 23, 1767; d. 6 mo. 28, 1843; m. Mary Humphrey.
720. Isaac, b. 2 mo. 16, 1769; left one child.
721. Benjamin, b. 10 mo. 3, 1770; d. 1814, unm., from kick of a horse in the breast.
722. Jacob, b. 12 mo. 17, 1772; d. 3 mo. 24, 1840; m. Susannah Underwood.
723. Sarah, b. 5 mo. 2, 1774; m. Henry Wood. No children.
724. Jonathan, b. 8 mo. 22, 1776; d. 8 mo. 21, 1856: m. Sarah Underwood.
725. Nathan, b. 3 mo. 15, 1779; probably died young or unmarried.
726. Israel, b. 3 mo. 15, 1780; d. 12 mo. 19, 1848; m. Jemima Parsons.
727. Hannah, b. 3 mo. 13, 1782; d. 2 mo. 21, 1864, unmarried.
728. Phebe, b. 1 mo. 21, 1784; d. 7 mo. 17, 1856; m. Benjamin Bartram.
729. John P., b. 11 mo. 6, 1786; d. 8 mo. 14, 1863; unmarried.
730. Ann, b. 6 mo. 6, 1789; d. 9 mo. 27, 1842; m. Howard Williams (see No. 891).

165. Benjamin Pyle[4], Jane[3], b. in Thornbury, d. in Springfield (?), 4 mo. 30, 1831; m. 12 mo. 8, 1774, at Springfield Mtg., Sarah Heacock, b.

1753; d. 9 mo. 23, 1829; dau. of Joseph and Hannah (Massey) Heacock, of Marple. He was a stone mason and settled in Springfield but resided in Concord about 1782–'88. He was complained of by Springfield Mtg., 5 mo. 28, 1781, for paying taxes for the purpose of hiring men to go to the army, and was disowned 8 mo. 27, 1781. His wife and children received a certificate from Chester Mo. Mtg., 10 mo. 28, 1782, to Concord, and thence back to Chester, 11 mo. 5, 1788. They had fourteen children:

731. Joseph, b. 7 mo. 26, 1775; d. 10 mo. 26, 1850; m. Abigail Lobb.
732. Hannah, b. 11 mo. 25, 1776; d. 2 mo. 27, 1848; m. David Caldwell.
733. John, b. 7 mo. 28, 1778; d. 9 mo. 21, 1780.

742. Jonathan, b. 3 mo. 17, 1794; d. 12 mo. 4, 1879; m. Naomi Parsons.
743. Isaac, b. 8 mo. 12, 1796; m. Mary Ann Foltz, &c.
744. William, b. 3 mo. 13, 1798; d. 8 mo. 13, 1798.

SPRINGFIELD MEETING.

It appears that a meeting had been held prior to 1686 at the house of Bartholomew Coppock (see page 133), though which of the two persons of this name is intended, is uncertain. At Quarterly Meeting, 6 mo. 2, 1686: "Agreed y^t ye meeting at Francis Stanfields, upon fresh consideration be Removed to Bartholomew Coppock's ye younger, to begin ye next first day and ye 4th day folowing untill freinds se cause to remove it."

Third mo. 4, 1696: "This meeting Consents y^t the meeting at Bartholomew Coppocks be setteled every first and 3d day." Two years later the mid-week meeting was altered to the 5th day.

Twelfth mo. 6, 1698–9: "The friends belonging to Springfield meeting propose their intentions of building a meeting-house at their grave yard, which this Quarterly meeting consents unto."

At Chester Monthly Meeting, 8 mo. 25, 1703: "Memorandum, that the Deeds of the meeting house and Land of Springfield is Lodged in the hands of George Maris, sen'r."

The name of Springfield first appears in the account of collections, 12 mo. 24, 1700–1, and the monthly meeting was held in that meeting-house 3 mo. 26, 1701.

At Quarterly Meeting, 6 mo. 13, 1739, it was ordered that £18, should be paid to Friends of Springfield, to help them to defray the charge of rebuilding their meeting-house; the same being the interest on Joseph Need's donation, and paid by his request.

SPRINGFIELD MEETING HOUSE, BUILT 1738.

At Chester Monthly Meeting, 1 mo. 27, 1783: "Springfield Preparative Meeting, by their Representatives, informs this Meeting that they have appointed Jesse Maris, John Hall and Joseph Rhoads, Trustees of and for the Lott of Ground whereon their Meeting house is Built, and their Burying Ground is, in the stead of Samuel Levis, who is deceas'd, & John Levis & Isaac Howell who are both disowned,—one by this and the other by Philadelphia Mo^ly Meeting; which appointment is approved of by this Meeting."

This statement with others of like nature respecting the other meetings was produced by direction of a former Monthly Meeting, 10 mo. 28, 1782.

166. Jacob Pyle[4], Jane[3], was disowned by Concord Mo. Mtg., 9

mo. 7, 1774, on account of his marriage by a priest to one not a member. She was Elizabeth the widow of Isaac Chamberlin (son of John and Lettice), of Aston, who died in 1771, without issue; leaving to his wife a farm of 41 acres in that township. She had one child by her second husband, who died unmarried. Elizabeth d. 1801, and the land was inherited by her heirs, the Vaughans, of Haverford, and others. Jacob doubtless resided thereon during her life. He m. again, in 1802, Elizabeth Blair, dau. of Daniel and Mary Blair of New London, Chester Co., Pa. He had, by both wives, five children:

745. Tamar, died young or unmarried.
746. Naomi, b. —— —— ——; d. 1 mo. 25, 1876; m. Joseph Heacock.
747. Miriam, m. Jacob Price.
748. Ezekiel, married Mary Hawes.
749. Hannah, married Jeremiah Weaver and William Stanley.

167. Lydia Pyle⁴, Jane³, is said to have married Alexander Soley, of Haverford, about 1781. One person of this name was assessed in Haverford, 1764, with a house and garden. Again, Alexander Soley of Haverford, blacksmith, and Phebe (Wilday), his wife, convey a little land in Merion, Mar. 4, 1797, to Jonathan Wilday. On July 19, 1813, Jacob Pyle of Aston and Elizabeth his wife, and Lydia Soley, now or late of Thornbury, widow, released to Edward Darlington, Esq., of Birmingham, five acres of land in Thornbury, of which Jacob Pyle, senior, died possessed, leaving eight children. Lydia Soley had five children, as named in the former edition:

750. Elizabeth, no further record.
751. Phebe, m. Jasper Long, Apr. 6, 1805, before Thomas Cheyney, Esq.; no further record.
752. Lydia.
753. Hannah.
754. Jonathan.

168. John Pyle⁴, Jane³, b. 3 mo. 12, 1758; d. 12 mo. 14, 1837; m. 1787, Alice Crosley, b. 4 mo. 9, 1773; d. 11 mo. 3, 1855; dau. of John and Rebecca Crosley, of Aston, For his marriage by a priest he was disowned by Friends 2 mo. 6, 1788. They resided in Middletown and had fifteen children:

755. Israel, b. 3 mo. 9, 1788; d. 2 mo. 24, 1862; m. Anne N. Daily.
756. Elizabeth, b. 1 mo. 21, 1790; d. 2 mo. 11, 1863; m. James Atwood.

757. Phebe, b. 1 mo. 9, 1793; d. —— —— ——; m. Joseph Pilkington.
758. Rebecca, b. 3 mo. 4, 1795; d. 1 mo. 28, 1869; m. William Ingram.
759. Maria, b. 9 mo. 21, 1797; d. 5 mo. 7, 1853; m. Albin Pyle (No. 707).
760. Lydia, b. 7 mo. 1, 1800; d. —— —— ——, unmarried.
761. Daniel, b. 2 mo. 22, 1803; d. 8. mo. 15, 1881; m. Cidney Pyle.
762. Charles, b. 7 mo. 15, 1805; d. 10 mo. 26, 1868; m. Abigail H. Smedley.
763. Esther, b. 12 mo. 10, 1807; d. 5 mo. 27, 1886; m. Redman Ottey.
764. Eliza Y., b. 7 mo. 21, 1810; m. Charles W. Carmell.
765. Walker, b. 5 mo. 15, 1813; died young.
766. Samuel, b. 6 mo. 20, 1815; died young.
767. John, twin with Samuel; died in infancy.
768. Crosley, b. 9 mo. 18, 1816; m. Sarah Menagh.
769. John S., b. 12 mo. 25, 1818; m. Martha Mercer and Martha McFadien.

169. Esther Pyle[4], Jane[3], was married 12 mo. 4, 1783 (records of Christ Church, Phila.), to John Heacock, son of Jonathan Heacock[2] (b. 3 mo. 10, 1715), and Susanna Morgan, of Bucks Co., Pa. She was disowned by Concord Mo. Mtg., 1 mo. 4, 1786, for her marriage by a priest. They resided for a few years in Lower Darby township, whence they removed to the Redstone Settlement in the western part of Pennsylvania, and finally to Ohio. They had seven children, of whom the youngest was born at Redstone:

770. Nathan, b. 8 mo. 3, 1784; d. 6 mo. 5, 1863; m. Hannah John.
771. Samuel, no further record.
772. Amy, m. Harlan Pyle.
773. Benjamin, no further record.
774. Anna, m. ——— Riggle.
775. John, no further record.
776. Hannah.

John Pyle, son of Amy, Urichsville, Tuscarawas Co., Ohio, and Benjamin Riggle, son of Anna, Zoar Station, same county, failed to respond. John Tate and Dr. Kern, New Cumberland, Tuscarawas Co., are said to have married daughters of Hannah (No. 776), but no further information has been obtained.

170. Mary Sharples[4], Abraham[3], b. 5 mo. 6, 1752, m. Gideon Hizer, of Concord, where they settled. She received a certificate from Chester 5 mo. 29, 1786, to Uwchlan; thence, 5 mo. 10, 1787, to Goshen, and thence, 7 mo. 8, 1791, to Concord. She was complained of by Chichester Mtg., for marriage by a priest, and disowned 9 mo. 5, 1792. No children.

172. Phebe Sharples⁴, Abraham³, b. 11 mo. 15, 1755; buried at Middletown 10 mo. 4, 1787; m. Abner Coppock of Chester township, who d. 7 mo. 1, 1834, aged 81. She received a certificate from Chester, 5 mo. 31, 1779, to Uwchlan; thence, 6 mo. 7, 1781, to Chester. She was complained of by Chester Mtg., 7 mo. 26, 1784, for marriage by a magistrate to one not a member, for which her acknowledgment was accepted 11 mo. 29, 1784. About 1735, Sarah Coebourn, dau. of Joseph, m. John Harris, and about 1750, a second husband, John Coppock. She owned a farm of 141 acres, partly in Aston and partly in Chester township, which in 1777, was divided between her son, Abner Coppock, and daughters, Sybilla and Olive Coppock. Abner received a double share, and with his wife, Elizabeth, released to his sisters their part, about 80 acres, April 7, 1777. He married a third wife, Mary Hibbs, who d. 12 mo. 23, 1835, leaving six children, John, Sarah, Eliza (m. to Lewis Pierce), Jesse, David and Israel. An attempt was made to divide the estate among the heirs, ignoring Phebe Simpson, and (according to David Simpson) a brother in Half Moon Valley; and in the proceedings in the Orphans' Court, Elizabeth Lancaster is called Hannah. The administrators, Jesse Coppock and William G. Flower, sold the land, 89¾ acres, partly in Aston and partly in Chester, to Jethro Johnson, who sold nearly one-half of it to Dr. Robert M. Huston. Phebe Coppock left two children:

777. Elizabeth, b. ; d. ; m. William Lancaster.
778. Phebe, b. ; d. April, 1866; m. David Simpson.

174. Abraham Sharples⁴, Abraham³, b. 10 mo. 16, 1758; d. 8 mo. 30, 1849; m. 11 mo. 13, 1788, at West Grove Mtg., Dinah Flower, dau. of Richard and Alice Flower, of Londongrove township. Her grandfather, Richard Flower¹, son of Richard and Mary, was born, as supposed, in Leicestershire, England; came to Penna. and m. 12 mo., 1724–5, at Kennet Mtg., Abigail, dau. of Michael and Dinah Harlan; by whom he had four children, Thomas, d. 1754, unmarried; Mary, m. to Isaac Starr and Samuel Sharp; Richard, b. 7 mo. 3, 1730; Dinah, d. 1758, unmarried. The father died about 1748, and the family were buried at New Garden Mtg. Richard Flower² m. 9 mo. 25, 1754, at Londongrove Mtg., Alice Harlan, dau. of William and Margaret, of West Marlborough.

Abraham Sharples resided at various places, as evidenced by certificates of removal from the following meetings: Chester to Bradford, 5 mo. 31, 1779; thence to Uwchlan, 6 mo. 17, 1785; to New Garden, 12 mo. 6, 1787; with wife and son, Lewis, to Concord, 8 mo. 7, 1790; to Bradford, 6 mo. 5, 1793; thence with three children, 4 mo. 13, 1798, to Kennet; to Concord, 5 mo. 16, 1799; to Goshen, 3 mo. 30, 1815, and to Birmingham 5 mo. 1, 1816. They resided for some time in E. Bradford on the farm of Joseph Townsend of Baltimore. Dinah d. 1 mo. 3, 1852, and both were buried in Friends' ground known as "Cedar Hill," but since removed to the new cemetery north of West Chester. They had four children:

779. Lewis, b. 7 mo. 22, 1789; d. 7 mo. 2, 1865; m. Ann Jefferis.
780. Ann, b. 12 mo. 21, 1794; living in West Chester, unmarried.
781. Jesse, b. 5 mo. 15, 1796; d. in W. Chester, 8 mo. 22, 1875, unmarried.
782. Alice, b. 7 mo. 7, 1802; living in W. Chester, unmarried.

175. Lydia Sharples[4], Abraham[3], b. 8 mo. 18, 1760; d. 4 mo. 24, 1828, at West Branch, Clearfield Co., Pa.; m. 4 mo. 6, 1785, at Sadsbury Mtg., Lancaster Co., to James Moore, b. 1 mo. 8, 1760; d. 9 mo. 17, 1834, at his son Jeremiah's, Pennsville, Pa.; son of Andrew and Rebecca (Starr) Moore, of Sadsbury. She received a certificate from Chester Mo. Mtg., 9 mo. 25, 1772, to New Garden; thence with husband, 6 mo. 4, 1785, to Sadsbury. A few years later they removed to York Co., near the Susquehanna river, but in 1796, settled in the Half Moon Valley, (now) Centre Co., Pa. In 1810, they settled in Clearfield Co., on the west branch of the Susquehanna, then an almost unbroken forest, and West Branch Meeting was first held at their house, in 1813. Both were buried at that meeting, as afterward located. They had eight children:

783. Abraham, b. 8 mo. 1, 1786; d. 1808, unmarried; bur. at Centre Mtg.
784. Esther, b. 7 mo. 18, 1788; d. 10 mo., 1843; m. Thomas Fenton.
785. Lydia, b. 1 mo. 22, 1790; d. 1 mo. 15, 1873; m. Joseph Spencer.
786. Anna, b. 3 mo. 6, 1792; d. 5 mo. 9, 1872; m. Jesse Spencer.
787. Jeremiah, b. 8 mo. 14, 1794; d. 7 mo. 26, 1873; m. Susanna Shivery, &c.
788. Andrew, b. 10 mo. 20. 1796; d. 2 mo. 26, 1881; m. Elizabeth Davis, &c.
789. Rebecca, b. 12 mo. 5, 1798. d. 2 mo. 23, 1871; m. Joseph Davis.
790. James, b. 10 mo. 27, 1801; d. 7 mo. 4, 1847; m. Jane W. Shivery.

176. Grace Sharples[4], Abraham[3], b. 3 mo. 9, 1762; buried at Middletown, 6 mo. 7, 1816; received a certificate from Chester Mo. Mtg, 9 mo. 25, 1772, to Goshen; thence to Chester 8 mo. 9, 1782; thence to Concord, 5 mo. 29, 1786. She was disowned 12 mo. 5, 1787. She purchased a house and near two acres of ground adjoining Middletown

Meeting, in 1810, and sold the same to James Stewart, 10 mo. 23, 1812, for $700, and probably died in Goshen. She had one child.

791. Samuel, b. 9 mo. 30, 1787; d. 12 mo. 2, 1860; m. Rachel Iddings.

179. John Sharples[4], Jacob[3], b. 9 mo. 28, 1749; d. 10 mo. 29, 1834; m. 1st Elizabeth Yearsley, b. 12 mo. 11, 1752; d. 7 mo. 31, 1796; dau. of Nathan[3] (John[2], John[1]) and Susanna (Wright) Yearsley, of Thornbury; 2d m. 9 mo. 27 (or 28), 1798, to Hannah Smith, b. 10 mo. 20, 1767; d. 3 mo. 31, 1843; dau. of Joshua and Lydia (Yearsley) Smith, of Birmingham. He and his first wife were disowned 12 mo. 7, 1774, on account of their marriage by a magistrate, and his second wife was disowned 3 mo. 6, 1799, for the same offence; yet the family were afterward received into membership with Friends. He was a stout farmer who drove his business with energy and his domestic affairs with economy, which resulted in the acquisition of considerable real estate. He was especially remembered for having raised eighty bushels of cloverseed in one season, which he sold for twenty dollars per bushel, about the time of the Revolution. By deed of Jan. 16, 1789, he purchased from Nicholas Fairlamb and wife, Hannah, a farm of 250 acres in Middletown, for £714, in gold and silver. May 11, 1790, he obtained from Joseph Hunt of Goshen, and wife Ann, 201½ acres in Goshen, for £1400 in gold, at which time he lived in Concord, near the meeting house, on land of Thomas Newlin. Samuel Moore of Wilmington, and Jemima, his wife, by deed of Jan. 30, 1792, conveyed to John Sharples, of Concord, miller, 95 acres in Goshen. In 1802, he bought the farm of 200 acres upon which he had lived in Concord, from Thomas Newlin, for £3875, and sold the one in Middletown to Jonathan Tyson, for £2000. In 1803, he purchased 40½ acres in E. Goshen, from Richard R. Smith, and wife, of Philadelphia; and by deed of Mar. 30, 1810, obtained from Anthony Hearn, of Goshen, and Sarah his wife, a tract of nearly 336 acres in the same township, for $20,000. It is said that he also owned a farm in the Chester Valley, and upon these lands he placed his children as they married. His children by both wives were twelve in number:

792. Nathan, b. 8 mo. 19, 1774; d. 1 mo. 13, 1833; m. Sarah Thatcher.
793. Jacob, b. 12 mo. 23, 1776; d. 11 mo. 24, 1777.
794. Jesse, b. 2 mo. 11. 1779; d. 6 mo. 22, 1866; m. Ann Harvey.
795. Esther, b. 4 mo. 8, 1782; d. same day.
796. Ruth, twin with Esther, d. same day.

797. Susanna, b. 8 mo. 28, 1783; d. 3 mo. 22, 1856; m. Emmor Hickman.
798. Edith, b. 12 mo. 22, 1785; d. 8 mo. 23, 1823; m. Anthony Taylor.
799. Sarah, b. 6 mo. 29, 1789; d. 1 mo. 21, 1858; m. Jesse Seal.
800. Hannah, b. 1 mo. 24, 1794; d. 8 mo. 4, 1857; m. Eli Lewis.

801. John, b. 7 mo. 8, 1799; d. 9 mo. 8, 1872; m. Charity Thatcher, &c.
802. Smith, b. 9 mo. 28, 1802; d. 2 mo. 19, 1875; m. Sarah Thatcher.
803. Samuel, b. 7 mo. 29, 1804; d. 2 mo. 22, 1872; m. Abigail G. Ashbridge.

181. Nathan Sharples[4], Jacob[3], b. 9 mo. 28, 1752; d. 1 mo. 9, 1837; m. 4 mo. 24, 1783, at Uwchlan Mtg., to Rachel Baldwin, b. 7 mo. 13, 1756; d. 2 mo. 14, 1826; dau. of Joshua and Mercy Baldwin, of East Caln township. John Baldwin, with his brothers, Francis and Thomas, came from Oxfordshire, Eng., about 1682, and the first was married 4 mo. 4, 1689, to Katharine Turner, a widow, and settled in Aston, but was afterward a merchant in Chester borough, where he died in 1731. On Feb. 23, 1702–3, he purchased 500 acres of land in East Caln township which he devised to his grandsons, John and Joshua, the sons of John Baldwin, Jr., who had married Hannah Johnson. Joshua, b. 11 mo. (Jan.) 3, 1721; d. 5 mo. 13, 1800; m. 9 mo. 17, 1747, (2d wife) Mercy Brown, b. 1 mo. 12, 1722; d. 1 mo. 22, 1784; dau. of Samuel and Ann Brown of Falls township, Bucks Co., Pa.

Nathan Sharples learned the trade of a saddler, and by deed of 5 mo. 1, 1775, purchased from Charles Ryant and Hannah, his wife, 32 acres of land in East Bradford for £216. On 5 mo. 6, 1784, Henry Woodward, Senior, and Henry Woodward, Jr., with Ruth his wife, conveyed to Nathan 32 acres adjoining the first purchase, for £211 : 4, in gold. These were two tracts which Joseph Townsend had devised to his daughters, Mary Woodward and Hannah Ryant, and lie just west of the borough of West Chester, and north of Chestnut Street, extended. It is, with some additions, owned by Charles Sheller. Here he lived at the time of the Battle of Brandywine, 9 mo. 11, 1777. For some time prior to that event, the Friends' meeting-house at Birmingham was occupied as a hospital for American soldiers, and a substitute was found in a wheelwright shop at Sconnelltown, on the road from Jefferis's Ford to Birmingham. By this road the British army marched to meet the Americans on the morning of a mid-week meeting, the day of the battle, and the meeting was prematurely adjourned by the resulting excitement. Nathan Sharples discovered when about to return home, that a fine horse, upon which he had ridden to meeting, was missing. He followed the troops and soon found the animal, which had been appropriated to his own use by a British officer with whom he quietly but firmly remonstrated, and at length prevailed upon to give up the steed.

In 1793, Nathan removed with his family to the farm of his father-in-law, one mile east of Downingtown, on the Lancaster turnpike. On 8 mo. 9, 1794, he conveyed the property near West Chester to John Bettle, for £653 : 10; and on 1 mo. 30, 1794, Joshua Baldwin and Ann, his wife, conveyed to him their farm of 177 acres, for £1660, gold and silver. Here he resided the remainder of his life. His death being the result of injuries received from an accident, it is probable he might have lived to a greater age, as he possessed a remarkably vigorous constitution. He served as clerk of Uwchlan Monthly Meeting, from 1 mo. 7, 1802, till 12 mo. 8, 1803, and his wife was appointed an elder, 4 mo. 7, 1796. Both were buried at the Friends' burial ground in Downingtown. They had nine children :

804. Joshua, b. 3 mo. 22, 1784; d. 3 mo. 22, 1784.
805. Mercy, b. 9 mo. 22, 1785; d. 8 mo. 20, 1786.
806. Blakey, b. 6 mo. 21, 1787; d. 9 mo. 24, 1853; m. Mary Offley.
807. Joshua B., b. 6 mo. 24, 1789; d. 2 mo. 21, 1866; m. Sophia Clemson.
808. Jacob, b. 8 mo. 3, 1791; d. 2 mo. 17, 1863; m. Mary Downing.
809. Isaac, b. 7 mo. 28, 1793; d. 9 mo. 12, 1822.
810. Ann, b. 10 mo. 15, 1795; d. 10 mo. 25, 1826; m. James Yarnall.
811. Mercy, b. 1 mo. 30, 1798; d. 6 mo. 17, 1861; m. Jordan Harrison.
812. Rachel, b. 7 mo. 7, 1801; d. 10 mo. 16, 1825; m. Thomas Maule.

182. Lydia Sharples[4], Jacob[3], b. 12 mo. 31, 1754; d. 8 mo. 1, 1799; m. about 1772, David Dutton, son of John and Elizabeth, of Bethel, Delaware Co., Pa. As a member of Birmingham Mtg., she was disowned 5 mo. 4, 1774, for marriage by a magistrate to one not a member; but upon her acknowledgment she was again admitted, 2 mo. 17, 1781, with her children, Benjamin and Ann. She received a certificate from Concord 8 mo. 6, 1783, to Darby, and thence to Philadelphia (N. Dist.), 8 mo. 2, 1792. She had three children:

813. Benjamin, m. Hannah Vickers.
814. Anne, b. 10 mo. 22, 1775; d. 9 mo. 15, 1854, in Friends' Asylum, unmarried.
815. Caleb, died young or unmarried.

183. Joseph Sharples[4], Jacob[3], b. 6 mo. 12, 1757; d. in Philadelphia, 10 mo. 27, 1796, unmarried. After his father's death he took a certificate from Concord Mo. Mtg., 1 mo. 7, 1778, to Chester; thence to Wilmington, 7 mo. 30, 1781. In 1791 he appears to have been the proprietor or principal of an academy on Second Street, Philadelphia.

Extract from a letter, stating a few of the last expressions of Joseph Sharples, son of Jacob and Ann Sharples; who departed this life in Philadelphia, in the 11th month, 1796, in the 40th year of his age.

I expect thou hast heard of the death of cousin Joseph, and no doubt, would like to be informed of his situation of mind, in the latter part of his sickness; of which I can give some account, as I had the satisfaction of being with him mostly for a week before he died, and was present at the awful season of his departure. I felt so much tenderness for, and sympathy with him, after my first visit, that I could not be easy out of his chamber.

He was much tossed in mind, in the forepart of his sickness. His brother Nathan, upon leaving him, perhaps about two weeks before his death, expressed to him, that he thought there was but little prospect of his recovery; to which he replied, "O, if I could but feel the incomes of the love of God to my poor soul!" Which I believe he was mercifully favoured to experience. Some time before his departure, one morning, as I was sitting by him, he said; "whether it will please the Lord to raise me up again, I know not: I am entirely depending on his mercy; but if it is his will to take me, I hope he will receive my soul." A few evenings before his departure, he desired to see a friend, who had been to see him several times: he came, and had a solid opportunity with him: it was truly a solemn, instructive season. The friend had much pertinent counsel to communicate, which was very comfortable and encouraging. Upon the friend's taking leave of him, he said, "farewell, dear friend, I shall go before long." The friend desired, if he had any thing on his mind, he would be free in communicating it; he said, "I have nothing, only that I have waited patiently, and have not dared to cast away my confidence, but have trusted in his many gracious promises, and hope he will receive my soul." His example of patience and resignation, was truly instructive to my mind, and I hope will be lastingly remembered by me." [First edition, p. 116.]

184. Jesse Sharples⁴, Jacob³, b. 11 mo. 6, 1759; d. 1 mo. 6, 1832, at his residence on the north side of Arch Street, east of Fourth, Philadelphia; m. about 1785, Joanna Townsend, b. 3 mo. 15, 1763, d. 5 mo. 22, 1843, in Philadelphia; buried at Laurel Hill; dau. of John Townsend² (Joseph¹) and Joanna England, of East Bradford township (see p. 176). Their marriage being "by a priest," they lost their right of membership among Friends for several years. He was by trade a saddler and by deed of Apr. 10, 1784, purchased from the executors of Ann Paschall, a house and two lots of ground in Darby village, where he then resided. In 1791, he resided in Philadelphia and in that year sold a part of the Darby property to Matthias Holsten. In 1793, he purchased another house and lot in Darby, which he sold in 1806; and in 1799 disposed of the remainder of his first purchase. He afterward became a merchant in Philadelphia. Jesse and Joanna Sharples had ten children:

816. Emily, b. 1786; d. 3 mo. 13, 1832; m. Benjamin Stephens:
817. Julia Anna, b. about 1788; d. 6 mo. 23, 1868; m. Thomas Wilson.
818. Eliza, b. 1790; d. 1 mo. 24, 1791, aged about four months.
819. Eliza, b. 11 mo. 19, 1791; d. 3 mo. 17, 1851; m. Thomas Parker.
820. Townsend, b. 9 mo. 23, 1793; d. 12 mo. 30, 1863; m. Mary B. Jones.
821. Joseph Inskeep, b. 7 mo. 7, 1795; d. 6 mo. 20, 1870; m. Maria Piper.
822. Mira, b. 9 mo. 26, 1798; d. 11 mo. 20, 1859; m. Samuel Townsend.
823. John Townsend, b. 10 mo. 5, 1801; d. 4 mo. 22, 1883; a physician, unm.
824. Lydia, b. 10 mo. 22, 1803; unmarried.
825. A daughter, died young.

185. Ann Sharples⁴, Jacob³, b. 12 mo. 28, 1761, d. 9 mo. 14, 1844; m. 1 mo. 17, 1782, at Birmingham Mtg., James Carter, b. 10 mo. 20, 1751; d. 9th or 10th mo. 1795; son of John and Hannah (Cope) Carter, of East Bradford (now Birmingham) township. They settled at the homestead of his father, and had eight children:

826. Jacob, died young or unmarried.
827. Nathan, b. 9 mo. 12, 1784; d. 1838, unmarried.
828. James, died young.
829. Caleb, b. 2 mo. 6, 1788; d. 5 mo. 7, 1875, at Friends' Asylum, unm.
830. Samuel, died young.
831. John, b. 7 mo. 9, 1791; d. 8 mo. 1, 1827, unmarried.

833. James, b. 5 mo. 29, 1795; d. 12 mo. 5, 1872; m. Prudence Blackburn.

Ann (Sharples) Carter was again married 9 mo. 20, 1798, at Birmingham Mtg., to Abraham Jefferis, b. 2 mo. 22, 1763; d. 10 mo.

18, 1822; son of William and Hannah (Darlington) Jefferis, of East Bradford; she being his second wife. They lived on a farm in West Caln township, and he was an elder of West Caln Meeting at the time of his death, which occurred at his daughter, Lydia Grier's, in Clinton Co., O., when on his way to attend Indiana Yearly Meeting. His widow died at the residence of her daughter, Martha W. Strattan, Richmond, Ind. They had five children:

834. Abraham, b. 5 mo. 22, 1800; d. 9 mo. 1844; m. Abigail Andrews.
835. William, b. 12 mo. 2, 1801; d. unmarried.
836. Isaac, b. 5 mo. 8, 1804; d. 10 mo. 8, 1840; m. Elizabeth Stidham.
837. Martha W., b. 9 mo. 20, 1806; m. Joseph P. Strattan.
838. Jacob, b. 12 mo. 26, 1808; d. unmarried.

186. Jane Sharples[4], Jacob[3], b. 10 mo. 23, 1764; d. in Philadelphia, 3 mo. 11, 1844 (burial record); m. John Haines, son of Isaac and Mary (Cox) Haines, of Goshen, Chester Co. He d. 10 mo. 8, 1830, aged about 67, and both were buried in Friends' burial ground, 16th and Race Streets. Their marriage was by a magistrate, for which she was disowned by Concord Mo. Mtg., 12 mo. 15, 1784, and he by Goshen, 12 mo. 17, 1784. They removed to Philadelphia prior to 1798, and continued to reside there. They had eleven children:

839. Imlah, b. 7 mo. 2, 1784; d. 12 mo. 11, 1828, unmarried.
840. Caleb, b. 12 mo. 20, 1785; died from home, unmarried.
841. Azubah, b. 3 mo. 15, 1788; d. 3 mo. 3, 1870; m. David McKee.
842. Joseph, b. 1 mo. 21, 1790; d. 2 mo. 20, 1838; m. Clarissa Mills.
843. Eliza, b. 6 mo. 29, 1792; d. m. John Whisner.
844. Mary Ann, b. 11 mo. 8, 1794; died young.
845. Louisa, b. 3 mo. 27, 1797; d. 2 mo. 14, 1881, unmarried.
846. William L., b. 10 mo. 1, 1799; d. 12 mo. 28, 1833; married, but no children.
847. George W., b. 10 mo. 1, 1799; d. 4 mo. 3, 1832, unmarried.
848. Mary Ann, b. 12 mo. 12, 1806; m. Charles M. Gray.
849. Ellen Maria, b. 1 mo. 12, 1810; m. John A. Packer.

188. Hannah Sharples[4], Jacob[3], b. 12 mo. 8, 1770; d. 3 mo. 26, 1847; m. 9 mo. 27, 1794, to William Phillips, from England. She removed by certificates from Concord to Chester, 11 mo. 5, 1777; to Darby, 10 mo. 27, 1788; to Concord, 4 mo. 29, 1790; to Philadelphia (N. Dist.), 2 mo. 8, 1792. In 1798, William Phillips and family, to escape the yellow fever, removed from Philadelphia to the residence of her brother,

John Sharples, in Concord, where William carried on his trade of a saddler for a time. He tried the dry-goods business in the city but failed. About 1813, he went to England, to look after some estate there, and was heard of no more by his family. They had, beside three who died young, the following children:

850. Anne, b. 7 mo. 20, 1795; d. 12 mo. 5, 1869; m. Joseph A. Savournin.

Wistar, b. in New York; d. in Aston, 7 mo. 11, 1824, aged 57; dau. of Caspar and Mary (Franklin) Wistar, of Pennsbury township (now Pocopson), Chester Co., Pa. Her grandfather, Caspar Wistar, senior, son of Hans Casper Wister, was born at Hilsbach, Germany, 1696, and arrived in Philadelphia Sept. 17, 1717. He m. Katherine Johnson May 25, 1726, and had seven children, Richard, Margaret, Katherine, Joshua, Rebecca, Sarah, and Caspar, b. Feb. 3, 1740.

In 1771, Abraham Sharples is described as of Concord, joiner, at which time he joined with Robert Hall of Concord, Innkeeper, in the purchase of 131 acres of land in Aston. There was then, or soon after, a grist mill on the property; and in 1775, they are both of Aston, and millers. Not long after this he became interested in the manufacture of iron, at Sarum Forge, in Aston (now Thornbury), in partnership with Norris Jones; afterward with Isaac Lloyd, and later with Francis Wisely. From 1810, till his death, he conducted a rolling and slitting mill; and also, for the greater part of the time, a grist mill and saw mill. In this business he acquired a considerable estate. In 1836, the property was purchased by James M. Wilcox and the making of paper substituted for that of iron. The works have since been known by the name of Glen Mills. Abraham Sharples had six children:

856. Rachel V., b. 6 mo. 22, 1786; d. 8 mo. 22, 1858; m. George G. Ashbridge.

341. Richard Howell[5], Sarah[4], born, according to the best authorities, in 1754, in New Castle Co., Del., whence he removed with his parents to Cumberland Co., N. J., where he studied law. He was one of forty persons disguised as Indians, who in 1774, took the cargo of tea which had been imported in the Greyhound from its place of storage in Greenwich, and burned it in a field. In 1775 he was appointed captain of the 5th company in the 2nd battalion of the "Jersey Line," wintered in the Highlands of the Hudson, and participated in the unsuccessful expedition to Canada the following spring. In September, 1776, he was made brigade major, and in 1777 took part in the battles of Brandywine and Germantown. During the winter of 1777–8, he was mostly with the army at Valley Forge, the scene of much privation and suffering. On June 28, 1778, the Battle of Monmouth was fought, and although he had obtained leave of absence to visit his twin brother, Lewis Howell, then lying at the point of death, at the Black Horse tavern, between Trenton and Bordentown; yet fearing his absence would be charged to cowardice, he threw himself into the fight, and never saw his brother again alive. For this act he was reprimanded by Washington, who told him he should have gone to his brother. In 1780, he was appointed major of the Second Regiment.

In 1788, he was appointed clerk of the Supreme Court, in which position he continued till June, 1793, when he was chosen governor of the State. To this office he was re-elected eight times consecutively. At the time of the "Whiskey Insurrection," in western Penna., 1794, he marched with the New Jersey troops, as commander of the "Jersey Blues," and by his example and vivacity encouraged them in their toilsome journey. Fortunately the rioters disbanded without an appeal to arms.

Some of his letters, written during his revolutionary campaigns, have been preserved, as also some specimens of his poetry, of which he was an occasional writer. In private life he was a model of deportment and careful to uphold the character of a gentleman. In a little work containing brief biographies of the governors of New Jersey, there is a pretended portrait of Gov. Howell, and underneath, these lines:

> "Howell, for social virtues famed afar,
> Shone in the ranks and urged the dreadful war:
> His graceful form expressed a noble mind,
> The soul of Honor, Friend of human kind."

He married at Mt. Holly, Keziah, daughter of Joseph and Mary Burr, who survived him many years and died at her son-in-law, Dr. Agnew's, in Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 9, 1835. He died Apr. 28, 1802, at Trenton. For the most of these facts we are indebted to a "Centennial Sketch," by his grandson, Daniel Agnew, late of the Supreme Court of Penna., 1876. They had eight children,— 1302. Charles, went to Mississippi early in this century, and married two wives by the name of Green. No further record.

1309. Franklin, killed on board the U. S. frigate President, in an engagement off New York Bay, aged 18.

342. Lewis Howell, twin with Richard, was a surgeon in the army of the Revolution, and died unmarried about 6, 28, 1778. One account states that he was in the Battle of Brandywine and while attending to the wounded found himself within the English lines. Watching his opportunity he darted into a woods and though a ball passed through his hat he escaped. Two days after the battle he wrote thus:

DEAR FATHER:—I am happy in being able to inform you that I still exist, and am not a prisoner—a state I thought from my situation unavoidable. On Thursday, 11th September, we were alarmed by three guns, and every man stood to his post, about thirty minutes afterward a firing of small arms was heard, which proved to be a party of light troops under General Maxwell, who repulsed the advance party in three several attempts, killing many with little loss. Captain Cummins in this action distinguished himself. After this there was a continual cannonade, from a battery erected by us, to defend the ford over the Brandywine, 'till near four o'clock, when Lord Sterlings division was ordered about two miles to the right from the first situation, to oppose Lord Cornwallis, who had crossed about that distance higher up. We had been there but a short time when they appeared, and the heaviest firing I ever heard began, continuing a long time, every inch of ground being disputed. Our people at last gave way, not being supported, with the loss of very few—wounded and killed not exceeding twelve. At the same time we were attacked on the right, another attack was made on the left, where our people fought them, retreating in good order. Colonel Shreve, in that action was wounded in the thigh, but not mortally. Captain Stout was killed, and one sergeant. These are the only killed in our regiment. I shall inform you of my escape from the enemy, after having been among them, with the loss of my mare, saddle and bridle, and great coat and hat. With all my misfortunes I think myself happy not to be taken prisoner. Richard is hearty and safe, though in the midst of danger.

LEWIS HOWELL.

At a church meeting in 1805, "John Davis was nominated with David Ayars and Evan Davis to read in Public;" and in Feb., 1806, "it was appointed that he should use his freedom to improve his gifts by speaking in public on Sabbath days, and at other times and places as occasion might require, or offer to him." The following document is in possession of his daughter, Susan J. Bowen:

Cohansey, Cumberland County, West New Jersey, September the thirteenth, in the year of our Lord one thousand Eight hundred and seven:

This may certify to all people, whome it may concern, that Brother John Davis, a member of the Sabatarian Baptist Church of Christ in this place, was Chosen by said Church to the office of an Elder or Evangelist, and he was Ordained to said office by Solemn Prayer and the laying on of hands by the Elders of the Sabatarian Baptist profession, and by them fully authorized to administer all the Ordinances of the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ in all places where he may be duly called thereto: which was done and performed in this place and in this Church, the day and date above.

Attest, AMOS STILLMAN, MATTHEW STILLMAN, } Elders.

Elder John Davis, as he was familiarly called, continued to be the pastor of the Shiloh Church until 1841, when he resigned on account of his growing infirmity, which rendered talking, at times, difficult for him. During the first year of his ministry he baptized and received into the fellowship of the church, about seventy persons. His congregation was always large and he labored earnestly for their benefit. His sermons were generally extemporaneous, notes being seldom used, and never more than a brief outline. He was usually slow and deliberate in speaking, and very careful what he said. In 1811, he assisted in the organization of the Salem County (now Marlborough) Church, which was set off from the Shiloh Church; and in 1821, he performed a missionary tour, by appointment of the missionary society, to the churches in the western part of Pennsylvania, Virginia, Ohio and Indiana, traveling over eighteen hundred miles on horseback. In Elder Davis's early days he preached in distant neighborhoods and settlements, especially on funeral occasions; and in the pulpits of his neighboring ministering brethren he was always welcome, being esteemed a good man, sound in doctrine, upright in his deportment and an example in good works.

1660. Joshua, b. about 1800; d. 3, 18, 1843; m. Eliza Riddle and Betsy Cochran.

John Hinkson and wife came from Ireland as early as 1764. By deed of March 20, 1764, in which he is styled of the city of Philadelphia, yeoman, he purchased from Charles Norris and wife two adjoining farms in Providence, on the south side of the James Sharples tract, for £860. Towards the close of that year he was assessed in Nether Providence with 200 acres of land, and buildings, worth £16, per annum, 3 horses, 4 cattle, 10 sheep and 2 servants. At Chester Mo. Mtg., 1, 27, 1766, his wife produced the following certificate from Friends in Co. Cavan, Ireland:

We whose Names are Subscribed Do Certifie that Jane Hinkson, wife of John Hinkson, Frequented our Religious meetings, was a Woman of an Eafey, mild, modest behaviour, Held in Esteem by friends and others; Walked Orderly During her Residing here; was in unity with friends when she Left this; and was admited to sit in Women's meeting Here. Given and signed at our Men's Meeting Held at Cootehill, the 5th mo., 30th day 1764, By

JAMES SIMPSON,
JAMES TRENOR,
JA^S: ALLEN,
THO^S: COYLE,
BEN: SIMPSON.

John and Jane Hinkson had at least eight children, as follows: Jane, m. Thomas Dell Weaver; John, m. Abigail Engle, about 1783, and d. 2, 17, 1819; James, m. Betty Crosley (see No. 461); Thomas, m. 5, 11, 1797, Mary Worrilow; George, m. Catherine, dau. of Nicholas Fairlamb, and went to Ohio; Mary, died unmarried; Sarah, m. William Hawkins, and Nancy, m. Joseph Dickinson.

436. Joshua Weaver[5], Sarah[4], b. in Nether Providence, 12, 28, 1753; d. in West Chester, Pa., 6, 2, 1827; m. Mary Trego, b. 1, 16, 1759; d. 1826; dau. of Benjamin Trego[3] (William[2], Peter[1],) and Mary Pyle[3] (John[2], Robert[1]), of West Chester. (See pp. 69 and 178.) Joshua was complained of by Chester Mtg., 8, 26, 1776, for exercising in the military discipline, for which he made an acknowledgment; but on 11, 27, 1780, it was represented that he "hath paid all fines demanded of him, and endeavours to Justify himself therein." He was therefore disowned 1, 29, 1781. Mary Trego was disowned by Goshen Mo. Mtg., 2, 9, 1781, for attending music and dancing at night. Joshua settled in West Chester and became one of the most useful citizens of that borough. His business was that of a surveyor and conveyancer, but he took part in all public measures: was burgess and treasurer of the town, county commissioner, 1818–1821, and clerk to the board of Directors of the Poor, from 2, 20, 1799, till his death. The family bible is in possession of John Rutter, who has withheld the records. Children,—

1678. Harmon, b. 5, 24, 1808; m. Pamela Day.

Isaac Weaver was educated in Philadelphia and while a young man taught school for several years; his first wife being one of his pupils. He received a good education for that day, and was a very fine penman. In person he was large, being six feet, four inches, in height, and weighing about 240 pounds. He possessed great physical strength, was very erect, and in appearance handsome, stately and dignified. He was complained of by Chester Meeting, 7, 28, 1783, for marriage by a priest to one not a member; for which he at length made the following acknowledgment, which was accepted:

To Chester Monthly Meeting:

Whereas I, the subscriber, having had a Birth and Education among Friends, but not having sufficient Regard to the Manifestations of Grace in my own Heart, have at Times deviated from their known Principles, and at length thro' Levity proceeded so far as to accomplish my Marriage by the assistance of a hireling Ministry; thereby bringing Trouble on myself and Friends; for which I am sorry, and desire them to pass by my Deviations, and continue me under their Care, as my future Conduct may deserve.

ISAAC WEAVER, Junr.

3 mo. 26th, 1784.

From somewhat conflicting statements it would appear that he was married in Cecil Co., Md. He received a certificate from Chester Mo. Mtg., 10, 25, 1784, to Philadelphia, from which place it is said he removed to Muddy Creek, Greene Co., Pa., prior to 1800; thence to Lancaster, again to Muddy Creek, and lastly to Castile, where he died. Though disowned by Friends for mustering in the militia, he adhered to their principles in general, and used the plain language in his family. He was a man of unswerving integrity and served in both houses of the State legislature. In 1800, he was Speaker of the Assembly; in 1802, State Treasurer, and carried money from Lancaster to Washington City on horseback, filling the office with credit to himself and honor to the State. He was four times elected Senator from the district composed of Washington and Greene counties, to-wit, 1806, 1812, 1816 and 1820, and in 1817, was Speaker of the Senate. He owned a farm, but being much engaged in public affairs he left it to the management of his sons. At one time he was nominated for governor, but his advancing years, ill health, and finally death, cut off his further public career. For the descendants of Thomas Dell Weaver and his brother Isaac, we are indebted to T. M. Potts, editor of the Canonsburg Herald, and an experienced genealogist.

John Price married Abigail, widow of Enoch Job, and dau. of Elisha and Rachel Gatchell, of East Nottingham, Chester Co., Pa., and had sons, Elisha and David. Her father was a prominent magistrate in his day, and an active participant in the border troubles with Maryland. She appears to have been a 7th-day Baptist and meetings were held at her house about 1770, but she removed to Chester before her death, which occurred about 1784. Her son Elisha was perhaps the first resident lawyer of Chester, who was a native of the county. David Price m. 11, 14, 1765, in Cecil Co., Md., Ann Husband, dau. of William and Mary, and had six children, Abigail, William, Mary, David Elisha, Ann and Margery. He d. at Redstone, in the south-western part of Pennsylvania, 11, 7, 1773, and his widow m. Josiah Haines (p. 224), who afterward removed to that part of the State.

438. Elizabeth Weaver⁵, Sarah⁴, b. 7, 27, 1758; d. in Philadelphia, 7, 16, 1841; m. about 1783, William Jones, b. 6, 22, 1761; d. 1801; son of William Jones, b. 9, 19, 1718, and Rebecca Trotter, and gr. son of Robert Jones, b. in the parish of Llanynus, Denbighshire, Wales, 10, 9, 1690, and Ann Coulston, b. 8, 18, 1695, near Moorland, in Yorkshire. He had been disowned by Goshen Mo. Mtg., 12, 9, 1780, for mustering, and Elizabeth was disowned by Chester for her marriage, 6, 28, 1784, but they were admitted again in 1786, and took a certificate to Haverford the same year. William was a school teacher in Marple and afterward lived in Reading, Pa., but removed to Philadelphia before his death. Children,—

1679. Sarah, b. in Marple; d. 1798, aged 15 years.
1680. Rebecca, b. 8 mo., 1786; d. 5, 14, 1859; m. Jacob Smedley.

He took the real estate of his father at the appraisement, consisting of over 750 acres, with grist and saw mills, in Middletown, 100 acres in Aston and 265 acres in Fallowfield, Chester Co., Pa. The other heirs executed a release to him 11, 15, 1785, and the next day he conveyed to his brother Dell 206 acres in Middletown and 100 acres in Aston; also to Nathan Sharpless and wife, and Esther Pennell, the grist and saw mill, and sixty acres, in Middletown. Abraham remained at the homestead. He was one of the most active and useful members of Middletown Meeting for many years. He succeeded James Emlen as clerk of the Monthly Meeting 3, 26, 1790, in which position he served several years: was appointed an elder 12, 31, 1798, and was also recorder of marriages, births and deaths, school trustee, &c. Children,—

They removed from Fayette Co., Pa., to Millington, then called Millford, in the spring of 1836, into a cabin built by his brother Samuel, a bachelor, near the line between La Salle and Kendall counties, on Fox River. A part of his farm lay in each county. He and his brother built a grist mill and a saw mill as soon as they could get the materials together. About 75 men, some of them living many miles distant, volunteered to help put the dam across Fox River. It took three days after the materials were on the ground to put it in. The cabin was too small for so many to eat in, and to remedy this Jesse put up a shed for a dining room. Children,—

Ephraim Jackson¹, b. about 1658, came from England, and in 1695 m. Rachel Newlin, dau. of Nicholas and Elizabeth of Concord (p. 171); about which time he settled in Edgmont township, within the limits of Chester Mo. Mtg. He signed the testimony against selling rum to the Indians (p. 88), but there is no evidence of his being in the county until about the time of his marriage. He is not in the list of taxables for 1693. He may have been the Ephraim Jackson who arrived in Maryland 12, 3, 1684, in company with Jacob Hall, a settler in Bucks Co., Pa., from Macclesfield, Cheshire, Eng. It is certain that he visited Cheshire about 1709. He d. 1, 11, 1732–3, aged 74, and his widow in 1742. They had children, John, b. 1, 26, 1697, m. Jane Swayne; Joseph, b. 6, 19, 1698, d. 9, 6, 1698; Joseph, b. 7, 13, 1699, d. 1760; Nathaniel, b. 6, 17, 1701; Josiah, b. 11, 20, 1702, d. 1, 1, 1714–5; Samuel, b. 12, 13, 1704, m. Ann Johnson; Ephraim, b. 11, 7, 1706, m. Mary Regester; Mary, b. 4, 3, 1708, m. Benjamin Johnson; Rachel, b. 5, 10, 1710, d. 2, 11, 1749, m. Nathan Yarnall (p. 256); Nathan, disowned 11, 25, 1741–2, for marriage to one not a member.

Joseph Jackson², m. 8, 18, 1722, Hannah Pennell (p. 88), and settled in Londongrove township, where, after her death, he m. 2, 18, 1734, Susanna Miller. By the first he had children, Ephraim, Rachel, Alice and Joseph, and by the second, Ephraim, John, Mary, Josiah, Hannah, Susanna, Alice, Sarah and Samuel.

Samuel Jackson³, b. 1, 15, 1749–50, m. 11, 21, 1771, at New Garden Mtg., Rebecca Dixon, b. 12, 8, 1752, dau. of John and Rebecca (Cox) Dixon, of New Garden. They conveyed to Lewis Pusey, 10, 14, 1775, grist and saw mills, with 150 acres of land which his father had purchased in 1733. The house, built 1742, is in good condition, being the residence of the late Thomas M. Harvey. By deed of 5, 22, 1777, Jesse Martin, of Westmoreland Co., conveyed to Samuel Jackson, of Londongrove, for £200, a tract of 300 acres at the mouth of Redstone Creek, known as "Martin's Folly," now in Jefferson township, Fayette Co., Pa. Just when they removed from Chester Co. is not clear, but on 9, 1, 1781, they requested a certificate for themselves and children, John, Joseph, Nathan and Susanna, from New Garden Mo. Mtg., to Hopewell, Va., the nearest monthly meeting to their residence. A committee was appointed "to take an opportunity with him respecting the manner & motives of his engaging in such an undertaking," and the report being satisfactory a certificate was signed 10, 6, 1781. The erection of a paper mill by Samuel Jackson and Jonathan Sharpless has been mentioned (p. 248), and the history of Fayette County contains an extended notice of the former. He had seven sons and three daughters.

(591.) A brief testimony concerning Edith Sharples, daughter of Benjamin and Hannah Sharples, of Philadelphia (dec'd); who departed this life at Wilmington, Del., on the 11th of 4th month, 1789; in the 25th year of her age.

She was born on the 13th of 9th month, 1764; and was their eldest daughter, to whom her father, when on his death-bed, said; "my dear, I have loved thee, for thy obedience to me, and tenderness towards me; and for thy sobriety in life; which I hope thou wilt continue in."

She was one of those dedicated children, who are made willing to count all things appertaining to earth, but as dross, that they might win Christ; and have an inheritance with him, in the mansions of the blessed.

Her pilgrimage was short, but well improved; her chief concern having been, to live the life of the righteous, that her latter end might be like unto theirs. Dear young people who may read this short testimony concerning your cotemporary in age; and one who "preferred Jerusalem as her chiefest joy;"—"Do ye likewise," that your end may be like hers; peaceful and happy; with a clear prospect of a joyful eternity. What else is worth living for?

Her death was occasioned by a decay, which proceeded from a cold; and, as is common in that disorder, she was several months declining, though but a very short time confined to bed; and at last, went off like the snuff of a candle, sudden and easy: so much so, that (as I understood) she departed early in the morning, while the family were all out of the room; they having no prospect of her end being so near. Just as the sun arose this bright star disappeared.

How different is this, from the end of those who have spent a life in folly or wickedness, and at the end thereof, lie down in sorrow and misery, and wet their death bed with tears of anguish; "finding no place of repentance, though they seek it with tears."

594. Joseph Sharpless[5], Benjamin[4], b. 1, 28, 1772; d. 6, 22, 1849; m. 3, 3, 1802, at Trenton Friends' Meeting, Hannah Wright, b. 2, 9, 1778; d. 6, 17, 1861; dau. of Jonathan and Elizabeth Wright, of Hanover, N. J. His granddaughter says that he kept a store in Burlington, N. J., for a few years, and afterward in Philadelphia: was a dealer in china; also book agent and publisher, and author of Family Record of 1816. He and his wife, a minister among Friends, were noted for their pure and guileless characters and lives of moral worth and excellence. Active in their sympathies with the oppressed, the anti-slavery movement was strongly espoused by them, and their house at one time gave shelter from the mob to William Lloyd Garrison.

Mary D. Sharpless, aged 84, says that her uncle Joseph "was a good man and beloved by his family and friends; quiet and unobtrusive in his manners; a kind husband and father,—by occupation a bookbinder. He was very energetic in getting materials for the family record. This he found laborious and in some respects annoying. He was very desirous of obtaining a knowledge of the trade and calling of persons with whom he communicated (on account of the work), but this was objected to by many, therefore he gave it up."

He was the author and publisher of "The Story | of | Joseph | and his Brethren, | set forth in | A pleasing and instructive manner; | and adapted | To the capacities of Children. | By Joseph Sharpless. | Frankford, Penn. | Published by the Author (1812.) Joseph Rakestraw, printer." This was a small volume, 3½ by 5½ inches in size, pp. 113, and to it was appended "Patient Joe; or the New Castle Collier," in verse; five pages, with illustration.

In 1830, Joseph Sharpless had a china store at No. 15 N. 4th street. His widow lived several years with, and died at the residence of her brother, Nathan Wright, on Spring Garden St. Her sisters Rebecca and Sarah, both unmarried, were milliners at 911 Race St. Children,—

Some account of the death of John Ferris, son of Ziba and Edith Ferris, of Wilmington, Delaware; who departed this life on the first of the 11th month, 1802, in the 27th year of his age.

In the year 1802, when the yellow fever prevailed in Wilmington, John was appointed one of the Board of Health: which station he filled with diligence, and strict attention to the necessities of the sufferers; not counting his own life dear unto him, that he might relieve the afflicted, and administer comfort to the distressed. He continued with unwearied diligence, visiting the sick and relieving them as far as he was capable, till the raging pestilence abated, and the recovery of the sick, denoted a speedy termination to their sufferings; and those who were still preserved in health, might reasonably conclude the danger over, and they were safe. Not so with John:—Just at this pleasing juncture, he was seized with that disorder from which he had endeavoured to relieve others; and died, we have reason to hope, the death of the righteous; and that his latter end was like unto theirs. Having laboured, day and night, as with his life in his hand, for the relief of others, he was thereby preparing himself for the harvest of the Lord; and was cut down at the end thereof, as a sheaf fully ripe; and like the pure wheat, was no doubt, gathered into the heavenly garner while the tares were gathered together to be burned.

The following tribute to the memory of that virtuous young man, John Ferris, was written soon after his death, by those who knew his worth; and published in a public paper.

WILMINGTON, DEL., 11th Month 1802.

DIED, on the 1st instant, John Ferris, of this borough. A most unexceptionable character, his temper mild and conciliating. He was a most worthy citizen, and useful member of society, which has sustained a serious loss in his death. He fell a sacrifice to his indefatigable exertions to administer comfort to the sick, &c. during the late mortality. The Board of Health have entered on their minutes the following just tribute to his memory:

"Sensible of the loss which the citizens of this place in general and this Board in particular, have sustained in the death of our worthy fellow labourer, John Ferris, jun., who left this transitory, for, we hope, a happier state of existence, seven minutes before 3 o'clock this afternoon. We conceive it to be our duty, and we are impelled by our feelings, to insert on our minutes, a record of his extraordinary services; the prevalence of the yellow fever of 1798, first made us acquainted with his efforts and disposition to relieve the afflicted; but the present year has more intimately informed us of his usefulness. As soon as the disease appeared, which has made such ravages among our citizens, and consigned eighty-two of them to their silent graves, he commenced his arduous services; and during its continuance did not for a single day, intermit his attention to the sick, the dying, and the dead. The first mentioned, he was in the constant practice of visiting twice a day—he took upon himself the care of the funerals of the latter. When, after having performed a serious tour of duty; a duty enjoined by his commiseration for the distressed, and anxiety for their relief; he fell, a victim, a late sacrifice to his exertions, for the happiness of others, and left on the hearts of his fellow citizens, a grateful remembrance of his labours, and his virtues."

Benjamin Ferris was a person of remarkably vigorous intellect and his pen was frequently employed to disseminate his ideas, or to preserve a record of interesting facts. He was the author of A History of the Original Settlements on the Delaware, including a history of Wilmington, 1846; a work of much merit. In 1821–2, under the name of "Amicus," he engaged in a religious controversy with Rev. Dr. Gilbert ("Paul"), in a series of letters published in the Christian Repository. These were afterward published in a volume of over five hundred pages, with the title, Letters of Paul and Amicus. In early life he went to Philadelphia and learned the trade of watchmaking with the celebrated Thomas Parker, at No. 20 N. 2nd St. Returning to Wilmington he adopted the profession of a conveyancer, from which he retired with a competency, to enjoy his literary labors.

A Tribute:—The announcement of the departure of our dear friend, Benjamin Ferris, has already been made in these columns, but his numerous and widely extended circle of friends will feel that something more is due to the memory of such a man. A rare and gifted spirit has passed from amongst us, and entered upon the higher life. His wonderful conversational powers adapted themselves with remarkable versatility to all ages and capacities; and all who knew him can recall the many times in which they have seen him the centre of an admiring and listening group, while he poured forth the stores of his abounding treasury for their interest and instruction. He was a connecting link between the present generation and the past, his retentive memory and power of representation enabling him, from an inexhaustible fund of anecdote and illustration, to give life like pictures of the character and manners of those who have long passed away.

He was a beautiful example of the cheerful Christian, and his high gifts, employed in the right direction, made pleasant and attractive the lessons they conveyed. His able pen was often employed as the earnest advocate of the spirituality of the Christian faith, and in defence of our testimonies; and his essays on these subjects were acknowledged to have unusual force and ability. He filled many positions of usefulness during his long life. His sympathies were enlisted on behalf of the poor Indians (especially the tribes in the State of New York), and by advocating their cause with those in authority, he was instrumental in redressing their wrongs, and in promoting their welfare and advancement to a higher grade of civilization. But the most impressive lessons gained from his example were in the last twelve years of his life. When suddenly deprived of the powers that had contributed so largely to his own and others' enjoyment, and which had so peculiarly distinguished him, although fully conscious of the loss, he bowed in cheerful acquiescence to the Divine will; and the strong gifted man, laying down strength and gifts, entered, while on earth, into the heaven of love. Many can bear witness, that however great was the enjoyment of his society in the day of his intellectual power, far greater, in these latter days, was the charm of the sweetness of his spirit, and the love which seemed to embrace the whole human family; and all who came within his influence were made to feel how blessed are they who, in their evening twilight, are permitted to see the arising of the brightness of the future day.

While we deeply feel the absence of one so long loved and honored, we must also rejoice that the burden of weakness and weariness and privation has been laid down, and that he has entered upon the heavenly inheritance of joy unspeakable and full of glory. We cannot better close this tribute than by quoting his own words, so applicable to himself:

Thrice blessed even here, tho' in life's lowest station,
The Christian who sits at the feet of his Lord;
With joy bears his cross thro' this scene of probation,
And patiently waits his eternal reward.

The following obituary is from the pen of Charles Miner, editor of the Village Record, of West Chester, Pa.:

The death of Isaac Sharpless, of Birmingham, is mentioned upon our last page. He was 41 years of age. The disease of which he died was consumption. We were acquainted with him intimately, and cannot let the occasion pass over without the tribute of a line to his memory. Isaac Sharpless had a clear and discriminating mind, well improved by education; and it was his delight to devote his talents to do good. He was found foremost in the support of every proposition which had for its object the advancement of the interests of society. We have frequently been indebted to his pen for valuable essays for our paper, chiefly on agricultural subjects. Distinguished by his domestic and social virtues, his loss to his family and neighborhood will be long mourned with tears of sincerest grief; and the community are called to regret the departure of one of our most valuable and promising citizens in the meridian of life and usefulness.

Thomas Garrett was one of the most noted of those unselfish citizens who gave freely of their time and means to assist the poor and oppressed to a land of freedom. His house was one of the principal stations of the so-called Underground Railroad, and it is said that nearly twenty-nine hundred fugitives passed safely through his hands. In 1848, he was prosecuted for assisting slaves to escape from their master, and fined to the extent of all his possessions. Capital was freely offered him by his friends, with which to carry on his business, that of a dealer in iron and coal, and he not only amassed a competence within a few years, but was more active and earnest than before, in his efforts for the slave. He m. a second wife, Rachel, dau. of Eli Mendenhall, who d. 4, 20, 1868, leaving a son, Eli, who m. Frances Sellers (No. 2213).

John Gibbons[1] of Warminster in Wiltshire, was a purchaser of 500 acres of land from William Penn, by lease and release, Aug. 1, and 2, 1681. Of this he conveyed one-half, Oct. 10, and 11, 1682, to Robert Southery, or Suddery, doubtless his brother-in-law. The evidence is that he came to Pennsylvania in 1683 (p. 177), and on Nov. 27, in that year surveys of 150 acres each, were made for him and Robert Southery, in Bethel township. There he settled and died about the year 1721. By his wife, Margery, he had two sons, John and James, of whom the first died in 1706.

James Gibbons[2] m. 1708, Ann, dau. of George Peirce, of Thornbury, and settled in Westtown township on a farm of 600 acres, which now belongs to the Friends' Boarding School. They had three children, Mary, m. her 2d cousin, John Hannum[2], James and Joseph. The last m. Hannah Marshall, and they were the parents of Mary, wife of William Hill (p. 245).

James Gibbons[3], b. 1710–11, m. 8, 10, 1734, Jane Sheward, from England, and settled on the homestead, where he died in 1745. His children were James, William, Jane and Thomas.

James Gibbons[4], b. 5, 18, 1736, d. 10, 17, 1823, m. Eleanor, dau. of William Peters, of Aston, 12, 1, 1756, and settled on the homestead, which he sold in 1795 to Friends for the use of a boarding school. He was a good scholar, and especially fond of the classics,—a regular book-worm, and a man of strong individuality. His children were Jane, Elizabeth, Ruth, John, Thomas, Eleanor, Joshua, James, Jemima, Lucy and William.

William Gibbons[5], b. 8, 17, 1781, d. 7, 25, 1845, m. 5, 14, 1806, Rebecca Donaldson, of Wilmington, Del., where he soon after settled as a physician, and continued to reside. He had fourteen children, of whom all but the first-born survived him, and eleven were living at the death of their mother, 1, 30, 1869, at the age of 83 years.

Henry Gibbons[6], the eldest surviving son of his father, was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania, and commenced the practice of medicine in his native town before he was twenty-one. Being of a family prominent in science, literature and morality, he early interested himself in such pursuits and became an ardent advocate in the temperance movement. Resolute, fearless, unflinching and self-sacrificing, no selfish motives ever swayed him, when the cause was one that could benefit humanity. He was one of the prominent founders of the "Delaware Academy of Sciences," an institution which exercised a marked influence in the community. Yielding to the earnest solicitations of a medical friend, in 1844, he removed with his family to Philadelphia, where he could command a broader field for his pursuits in science and literature. In conjunction with his practice, he held a chair in one of the medical colleges of that city until 1850, when he joined his brothers in California. Selecting San Francisco for his future home, his family soon followed. The State of his adoption bears daily evidence of his power to influence for good; his untiring energy and unflinching zeal in the cause of morality and reform are indelibly stamped upon its records.

For many years president of the "State Board of Health," of the "Prison Discipline Association," of the "Society of Prevention of Cruelty," besides numerous other philanthropic institutions, his interests were always to improve and benefit the community. In 1852, he founded the Mercantile Library, for some years the only one in the State. He was the most prominent founder of the Academy of Sciences; also of the San Francisco Medical Society. In 1861, with others, he founded the first medical college on the Pacific coast, and for some years performed the arduous duties of both president and professor. When this college was reorganized, under the name of Cooper Medical College, he was still retained in his professorship.

That fifty-five years of such active practice, combined with his varied pursuits in almost every branch of learning, should undermine his health, is not surprising: a change was advised. With loss of health came an intense longing to visit once more the home of his birth, and commune with the dear friends that yet remained. This was encouraged by his family, with the hope that the change might prolong life. The journey was made, and after a few happy weeks among these friends he gently and calmly closed his eyes in the old home of his childhood, 11th month 5th, 1884, aged 76.

A man of unusual mental ability, in whose character were united the highest elements of a noble nature, his universal benevolence, his intense love of truth and justice, his great simplicity and kindness of heart, added to that crowning virtue, a spotless purity of personal character, presents to those who were fortunate to be his associates, the very highest example of enduring excellence. From Biographical Sketch.

John Doan¹, b. at Plymouth, Eng., 1590, with Abigail, his wife, came to Plymouth, Mass., 1630, and d. 1685, at Eastham, Mass. He was "governor's assistant" in 1633, chosen deacon of the Plymouth church, 1634, and in 1645 led in the establishment of the Puritan church at Eastham, of which he was also chosen deacon. His son Daniel Doan² was the first physician in Eastham. He had a son Daniel³, who became a Quaker and came to Pennsylvania, bringing a certificate from Sandwich Mo. Mtg., dated 1, 7, 1696–7, which was presented to Middletown Mo. Mtg., Bucks Co., Pa. He was twice married, and by his first wife, Mehetabel, had Daniel, Lydia, Eleazar, Elijah, Joseph, Israel, Elizabeth and Rebecca; by the second wife, Mary, had Samuel, Mary, Thomas, Sarah and Ebenezer. He died at an advanced age and was buried at Middletown, 9, 1, 1743.

Israel Doan⁴, b. 3, 20, 1699, married in the winter of 1724–5, and settled in Plumstead, where he died between 1787 and 1797, leaving children (or their representatives) as follows: Joseph, Elijah, Israel, Mahlon, Elizabeth, Mary, Rachel, Martha. The sons of Joseph were men of remarkable physical development, and fine horsemen. At the beginning of the Revolution they were of good reputation, and in accordance with their Quaker education, proposed to remain neutral, but being surrounded by intolerant Whigs, they were goaded into a course which made their name a terror throughout Bucks and the neighboring counties.

Elijah Doan⁵ is said to have died while in the army under General Washington, but little definite information is preserved of him. He married Sarah Groves and left children, Samuel, Jonathan, Joseph, Elijah, Israel, Benjamin, Elizabeth and Sarah, of whom Jonathan, Elijah and Israel went to Canada. Dr. E. D. Buckman, of 1030 Dakota St., Philadelphia, is collecting the family history, and has furnished most of the above facts. The name is written Doane by some of the family.

In February, 1781, Irvin Hinton, a young teamster, started with a wagon from a block-house on the present site of Louisville, Ky., to bring a supply of provisions from Harrodsburg to the almost destitute families gathered at the fort for protection from the Indians. He was accompanied by Richard LaRue, aged 19, and George Holman, aged 16 years. Although mere boys there were none in the fort of greater intrepidity or skill in savage warfare, and the first had been in at least four Indian wars. They had traveled only about eight miles of the way when they fell into an ambuscade of thirteen Indians, led by the notorious renegade, Simon Girty. Having discharged their guns previously, on account of the wet from a light melting snow storm, they were unprepared to offer any resistance. Their captors took them northward, across the Ohio river, and after several days they arrived at an Indian village, where the prisoners were compelled to run the gauntlet. While their further fate remained undecided, Hinton attempted to escape, but was recaptured and burned to death at the stake. Soon after this a rendezvous of the Indians in the Northwest Territory was ordered at Detroit, whither Girty proceeded with his prisoners. On the way they paused at an Indian village on the Maumee River, where LaRue and Holman were again compelled to run the gauntlet, for the amusement of the savages; after which a council was held resulting, apparently, in their sentence to burning at the stake. With blackened faces they were bound to the stakes, but when seemingly about to suffer a most terrible death, they were separately released by two of the savages, who adopted them in the place of deceased relatives.

After more than two years the Indian warriors were again gathered for a general conference at Detroit, when, amidst the drunken revelry that ensued, the prisoners found an opportunity to escape. Their journey southward was attended with many hardships and privations, but on the twentieth day they arrived safely at the Ohio river, fifty miles above the falls, whence they floated on a raft to Louisville. Their relatives had supposed them dead; the brother-in-law of LaRue had administered to his estate, and sold a four acre lot belonging to him, which was located within a short distance of where the court-house now stands. Finding that his affairs had been settled in good faith, although somewhat prematurely, he permitted the transaction to stand.

Until 1805, LaRue and Holman lived in Woodford County, Kentucky, when they both removed to Indiana Territory, and located within two miles of where the city of Richmond now stands; where they lived the remainder of their lives. Richard LaRue died in 1845, but George Holman lived until 1859. His eldest son, Hon. Joseph Holman, was a member of the Indiana Constitutional Convention, in 1816, and represented Wayne County in the Legislature several years; afterwards holding an office in the land department, under the administration of Gen. Jackson.

Many years after, when peaceful relations were restored between the Indians and settlers, annual visits were paid to LaRue and Holman by the Indians among whom they had lived; upon which occasions they were shown the greatest hospitality, always receiving upon their departure generous gifts of tobacco and corn.

Condensed from newspaper.

Richard LaRue married a cousin of George Holman, but for some reason at present unknown, he dropped a part of his surname, and was known by that of Rue. His grandson, Richard, and the three sons of the latter, being all of the male representatives of the family, so far as known, have now resumed the original spelling of the name.

On Oct. 2, 1734, Jonas LaRue obtained a warrant for 350 acres of land in Leacock township, Lancaster Co., Pa., and on July 19, 1751, he was naturalized as a citizen of Pennsylvania. George LaRue, of Chester Co., was naturalized Aug. 18, 1751. They were doubtless from France.

UWCHLAN MEETING HOUSE, BUILT 1756.

Uwchlan Meeting was first held in 1712, at the house of John Cadwalader, in Uwchlan township, and when he sold his farm Jan. 16, 1715–6, he reserved "a piece of Ground on ye side of the King's Road which ye s^d John Cadwalader allotted for a burying place, and to set a meeting house on for ye use of ye people called Quakers." The present building was erected in 1756, but was remodeled perhaps ten years since; prior to which the above sketch was taken by Walter S. Dowell (No. 1850). The walling of the graveyard appears to have been accomplished at different times, in 1772–5.

From the minutes of Uwchlan Monthly Meeting, 1 mo., 8, 1778, we take the following:

A few Days ago the Key of the Meeting house at Uwchlan was demanded by some of the Physicians to the continental Army, in order to convert the same into an Hospital for their sick Soldiers: the Friend who had the Care of the House and Key refusing to deliver it forcible entry was made into the House and Stables, and as there is no Prospect of enjoying the House peaceably from next First-day it is agreed that Uwchlan Friends hold their meetings at the House of our Friend George Thomas, in the Great Valley, and that our preparative and monthly meetings be held at Nantmeal on the usual Days till further Order.

The Monthly Meeting was held at Nantmeal 8, 6, 1778, but a month later it was again held at Uwchlan.

2446. Alfred, b. 4, 3, 1822; m. Elizabeth Sharpless.
2447. Samuel Emlen, b. 7, 28, 1828; m. Martha S. Ash.

Nathan H. Sharples was born on his father's farm in W. Goshen, now West Chester, and was the only son who reached manhood. Like most only sons he appears to have been much indulged, when a child, by all the family except his mother, who was said to have been a strict disciplinarian. His temper was very quick, often causing his older sister trouble, but in later years by strong will held under control.

Of his school days, consisting of but a few months in all, we have but little account; yet he doubtless received the best education that his native town afforded.

In his 15th year he became an apprentice in the printing office of Jones, Hoff & Derrick, and assisted in publishing the "West Chester Gazette." On the failure of this newspaper he assisted his father in the store, until his 18th year, when he joined Philip Derrick in publishing the "Literary Museum." This also proved a failure, being premature, as society was then constituted.

Continuing to assist in the store and on the farm a few years, he was married in 1804 to Martha, eldest daughter of Philip Price, and thereafter resided on his father's farm, following farming as his principal business. He was often engaged in assisting his brother-in-law in his printing office and his father in the store, as long as the latter lived. His father dying in 1817, left his estate to his son with a proviso that he should pay all debts, provide for his mother during her life, and pay legacies to his sisters. These trusts were faithfully performed as to his mother, and the legacies to his sisters increased; and his care and kindness for those who needed it was extended to their children during life.

In 1818 he built the house at the S. W. corner of Union and High Streets, now occupied by Joseph Kift, for his mother, who occupied it less than two years, when she was removed by death. His elder sister moved into the house with her mother, and remained in it until her own death, in 1832. At the time this house was built there was no permanent brick yard in the place, so that each person burned the brick he wished to use generally on his own farm. Whilst Nathan H. Sharples was burning brick for his own house, the demand became so great that he was induced to burn a second clamp, which were readily sold. These clamps each contained about 75,000 bricks. Finding some profit in brick making he concluded to continue in the business. This excited competition and a second yard was started, but West Chester at that time could not support two yards, so the business was soon abandoned at both for a time.

In 1826 Nathan H. Sharples was elected a member of the "Chester County Cabinet of Natural Science," and aisisted it with both purse and pen until 1837, when he was appointed chairman of the committee to build a new Hall for the Society. This hall is now occupied by the Post Office department and other parties.

His preference in the sciences was for botany, which he studied in company with his friend and nearest neighbor, Dr. Wm. Darlington, with great interest and pleasure. His studies, however, were not confined to any one branch of science, for we find that he wrote up a paper, giving a history and some account of the powers of the telescope presented to this Society by Isaac Wayne. It is one that was used in the war of 1776 by his father, General Anthony Wayne, and is highly treasured as a relic of that noted struggle.

In 1829 he built the house on the South west corner of Church and Miner Streets, for Joseph J. Lewis; it being the first brick house built on the farm of Wm. Wollerton, after its purchase and partial sale by Wm. Everhart.

In 1830 he erected Price's Boarding School for his father-in-law, Philip Price, and Hannah P. Davis, daughter of the latter; who conducted it for several years with great success. It was built on a part of his own farm, and he remained intimately connected with its management during the remainder of his life. He was one of the trustees of the West

Chester Academy, and in 1832 he erected, by order of that body, a large boarding house for use of students attending that institution. This Academy was supplanted by the State Normal School, to which its funds and appliances were conveyed. The lot and building were sold, and the boarding house remodeled into a hotel, now known as the "Sherman House."

In 1836 he joined with others who agreed to build for Joshua Hoopes a house suitable for a boarding school for boys, and was appointed superintendent for its erection. This building is situated on the highest point in the borough and is now owned and occupied by Thomas H. Hall.

As an executor, guardian, auditor, arbitrator and appraiser, his services were in frequent requisition. He held the pen of a ready writer, and many of his letters which are yet extant are very valuable. In 1811 he was one of the committee of Westtown Boarding School, but was glad to be released from that service, as he soon found that members from the country had but little influence in the conduct of the school.

A member of the Society of Friends by birthright, he became one in early life by conviction, and was consistent through life, serving the meeting as clerk for many years.

When the division in the Society took place in 1827 he declined attending the business meetings, believing there was not that charity exercised by either branch that the Gospel required from brethren. He labored much privately with the prominent members of the Society to effect a reconciliation, avoiding any action which they could construe into a violation of the discipline, for years, until he was fully satisfied the effort was hopeless.

During the closing years of his life he was an elder of the meeting.

In 1827, he moved to a farm of Mark Pennell, then a minor, and in 1837, purchased the Mercer farm at Thornton, which had been in the Mercer family a long time and the house very old. Isaac Mercer, who married Phebe Pyle (No. 2464), was the last Mercer proprietor. In 1845, Bethlehem M. E. Church was organized, and Albin Pyle, by deed of Mar. 26, 1846, gave a lot at the N. E. corner of his farm, to Israel Pyle (No. 755), and others, trustees, upon which a building was erected. Albin, as a given name, appears to have been derived from James Albin, who died Sept. 29, 1750, aged 41, and was buried at Concord P. E. Church. By some the name is written "Alban." Children,—

Thomas Parker[4], son of Joseph[3], b. 6, 18, 1761, m. 11, 10, 1784, Beulah Thomas, dau. of Edward and Sarah Thomas, of Philadelphia. Under the instructions of David Rittenhouse and John Wood he became a clock and watch maker, carrying on the business from 1783, for nearly half a century, and was very eminent in his calling. He was one of the first members and for sixteen years the vice president of "The Pennsylvania Society for Promoting the Abolition of Slavery;" for several years president of the Mechanics' Bank, and of the Board of Managers of the Almshouse. "But of all his public acts those which most deserve to perpetuate his memory, were in relation to the introduction of Schuylkill water into the city."

Eliza Parker's life of quiet goodness is appropriately set forth by the following tribute from the pen of Anna Sharpless Brown:

SHE is thine! Almighty Father!
Sure of love and mercy now;—
Of such spirits is Thy Kingdom,—
And Thy seal is on her brow;
Threescore years she walked among us,
With a gentle, upward tread;
Were time marked by deeds of goodness,
Centuries had crowned her head.

In our hours of social gladness
All her sympathies were stirred,
Youth and Age around her gathered
To receive the kindly word;
Anger fled from her appearing,
And the heart forgot its pride,
Charity, that suffereth all things,
Was a dweller by her side.

In the hour of pain and trial,
Tender were her touch and tone,
Yet her presence seemed a sunbeam
Bright'ning all where'er it shone:
Cheering the faint-hearted mother
Till the infant's wail was heard;
Then her arms received the stranger
As she spoke the welcoming word.

But when Sorrow was our inmate
Or when Trouble pressed us sore,
Or when Death approached our household,
She was ever at the door;
When of us our Heavenly Father,
Asked the treasures that He gave,
Little loved ones she had welcomed,
She appareled for the grave.

Mother's hand was not more tender
To support each drooping limb,
Or to part the clust'ring ringlets,
While with tears her eyes were dim;
"This is but the little casket,"
She would say, in pleasant tone,
"And the jewel 'Master' lent us
He has taken for His own."

Little children, poor, forsaken,
Ever in her heart had place;
They will miss her word in season,
They will miss her kindly face:
And the fallen she would plead with,
Letting no one cast a stone,
"Sister come to seek our Father,
He His erring child will own."

Everything for HER had beauty,
Flowers that bloom or leaves that fall,
She would spare the meanest insect,
"One Creator made us all:"
Many a weary, foot-sore pilgrim
She hath cheered along Life's road,
Treading still the narrow pathway
That hath led her up to God.

Brief the time for soul communing—
Few the hours for vain regret;—
But her lamp was trimmed and burning,
And her house in order set;
Few her words—but fitly spoken,
"She awaited Master's call:
Poor and feeble—yet she trusted
She would pass the gates of Pearl!"

"Only just within," she murmured,
And we felt that she was near—
Graven were the words she uttered,
As the last from one most dear;
"Some have thought my time and substance
To the poor too freely given;
But there's hope in this remembrance,
It may smooth my path to heaven.

"For we read that 'he is blessed
Who considereth the poor,'
God hath said, 'in time of trouble
His deliverance is sure.'"
Those who knew her well remember
When her voice the silence broke,
How she charmed a list'ning circle,
With the happy thoughts she spoke.

Once she told us, and each feature
Lighted up with feeling warm,
"Through this world I bear a basket
Resting on my spirit's arm;
'Tis my Master's gift—and ever
In his service it shall be,
As I wander forth, I gather
Crumbs of bread that fall for me.

"When I see a hopeful spirit
Struggling through temptation's hour;
When I see a poor, weak blossom
Bearing up against the shower;
Every word that falls is precious,
Every leaf becomes a gem,
And I lay them in my basket
For a priceless diadem.

"From the lips of little children
I have gained instruction sweet;
From the pris'ner thoughts of wisdom,—
From the beggar in the street;
From the things of God's creation;
From the rainbow arching o'er,—
And I lay them in my basket,
Adding ever to my store.

"Then when illness comes, or sorrow,
And I fain would comfort give,
Trustful turn I to my basket,
Words of healing to receive;
Thus I labor for my Master,
Never weary—never faint,—
Unaware, a cup of water
I may offer to a saint."

Thus she spake—and inspiration
  Made her loving face more bright;
Now her lips have lost their sweetness,
  And her eye its holy light,
Strange it seemed to see her powerless,
  Who so helpful was to all,
Oh! on some one now among us,
  May her heavenly mantle fall!

When we gather with her children,
  To perform the last sad rite,
Then we missed her cheering spirit,
  Always hopeful, always bright;
But we take from out her basket
  Thoughts of comfort for each breast,
Through the blood of her Redeemer
  She hath gained immortal rest.

Dr. Joseph Pancoast was one of the leading physicians of his day, and died greatly lamented. For 36 consecutive years he occupied two of the most important chairs as professor in Jefferson Medical College, from which he resigned in 1874. He gave much attention to medical literature, and it was as a distinguished author, as well as a successful practitioner, that he won deserved fame, both at home and abroad. Viewing him as a man and as a physician, as an author and as a practitioner, as a student and as a teacher, it can be truly said that the city of his adoption and the profession of his choice have just cause to be proud of him, and that the world is the better and happier for his life.—History of Phila., 1884, ii. 1620.

The Rt. Rev. William Mercer Green, D.D., LL.D., First Bishop of Mississippi, was but young when his father died, and it was to his mother's pious example and watchful discipline that he was indebted for a proper training. In 1814 he entered the freshmen class of the University of North Carolina, at Chapel Hill, and while pursuing his studies became interested in reading the life of Bishop Berkeley, which had much influence in giving direction to his future life. In 1818 he received the degree of A.B. in a class of unusual distinction. A few months later he married and then commenced a course of study for the ministry, to which he was admitted in 1823. For four years he was in charge of St. John's Church, Williamsborough, at the same time paying missionary visits to Halifax, Raleigh, Oxford, Milton and Hillsborough. In 1826 he removed to the latter place and founded St. Matthew's Church. In 1837 he was appointed to the chaplaincy, and chair of Belles-Letters in his alma mater, in which position he continued until unexpectedly called, in 1849, to be the First Bishop of Mississippi. He was consecrated in St. Andrew's Church, Jackson, Miss., Feb. 24, 1850, by Bishops J. H. Otey, of Tenn., Leonidas Polk, of La., N. H. Cobb, of Ala., and George W. Freeman, of Arkansas. The degree of D.D. was conferred upon him in 1845, by the University of Pennsylvania, and that of LL.D. more recently by the University of N. C. Some years since he prepared a "tree" of the Bradley Branch of the Sharpless family, which was lithographed, and a copy found its way to the reunion of 1882.

To this reunion he came from his home at Sewanee, Tenn., where he still resides, anxiously awaiting the appearance of the Sharpless Genealogy. Children,—

John Sharpless was a farmer and resided at the homestead of his parents until about 1863, when, having erected new buildings on the western part of the farm, he removed thither, and in 1866, sold the other to his brother-in-law, T. C. Palmer. He presided at the bi-centennial meeting of the family, at Sharpless Rock, in 1882, and by his interest and exertions contributed much to the success of that event. As a member of the Society of Friends he was deeply interested in the welfare of the Society, and occupied the position of an elder in his meeting; being also frequently appointed on the important affairs of the church. For about nine years he represented Concord Quarterly Meeting in the Meeting for Sufferings, a body organized during times of persecution for conscience' sake, and which represents the Yearly Meeting during its adjournment. Kind as a neighbor, and especially to those in need of assistance, much of his income was devoted to charitable purposes; and so far as known he was without an enemy in the world.

Humility and watchfulness, and a low estimate of his own attainments, were very conspicuous traits in the character of our beloved friend, and were evinced by his daily prayerful and careful walk before the world. In a letter to a friend, written but three days before his death, these virtues were strikingly manifested by the following language: "My earnest desire is to know more of that purifying work which it is needful for all to submit to, to cleanse the heart from the defilements of sin, and bring it into closer union with the loving spirit of the dear Saviour, * * and that my feet may be kept in the narrow way the few remaining days of my life, is the sincere prayer of my heart." Although death came at an unexpected moment, yet his family and friends, while deeply afflicted, are comforted in the assurance that it is well with him; and that through adorable mercy his immortal spirit has been permitted to enter into endless bliss.—The Friend, lix, 176.

While quietly seated in the midst of his family about 9 o'clock in the evening of a stormy autumn day, he was called to the door by a request for assistance to travelers whose carriage had broken down in the public road near by. Going to the stable, in the under part of the barn, to get a rope, he was there struck down by a blow on the head, which is believed to have caused instant death. His wife had endeavored to dissuade him from going, and, her alarm increasing with his absence, her sister, Jane M. Pratt, a member of the family, went out to the road to look for him. Seeing no one she returned, passed the house and went to the barn, where she saw his umbrella leaning against the stable door. She called, but no answer came, and filled with terrible apprehensions she sped with all her strength to the nearest neighbor's house, the birthplace of the murdered man. Meanwhile the stranger, apparently a colored man, had entered the house and demanded money. He was met with a calm refusal and after a few unintelligible inquiries about some supposed member of the household he withdrew, perhaps fearing that a messenger had gone for assistance. As it happened the neighbors had just put horse to a carriage, and they brought Jane back to the house in less than ten minutes from the time she started. The lifeless body was found, but the murderer had flown; and soon there burst forth the flames of a neighboring barn, which he had doubtless fired to distract attention from his pursuit.

As the news spread it created intense excitement. Stimulated by the hope of reward, detectives investigated all possible clues, and reporters, desirous of notoriety, called upon their imaginations where facts failed them. No one will ever know the truth by reading the press of that day. At length through the evidence of a former fellow prisoner, a colored man, named Samuel Johnson, was arrested in Philadelphia, was tried at Media and convicted of the crime. The character of the witnesses weakened their testimony, while on the other hand the defence failed to produce rebutting evidence. He now lies in jail awaiting the result of a motion for a new trial.

He was a merchant in Philadelphia, who did an extensive business with the West India Islands. Soon after her marriage they removed to Port au Prince, where, after some years her husband became the object of suspicion to the Spanish Governor, by reason of some political movements in the island, and an order for the incarceration of himself and wife was issued. She escaped from her home, tied up in a feather bed, was taken on board a small schooner in the harbor and after some days the vessel left without her being discovered. She returned to Philadelphia, where her husband soon rejoined her. She lived to a good old age but

The following sketch was written but a short time before the death of Lydia Shipley, whose remarkable vigor of mind and body, in extreme age, was a surprise to all who saw her:

Lydia Shipley, now living at the summer residence of her son Samuel R. Shipley, in East Bradford, at the age of ninety-six years and six months, was, by her second marriage, the wife of Thomas Shipley. He was a noted friend of the slave, and at the time of his death was president of the "Pennsylvania Society for the Abolition of Slavery." For many years his home in Philadelphia was the gathering place of such men as William Lloyd Garrison, Benjamin Lundy, Arthur Buffum, Dr. Joseph Parrish, George Thompson, M. P., of London, and many others of like minds and sympathies. The colored man found there a resting place on his way to Canada, and no man in Philadelphia was more hated by the slave catchers than he. The lines of Whittier, in the memorial poem, written in 1836, upon the death of Thomas Shipley, may be remembered in this connection:

Oh, loved of thousands, to thy grave,
  Sorrowing of heart thy brethren bore thee;
The poor man and the rescued slave,
  Wept as the broken earth closed o'er thee:
And grateful tears, like summer rain,
Quickened the dying grass again.

Lydia Shipley was the warm and sympathizing ally of her husband in his labors of love; and now, near the close of a long life, she can look back upon the wonderful changes which fifty years have wrought in bringing full fruition to the cause for which her husband so zealously labored. Her mind still remains clear and her faculties have been retained in an unusual degree. She recalls the events of the year 1793, when the yellow fever desolated Philadelphia. Her recollection of Nicholas Waln, John Pemberton, Richard Jordan, Thomas Scattergood, and many other worthies of the Society of Friends, is still bright and vivid. She can recite many passages from their sermons, delivered some eighty years ago. George Washington, as he appeared when President of the United States, was a familiar figure upon Chestnut Street, in her native city, and she remembers his habitual politeness as he bowed to every lady in passing.

James Alfred Hinkson was a promising young man whose life was brought to an early close. A literary society, of which he was a member, passed the following resolutions of respect to his memory:

Whereas, An all-wise Providence has seen proper to remove from our midst our worthy member, James Alfred Hinkson, therefore,

Resolved, That in his death this Society has lost a willing and efficient member.

Resolved, That in the church and Sabbath school his loss will long be regretted.

Resolved, That we regard his life as one worthy of imitation, in the prompt and unfaltering discharge of duty, and self sacrificing devotion in the home circle, with whose bereaved members we deeply sympathise.

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be sent for publication in the Village Record and Chester County Times, and one be presented to the family of the deceased.

Charles B. Clement, Paulsboro, N. J., writes thus:

I have in my possession my grandfather's clock, cane, knife he carved his wedding dinner with, and a stand we call the "Anti-Slavery Stand." It was taken to Carpenters' Hall by him when the Declaration of Anti-Slavery was signed on it: also a box that holds pens, wafers, and the ink glass from which the Declaration was signed. Joseph Sharpless lived on Fourth Street, near Arch, when William Lloyd Garrison first came to Philadelphia. He was sent to my grandfather's by the keeper of the Merchants' Hotel, which was the custom when his place was crowded. The Merchants' Hotel was for many years the favorite stopping place of southern men. One came with Garrison to grandfather's. They were good friends until one evening when sitting by this anti-slavery stand they got excited over the slavery question. The southerner was so badly beaten in argument that my mother, then a young woman, took his part. Garrison seemed hurt and surprised, for grandfather had taken a great interest in his cause. That night my mother thought of what she had seen and heard and in the morning told Garrison she would always be a faithful friend to his cause; and if she ever was the mother of a son he should be called after him. When the Pennsylvania Hall was burned Garrison and his friends were kept prisoners in the Hall by the mob. Dinner time came, and my mother hearing how they were trapped, thought she would take them some dinner. When she got to them Garrison said it came to them like manna from Heaven.

The first thing that I remember in my life was seeing my father taking a ride on a fence rail, surrounded by a mob of drunken men from Mount Holly. The tavern-keeper had given them a keg of whiskey to break up an anti-slavery meeting. My mother helped Charles Burleigh away from the mob to her home. In 1847, she started a First-day school at Haddonfield, for colored children. For this and my father trying to teach a runaway slave boy a trade his house was mobbed, the windows broken, and stones large enough to have killed me lay around my pillow.

My brother, Joseph Sharpless Clement, enlisted in the 2d Penna. Cavalry two weeks after the first Bull Run battle. After serving nearly three years he lost his life by men in ambush, while with Sheridan on his last raid around Gordonsville.

2098. John Ferris[6], John[5], b. Wilmington, Del., 9, 21, 1801; d. there, 9, 2, 1882, unmarried. After spending a few years at the common schools, he was sent while a mere boy to Philadelphia to learn a mechanical business, because he had manifested an early fondness and a remarkable skill in the use of tools. When his task was finished in the city, and he came to his native place to establish himself in business, he was astonished to find that his reputation as a man of high moral worth and stern integrity had reached the town before him. He was offered, without solicitation, all the money he needed to engage in business. He succeeded beyond his most sanguine anticipations, and had scarcely passed the prime of life when an ample fortune induced him to retire from his profession.

But not to rest. Then, as it ever will be, I presume, many widows needed a wise, honest, and patient counsellor. And wherever they inquired for one they were advised above all others to go to John Ferris.

And these were his clients that kept him busy even to the last month of his eventful life. Yes, without compensation, in the storms of winter and in the burning heats of summer, he was ever faithful, ever watchful of their interests and welfare. His extensive learning, his unquestioned ability, and great experience enabled him to answer many abstruse questions which perplexed and worried even astute lawyers.

Honest and deserving poverty never appealed to him in vain. And there was scarcely a little child or horse or dog in his neighborhood that did not know him well, and did not listen with evident pleasure for a pleasant word from him as he passed by. He left an estate of about $250,000, of which a residue, amounting to $70,000, was directed to be given to benevolent institutions, at the discretion of his executor; preferring, however, in case a House of Refuge should be built, that the greater part should be applied for that purpose. C. H., M.D.

of Moses and Ann Aldrich, of Smithfield, R. I. No children. He was a fine classical scholar, and was for several years professor of languages at Haverford College, Pa. For a few years prior to his death he was principal of Friends' Select School, Phila. He was a devoted laborer in the cause of education and much beloved by his pupils and others.

2949. John Clemson Sharpless[6], Joshua B.[5], b. near Downingtown, 4, 22, 1829; m. at her father's, near West Chester, by Friends' ceremony, 9, 25, 1872, Lydia Coale Johnson, b. 12, 15, 1842; dau. of Benjamin D. Johnson and Elizabeth Coale, of East Bradford township After completing his education he spent three years in the Iron Works at Coatesville and Thorndale, Chester Co., Pa., acquiring a knowledge of the manufacture of iron. A period of financial depression occurring, he relinquished the business temporarily to accept a position which was offered on an engineer corps. Finding that occupation congenial to his tastes he concluded to adopt it as a profession, and was placed in charge of the construction of a division of the West Chester and Philadelphia R. R. After being engaged in that position about two years he entered the service of the Pennsylvania R. R., holding the position of an officer of that road a little more than ten years, the greater part of that time in charge of the Eastern Division as Resident Engineer. Resigning that position he became the chief engineer and general superintendent of the Wilmington and Reading (now Wilmington and Northern) R. R., then in process of construction. About a year after the completion of that road he removed to Ohio and entered upon the duties of chief engineer of the Painesville and Youngstown R. R., surveying, locating and constructing that road until operations were suspended in consequence of the financial panic of 1872. During the same time he also directed the construction, as chief engineer, of the Mineral Range R. R., of Michigan. Since 1874 he has chiefly resided at West Chester, Radnor and Bryn Mawr, Pa., pursuing his vocation mostly in Eastern Penna. He was the projector of the Bi-Centennial Reunion of the Sharpless Family, in 1882, and took an active part in promoting the success of that memorable occasion, and of the resulting genealogical compilation. P. O., Bryn Mawr, Pa. Children,—

From recently discovered information there is no doubt that the family name was originally Haworth, descended from the Haworths of Haworth, in Lancashire, Eng.

Lawrence Haworth, of Thurcroft, a descendant of this family, was the father of Richard Haworth, of Waterside, Lower Darwen, born about 1530, and died 1602 or 1603. The children of Richard were Lawrence, Thomas, James, Peter, Anne and Jennet.

Thomas Haworth, of Waterside, dying 1637 or 1638, had four daughters and a son, Peter Haworth, of Lower Darwen, who died in 1677, leaving children, Thomas, Richard, M. D., James, John and Elizabeth. The son Richard was an apothecary at Blackburn, and died about 1694, leaving children, Thomas, Peter, Grace, Henry and Richard. Henry was born in 1689, which would seem to identify him as the emigrant, but we find instead that he was an apothecary in Blackburn, and governor of the grammar school there, in 1720. He died 1728, leaving children, Thomas and Robert.

Another Lawrence Haworth, of Thurcroft, in Lower Darwen, d. 1619, was the son of Peter, of Thurcroft, gent, who d. 1600, and first cousin to Thomas Haworth, of Waterside, above mentioned. His son Peter, b. 1587, built the present house of Thurcroft, in 1634, and d. July, 1675. He was the representative of the family at the Herald's visitation of Lancashire, in 1664. Lawrence Haworth, son of the last Peter, m. Grace, dau. and sole heiress of Roger Gillibrand: was governor of Blackburn grammar school, and was buried at Blackburn Church, July 20, 1675. His son Richard Haworth, of Thurcroft, b. Dec. 8, 1656; buried July 28, 1694, was the father of Grace, Peter and Richard. It may be surmised whether Henry, the emigrant, was not also the son of this Richard, and having left England was omitted from the English pedigree. Further investigations might well repay the inquirer.

He became a cadet in the Confederate Naval School, and served while a mere boy in the harbor of Charleston. Being with Jefferson Davis at the time of the latter's capture he suffered imprisonment for several months at Fortress Monroe, after which he joined his brother in Canada and proceeded to England. Entering the merchant service on the Atlantic, he rose to the position of mate, and removing thence to the Pacific Coast by way of China, he became commander of several steamers in succession, ending with the ill-fated Pacific. While a passenger on board of the Los Angeles, 2, 23, 1874, on her voyage from San Francisco to Victoria, the steamer broke her propeller shaft and became unmanageable. Captain Howell bravely volunteered to risk the danger of an attempt to reach land in a small boat, and being successful walked to Astoria, whence a tug hastened to the rescue of the disabled vessel. The steamer Pacific was foundered in a gale off Cape Flattery, near Victoria, 11, 10, 1875, and Captain Howell was drowned from a raft on which some of the unfortunate passengers had taken refuge; he being the last man to leave the ship. When one of these, a woman, was swept from the raft he sprang to her assistance, and thus in his last act, which cost him his life, displayed the same heroic chivalry and generosity which had marked his whole career. A more extended notice will be found in the History of the Confederate Navy, now in press.

Samuel L., b. 12, 29, 1832; was educated principally at Westtown Boarding School, and taught a district school in Edgmont for two winters. In 1853, he removed to Philadelphia, and entered the office of Joseph Fox, a prominent surveyor. In 1858, he was appointed one of the City Surveyors and Regulators, and was re-elected by the people for four successive terms of five years.

During this time he was an engineer of Fairmount Park, and was one of the most active in securing this pleasure ground. In 1872, he was elected Chief Engineer and Surveyor by City Councils, and in 1887 was re-elected for the fourth term of five years.

Bridges over the Schuylkill River at Penrose Ferry, Fairmount, Girard Avenue, and the new canti-lever bridge at Market Street, and many other smaller bridges in various parts of the city have been built under his direction. The location of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad so as to pass through a tunnel, thus making a safe entrance to Fairmount Park, (of which he is ex-officio a commissioner) was greatly due to his exertions.

For many years he has been interested in genealogy, and has collected many records of the Smedley family, with a view to publication. He has therefore been deeply interested in this work, and second to none in contributing to its successful completion.

APPENDIX.

SWAFFER FAMILY.

Rebecca Caldwell, sister to John Sharples[1], with her daughter, Mary Caldwell, and Sarah Steadman took up a tract of 180 acres in Nether Providence, adjoining the land of John Sharples. This land was resurveyed 9, 5, 1703, and patented 3 mo. (May) 7, 1704 (or 1705), to William and Mary Swaffer.

William Swaffer and his brother James came from Newton, Cheshire, Eng., arriving about 1684. William Swaffer, of Nether Providence, and Mary "Caudwell," of Ridley, were married in the 6th month, 1694, at a meeting held at the house of Walter Faucet, in Ridley. Her mother and aunts, Mary Ellis and Jane Sharples were among the witnesses. William was an active member of Chester Meeting and served at different times as an overseer. He died in Nether Providence, 2, 17, 1720, and his wife probably not long after. Children,—

1. Rebecca, b. 1, 20, 1696-7, probably died unmarried. She made an acknowledgment 9, 26, 1724, for having given Thomas Kendall some encouragement in courtship too soon after the death of his wife, and without her mother's knowledge; as also for remaining in his service after he courted her.
2. Jacob, b. 3, 2, 1699, inherited the homestead and died unmarried Feb., 1727-8, leaving as executors of his will his brother Joseph and cousin John Sharpless, Jr.
3. Joseph, b. 4, 4, 1701; see forward.
4. Mary, b. 7, 8, 1703; m. 4, 24, 1736, Daniel Davis.
5. William, m. Abigail (Pyle) Worrall, and d. 11, 7, 1793.
6. Thomas, mentioned 1727, in his brother Jacob's will: in 1740, he had been living for some time in Jersey, and his membership was transferred to Salem Mo. Mtg. No further record.
7. Ann, m. 3, 1, 1735, Benjamin Ellis, b. 8, 8, 1701, son of Ellis and Lydia Ellis, of Haverford township.
8. Sarah, b. about 1711, d. 11, 25, 1793, in her 82d year; m. Peter Dicks.
9. Phebe, made acknowledgment, 6, 26, 1751, for marriage by a justice to William Jervis; resided in Philadelphia, where she died about the middle of 1st month, 1772, aged 60 years.
10. Hannah, b. 8, 29, 1718; died young.
11. Hannah, b. 7, 3, 1720; removed to Haverford by certificate dated 10, 27, 1742, and m. there 3, 10, 1748, Daniel Humphrey, of Merion.

3. Joseph Swaffer, blacksmith, m. Mar. 19, 1737 (Christ Church record), Elizabeth Fawkes, dau. of John and Ann Fawkes, of Newtown twp. For her marriage she was disowned by Goshen Mo. Mtg., 9, 21, 1737, but in 1775 her acknowledgment was accepted and she was married 11, 30, 1775, at Chester Mtg., to Christopher Dingee. Joseph made acknowledgment, 1, 27, 1738, for his marriage, but was somewhat intemperate and finally disowned, 6, 27, 1763. Child,—

12. Ann, b. perhaps in 1737, m. 6, 8, 1758, at Chester Meeting, Richard Maris, son of Jonathan and Jane, of Marple. They had children, Richard, Joseph, John, William, Elizabeth, Rebecca, Hetty, Tacy and Ann. Of these Elizabeth married 5, 9, 1788, Jacob Dingee, son of Christopher; and Rebecca also married a Dingee. See Maris Gen., 21.

4. Mary Swaffer m. 4, 24, 1736, at Chester Mtg., Daniel Davis, of Providence, son of Thomas David, dec'd. He was admitted to membership, 8, 28, 1734, and received a certificate to Haverford, 2, 25, 1748; settling perhaps in Blockley twp., where they died. They had at least two children,—

13. Nehemiah, m. Chester Mtg., 7, 1, 1762, Eleanor Stephens, b. Berks Co., 2, 26, 1738; d. Chester, Pa., 10, 16, 1823; dau. of Richard and Dorothy Stephens. They removed to Wilmington, 1783, and thence to Darby, but returned to Chester, 1788. They had seven children, Mary, m. 3, 31, 1813, to Edward Horne; Eleanor, m. James Starr, of Maiden Creek, Berks Co., and had a large family; Sarah; Elizabeth; William, m. Rachel Robinson, 1800, and d. 7, 9, 1840, aged 70; Dorothy; Susanna.
14. Catharine, probably died unmarried.

5. William Swaffer was appointed 5, 29, 1758, to record births and burials, and the next year was appointed to record the minutes, which he continued to do for several years, and also served as Clerk. In public life he was a Justice of the Common Pleas for a few years prior to the Revolution. He m. 9, 8, 1774, at Middletown Mtg., Abigail Worrall, widow of Peter, and dau. of John and Rachel Pyle. Residence, Chester borough.

8. Sarah Swaffer m. 3, 17, 1750, at Chester Mtg., Peter Dicks (see p. 226), who purchased 7, 29, 1732, from her brother Joseph the Swaffer homestead. Her children were Jane and Roger. The latter inherited the homestead and devised the same to the children of his sister Jane (see p. 401).

The following members of the Sharples Family have been met with in the prosecution of this work:

Thompson Sharples, son of Lawrance and Susan Sharples, of Big Bolton, Lancashire, m. Easter Monday, April, 1846, Mary Tildsley, b. 1, 6, 1829; dau. of Joseph Tildsley and Elizabeth Whittle, of Big Bolton. It is claimed by his descendants that when Lawrance Sharples lived in Big Bolton, his was the only family of the name there, and that his father came from Sharples. He used to say that his father was a school-mate of Sir Robert Peel, at a school near Sharples. Thompson Sharples came to Pennsylvania, was a machinist, and worked for Bates, in Conshohocken, and for Thurlow, in Bridgeport, near Norristown. He died, 12, 30, 1880, at Falls of Schuylkill, where his widow resided in 1882. Children,—

INDEX.

In looking for names which are common to many individuals it will be found more convenient to search for a less common name of a near relative, as, for instance, the maiden name of wife or mother of the person sought for. The married names of females will not generally be found in this Index; and the same may be said of names in the Preface and Additions and Corrections at the beginning of the book.

STATISTICAL TABLE.

THE following table represents the number of descendants in the different generations and in the principal branches of the family, those under twenty-five being omitted. On account of intermarriages, the total number is less than the sum of the divisions. It may also be remarked that all the descendants have not been discovered in some of the branches.

SHARPLESS GENEALOGY.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The Committee appointed at the "Sharpless Bi-Centennial" on August 24th, 1882, to prepare a genealogical record, have devoted much time and attention to the work; and having employed Gilbert Cope, the well-known genealogist, to carry on the correspondence, compile the information, and attend to the printing, at a moderate compensation, they are gratified to announce that the record is now printed ready for binding.

The work of preparation has been very arduous and tedious, and to obtain correct information has required a vast amount of persevering and oft-repeated correspondence, subject to long delays from neglect in replying to inquiries.

In order to obtain reliable copies of ancient records in England, the valuable services of Henry Fishwick, F. H. S., were secured, resulting in collecting much information prior to the emigration of John Sharples to America, in addition to that furnished by Col. Joseph Lemuel Chester, which is of great value to the family and those interested in genealogy.

These efforts have been rewarded with such extraordinary and gratifying success, that when the originally proposed limit of 960 pages for a single $5.00 volume was reached, but little more than two-thirds of the names collected had been printed.

The material was sufficient for two volumes, which the original circular to subscribers advised might be required. Believing that a single book, though inconveniently large, would be less expensive and more generally acceptable than two volumes; for the credit of the undertaking and the family, the effort to make the work as complete as practicable has been persevered in, under the conviction that subscribers generally would willingly pay the actual and necessary cost of production, without profit to any one.

The Committee having entered on the responsible and arduous undertaking, have given much valuable time and labor gratuitously, for the benefit of all interested, and have advanced funds to complete the work.

It may be stated that beside the record of 10,325 descendants from John and Jane Sharples, the pioneer ancestors, the book contains a full report of the Bi-Centennial gathering of the family in 1882, together with a valuable photograph of the entire assemblage on that occasion; also phototype portraits of thirty members of the family; phototype copies of ancient marriage certificates, deeds and other documents; pictures of several Friends' Meeting houses closely identified with the history; and a large amount of interesting information respecting the ancestry of families who have intermarried with the Sharplesses.

The expense of collecting all this information, amounting to 1350 pages, with illustrations, exclusive of portraits, and nearly one-half more paper and printing than was originally estimated for a single volume, has made the actual cost of production $7.00 per copy in cloth binding.

The edition is limited; and as a much deeper interest is taken in family history than at the date of the record of 1816, which is now very scarce and valuable, this volume, which is an elegant large quarto weighing ten pounds, will, in a few years, be highly prized, and the fortunate possessor of it will treasure it as an heirloom in the family, wherein future generations will find preserved their ancestral family records easily accessible. Many persons will therefore desire a more enduring and ornamental binding than the cloth furnished for the general edition. Arrangements have been made with the binder to furnish binding as follows:

For one volume, bound in dark cloth, beveled edges,	-	$7.00
For one volume, bound in half morocco, marbeled edge,		8.50
For one volume, bound in full morocco, gilt edge,	-	10.50

You will please forward to GILBERT COPE, West Chester, Penna., within ten days, a statement of the kind of binding desired, together with the proper amount, which may be sent in postal order. When the money is received, the books will be forwarded by express. The express charges which will be paid by the subscriber on delivery of the book, vary from fifteen cents to two dollars, according to distance. When the cost of express exceeds postal charges—one dollar—it will be cheaper to deliver by mail. Those farther west than St. Louis, and south of Kentucky, who will forward one dollar in addition to the price of the book for required prepayment, will have those books delivered by mail instead of express. After thirty days the books unpaid for will be disposed of to other purchasers.
